Thanks for the deal, but to be honest, this is like normal price. Just last week, I got a 16 GB Sony for $9.

Be careful, there are ways to fake a USB to display more storage than it is capable of doing.

Yea, but he's a top rated seller with 33K Positive feedback, I think that qualifies him for trusted. ^-^

Just bare in mind some USB's can be faulty batches and shipped in from china and may only store 10-20% of what they are advertised as best to run a read write program on it and if it is a fake see if you can get a refund and send a screenshot of your results

8 gigs = around 3$

16 gigs = around 8$

etc..

That's how much i get mine for anyways.

Way cheaper.

This thread was made in August.

And that's 4 dollars cheaper.
