Thread: Last Infinity Design Wall

Bad Meets Evil - October 13, 2012, 8:02 pm

I have become really busy recently and I have too much on my platter to keep managing a group of people. This is why I am scaling back Infinity Designs to just being myself doing graphics. That means that this is the last design wall you will see. However, look forward to different projects in the future.

You also get to play the Guess the Designer game on this one.

I think the last one is Antidot tbh. Also, so no more Infinity Designs?

Infinity Designs will still be here it will just be me that's all. However I am planning on starting up a group where members will just share resources and talk about art but I'm not going back to managing designers for requests. Too much work.
