Yes, I can. My day job requires supervising a group of programmers and research analysts. While I do have to give out instructions, I very often see 2-3 hours of idleness behind my computer every day. Filling that space up with something productive will be great.

No. I do not speak or write English "somewhat" fluently. English is either fluent, or it is not fluent. I speak, type and write it fluently.

Why should I trust you to be a sales partner of mine?

I have no negative reputation. No previous warning level. No bans. No deal disputes. I am trusted enough to be an administrator at <http://ShrinkOnce.com/beta> (I also made the website's design) - have a look at the forums there if you'd like to see how I handle issues if you want. I have also run my own graphics shop here on HackForums and received some nice vouches.

See below:

Can you dedicate at least an hour of your time for a sale, resulting in at most $140? : Yes, naturally I'm a patient/laid back person hence, not pushing a sale too fast too quickly isn't an issue.

Do you consider yourself a good people person? : Due to myself working in the sales sector, people skills are a given as I use them every day. I'm both confident in person and conveying myself over text chat.

Do you speak and write English somewhat fluently? : Again yes, with English being my first language I can speak and write fluent English.

Why should I trust you to be a sales partner of mine? : As stated previously, working in the sales sector I know how peoples spending habits to work and am able to steer a sale in the right direction. Hopefully you will see me as a great partner where we can both bounce ideas off each other. Lastly I'm not into the business of 'ripping' people off and to think of myself as a whitehat salesman (both online and offline) due - mostly - to a bad guilty conscience that won't let me do otherwise.

Do you speak and write English somewhat fluently? (Speaking isn't required)

Spoiler (Click to View) English is my first language and I have almost perfect spelling, grammar and punctuation.

Why should I trust you to be a sales partner?

Spoiler (Click to View) I have made multiple deals on Hackforums and if I do anything bad you can contact the CEO of Haybase and I will lose my position if you have proof.

To sum it up, I would love this position and if you need to contact me PM me or add me on Skype.

Thanks.

Can you dedicate atleast an hour of your time for a sale, resulting in at most $140?

Spoiler (Click to View) Yes, I spend many hours a day on my PC and surfing the internet. To be honest I would say I have no life as my life is the internet.

Do you consider yourself a good people person?

Spoiler (Click to View) I do. My time on the internet administrating, moderating and helping forums has made me good at explaining, communicating and generally making friends with people from all over the world. I do not judge people and I can change the way I speak to fit the person I am speaking to as this make them feel more conferable.

Do you speak and write English somewhat fluently? (Speaking isn't required)

Spoiler (Click to View) My first language is English so I would say I can speak fine, I also think I can type quickly and professionally as I have to everyday.

Why should I trust you to be a sales partner of mine?

Spoiler (Click to View) As I previously said I have spent many hours on forums talking and helping out, thing gives me good skills to communicate with people professionally and with direction and authority. I had to be trusted by every member as I could have access to all there personal details as well as credit card details for anyone who donated.

If you look at all my posts you will see I have nothing to do with hacking/exploiting, all my posts are to do with graphics and helping people by doing there requests. I must of helped over 1000 members on here already.

I also thought about the trust worthy and had an idea, why don't you keep the first sales money and I have sold some more you can give it to me. Then it resets and you keep one and so on.. This will keep us both happy and reliable.

If you have any more questions please feel free to ask.

Can you dedicate atleast an hour of your time for a sale, resulting in at most $140?
Yes, no questions asked, 1 hour of my time would be nothing to give up for the opportunity to make that amount of money.

Do you consider yourself a good people person?
I honestly do believe I have a way of talking to people that just allows them to feel comfortable, thus, resulting in that individual to listen to what I have to say.

Do you speak and write English somewhat fluently? (Speaking isn't required)
Yes. I do, a mediocre example of it would be the small amount of text I have typed.

Why should I trust you to be a sales partner of mine?

Why should I be trusted? For the simple reason that money is my motivation, I have no reason to jeopardize an additional source of income, money rules the world.

English is one of my main subjects. I speak it fluently and have superb grammar.

Why should I trust you to be a sales partner of mine?

I have no scam reports against me and have been a member on this site for over two years.

ShootMeh - September 5, 2012, 4:12 am

Can you dedicate atleast an hour of your time for a sale, resulting in at most $140? Easily. Since I'm on the computer quite a lot, giving up at least one hour a day is no problem to me

Do you consider yourself a good people person? I am currently in a profession where I constantly meet new people so I would consider myself a good people person indefinitely.

Do you speak and write English somewhat fluently? (Speaking isn't required) Born in an English background so I would consider my English good and fluent.

Why should I trust you to be a sales partner of mine? Honestly, I could start listing ways to make you like me however, I think that trust is something that needs to be earned over time. If I had to give reason, then I would probably go with: I'm a responsible and mature person so I'm not going to start blaming others if the fault is my own, no scam reports(honestly, scamming in partnerships is basically screwing the other person over and that is just not acceptable at all) and also as a sales partner, you require a people person which I stated above I was.

Cheers for taking a look over my application and I do hope to hear from you in the near future. If not then I wish you all the best with your partnership.

Why should I trust you to be a sales partner of mine? Well trust is a very hard thing to earn...and when i say this i mean it. But you can trust me because in the beginning i will accept a lower commission to show i'm trustworthy and also i will be on via skype at the time of the sale so you know step by step of my progression through out it. Also I am slowly trying to gain trust and acknowledgement on this site so i believe this would be a good start my friend. Thanks For Your Time Reading This. ?

Can you dedicate at least an hour of your time for a sale, resulting in at most $140?

Yes I am usually online every evening when I get home from work, so I will be able to spend some time working on orders and assuring everything goes smoothly.

Do you consider yourself a good people person?

I consider myself to be a good people person. I can talk to pretty much anybody. Whether it's face-to-face, over the phone, or online. Doesn't matter.

Do you speak and write English somewhat fluently? (Speaking isn't required)

Judging by the way I'm applying with this application right now, I believe my English is fluent and am usually grammatically correct.

Why should I trust you to be a sales partner of mine?

Considering I work in Sales, I believe I have the ability to be an asset as a decent sales person. I have lots of vouches on my HF account and have done exchanges and sales before for customers online. (via eBay). I also have common sense, and I am one of those people that catch on quickly. Trust me, I know exactly how you feel sometimes. Meeting potential partners over Skype that have no idea what there doing after explaining it multiple times...I'm not one of those people.

Thanks for reading,

Shad?w - September 7, 2012, 12:20 pm

Can you dedicate atleast an hour of your time for a sale, resulting in at most $140?:

Yes, I easily spend around 7-9 hours a day on the Internet and it won't be an issue in the slightest for me to dedicate a few hours to selling the good(s) that I'm given. (I'm making money whilst doing it, too!)

Do you consider yourself a good people person?:

Yes, I have a way with people. With regards to Sale Tactics I usually analyse the type of person from a few short sentences before pointing out the primary features of the product to them, the features being ones that will interest them.

I can go into more depth about this if needed, but to put it blunt- I'm pretty good at selling products to people and currently I'm assistant CEO of Complex Hosting.

Do you speak and write English somewhat fluently? (Speaking isn't required):

Yes, English is my first and only language. I do my utmost best to excel in it so that I come across as a Mature & Confident individual as opposed to someone who cannot use acceptable Grammar.

Why should I trust you to be a sales partner of mine?:

Because I've been in several partnerships before and I know how to work as a team to achieve the most sales possible. I don't often partake in the Low-Moral methods however, because I like to think of myself as having a conscience.

I can elaborate on any of the above if you so wish. Please drop me a Private Message if you are willing to consider me as your Partner.

-Shadow™.

Can you dedicate atleast an hour of your time for a sale, resulting in at most $140? Of course, seeing as the majority of my time on the internet is idle or non-productive it'd be nice to engage in something beneficial and productive during those hours

Yes, I'm articulate and presentable and those two qualities are also versitlie with me, meaning I can adapt them to fit any situation and or encounter, I've also been told I'm a social butterfly and have been told I should be salesman or a lawyer countless times. So that should give you a sense of my conversational/communicative skills. It also tells you I can probably sell salt to a slug hahah.

Why should I trust you to be a sales partner of mine? I really can't come up with any reasons for you to trust me. I don't know a lot of people here and I am really new. To offset this though, I am willing to do this at a really low rate to gain your trust, slowly building it up.

Extra: I know I most likely won't get accepted, but I will thank you for at least reading this. Since I don't really have a lot of trust and I really want to help you, I will anything you need me to. The only thing is I can't speak to people, but you say that isn't important. If that is true, I can and will help you as much as I can. Well, thanks for reading this at least and PM me your verdict, even if it is no.
