Thread: [\[Simple\] Amature Signature Tutorial \[Simple\]](#)

BusyGambling - October 8, 2012, 7:54 pm

Hey guy's, well i decided to make a simple tutorial the whole thing took me about a hour to make {not the sig the actual banner work} it is simple, don't expect anything to fancy just a quick signature there are 2 way's you could make it my way like i did or continue with it to be a smudge signature with the brushes. have any question's / need help with graphics feel free to PM me ill be glad to help.

{This is for amature's who are learning at photoshop, i will make better tutorial's for more advanced sigs like what i make soon.}

Tutorial

Nice tutorial. A lot of new GFX'ers like to start out by tagging, this is a simple and informative guide on how to start. Good job.

Thank's, i didn't want to add to much because when you first start out it's kinda hard to learn stuff so i'll make the tutorials a little harder each time & more advanced.

No problem, just a simple tut for now im working on a more advanced signature but i really can't find a good render {fire sig for halloween}. and i know alot of stuff in photoshop when i didn't have internet for about 2 month's that was all i would use is photoshop to mess around so i learned a couple thing's, and then my computer crashed so i lost everything but i got a new one now so im still kinda rusty but im gettin there haha.

Nice tutorial, very informative compare to some of the other tutorials out there. I assume you are already aware of the spelling error in your title? Nice thread.
