Thread: [New monetizing forum: Please read. \[EXCITING\]](#)

v1zion - October 15, 2012, 3:26 pm

Hey guys, due to me being in CPA/PPD as well as many of my close friends, I'm going to be making a CPA/PPD/General Monetizing forum, however this is with a twist.

It'll be invite only, as I don't care about member count, I just want to keep the forum HQ with HQ posts and whatnot. The forum will have NO donator perks, all will be shared to the users of the forum of course.

I'll be providing my niches which have made me thousands in the past several years as well as help/tutoring on how to do so, if you'd like to be thought of when I'm sending out the first batch of invite codes, please post proof of your earnings here or simply PM them to me.

You can give out invite codes, but please try keeping the forum to the highest quality of members, just think - would you rather have private methods which are guaranteed to make you earn or would you rather have leechers saturating your earnings?

Thanks!

I work with cpa/ppc/ppd since 2009. I really like what you want to do (really) It will be an honor to join your team and twist ideas.

The stupidest idea I've ever heard of. As if it's hard to fake a screenshot, rather do a TV with whoever you want to accept.

And will be doing so before I send the apps out:)

Whoever makes money, doesn't need "more" money, right? I just find it useless, however I may still be wrong.

The application thing is really, really stupid imo, especially with a screenshot thing. Anyway wish you luck.

TV will be asked for on the opening day.

I wouldn't even bother starting this then if you're honestly not bothered what happens to it.

Obv will fail.

It's hard to manage a forum, and forums with low member counts will die out quickly, even if they are all invite only and such. The people who know what they're doing would rather keep it to themselves honestly.

v1zion, I've been with EmpireRevenue from the start, and I've contributed a lot! I hope I can be invited to join and help out your forum.

Or you could make the forums for HQ members who will work their asses off under your ref link for coaching to earn big bucks... Like me :)

To copy a previous post and post it again is also a stupid idea ;)
