With that on site proof, should be easy enough to report him and get him banned. ?
If you want, try PMing JD about it.

I'm on JD's ignore list. He got a little whiny when I reported some rep that he thought wasn't rep abuse so I linked him to a post by Omniscient proving it is. After that, he added me to his ignore list. Oh well.

Either way, the guy's banned until 2013 (or so I've been told -- I don't have access to the ban list)

Ah, didn't even look, seems he's already banned for scamming.
Grats on getting the money back.

This guy is opening an exchange service in the currency exchange, someone should strip this user of is UB3r status and imho he should be banned, it's just a time matter before he scams someone else again.

This user negative repped me now to when I posted this thread out in his "exchange thread"

He was already permanently banned by Omni, then unbanned (yup...) - and then finally removed from Ub3r and permanently denied Ub3r.
