Thread: Adblock - for annoyance-free web surfing.

RULE? - September 14, 2012, 5:04 pm

Just thought i would remind anyone who hasn't yet downloaded Adblock to download it. It cuts down of SO MANY adverts. You will never see an advert on YouTube again with this addon. This will have been posted many times before but i guarantee some people won't have heard about it. The only bad thing is your effectively blocking peoples revenue they make from adverts. It is up to you if you want to use it or not.

For Chrome: CLICK HERE

Any more info about Adblock can be found at the officical website here: CLICK HERE

Whoo! AdBlock! Fucking love it.

Haven't seen a Youtube, CPAlead, or any other kind of ad in over two years.

Definitely a must have, speeds up browsing and you dont have to see any ads. I hate browsing without it.

Agreed. Quietly runs in the background, never pops up asking for shit or anything.

Adblock is practically necessary. It even blocks those annoying youtube ads.

I understand it must be really annoying if you make most of your money off website adverts but there are only a couple of YouTube commentators and website owners like Omni ? who deserve the money anyway. ?

MooCowOinks - September 14, 2012, 5:28 pm

Yeah. I'm sure Omni doesn't care if his upgraded members have it since we don't have ads anyway.
