Thread: eportfolio site design Beginner level design

So ive decided to make a portfolio site where i add everything i create, sell, and ideas i have. this page might change and i will add ad sense to this as well so any ideas of making it better could be pretty helpful.

I haven't made any graphics for about three months so this is pretty beginner-ish. At the moment this is only a draft but id like some feedback

It is very basic, like you said and I don't think that is a good thing. Considering it's your first time doing graphics for a while I can understand why it's lacking good quality. The design needs to be made more exciting, brighter and needs some images and more text added.
