CRYP7 - October 27, 2012, 3:09 pm

Hello HF :)

This isn't your typical scam report.

Think of this as a warning to Candyshop.

He has given word to repay money by the end of October,...

however he has been avoiding me and ignoring my every attempt of communicating with him.

THIS IS OFFICIALLY A SCAM REPORT.

This is a very solid scam report. I probably won't get my money back - I am hurt by that because that money wasn't for myself - but at least I can do my part to help the community remain clean of these sort of evil people.

UPDATE 4

He claims he cannot login to his account or reset his password. Either he is new to the internet (!) or he's being a skid.

UPDATE 3

Joker™ has made an excellent statement on the case. Please read:

(Nov 4, 2012 05:02 PM)Joker™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) There is nothing to read, except your one single excuse. If we overlook the fact that you ignored him on skype, ignored dozens of PMs while being fully active on hackforums, I starred this thread and made first contact only after this thread, IF we overlook all that you still agreed to the terms of use which included the scenario of paypal/ebay limitation and that my 'champ' means you owe this money no matter what. However even a man with a half a brain can see right through that lame excuse. ?

Be your reasoning true or false I truly do hope that you return OP's money--

UPDATE 2

I've just sent the link to the thread to him via Skype. Proof that he's viewed it:

http://i.minus.com/iFJUKRPfwsYWY.png

As you can see, his account says he is "AWAY". However, his recent activity on the forum says otherwise. Evidences will be listed below.

The story: earlier this year, I started a small partnership to settle myself into HF. It's was a sincere partnership and I kept my word with every single person I've worked with at HF. When it came to Candyshop (or real name 'Kip', as many of you know him as), he decided to act the silly child that he is.

He made 20 sales for me, of which he owed me £824 GBP.

Long story short, something happened to his Paypal account and he claimed it was limited. He showed me 'proof', which I accepted.

EVIDENCE PIECE 1: Here is the Skype conversation from the 11th of July where Candyshop (Kip) gave formal agreement on paying back £820 GBP.

[img]http://i.minus.com/ib006BXUDjiNai.png[/img]

So as you can see, it's more than evident that what I have written above is completely factual and proven by Candyshop (Kip) himself.

A few weeks later, I was browsing on HF and saw that he had one of his Paypal accounts limited. I found him online on Skype so I offered some advice to him.

EVIDENCE PIECE 2a: Over the past few months I've been waiting for him to come on Skype. Since we're in different time zones, that was very difficult but he did come online today, and here is the conversation:

[img]http://i.minus.com/i3wKu32VZQytk.png[/img]

Very one-sided.

EVIDENCE PEICE 2b: So, I sent a friend of mine who was asking me about Candyshop (Kip) to see if he would be ignored...

[img]http://i.minus.com/ibwDYt7jge1Nk7.png[/img]

[img]http://i.minus.com/ilDDpnnncr4t1l.png[/img]

[img]http://i.minus.com/ivglIKck3Qji1.png[/img]

[img]http://i.minus.com/ibpLgqToC7HASm.png[/img]

So as you can see from this piece of evidence, Candyshop (Kip) and my friend had a very normal conversation without any breaks whatsoever... all the while, I was messaging him on Skype and being ignored.

EVIDENCE PIECE 3: I didn't just wait to contact him via Skype, I also PM'd him via HF's messaging system

[img]http://i.minus.com/iKRBj9wy5rLLS.png[/img]

[img]http://i.minus.com/iIPXVOGikkZib.png[/img]

[img]http://i.minus.com/iIBAhK20OrpVR.png[/img]

[img]http://i.minus.com/iP1Fm8EDZnSCb.png[/img]

[img]http://i.minus.com/ibofcxnc1Slppg.png[/img]

[img]http://i.minus.com/iOwDSa8jJ8IMG.png[/img]

[img]http://i.minus.com/ibvUiUgnCEFCTr.png[/img]

I think that's plenty of evidence to prove my case to be just and true.

Now it is up to Candyshop (Kip) to respond honestly. He can easily pay back the money and boost his rep on the forum... or he can destroy his rep by ignoring and making up lies.

I know that Candyshop CAN afford to pay back the money. He has a successful partnership on HF that has earned him enough (don't ask me how I know that).

I d0xd him months ago. I know where he lives. I know about his family. I know the places he went to study. I know what teams he used to play for. BUT I haven't done anything to hurt him or his rep, so far.

Throughout this ordeal I have been patient and more than just.

I know that there are some of you who will be mind blown by this and maybe tell me that I'm the idiot (I partly agree), but... shit happens, my friends.

I leave this case open to the members of HF and Candyshop (Kip) himself to respond to.

Thanks, and take care.

A lot of money, I do feel for you and this is legit.

Only problem is the agreement was the end of October, which it isn't yet... so he still hasn't actually scammed you till that date.

I know. Hence why I put that notice at the beginning of the thread.

It's a warning to Candyshop for now. Let's see if he pays back or decides to continue his stupidity.

Changed his Skype name to "Noah A LOL". I wonder what it is that he finds funny.

Well considering he 1stared the thread and hasn't posted, I think hes picking option #2

Candyshop - October 27, 2012, 3:25 pm

First off, it isn't the end of October yet.

Second, your partnership fucked my entire Paypal and Ebay up. It completely ruined my Paypal, I have tried to make like 3 in the past and they all bring up the one he screwed me over on. I can't even make a Paypal anymore...I am using a trusted internet friends paypal for everything currently. I can't sell on the Ebay anymore, as it has it's selling privileges permanently removed. Also when I did this I was very inexperienced about computers, HF, and all of these kinds of things. What I was selling for Cryp7 I now know isn't even allowed to be sold on Ebay! Paypal wanted me to give them proof of purchase for the items I sold, and so Noah(cryp7) gave me a fake document he made in Excel...if they were really purchased then how come he couldn't provide proof? Which is why my PP and Ebay were permanently limited. I'm not even capable of taking the money out of the PP as well...

I do indeed have a good going Ebay partnership right now, and I have for the past 3 months. I have had well over 15 different partners and haven't had ANY problems. I do owe 2 people from my partnership about $50 but they both will be paid within a week.

I know it isn't. But I had to take some sort of action since you were ignoring me. It took THIS for you to finally start responding. What kind of a man are you?

You're the only person I've worked with that this has happened to - fact.

And of course you knew that the product wasn't allowed to be listed. I gave you a document called "Partnership INFO.doc" which had all the warning in there. The first thing I said was to read that. Those were my terms, and you agreed to them. I hold NO responsibility for the limitations placed on your accounts. You hold full responsibility since you agreed to the terms.

There is nothing to read, except your one single excuse. If we overlook the fact that you ignored him on skype, ignored dozens of PMs while being fully active on hackforums, 1 starred this thread and made first contact only after this thread, IF we overlook all that you still agreed to the terms of use which included the scenario of paypal/ebay limitation and that my 'champ' means you owe this money no matter what. Not in this case because HF does not allow eBay partnerships anymore (this happened before the change of rules).

Can you explain how did he screw your PayPal and eBay when his friend added you after you ignored his Skype messages, so you was still running your partnership, is that right? ? Actually, your PayPal was fine when you started chatting with his friend, but YOU still ignored him. My Ebay became completely restricted, and every one I make after that becomes restricted immediately as well.

The PayPal where all the money from his partnership was going became limited completely, and now I can't make any others without getting limited again. Changing my Skype nickname, what does that have to do with anything? Right now it's Candyshop, but sometimes I make it my first name, or any other name. That has nothing to do with anything. With my Ebay partnership I was receiving money into my parents Paypal which also became linked to mine in October, and closed as well.

I lost hope in HF, so I haven't really been on much.

But to answer your question - no, it has not been resolved, and it never will be.

Candyshop has made plenty of money from online business and he hasn't even had the decency to ever offer me any of the money back. You all now know the kind of people lurking around on HF - cheats from the depths of their hearts.

His call of "banned paypal" is bull. I'm done arguing, all the evidence is already on this thread.

Second, your partnership fucked my entire Paypal and Ebay up. It completely ruined my Paypal, I have tried to make like 3 in the past and they all bring up the one he screwed me over on. I can't even make a Paypal anymore...I am using a trusted internet friends paypal for everything currently. I can't sell on the Ebay anymore, as it has it's selling privileges permanently removed. Also when I did this I was very inexperienced about computers, HF, and all of these kinds of things. What I was selling for Cryp7 I now know isn't even allowed to be sold on Ebay! Paypal wanted me to give them proof of purchase for the items I sold, and so Noah(cryp7) gave me a fake document he made in Excel...if they were really purchased then how come he couldn't provide proof? Which is why my PP and Ebay were permanently limited. I'm not even capable of taking the money out of the PP as well...

I do indeed have a good going Ebay partnership right now, and I have for the past 3 months. I have had well over 15 different partners and haven't had ANY problems. I do owe 2 people from my partnership about $50 but they both will be paid within a week.

This isn't his fault. You took him on as a client and you payed the consequences. Not his fault that you weren't careful. You clearly ignored everything he has said and you're simply a scammer.

Btw, he got banned after he stopped working for me.

In all the time he worked for me, he didn't have a single problem.

He never showed proof that it was anything to do with my products. I had 5-6 other people working for me at the same time and NO ONE ELSE had a single problem.

He even went to the great lengths of making up a fake story where the FBI was involved, or a "secret-agent" spoke to him. Like wtf?

If you presented such a justification in the court of law, do you think it would hold? They would kick you out of the bloody court room.

Terrible excuse. Just because someone has traded with you in the past without complications does NOT mean they won't scam others.

I've worked with 100+ people from HF (partnership) and I've never wronged any of them. I believe that makes me more reliable than a kid who's made a few trouble-free deals and then stole $1300.

Quote:Keep clear. This dude is selling microsoft windows 7 keys and microsoft office. The keys are MSDN keys and get blocked by microsoft soon. It is also illegal to sell MSDN keys.

Your ebay will get flagged after a couple of sales ebay and paypal accounts get suspended.

To remove ebay suspension you have to get microsoft to email them stating that you are selling genuine products(Not going to happen since there MSDN keys)

To remove the paypal suspension you have to do the same and also provide proof that your are a authorized microsoft partnet reseller(Your not)

So yeah, a couple of sales go perfect then ohh you just lost your ebay and paypal account.

I actually just read the whole thread. All 11 pages of responses, including yours. What happened to you Does Not Matter, you have to understand that you entered into an agreement to pay someone money. It does not matter why you entered into that agreement, or if that agreement made you lose money, got your eBay or PayPal accounts limited, banned, destroyed, if federal agents came to your house and talked to your dad, you, or if they came to your house and confiscated your computer, none of that matters in regards to your agreement with him. If you pay him, then want to sue him for your loses, that is fine, but these are two separate things, and you have no right to take the law into your own hands by just keeping his money.

You agree that you have done what he has said you have done, that is the worst part, you aren't even saying that you didn't do it, that you didn't agree to pay him, or that his proof is fake, you just claim that your keeping of his money is justifiable due to the fact that you messed up (why would you keep more than operating costs (maybe $50 for fees) in your PayPal account? Like seriously, have you never dealt with PayPal before, they will limit you Just for selling "Too much" on eBay in a month).

It does not matter why you entered into that agreement, or if that agreement made you lose money, got your eBay or PayPal accounts limited, banned, destroyed, if federal agents came to your house and talked to your dad, you, or if they came to your house and confiscated your computer, none of that matters in regards to your agreement with him. If you pay him, then want to sue him for your loses, that is fine, but these are two separate things, and you have no right to take the law into your own hands by just keeping his money.

You agree that you have done what he has said you have done, that is the worst part, you aren't even saying that you didn't do it, that you didn't agree to pay him, or that his proof is fake, you just claim that your keeping of his money is justifiable due to the fact that you messed up (why would you keep more than operating costs (maybe $50 for fees) in your PayPal account? Like seriously, have you never dealt with PayPal before, they will limit you Just for selling "Too much" on eBay in a month).

I never understood his ways of justification either.

And it's HF, so he gets away... kind of ;)

Yeah...

eBay partnerships are now against the rules of HF, so I don't see anything happening

BisualZ - June 12, 2013, 2:07 pm

The proof seems legit. Help that guy, he lost a lot of money.

Psychotiic - June 12, 2013, 2:20 pm that just shows how little some care when its not them being affected by a bad member; at least we all know he is unsafe to work with. Hope you get paid, unfornatly this kid wont likly do it.

Yeah, I don't see that happening since I'm dealing with a very confused child.

And that will probably get me banned, not a smart idea :)

My PayPal? Why? :P PM me :)

Well i am really sad to see this. I have seen people getting scammed here but for that much money.. No one. I am really sorry for you. And i really pray that you get your money back. You really lost a lot of money. If i had spare i would just give you some. but mark my words once i get a few dollars to spare i will surely ask for your paypal id. I know it will not make much of a difference but Still i would like to contribute. Anyways thanks for putting this up a lot of people will be benifitted from it. :D

qqhf - November 17, 2013, 5:42 am

I doubt he'll ever pay up because people like these like to delay/postpone to scam more members and he's obviously blown the money by now if he's telling any bullshit to you.

I know, brother. It's evident what's happened here.

But, at the end of the day he's a little kid. I've thought about SWAT-ing his parents, but they're not completely responsible. Maybe.

I don't expect him to pay with money, but he'll pay :)

toxicangel91 - November 19, 2013, 12:30 pm

Holy Shoot that is too much man! 1300 Bucks. I think you should try calling his parents. I don't think they will try to give your money but they will try to give atleast 25% or maybe 50% if they are rich. But I don't think they are rich, Rich people son doesn't behave like dick.

I would positively recommend you to please contact his parents and tell what he has done. Maybe his parents won't pay you back, but he will get a good lesson.

Do it, or he will be looking some more slaves like you in other forum, you'll never know. Maybe his parents should know what he is into. Best of Luck. Any updates by the way ?

EDIT: Just wanted to add few lines like, I lost today 60bucks from a scammer, and I know how is the feeling of the hard earn money. You lost 1300$, shit dude, I would be like doing some fucking suicide attempts instead of facing my parents.

Personally, i think someone needs to make a group on here where the members will track down any scammers threads and post links to active scam reports in their thread.

Funny how after like 5 reply's from this faggot scammer he just stopped replying, i also find the whole FBI story extremely entertaining!

NOTHING.

This is a great and trustworthy scam report to.

He is still on HF and most likely still doing deals scamming or legitimately and his rep hasn't been touched. Its shame some people can be so evil and greedy.

Sorry about your loss man 1300$ is no joke. I would try to push this further than just a HF report.

Good luck
