Take a look at my take of "Dayo."

I was bored this weekend and made "Daio."

It looks really good. But the search results it brings aren't as good as dayo or other engines. It has very limited results from what I seen.

Like hazard said, this looks awesome. Although I don't see the point of a anonymous search engine.

I guess it's for those who are concerned about what they're searching. Ad companies can get a pretty detailed dossier which may contain what you're like, just off of what you search.

It looks way better then Dayo but you are missing the bar at the top.

I know. I didn't want it to exactly copy Dayo. What would be on the bar?

Hes probably talking about the menu bar at the stop that dayo has. It says things like search, images, videos. Just like google has theres. But your search is cool.

Meh. I might add it. Daio will be Dayo's backup site. Just in case we have to fix something.

Very nice design and domain. But again like most people said, Please increase your search results

I will be adding image, video, news, and shopping results soon! (Maybe this weekend)
