I can go down a bit, but not too much. :p

Was this account hacked or is it your personal account?

It's not my account but I'm also not sure if it was hacked - I purchased it a few weeks ago off of somebody.

Will you take any trades?

I might be interested.

Add me on skype if you'd wish to discuss.

But the buyer is also running the risk of the account being recovered.

YOU CHANGED ALL OF THE INFORMATION AND HAD IT FOR HALF A DAY, I CAN'T AND DIDN'T DO ANYTHING.

No I never said that, I told you I bought the account like a month ago, and I said my brother used it yesterday while my internet was down.

Check your shit.

That seems more than wierd. I purchased the Account, changed the password and someone recovered it right after because the password got changed 3 hours later. You know what that means?

1. It must have been your brother.
2. You bruteforced the Account, logged in while the owner of the Account wasnt online and showed proof. The owner didnt even notice that someone else is using his Account because youve never played on it. After that you sold it, I changed the password and the Account got recovered right after.

Tell us which option is correct.
