Can you go into task manager and take a screenshot of your perfomance tab?

I'll try and help :P

And post picture of computer specs, start menu -> Search -> "dxdiag"

Then just take a screenshot of that as well.

Try to disable MalwareBytes and Comodo just to see if it fixes your problem. Old computers doesn't like having 2-3 scanners/firewalls installed and running processes at the same time. Also you could try to switch to chrome to see if it's less resource hungry.

I see you have a lot of svchost's, this TuTorial here --->

<http://www.howtogeek.com/howto/windows-vista/what-is-svchostexe-and-why-is-it-running/> may be worth looking at for trimming down process's with process explorer, but it really shouldnt be having that big of an effect!

Alternatively download Process Explorer here

<http://technet.microsoft.com/en-us/sysinternals/bb896653.aspx> and search through your processes manually to edit/remove em.

You might wan't to re-install windows. System files get corrupted during time > windows gets slower.

As far as i can tell, you got a 2 identical plugins....and too many processes running at the same time. Mbam is resource hog if its running a scan. Otherwise its pretty harmless, especially if you got a system like yours.

I can connect to your system and trim it down for you. Teamviewer allows me to connect and remote control your system. Just send me a pm with id/pass of teamviewer and ill trim down your system for you..

You should write about your configuration ,

Just avaira or avg is enough for win-7, but you take more security ,that's not good may be.

what is the configuration of your computer?make sure that your computer is pretty well for running windows7.
