Thread: FYIBooter Updates.

Kyle FYI™ - October 6, 2012, 11:10 am

Well, i've been very ill the past few weeks. I am not going to go into detail about it. While i've been off/ill/away all our attack servers got banned. Now I have ordered more. Just waiting for them to come in. I will be redoing the whole system and giving every user a free one month. So you will not lose out. I am very sorry how I have let FYIBooter get to.

Cool to see a Member really takes care about their Customers, sadly cant afford it.

It my not seem it, as I will admit i've been under a lot of stress with FYIBooter. I'm glad I got ill as i've relaxed and i'm not ready to continue with the project when before I was ready to let it die.

No offense, but why does every product owner says he's ill while product goes to shit? It's a saturated excuse. If you're to ill to even turn on a computer and type, you might as well be ded.

Alrighty,

That sounds good, way to go at how long you've had it running.

The reason behind this is I have been stressed and fucking depressed the past 2 months. I needed a break from it all. So I just starting hiding from the world. I am glad I did as I would be giving up FYIBooter by now. Instead i'm redoing it and everything.

Have some respect, Kyle has so many great products, and has sold the best DDoS products, Have some respect for him. He has been keeping is booters etc going for a very long time.

OP: I hope you feel better Kyle.

I have bought FYI Booter before.

The interface was extremely laggy it sometimes wouldn't hit my home connection, oh well. So much for best ddos products. Well if OP story is true, get better.
