Thread: Looking for C++ coder.\(Needs D3D knowledge and hooking knowledge\)

xerA-> - October 12, 2012, 5:48 pm

I am looking to start up a hack.

Obviously I am going to need a coder, but sadly I can not code C++.

This aimbot will be sold so when I start sales you will get 45% of sales.

PM me if interested. I do not need a VAC UD prevention, I just need the .DLL of the working hack.

Thanks for taking a look!

(Note: this project is going to be big so if you want to make some cash with your skills, I am your guy.)

Why do we need you? Why not just sell it ourselves and make 100% of the profit? Plus DLLs for hacks are lame and detected, you ever wonder why people have an issue bypassing anticheats?

Face palm.

Because I have all the tools and hosting and domains for it.

Not to mention the experience.

So if you don't want to help don't thread trash.

I am not here to mingle with 12 yearolds.

Counter strike source for starters.

Will hire for more jobs if I like it.

(Ex: CS:GO, DODs, TF2)

That seems like a sketchy way to lose money imo

No, I have my own system, like vaccine.
I will implement it into the whole cheat database.
But yes, we will be VAC covered.

Oohhh okay, well I can't really help you but if you never need anything done via php coding or anything web design hmu (Only coding I can't design lol)

How did you create a system like Vaccine without knowing C++?

I am willing to change that.

Depends on how good you are/productivity/etc.

Only $200.

I know some bad ass coders but can not hook nor do D3D.

How can bad ass coders not be able to hook d3d9 functions?

Because they don't have experience with it.

Why else?

Sadly, game hacking is still on my long list of things to attempt/learn with C++.
Good luck finding someone OP

I sell by myself and I got 100% of benefits.

Why someone would want to make everything and get only 45%?

Sounds really stupid to me.

Because I already paid for everything.

You just make it once and then sit back.

Its income for a onetime thing.
