Thread: Found a epic niche that I was surprised no one else used!

Skatzi - September 1, 2012, 9:51 am

I found a niche with the facebook method. No one else had the name or page so I took it. I was surprised as many niches people have used no one used this one! I have an audience of about 635million people I could Reach if I adverted.

EDIT: Update, started one of the niches a Facebook page, 40 minutes later.

Why should I give out the page name? ;-; Just wondering. I mean, if its a niche that I found that no one else is using why should I give it out? I want to use it ;~;.

I'd like to see you use this niche well, and not in a crappy way ;)

A "new" niche that you "found" and it has a 600M reach?

Highly unlikely.

sam0016 - September 2, 2012, 12:25 am

Good find niches like that are very rare.

Doubt you will reach the 630m goal if you do that you would never need to share or even work again in your life.

Skatzi - September 2, 2012, 12:24 pm

I checked it with the advert and it says I have a view of over 630m plus.

Then no need to post here. Did you really think members were going to applause you and don't try to ask your your niche?

OP I don't understand what the harm is in you sharing the name?
