Thread: Rate Threads in the Premium Hacking Tutorials section.

Well, this is probably a very simple suggestion. And since Omni recently brought back the ability to rate threads, then could you also make it to where ub3rs could rate threads in the new section that you created?

When I try to, it says:

There was an error performing this update.

You do not have permission to access this page.

I'm assuming it's because I'm not allowed to post new threads in there, just like every other ub3r and member. But I think it would be nice if you would make it to where we could rate the tutorials in there.

Thanks for reading.

I don't see a point to be honest.

The tutorials are there for a reason and I don't see a need for thread ratings for this section.

Just my thought on the matter.

It would be pretty pointless. They would have had to be astounding guides to get there in the first place. It would just be abused by the butt hurt and bored.
