Oak - September 30, 2012, 10:55 pm

Please only post applications.

Requirements You must have a warning level below 20%.

There can't be any spam or low quality posts on your record.

You must have excellent grammar.

You must be an active reader of the Hack Forums News.

Ub3r is now a requirement.

Minimum of 100 Prestige.

Minimum of 60 Prestige if applying for Graphical Editor.

If you are posting an application you must meet the requirements. Those who do not meet the requirements will be denied. Please don't PM the leaders about your application. You may ask questions, but only if they don't pertain to your acceptance.

What does the News team do?

The News team is an entirely separate group from the Wiki team, we focus on the writing of the Hack Forums News. We are a chill group that enjoys the high life and has relaxed conversation. There are no post requirements, activity requirements or "high quality" projects. Your only requirements are that you post your article, on time, with your best work in it. Otherwise, you are free to wear the userbar proudly and know that thousands are enjoying your hard earned work. The leader, Sir, is always open for ideas and understanding, most of the time.

Userbar

Leaders/Important Roles.

Sir - Publisher and Leader.

Important Notes

If you have any questions in regards to recruitment or the News team you may PM me.

Those accepted will be contacted once recruitment is over.

Recruitment will end when I find a suitable member.

Applications are the only thing that should be posted in this thread. Questions can be PMed to me.

(Headlines) Please explain what you could do with this position:I will read all around HF to find anything news worthy and use that information to help with the news.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for?I deserve the position because I am very active and always on time.

On what level would you say your grammar is? I have 9/10 grammatical skills

Eternal. - September 30, 2012, 11:12 pm

Age: I am 21 years old.

Time Zone: Pacific Standard time, won't effect when I turn in posts.

Have you ever worked on a News team before? Yes, I have been a part of two news teams in high school journalism. Both classes were based around finding news for the school and local area, interviewing and writing the paper. I was an interviewer and a writer. My teacher was a real journalist and worked for several newspapers according to what she told us.

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse? Sounds good to me, wouldn't want the news being delivered late.

What is the position you are applying for? (Leave the one(s) you are applying for) Music Writer - Headlines Writer

(GFX) Please link to some of your work: Not applicable.

(Music) Please explain what you could do with this position: I could review music that just came out, write about what the top music is and write about the popular music on Hack Forums. Perhaps mention some people that make their own music if I find it newsworthy. I made a review of the top charting songs this week yesterday.

(Headlines) Please explain what you could do with this position: I would search for the most important news on Hack Forums, such as in the news suggestions thread and write about what I believe is headline worthy. It would of course have to be something important, such as site changes. I would work with my team, and you of course in finding out more about what I should consider a headline worthy topic so I can fit in the news team properly.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for? I deserve the position because writing is my passion. I love writing, and I have wanted to join the news team since I first read the Hack Forums news almost two years ago. While I don't always post in the news threads, I do read them. I also notice that you need people who will be on time from last weeks article. I deserve to be a news writer because I will deliver the news on time. I will take this job very seriously, as it would be an honor to do the news.

On what level would you say your grammar is? My grammar is good enough for me to pass all English classes and history classes with an A in college. Both require very well written essays, and when something is not written right, points will be taken off. Since I received an A, I had very little deductions for grammar, if any.

SuaveSalmon - September 30, 2012, 11:17 pm

Age: 16

Time Zone: Pacific

Have you ever worked on a News team before? Not on hackforums, but I have done small projects on other forums, and in real life (for a short period of time).

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse? Indeed I am sir. This group is no joke with quality.

What is the position you are applying for? (Leave the one(s) you are applying for) Music Writer - Headlines Writer

(GFX) Please link to some of your work:

(Music) Please explain what you could do with this position: I could write about the newest articles in the musical world. Anything from top songs, to the drama between the musical performers, to new bands, to failing bands, and almost anything music related. I know a lot of people where music is their life, as myself (not as crazy as they are though). I hear about all this stuff in real life %99 of the time before its even out in the hackforums news.

(Headlines) Please explain what you could do with this position: I am very big into hackforums updates. I almost stalk Omnis twitter and threads to see the newest updates. I dont leech to him, I simply like to see the improvements he adds. I usually see his threads withing the first few hours of him posting them. I am huge into updates, and could write detailed articles on the new things he adds. I feel I could write noteworthy articles on the newest things he has added, or even plans to add. I am big into looking at the latest news/updates, how could I not be able to write (what I feel) a worthy article.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for? I am very active in the hackforums community. I really enjoy looking around. posting, sharing knowledge, meeting new friends, and overall hanging out. I am on hackforums everyday just trying to help out and have some fun. I do enjoy writing and doing all my work while I have hackforums open. I feel I deserve this because I am very active, and enjoy hackforums a lot more than any other online community.

On what level would you say your grammar is? I would say my grammar level is around 8.7/10. Sometimes I will miss a comma, or forget to add some parenthesis, but all that can be easily fixed.

Have you ever worked on a News team before? Yes, school newspaper and for my MC website for News/Announcement.

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse? Yes.

What is the position you are applying for? (Leave the one(s) you are applying for) Music Writer & Headlines Writer

(GFX) Please link to some of your work: N/A

(Music) Please explain what you could do with this position: I am extremely, musically inclined and just have an ear for all types of music ever since I was younger. I'm always following new artists, new mixes, and downloading music every day. It's a passion of mine that I've had since I was 4 years old and will continue loving music until the day I die. I love talking about music with others and expressing it through writing would be something I'd love to be able to do with you guys. I'd write about all the new things in the music industry that people want to hear about. With our generation, I know what people want to hear and what people want to read about music.

(Headlines) Please explain what you could do with this position: Headlines to me are the most important events or things going on during the week and this will be the first thing people see when they are reading. I would write about what people might not know that is a big deal, or just reiterating something that has happened recently. I am interested in the world we live and always trying to learn more. I always search for information others may want to check out and that is what I would write about.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for? I am a very mature individual who loves to not only write, but write so that others may learn. I've always been one for writing and this group has been something I've wanted to be a part of since it first came out. I believe I would be able to keep up with everything the Writers group partakes in and would keep everything I write about to the utmost quality that the readers are looking for.

On what level would you say your grammar is? I'd say 9.5, no one is perfect but I do proofread anything before I enter it in.

Juicy - September 30, 2012, 11:36 pm

Age: 15

Time Zone: -06:00

Have you ever worked on a News team before? No, I do not have any experience on a news team.

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse? Yes, I am aware.

What is the position you are applying for? (Leave the one(s) you are applying for) Music Writer

(Music) Please explain what you could do with this position: I have a good taste when it comes to music. I often listen to songs over and over to listen and study the beats. I spend tons of money on every type of music, and I always check out new things. I first got "interested" in music when I was about 8 years old, at which point I started to analyze the music. I love to learn more about what is happening in the music world, and what the people are most interested in.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for? I am more than mature for the average 15 year old. I go to a private school, and I am taking a 12th grade English class level in 9th grade. I love to write and with football ending soon I am looking for a new hobby to pick up. I believe this would be an amazing group to take part in, and to invest my time into.

On what level would you say your grammar is? I would say about 9 out of 10. I do make mistakes, but I often read over my posts and make sure I have not.

Apathy - September 30, 2012, 11:42 pm

Age: 21

Time Zone: Eastern Time Zone, USA & Canada

Have you ever worked on a News team before? No, I have not. However, I have previously enrolled in a journalism course in high school.

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse? Well, I know that now. This is how the real world works. I have no problem with this.

What is the position you are applying for? (Leave the one(s) you are applying for) Headlines Writer

(Headlines) Please explain what you could do with this position:

I understand that the Headlines section needs someone who can delivery a quality piece in a timely manner. I have looked at the Headlines sections in previous issues. I can offer you an exceptional Headlines section that will be relevant, completed in a timely manner, and will be quality.

To begin explaining what I am capable of, I will make the Headlines section noteworthy by having it be relevant. As far as relevance goes, I will be sure to include up-to-date information. There will be no concern for data lags when it comes to me. I will search for the most recent occurrences in Hackforums. Furthermore, the information will be pertinent. My analytical skills are developed well-enough, so there will be no problem with my figuring out of what information belongs in the Headlines area. The Headlines section will consist of only the most enthralling stories.

Coupled with relevance, you will have no concern when it comes to my delivery, which will help make Headlines remarkable. Though I am a busy college student, I have the ability to compartmentalize my time for this task. The work will be fully completed on time every time.

In addition to relevance and time, I will make the Headlines be perceived as special, because I can delivery quality. I know that I have the writing skills needed to do this. I don't mean to come off as arrogant, but this is something that would be a breeze to do. Whatever standards you're expecting in terms of quality I can one up it.

To sum up all the points I've made for this application, the Headlines section will extraordinary in my hands, because I can bring relevance, on time, and quality work. I could write a more detailed conclusion, but I feel the repetition is unnecessary. Therefore, all the points have been made, and I feel this helps to convince you that I am the right person for the job.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for?

I think the explanation of my capabilities is a considerable reason, but there are several more reasons why I deserve this position. So, I will spotlight a few more reasons briefly. I should be made the Headlines writer, because I am a respectable, active, and intelligent member.

As far as respectability goes, I hold myself to a standard that is up to par for this position.

Ultimately, you do not have to worry about me giving a bad image for the News team. I will ultimately give off a positive vibe that will enhance the entire group.

Aside from being respectable, I am also on Hackforums frequently. This will allow me to look out for things that should be in the News section. Since I will be active, I will not miss anything that is important enough to be in the Headlines section. Moreover, this also means I will be easy to contact. I also have no problem with giving out additional contact details, so that I will allow be able available.

In addition to being respected and active, I am also very intelligent, which I imagine is a desirable quality for this position. In English, I have always had no problems earning an A in my courses. This is even on a college level, as I have passed both of my required English courses at 100 percent. I really don't want to come off as arrogant, so I will just say that I have an easy time when it comes to academics, and I will leave it at that. I am not in any way the most intelligent person on this Earth, even though I'd like to be, but I certainly hold the intelligence required for this particular task. Also, I will omit the conclusion to this, as it is ultimately mundane.

On what level would you say your grammar is?

I would like to give myself a 10, but I feel that no one is perfect. I'll give myself an 8 at first, and then I would give myself a 9 after revision. I do make mistakes at first, but I always go through the revisionary process for something like this.

Nobel - October 1, 2012, 1:40 am

I would love to submit an application, unfortunately I don't meet the minimum prestige requirement. Good luck to everyone else who is applying!

And of course lots and lots more, I specialize in typography though ^^

[b]Why do you deserve the position you are applying for?

I deserve it because I will not bail up on you guys, I will do my work as expected.

I will use my time to find the best works, and not enough with that, I desire that the quality of the news will be in the top.

I do also wish to contribute to the forum, I do not wish for the news to shut down, because I read it every single week, and I enjoy it.

As concerned, I do also enjoy to write, and I enjoy to hang out with nice individuals, I am a lazy person, no doubt, but I am never late, I like to meet new people and create friendships.

The main reason is:

I do not deserve this more than anybody else, I would just like to tell you that I think I am capable, and willing to do this, and I wish to contribute as much as possible.

On what level would you say your grammar is?

I will give myself 7, for usual, and if I do revise, and look through the text, I will give it a 9, I will never be able to make it perfect, I am sorry about that.

Regards

- Sejskaler

As a note, my warning level was a bare mistake, as I accidently wrote "serial keys" when I meant accounts...

I have worked on a news team for a roleplay server before, but as far as the HF news team goes, I have never been apart of it. Although, it is one of my goals.

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse?
Yes, I am aware of this.

What is the position you are applying for? (Leave the one(s) you are applying for)
Graphical Editor - I personally wanted to apply for the headlines editor, but I missed the prestige requirement by nine prestige points. I am also quite experienced with graphic design so I applied for 'graphical editor' instead.

<http://goo.gl/BvnLS> , <http://goo.gl/M1GQq> , <http://goo.gl/prHnQ> , <http://goo.gl/bRbbu> ,
<http://goo.gl/4j868> -Since I do a lot of free graphic design, I have not included a lot of my work. If you're interested in seeing more, please send me a personal message here on HF.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for?
Because I am a experienced graphic designer that takes pride in his work. Photoshop is one of the applications that is constantly running on my computer seeing as I'm always turned to for making graphics both personally and commercially. It should also be known that the 'Rate My Graphic' forum is the second most posted on by myself (according to my statistics). I also have made my fair share of submissions in the 'Graphic Requests' section, helping members out by providing them with high quality graphics. I would be able to contribute to the team in the same ways.

I will say now that I'm not completely sure what the position is all about, but I'm almost positive that it has to do with either graphic design, or writing. Both of which, I am highly experienced with. I'm quite active on Hack Forums, being online for a total of one week and six days. Reputation wise, I am pretty respected by the members of HF. My only negative rep was a revenge rep for confronting an incompetent child molester.

On what level would you say your grammar is?
10 - I like to pride myself on my grammar. It is also essential that you know I am a grammar Nazi, frowning upon those that mix up simple rules.

Have you ever worked on a News team before? Yes, for my senior year of school we had a small school news team. I was in charge of student interviews, we had to interview weekly and we would choose the top five students and put them on the news.

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse? Yes, I'm actually glad. That way we can actually get our news on time.

What is the position you are applying for? Music Writer

(GFX) Please link to some of your work: N/A

(Music) Please explain what you could do with this position: I will look for interesting stories in the musical industries, look for current hit songs and do a couple reviews(main stream and Under ground music). I can also post trending songs and do a little segment on why the song is trending.(beats, lyrics, vocal etc.)

(Headlines) Please explain what you could do with this position: N/A

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for? I can always have my segments on time and I will dedicate all my time into it.

On what level would you say your grammar is? Mostly a 9, since I make a couple mistake here and there, but that's normal since everyone makes mistakes.

Age:19

Time Zone: Ca/USA

Have you ever worked on a News team before? No.

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse? Yes.

What is the position you are applying for?

(Music) Please explain what you could do with this position: I will be doing all that I can to insure quality submissions. I will write for all genres of music of course. I could do a lot, such as introduce new music/ and new styles. I love searching for sub-genres, and although main genres come first, I will do my work right. I will make users enjoy MUSIC as it is. You will not regret me as a choice.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for? I really enjoy music, and I order a bunch of music magazines each year. I really want to dedicate some time writing, so I can learn about new styles of writing. My cousin is a news reporter at this point in time, and she can really help out as well.

On what level would you say your grammar is? 8/9 out of 10.

At last, I'm not a a roll to impress anyone. I just want to do my part for the community. I believe I can open up a world of greatness by introducing music to the members of HF. I don't need to kiss ass and write three paragraphs about why this job is right for me.

I'll say this. I DARE EXPERIMENT. Relate that with music, and you've got yourself an addition to the team.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for?

I am a very active member in the Graphics forum known for critiquing work and posting high quality designs. I also run the successful Infinity Design Studio, which is a growing group of talented designers on HF who complete graphic requests submitted by other members. In addition, I have been reading the News since it was first started and as such I have some understanding of how it functions and where the room for improvement is.

On what level would you say your grammar is?

It is superior to the majority of HF. While I realize that isn't saying much, I work hard to maintain a high grammatical standard.

RECRUITING WRITERS

The HF News Team dedicates their time each week to deliver news to the HackForums community. We write about happenings on HF along with gaming, tech, world and music news. However certain circumstances can affect the news, some which we can control and some which we cant. It's my pleasure to announce today that the HF News Team are recruiting new writers to perform articles each week. We are looking for dedicated writers for the following positions:

- Music News
- Headlines
- Graphics/Comics

If you are interested in becoming a dedicated news writer for the HF News, please visit the following recruitment thread and submit your application. You can view the thread here.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for?

I think every other person who also applied for this position deserves it just as much as I do. I can even say that I am not the best designer on HackForums. Despite the fact that some people have more knowledge, I am a decent graphical editor and I know what I am doing.

It won't be hard for me to fulfill my duty as graphical editor. I will always be on time.

If I can't be on time due personal reasons, holidays or something else, I will make sure to collaborate with the other members of the HF News to complete the weekly 'task'

I am a very kind person. I'm also easy to talk and work with.

Have you ever worked on a News team before?

No, I have never worked on a News team before. However, I am ready to learn and ready to put some hard work into this if given the opportunity.

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse?

Yes, it is indeed fully understandable.

What is the position you are applying for?

Music Writer & Headlines Writer

(Music) Please explain what you could do with this position:

If I may, let me first explain to you a little bit about myself when involved with music. I need music everyday in my life, I love music. I do not listen to one genre, however I do prefer some over others. I stay up to date with all the new music being released daily! Mixing my love of music with news makes this perfect for me. I keep up with the media and stay up to date on all the most popular or upcoming artists!

That being said, I would keep Hackforums up to date with nothing but the most important gossip and/or news there is concerning the worlds biggest artists. I will find new music by famous artists/groups or from upcoming artists/groups seeking to get recognition and share their work with Hackforums!

(Headlines) Please explain what you could do with this position:

I would keep Hackforums up to date on everything important that happened during that passed week. This would be mostly Omniscients' threads. Lets say a reader was away for the passed week, I will make sure that he/she will get filled in with all the notable announcements made by the Hackforums Staff!

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for?

Music - I think I deserve this position because of my passion for my music and my itch for gossip.

As stated earlier, I love music and I love writing. I do not claim to be anywhere near the best, but I have the ambition. This will give me a chance to learn, improve, and show everyone how bad I want this.

On what level would you say your grammar is?

I'll be 100% honest and give myself an 8.5/10! There is always room to improve, and I plan on doing so.

Have you ever worked on a News team before?I have not, though I have run multiple blogs which involve writing articles.

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse? Indeed. Due to recent events I've witnessed, tardiness seems to be a recurring problem in the HF news team and so I guarantee I will be punctual on a weekly basis. As you can see in the Reviewers, I have no tardiness problems and will happily take on extra workload if need be.

What is the position you are applying for? Headlines

(Headlines) Please explain what you could do with this position: I would, to put it bluntly, headline all the recent events that occurred on HF within the week. This would not only include which popular members were banned, but I would rather go into detail about any interesting events that have happened within that weeks time frame. I've been reading HF news ever since Cobalt. was the editor and I must say I often find the headlines are lacking many interesting events that happen on HF. For the most part it is solely activity from Omniscient and then account changes of popular members. You would see a change in that if I were the headlines writer, sir.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for? I in no way shape or form deserve this position and that would be pretentious to assume. I solely believe I would be a good edition to HF news team.

On what level would you say your grammar is?My grammar level is advanced when need be. I write at a university level.

I did a little bit on another site. (Only as an interviewer).

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse?

I am.

What is the position you are applying for?

Music Writer

(Music) Please explain what you could do with this position:

I have an amazing taste in music, there isn't very many genre's I do not like, but there is a couple. I love knowing what's going on out there in the music world, and the new steps people are taking in the music world. I could bring everyone up-to-date on; whats going on in the music world, information on various artists, etc. I could take this music part, and make it very "spiced up", and make it very informing about everything that's going on.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for?

I believe that, I deserve this position, because I am very dedicated when it comes down to business. I also believe, that I am very mature, and that I am very HQ. I believe that, I do the music part of the news and take it to a whole new level, like above being amazing.

On what level would you say your grammar is?

I would say my grammar on a scale of 1-10. It would about a 9.5, its not perfect, but it's not terrible, it more on the excellent part.

Have you ever worked on a News team before?
I have worked on a simple articles for a school news journal.

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse?
This should be expected on a team of skilled journalists.

What is the position you are applying for?
I am applying for Musical Writer.

Please explain what you could do with this position:
I have the ability to bring change. My articles would allow members to expose themselves to different types of music and musical styles that one is generally no exposed to as a young adult.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for?
I know I have the skills and the tools to execute the task that is being expected with ease and quality. I also have experience in various fields of music from composition and theory to creation. I play an overall seven different instruments, ranging from strings to low brass.

On what level would you say your grammar is?
I find my grammar is impeccable, but that does not stop me from making careless errors. When I put effort into an assignment or article of mine, I put the best effort that is possible by me. In the end, even if you don't do well, at least you know you did the best you could. That's all that matters.

Have you ever worked on a News team before? For my school's newspaper, yes.

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse? I'm not sure what the difference between being kicked with remorse and without remorse is, but I am aware.

What is the position you are applying for? Headlines Writer

(Headlines) Please explain what you could do with this position: If this is what I assume it is (the person who gets to think up the headlines of the articles), then I could do so much with this position. I've always been good at thinking of witty and interesting names, jokes, nicknames, gamertags, etc. I would love to be able to put this talent to good use.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for? I deserve this position because I'm a great writer, a voracious reader of the HF news, I would consider myself to be a very high quality member, and I try to post things that are helpful, informing, or to make people laugh. I try to never flame members unless I believe that they truly need to have a secondary asshole. I browse HF to meet friends, help people, and to read and learn about things that interest me. If you are looking for an example of my writing, please go here.

On what level would you say your grammar is? I would say that my grammar is a very solid 9. I use perfect grammar 99% of the time but there are times when I realize that something I've been doing is technically incorrect once I take the time to look it up.

Have you ever worked on a News team before? No I have not, however that does not mean anything in terms of learning or not being capable of learning.

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse? Certainly, wouldn't see it any other way.

What is the position you are applying for? Headlines Writer.

(Headlines) Please explain what you could do with this position: It's not a matter of what I can do with this position, it's a matter of how well I'm going to perform the task at hand with research and time management.

The main thing that I'll focus on is information; the things that are important to every member of HF. The things that make people open their eyes a bit wider. To know they're reading something that may or will affect them in their journey on HF. I'm going to pull the thing out that I see fit to be important on a wide-spread scene; not just the local community (unless very significant). I'll be on the ceaseless hunt to find what needs to be found in order to provide the best Headlines that are provided.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for? Mainly it's about dedication, if I'm not going to be dedicated and only spend 10 minutes looking for a headline their's not really . However, if I were to spend three hours looking for something and come up with 2-3 good things, it's very much worth the time and effort. The main thing I keep in mind is quality over quantity. Why would I have four things that relate nothing to us, when I could have a good headline to backup many cases? Teamwork is a huge factor in my work and relations. If you work diligently with me I'll bend over backwards for you. Teamwork is one of the more crucial areas on a team. If I were to use my common sense as well as a suggestion of a team member, the possibilities are endless.

In my points listed above, it shows how dedicated my efforts will be to perform my tasks, get the best information possible, as well as how I will work with a team in my situation, although I won't work on a three-month team seeing I'd get too used to associating with my team.

On what level would you say your grammar is? On a scale from 1-100 I'd rate myself around 87/100. There's always room for improvement and ways to improve.

Thanks,

-Webmasters

Have you ever worked on a News team before? I have brief past experience as an editor for my college yearbook.

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse? I am fully aware of the consequences of neglecting to conform to the set deadline.

What is the position you are applying for? Headlines Writer

(Headlines) Please explain what you could do with this position: I have the potential to create well constructed headlines. Often people overlook the effect a headline has on the reader, although I firmly believe that the headline is the core of the decision the reader makes to continue reading and assists in maintaining interest in the reader. Moreover, the content that follows a headline is equally as important. I strive to perform to the best of my ability and abide by and apply this ethic to all of my work.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for? I deserve the position as headline writer by virtue of my capacity to deliver robust and effectual headlines. In addition to this, I am a vigorous advocate of developing greater knowledge in the English language and perceive this as an opportunity to consolidate my current accomplishment and further improve upon that.

On what level would you say your grammar is? My proficiency in the English language with regards to spelling and grammar is substantially higher than that of a typical person, although you have to accommodate for human fallacies and inconsistencies to some degree.

Have you ever worked on a News team before?

Yes.

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse?

Yes, I'm aware but would not let this happen as I will be punctual. I would also try to complete my articles before time. The articles submissions shouldn't be a problem if I'm appointed.

What is the position you are applying for?

Headlines Writer.

(Headlines) Please explain what you could do with this position:

I understand that The Headlines is heart of the News, everyone takes time and reads the Headlines. The headlines should be impressive as that's the first thing a user reads in HF News. I strive to make the headlines enjoyable and memorable for reading.

As doing the headlines, I will make sure I don't miss out anything which happened in forums which is notable. As HF News writers, we should make sure each and every member who reads the news should know what they happened last week.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for?

Well, I'm a active members of Hackforums. I do meet all requirements and I do try to read HF News as soon as it is posted.

My maturity has gone up since I joined HF, so it wont be a hard time for me to adjust with a new team and work with them, I can consider myself as a friendly and understanding member so I don't think there there would be any difference between fellow members of the team.

I read the official sections and keep myself updated by following official twitter of Hackforums. So finding headlines would not be difficult for me as I know what's going on on Hackforums.

I've read this thread entirely and I understand the submissions should be perfectly on time to keep the news running smoothly.

If fellow members are unable to submit an article on time, I could also write their article just to keep the news running.

If I get selected for this position, I wont let the News team down. ?

On what level would you say your grammar is?
Intermediate.

Yes, I worked with my school news team.

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse?
Yes

What is the position you are applying for? (Leave the one(s) you are applying for)
Headlines Writer

(Headlines) Please explain what you could do with this position:

I think that the headlines section could use someone who knows everything that is going on within the forums.

I could be online for about 7 - 9 hours on hack forums daily, Checking all the news that happens and goes around when it comes to big news.

I will always have my work ready and made on time, No matter what happens.

I check around for new threads and websites changes every day when i am on hackforums.

I will make sure that the headlines will be the most notable and the highest quality part of the news weekly.

I know that i have the writing skills that are needed to complete this task on a weekly bases and I can assure you that from a time point of view they will be ready on the first day of the week, Then have added news parts when they happen.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for?

I think that i would make a great part of the news team and the group as a whole.

I hold a very high standard and wont let the group down, I'm always looking to lend a helping hand to another member or group member.

On what level would you say your grammar is?

9/10, The only reason i say that is sometimes when i write on my phone i might mess something up.

Note: Sir allowed me to post this even though I don't have 100 prestige.

Have you ever worked on a News team before? No, but did small projects on the newspaper team few years back in my old school.

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse? Yes, I always try to be punctual, if not I come up with beast reasons of my absence.

What is the position you are applying for? (Leave the one(s) you are applying for) - Music Writer -

(GFX) Please link to some of your work: I have non so far on the HF.

(Music) Please explain what you could do with this position: I will research the music industry throughout. Also I could promote the young/new artists here on Hack/forums, one day they will go big. Also I could check out what is happening around the world/different cultures and countries music. From Least ---> Most popular ones.

(Headlines) Please explain what you could do with this position: Coupled with relevance, you will have no concern when it comes to my delivery, which will help make Headlines remarkable. Though

I am a busy college student, I have the ability to compartmentalize my time for this task. The work will be fully completed on time every time.

In addition to relevance and time, I will make the Headlines be perceived as special, because I can delivery quality. I know that I have the writing skills needed to do this. I don't mean to come off as arrogant, but this is something that would be a breeze to do. Whatever standards you're expecting in terms of quality I can one up it.

To sum up all the points I've made for this application, the Headlines section will extraordinary in my hands, because I can bring relevance, on time, and quality work. I could write a more detailed conclusion, but I feel the repetition is unnecessary. Therefore, all the points have been made, and I feel this helps to convince you that I am the right person for the job.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for? I love music music is my drug. Especially when it comes to partying, you can never go wrong with a little bit of Swedish House Mafia or Alesso.

On what level would you say your grammar is? I can have grammar mistakes I do not care about that it can be easily fixed, nobody is perfect.

No.

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse?

Yes.

What is the position you are applying for?

Music Writer

(Music) Please explain what you could do with this position:

First-off, I watch the (world) news daily on TV (CNN) and websites. I have a good taste when it comes to Music, I'm also a member of "Rhythm". I used to work with NFMusic.com, I brought much experience there.

I will write about :

- Artists
- Albums,
- (new/old) songs,
- (Music) awards,
- Concerts,
- Top 40 (song/artists),

Before I post the news I will always let some friends review them in case of wrongs in grammar, spelling and quality.

I will give my honest opinion about some stuff also such as : songs, albums, artists etc.

I (might) write about some cultural songs and music from a specific location. I can write about any type music since I love almost all type music.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for?

Because I am pretty sure I will do an great job for the HF news team. Without doubts I will perform something great for the HF News.

On what level would you say your grammar is?

7, I will always let my brother review everything I wrote before I post them on the HF news.

Have you ever worked on a News team before? I used to run the site news for my old school, it involved posting major changes that occurred in the school each week.

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse? Yes, if I where to be picked I would accept to be treated as if this was a job in the real world. In the real world there is no room for people who are lazy. I would treat this job as if it was my source of income and therefore would put in maximum effort. Being late is not putting in maximum effort.

What is the position you are applying for? Headlines Write (Headlines) Please explain what you could do with this position: With this position I could make the HF news headlines as nice looking and as HQ as possible, I would make sure that every week there are many headlines for HF news readers to read, I would try and include a range of topics in this section, the most important thing for me would be to make sure that there is useful information that is also interesting for the reader. Also with this position I could make sure that members know major site changes that are happening now or in the near future.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for? I would like to think that I deserve the position because I am helpful, dedicated and respectful, I love to help out other members of hackforums and I feel that if I was a member of the news team I would be able to do this in a bigger and more exciting way than I have ever been able to before. I would always make sure that I got my article in on time and would never slack at the job or put in little effort. I would try my best to include relevant and interesting news in my article. Another reason that I think I deserve the job is because I would respect those in charge of me and anyone who is also a member of the news team, if they needed help in any way then I would be willing to help them. Also I would listen to people who suggest ideas and if they were good and possible I would try and get them implemented into the next edition of the news. Finally, I think I deserve this position because I believe that I am a HQ member of hackforums. I read the news every week so I know what is expected and what people like to read.

On what level would you say your grammar is? I would say that my grammar is 9.5 out of 10. I will sometimes make mistakes when I am on my phone but those are usually corrected as soon as I get on a PC. Also I am from the UK so some Americans may think my grammar is bad due to different spellings of certain words, however I can post in American spelling if required.

Have you ever worked on a News team before?: I did the school newspaper in elementary school. I don't know if that counts, but I understand the concept.

Are you aware that if you are late, you will be kicked with no remorse?: Absolutely. I am a very hasty(but accurate)person. I will not be late.

What is the position you are applying for?: - Music Writer -

(Music) Please explain what you could do with this position: I would be able to post new, popular music that everyone should hear about. As well as music I think is all-around good that I feel will apply to our users based upon their common musical interests.

Why do you deserve the position you are applying for?: I am very active in the MP3 section. I'm a very active member in general. I'm a music connoisseur. I have over 30 gigs of music on my computer and I'm always up to date. I feel I would be right for the position because I'm realistic. I will not fail the forums.

On what level would you say your grammar is? Highly adequate. I rarely ever make grammatical errors. I proofread everything. Down to the smallest, minimalistic post.
