You should download them all and zip it as well op. Nice try OP, but most of us would have a single theme manager on our computers... ?

He could have posted em in the .Net section or messaged one of the other programmers (of the other theme managers) with em. We don't need "9000" theme managers on HF (Agreeing with Mavamaarten~'s estimate).

Also don't know how different it is from this, <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2889248> ...

Even though there are a lot of these they all contain unique and different themes. Nice.

You read my mind buddy. Really don't know why people keep writing these things over and over.
