If i post in the VIP section and then post the same content in..for example "Hacking Tools" would that still be classed as cross posting?

What about if i close my post in VIP and make a new one in another forum, is that cross posting?

-Thanks.

If you close it, then I don't think it counts as cross posting.

What about if i still have the same topic and don't close it?

Because it won't be showed to normal members as cross posting because they won't be able to see it ?

It is still posting a topic twice though...

Ahh, i don't know.

I would consider it cross posting as it's creating duplicate threads. I don't think it matters what forum the duplicates are in, they are still duplicate threads.

That's a tricky one, let's wait for a staff member.

Stick to one thread. PM me if you need to have that thread moved this one time.
