Hey,

I just noticed that the group forum of the gamers is visible for everyone (at least, I think since I'm not in their group).

Is it a bug or screw up?

This isn't a group's subforum.

This is for everybody.

It wasn't there before, or they must have moved it?

It has always been there.

It was recently moved to the top though.

That subforum was under Crews and Clans Private Forums earlier and it was for "Gamers" original HF group, after sometime Omni shifted that under Gaming Tab, and made it publicly viewable, but only group members could post there.

Later, Omni dismantled the group and kept the subforum there and opened it for everyone, I think he forgot to rename the section.

Gamers group was a free group that wasn't converted to paid.
