Thread: ? OFFICIAL | THE EMPIRE | RECRUITMENT ?

Tibit - October 28, 2012, 5:42 pm

Thanks Glassy for the Informational content.

General Introduction:

Welcome to The Empire Recruitment thread. We will only allow 15 new members to get us to a total of 40 members. We will be extremely strict on who we let in to our group.

The recruitment thread will be closed in one week.

Forum Icon:

What is The Empire?

The Empire is a group of high quality members who will share knowledge throughout our sub-forum and with the rest of Hack Forums. We will mainly work within our sub-forum, however from time to time we will operate publicly to help enhance the site as best we can. All members are to be helpful, kind, and share knowledge with those that need it where they see fit. Members are expected to conduct themselves maturely across the forum, with no exceptions. We do not endorse or condone trolling or members who flame consistently. As a group we want to make a strong impact throughout the site, so if you can please wear the userbar or any group related images when you can. Members who are unable to preserve a positive image and reputation for our group will be kicked immediately without warning.

Rules & Policies:

Official rules of Hack Forums apply in this group unless explicitly stated otherwise and all members must abide to these. If you should have any disagreements of any kind, leave the crew.

You must post regularly throughout the sub-forum. If you are going to be inactive for a few days, post here: The Empire Inactivity Thread.

Posting regularly in the sub forum is a must. We currently require a minimum of five (5) posts per day, we will monitor accounts for activity and send notices as needed. This is to preserve the sub-forum's activity.

Stay on topic, don't keep spamming posts on threads unless explicitly stated otherwise. The Empire Group Lounge is of course an exception.

If you want to leave the group, make sure you mean it, you can't just come back whenever you feel like it.

Don't post threads about completely random topics without messaging a leader first, this includes achievements and the like, post those in the Group Lounge. Tutorials and Giveaways can be created by anyone. Also, do not use "The Empire" in the title of your topics, only do so if a leader has deemed it official. We are not restricting posting at any of the threads here. Any thread of quality and invoking discussion is welcome. If you have any questions about a thread you want to post, feel free to message a leader.

What happens and goes around in The Empire's sub-forum stays in The Empire's sub-forum. This is a private group with a private sub-forum. Any discussion on what goes on in the group outside of this sub-forum will immediately have the member removed and blacklisted. No discussion on how we work or what we do. No hinting, no examples, we want to keep this as private and exclusive as possible. Put it this way: Everything in The Empire is a secret to all outsiders. They must be invited into the group to find out more about us.

The rules above are subject to change without any prior notice by Tibit.

Application:

Note: Our application is extensive as we want to know exactly who we are letting in.

Answer the questions, but you may reformat it: (You may use GFX)

Apply guys this is a great group with great members and as a senior member of the group I recommend everyone to apply if they feel like they have the quality that is required...

Paran?rma1 - October 28, 2012, 5:44 pm

The Empire is an outstanding group, and I think everyone should apply even if you don't think you are worthy.

It is a true honor to be in this group, and I wish the best of luck to all.

Endanger™ - October 28, 2012, 5:48 pm

Good luck with everyone applying. I can't wait to see who is interested in joining this great group.

What are some skills that you have: I am always willing to help anyone with something that I know how to do, and if I am not sure the answer to something, I will find it and help the person out if they would still like help.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I've never seen a Low quality member of The Empire and would like to be among the greats on hackforums.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I'm by no means a low quality member, and I am willing to help people at any given time.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Well I am 20 years old. Right after highschool, times were getting pretty rough for my mother and my sister. So I decided to go and join the United States Army. Don't get me wrong, times get hard being in the military, but I do it to help my mother out financially. It was a big decision to sign my life away for 4 years to the government, but I knew it's what had to be done. With the economy how it is, I knew I wouldn't be able to find a job that payed well enough to actually be able to take care of my family and I. So joining the army really has helped my family get back on their feet. That is a very memorable time in my life.

Anything else you want to say: If I'm not accepted, so be it. I just figured it was worth a try to be among the elites of the forum, and to try and help others.

SoulZeh - October 28, 2012, 5:49 pm

Good luck to everyone who applies, :3

What are some skills that you have: Web Development - I have been developing and coding website's since I was 12 when I made a blog for Club Penguin. It is a fun hobby I enjoy doing.

Online Marketing - Marketing is something I have been doing for about a year now and is my online income.

Monetizing - This dates back when I first starting using adsense on a Club Penguin blog when I was 12. I have a Facebook page with a little over 32,000 likes that I use to monetize.

Graphic Design - My skill is very limited when it comes to graphic design but I can do a little more than a average person could.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I have been waiting ever since the end of last recruitment to have a chance to join The Empire. I love that everyone is such a close group of friends and nice to each other. The amount of giveaways that you all do to give back to the community is amazing and would love to take part in that. Not to mention how nice the overall quality of the group is. The Empire is one of the best groups on HackForums because of their members, quality, and contributions. I could to contribute as well in the name of The Empire. I would like to join The Empire to share my experience of HackForums with a quality group that I would be proud to be apart of.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I have so much to offer to the group. I make sure to make nothing but quality posts and do my research before I make a thread to insure there is nothing but facts listed. I would love to contribute in the name of Empire by doing many giveaways and tutorials. I'm on the internet about 8-10 hours a day whilst I could be representing The Empire the entire time. I would be completely loyal to the group and the leaders and always make sure to include the group in everything I do. I feel I should be accepted because i'm always open to learn and meet new people along with sharing my current knowledge with others throughout the forums and sub-forums.

I'm a 16 year old male that has been through to much from my age. From my parents getting a divorce at age 7 to my mother getting accused of rape when I was 12. I spend the majority of my time online due to the fact that I now take online courses in replace of going to public school. My parents decided to get back together and get re-married when I turned 14 so we moved far out to the country, which was a little over a hour and a half from where I grew up. I didn't want to have to meet all new friends in the middle of my high school life so I made the choice to take online classes in replace.

Due to my poor decision of wanting to do so, I now miss my friends that I have grown up with since kindergarten. I have not seen one of them in little over a year now and rarely talk to them at all. A girl that I fell in love with my freshman year also played apart in that dumb decision I had made. I was in love with her and she had cheated on me so I just wanted a escape route that led to one of the biggest mistakes in my life. I cannot say I don't like not having to wake up so early in the morning but if I could go back I would.

I grew up playing sports but I can no longer play due to 3 pinch nerves in my back from football and tendinitis in my forearm not allowing me to bend my arms straight. So practically I can only bend them halfway, which is good for only typing, haha. Sadly there is no one near me where I currently live so there is no one to really interact with in my personal life other than my parents. I'm waiting to finish my online courses so I can finally head off to college and major in Computer science like my uncle. I can no longer play video games either due to the internet being so bad out in the country so i'm constantly looking for new ways to socialize with people and that is how I ended up on this forum. Always looking for new friends.

Well there is my life in a nutshell.

Anything else you want to say:

Thank you for the opportunity to join The Empire and reading my lengthy application.

What are some skills that you have: I am a good debater from world politics to turning green. I am an avid Xbox gamer. As well I can build the perfect gaming computer for any kind of budget you may have. Also I am a White/Grey hacker.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join because of all the active and amazing members the Empire currently has all around HF.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I can bring anything to the table, I can help with problems at home to problems on your computer.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Sadly the most memorable thing in my life was my parents divorce for the long 3 years it took place. You would think a memorable in your life would be 'good', but not in this case. I just remember it so well because once my mother basically left my father, she could not support myself and her. We where almost kicked out on the streets. [I would rather not make the rest of this to the public, if you feel to know more, feel free to PM me for the remaining]

Anything else you want to say: That is about it for now.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I would like to join The Empire to learn all that you guys can teach. I have been looking for a good way to learn more and I think this would be the best way to.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should join The Empire because I am not the best member or the worst but I think I could give a lot to the community.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Well I am a senior in high school after I graduate I will be moving to new mexico after I graduate to work at one of the Hp buildings down there. And hoping to make some money to help with projects I haven't been able to finish. And going to donate most of it to HF.

Anything else you want to say: I hope I get accepted. ?

What are some skills that you have (Explain): Very good at cracking. can get twitters, and tumblr names. mainly anything i can crack i can get.. i'm a real nice member and i'm very skilled in a lot of things.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Well because i've always liked the group and it's the one and only main group i'd have a chance with and to be a part of.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I'll be honest.. i'd like to just be chill with all the members be a good member towards the group and just all in general help out our community.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Once when i was a just a kid.. i started learning more and more things and went on to help some of my family members with drug problems i got into gaming and programming mostly in my teen years. i'm 17 i play football for my high-school i was offered a scholarship but i declined it because i only played for fun. i excelled rapidly in school and went on to college where i am in the present. i would consider myself a nice guy and a gamer etc. that's mainly about it.

Anything else you want to say: I've never been in a group before and this is probably one of the only chances i'll get so i'll take that risk to see if you all would like me into your group i'm a really nice and friendly person and chill.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): My online skills include marketing I have made over 3,000$ on HF. My real life skills are a lot, I am a good snowboarder, I love wakeboarding, I am just getting into racing motocross, I love to surf every morning I can and all that jazz!

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Because it seems to be the group that knows what it's doing on HF and it's organized and I'd love to be a part of this great community and I would get an opportunity to meet new people that are apart of the group. I would also be able to share some of my money making methods.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Because I have a lot to offer and it'd be a good group for me. I left my current groups will be leaving respawn as well. I've been around the block with groups and noticed that nothing was happening in any of them and I know that The Empire is nothing like that.

1. Why are you asking about sexuality?

2. Why are people saying their sexuality is Male? That would be your gender, you guys are basically saying you are gay.

3. Why can't people edit their apps? I see no rules about this.

Sexuality: I'm guessing you mean't to put sex instead of sexuality twice, if so, Male.

What are some skills that you have: I am pretty intelligent in just about all subjects. I know a lot about technology, mostly computers, smart phones and Consoles such as Xbox/Jtags. I have been an active member of forum sites for about 3 years now and I'm pretty familiar with everything. Anything that I don't know I can pick up on fast. I have also been a big part in Social Media, as I was once Facebook famous, ran a twitter with over 100k followers, and had a very successful YouTube channel.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I have really been wanting to become a very active and known member on Hack Forums. I am usually nice to everyone right off the bat, and am very easy to get along with. I want to become apart of a group like this because I think it would be perfect for me. I can share all my knowledge and help as many people as I can, as I will also be learning so much more information and be making some really great new friends at the same time. Being apart of this usergroup would make my time here on Hack Forums a lot more enjoyable, and give me something to look forward to everyday.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: As I said before, I am very nice and easy to get a long with, and I will always go out of my way to help others out. Being apart of this will make everything here on Hack Forums a lot better for me, seeing I don't have a lot of post nor rep, but I can ensure you that I am very intelligent when it comes to forum sites, and I plan on spending a long time on this site.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: I started getting into computers and such when I first started playing Modern Warfare 2. I came across a modded lobby and had no idea what to even think about it, at this time I was only in 8th grade, meaning I was 13. I wanted to know more about what I was just in so I started doing a little research. I eventually came to a Call of Duty Modern Warfare 2 "10th Lobby" video on YouTube. It told me to join The Tech Game to get into these lobbies, so I did. After I joined the site I started posting on the forums, not really thinking anything of it. After a few weeks I started to venture away from the 10th lobby post on TTG and started checking out other forums, such as computer forums, modded Xbox forums and much others. I soon purchased a Jtagged xbox. After a while I started hosting free 10th lobbies on TTG and becoming a known Jtagger and pretty much a part of the community. I seen put a side my modding ways and started to just become a active forum member, and try to help others as much as possible. I soon fell in love with forum sites and communities like this. I soon became a member of Hack Forums and that's where I am now. I plan on making this my new home and spending all my time on here helping others out. Hack Forums is what I love now.

Anything else you want to say: I really hope I can be accepted into this usergroup and make my time here on Hack Forums so much better to be a part of something big. Thank you for all your time.

What are some skills that you have (Explain: I am very talented at making money online. I have came up with several nice ways to do so. I am also good at emotional advice.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I would like to join another group. The Empire is full of members that I look up to.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I have done many things for the community. Including $925 in donations and over 200 something Months of XBL given out.

I am a 15 year old athlete. Ever since I was a kid, I have always wanted to play Major league baseball. I am very talented in baseball and it is something I feel that I am still chasing after. Something memorable that happened in my life actually happened today. I lost my grandmother. I loved her so much. She lived with us for around 12 years and I cannot begin to explain how badly this hurts. I have honestly been crying all day, and I am not the kind to cry. I have learned that she is in heaven now, and would not come back if she could. RIP Gigi.

Anything else you want to say: Thanks for reviewing. Sorry I did not put much time into it, a lot on my mind.

What are some skills that you have: I would say that I'm decent at e-whoring, I'm good at getting things through words.

I aspire to be a hacker though I'm still a complete beginner.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to open up more opportunities to learn. I'm sure that if I'm accepted into The Empire

I'll be able to learn many useful things and also pass on my own knowledge to others.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel that I should be accepted because I become very dedicated to any group that I'm a part of. I'll be sure to represent The Empire in a way that will give the group a good image. I feel I can contribute many things too, be it advice for other members, or giveaways for the group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Well I'll give a short description of my life I guess :P I'm 19 years old, currently living at Fairchild Air Force Base, Washington. Yea, i work in the air force, blah, it sucks. I try to keep a positive outlook on life but my job kinda blows. The benefits that come with it are worth it though!

After I get out in a few years, I plan to do some traveling, you know, just disappear for a while and see places. Then I'll settle down and get a real job haha.

I'm actually from Florida, lived there most of my life. I lived in a house on the beach, I really like surfing, skim boarding, scuba diving, and fishing.

Hmmm, maybe that's why I'm unhappy now, because I can't do the things I love haha. I'm also a big time skateboarder, at least, I used to be.

I used to practically live at the skate park that was right down the road from my house. Wow, I'm sure that I've got you bored as hell so I'll just end it here.

Anything else you want to say: It would really be an honor to be accepted into The Empire, it would seriously make my year.

If I'm accepted, I promise to become a dedicated member that contributes many things to the group.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:I feel like I can contribute as a loyal and High quality member to Empire. I also feel like I can learn from others in the sub-forum. I can also contribute a lot regarding graphics and social engineering. I can also do give-aways in the sub-forums.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:Ever since this group came out, I always wanted to be part of it, but at that time I didn't meet the requirements. Since there isn't any requirements now I thought I should take a shot at joining Empire. I also heard that Empire has one of the most active sub-forums and I really want to collect knowledge and meet some new members.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:I am currently attending high school as a 10th grader. I am taking AP Computer Engineering. When I graduate, I'm thinking about getting a major in computer engineering or in the medical field. One memorable thing that happened in my life was when I went out to a party with one of my close friend. When the party was over, my friend's brother came to pick us up. I was too drunk to actually find them, so I ended up taking the bus home. The next morning I hear news that my friend and his brother got into a car accident with a semi and both were killed instantly. I feel like I was meant to die along with them. I will always remember that night and the face of my friend.

Anything else you want to say:I can promise you that you won't regret recruiting me.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

Well I guess being smart is basically is my main skill, by that i mean i have common sense and i know alot about various topics on hack forums.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join The Empire because they seem like a perfect group that I would fit in with.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I think i should be accepted into the empire because i am usually a very high quality member that isn't really noticed and needs a chance. I also feel that i should be accepted into the empire because I like to help alot of people out like ive seen the empire do before.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Well my name is Parker, I like to help people out and take care of them as they were in my family not in a gay way or anything but just a normal caring way just how a father cares for his son i guess i can exemplify.

When I was around 10 a man came to my school and gave a speech to our whole class about lucid dreaming and while i was listening to his speech i became very interested in lucid dreaming I was trying to lucid dream when i was 10 until i was around 11-12 years old when i finally succeeded and ever since ive been trying to contribute to hack forums about various topics and lucid dreaming.

I joined hack forums when i was 14 two years ago i believe to be exact when i first joined i wasn't very smart and i was very lazy so I never really liked as a member considering i had very bad grammar and I had very low quality posts. When i started getting alot of negative rep back then i took a break from hack forums and hacking. For about 9 months and when i came back i couldn't remember my account info or email. So i had to make a new account which is the one im on right now and honestly i believe ive been living up to my reputation on hack forums so far and saw this thread and i thought i might as well give it a shot!

Anything else you want to say: This my first application ive ever done to join a crew or anything so I hope you enjoy my app.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): Some of my skills are as follows: Music production, small gfx works, social engineering, gaming and RAT'ing

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I would like to join The Empire for a number of different reasons. My main reason is that I would like to not only share my skills with the group, but learn new skills too. I would also like to make new friends and become closer with people inside of the sub-forum.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel like I should be accepted into The Empire because I am a very friendly and optimistic person. The Empire is full of helpful members that give back to the community and I would love to be a part of the group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Something very memorable that has happened recently is me joining the hackforums community. I originally found hackforums when my friend purchased a money making eBook. I have never heard of such a thing as a "money making guide" and prior to me joining the community I was always trying to figure out where I could sell virtual goods or how to make money on the internet. I came here with no money at all and I can say that thanks to this forum that has changed quite a bit.

Anything else you want to say: I would like to express my gratitude towards tibit and The Empire for reading my application into the group, especially you Existence ;p.

Douchebag # 145 - October 28, 2012, 6:19 pm

So so that everyone is aware...

Once you're in, you're in for good.

I've left the group twenty times and I've been re-added by Tibit, D:.

Bully!

Yoko_ - October 28, 2012, 6:21 pm

I'm kinda disappointed that I didn't make my application a little more colorful, it's too late now :(

What are some skills that you have: In Hackforums, and in most things that I do, I am very helpful to everybody that I come across. The skills that I have can be very useful in many subjects that I am need for. First of all, I am a very accepting person. I have the ability to be compassionate and help people no matter what they are like, L33T, UB3R, or Regular member. I will not discriminate against any member. I'm not really sure if this is a skill but I believe that this is an important attribute to any High Quality member of Hackforums. Another skill that I have is that I am pretty good at Graphics. this may not apply to the group but it can in some ways because I do graphics for free, no matter what, not for my own profit, but for others to enjoy.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I would absolutely love to join The Empire because I believe that it is one of the most High Quality groups that I have seen on this site. If I were to be able to join this group, I believe that I would be able to contribute to that high quality and possibly even make it better. I have seen the members of this group and know a few of them in real life. I know they are really great members and I would love to be apart of the amazing community that The Empire is. I want to be in this group because it can help me to become a better member than I already am, with my post quality and just me overall. This group would allow me to strive to be better, which I would really love.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: As I have said in my past two answers, I think that I should be accepted into The Empire for many reasons. Not only can I bring stuff to The Empire, but The Empire can bring stuff to me, making me a better member. I should be accepted into The Empire because I feel that I am a good member over all and that I have enough experience with Hackforums that I can handle being a member of a High Quality Group. Overall, I should be accepted into The Empire because I am a good HQ Member who can bring a lot to the table, help out members in the group and out, help to make the forums more enjoyable, and just be an overall friendly person to the amazing members of the group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: So first of all, I will start off with my personal info and my main family life. I am 16 years old, and am very mature for my age. I live in Pennsylvania and currently am in 10th grade(High School). I have 1 sister, a mom and a Dad, and 2 cats. I have a very happy life, and have a good amount of friends.

In my free time, I enjoy playing Xbox, going on Hackforums, hanging out with friends, and just plain having fun. I play Xbox every day(I am a bit of a gamer ?) and am on Hackforums alot. When I am not talking to my friends on Xbox, I am hanging out with them outside. I mostly enjoy the things that a normal teenager likes to do. I also enjoy playing sports and spending time with my family.

In school I do very well. In the past four years, I have maintained a pretty high GPA(3.6 and above) Not to brag to much but I got the Presidents award for Elementary school and middle School and am hoping to achieve this for High school too. I don't know if they have that award everywhere but I believe that its mainly that you have to maintain a 3.7 or above GPA. I have ok grammar and try my best to keep my posts high quality with above average grammar. In and out of school, I am an overall enjoyable person to be around.

Anything else you want to say: Lastly, really all that I have to say is thanks you for reading my application. I really admire your group and I would love to be a member of it. Thanks!

Basic R.A.Ting knowledge

DDoSing information

ext

I have some methods that are private and will benefit the members of The Empire.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I am a honourable member, HQ and trustworthy. I have been in Valor with Existance and Tibit when it was run right. I want to be in an organised, HQ group that is not known for selling memberships and LQ members.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel with the upcoming few projects I have in mind are key to getting Empires name more loved. A free booter is already in progress as well as a YouTube Partnering method. Both are going to be free, but I could make money off them but are intended to give a better outlook on the group I am supporting.

for music, I play the Piano and love rap. I play Paintball and ski, enjoy the weekends with my friends and with my free time I give stuff away on HackForums. I love this site and its the only real forum I have ever been a part of.

Anything else you want to say:

I have many give-aways coming which cannot be missed.

Also, once my free booter is up check it out :)!

What are some skills that you have (Explain): I am a programmer. I love to code program and work on projects with other people. I am in the process of having my own web hosting company which will host web servers, dedicated servers, VPS's, and many game servers. I already have all the server configuration done i am just waiting on the website. I am also certified in A+, CISSP, N+, Microsoft, and Linux Distribution. I know a little bit about program cracking, and I have thought about doing a tutorial on HF on how to crack. I know more than enough about web servers, and configuring them. I mostly work on the command line when setting up web server, but don't mind having a GUI. I also know how to use MySQL databases for websites and PHP.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join The Empire because I have heard it is a great group full of HQ members and think I would fit in with the group. It seems like it is rare for it to go into recruitment because it does not have that much members. Overall I think I could bring a lot to the group and a lot to the people of HackForums be sharing my knowledge with the community.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I know a lot about quite a bit of things. I have a lot of knowledge about computers and programming and would love to share it with you guys.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Well ever since I was 12 I have been fascinated by computers. I remember when I was 12 downloading all kinds of shit just to find out that it was a virus. I later figured out how to remove malware and take care of my system. I now work at a computer system security company, which is where I learned CISSP at and got certified in it.

At age 14 I started to get even more fascinated in the ways a computer works and how programs are actually made. I later joined a coding community where I learned things from Visual Basic all the way to how to install a server OS and program it to run how you want Otto run by just using a command line.

At age 16 I got a job at a computer security company and they have helped me a lot. I am the youngest in the company, but have a big role in keeping their servers up. I mostly trace security attacks and debug system errors.

Anything else you want to say: I am an amazing person and hope to be a great member of the team if I ever get the chance. Sorry for any grammical mistakes. I typed all of this on my iPhone and it took a while to get it all finished. Thanks for reading.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): I buy, sell, and jack pretty much anything original at all. Twitters, AIM's, a few Skype's, and emails. I used to be extremely into coding in Visual Basic .NET/C#, as well as Python, and the more basic languages a couple months ago. I'm starting to get into working with Photoshop, and graphics. I can debate well, sometimes even on topics I know nothing about. I have pristine grammar, as well.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I have seen many of the utmost high quality members on this forum join this group, and I would love to have the privilege to be apart of it; quite a few of the members I already know and talk to.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Because I feel that I could give a lot to The Empire community, and host giveaways sponsored by the Empire. Such as giving away emails, or other original items. I'd really like to be in this group because I also love the userbar as well the group idea as a whole.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Well, my actual name is Jake. I'm the most random person you will probably ever meet, and I'm really fun too. On site I try to stay HQ, while off of HF I'm actually much more to the relaxed side of things. What are some skills that you have (Explain):

I am a great advice giver. Any type of questions you might have, I'd almost always have an answer for it unless I know nothing about the topic. And if I don't, I'd do some research and give my personal opinion on the matter. I am also very active on many forums, do not let my 4K posts deceive you, I have 23K posts on a different forum for my CSS clan. I also host a lot of giveaways for the community, I'd be making some for the empire and the empire only. I also have a huge steam shop, I scan combos for possible working accounts. I would be more than happy to teach my methods to the community.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: It feels like an overall great sub-forum to be a part of. I've recently been looking for a group to dedicate myself to, and the Empire feels like it's the right one for me.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I'm generally a very helpful and easy to get along with type of guy. I feel if I was accepted to The Empire, it would for sure be for the better. I'd be making constant tutorials and hosting giveaways.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: I believe in karma, so to say if that describes anything about me. It always dictates my actions if you get what I mean. I'd always think about karma before doing something, like if I was to do something wrong, I'd be hesitant about it because I would be afraid of karma biting me in the ass in the future. I know this doesn't really describe me much, yet it means a lot./b]

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

I believe much of my skills come from my academics, as I am a computer science college major in my Jr year. I don't know everything about computer programming but I am on a continuing mission to learn as much as possible and I have grown to know both Java and Python more and more closely. I also know quite a bit of mathematics having to go through calc 1, 2, 3, differential equations, linear systems, and discrete structures. Other subjects I'm fond of are physics and logic.

I play bass guitar if that interests anyone as a skill.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to be a part of a tight group of individuals who in a sense move as a whole. Also I want to learn from the group as well as share my knowledge in order to strengthen the group as a whole.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Well, the more knowledge I feel I gain, I want to pass on to others and I would say the best way to do that is through a group on here. I believe in helping others just as others have helped me.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

I was born in south florida and was raised in a small town in central florida. I've grown up Christian and continue to walk the faith walk. I'm currently attending a florida University studying computer science (as previously said), which is where most of my focus is at in life right now. One of the most memorable things that happened in my life was when i met my girlfriend of four years, who i've been with since high school.

Anything else you want to say:

I know i'm not the oldest HF member but I would say I'm willing to help pretty much anyone I can if I have the right knowledge. I stay pretty active on HF (especially in SRPP and Java sections).

I have experience with XSS

I am extremely knowledgeable with Crypters/RATs.

I consider myself an entrepreneur.

I have resold crypters in the past.

I had a very successful eBook sales thread which is now closed.

I consider myself a professional in the area of ewhoring. I have made over $2,800+ alone.

I am an online marketer. I have made quite a lot. Over $2,000 not including ewhoring.

I do a little bit of GFX, but I am getting better.

I always have an open mind. No matter what the topic is.

Social Engineering.

Manipulation.

Spoiler (Click to View) I would like to join The Empire for many reasons. One being is that I believe I can teach and help people in the sub forum most of the time with things I am experienced in. Also, I would like to learn as much as I can whilst being in the group. I am very active, I am on every single day. I am starting to post more and more and I will be extremely active posting giveaways and many other things. I have been in "The Creed" & "Rhythm" before so I know what a group atmosphere is like and how to behave and act. Please don't take my age and think that I am uneducated, immature, etc... because I am the total opposite. However sometimes I do like to have a bit of fun, but who wouldn't? I know when to act professional and when to be laid back.

Spoiler (Click to View) In my opinion I try to be high quality as much as I can. I never flame and treat every single member with respect no matter if they are upgraded or not. I will post every day in the sub forum and will be extremely active. I will provide nothing but the best when it comes to tutorials, e-books, giveaways, etc...

Spoiler (Click to View) Currently I am a Junior at a Catholic High School inside the United States. Ever since I was a child, I was into making money. Any time there was an opportunity to make some, I did it. Whether online or not. I've made over $5,000 whilst on HF & plan to make a lot more. I started getting into Hack Forums when someone RATED me from here. I had absolutely no help with learning about the things I am experienced in. All of it I learned from myself and adapted. The RaTed becomes the RATER. Since then, I have become skilled at many things which I included.

I like to think of myself as someone who likes to be challenged. I like to question things and challenge my mind. I like to have friendly debates with others and enjoy sophisticated topics. I am very educated in the topic of Marijuana as well as Theology. I take everything with an open mind. I will never ever be close minded about anyone, anything, etc...

Spoiler (Click to View) I just want to say thank you to the leaders of The Empire for making my application possible and I really hope you take me seriously. Good luck to all other who apply. This is by far one of the most high quality groups I've seen. I took a while on this application to make it as high quality as the group is, so please take me into consideration.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

Gaming - I have been gaming since I was born. I own several different consoles such as the Wii, Xbox, Xbox 360, Sega Genesis, PS2, Gamecube, Nintendo 64, and multiple portable gaming consoles. I am extremely skilled in FPS especially, such as Halo.

Web Design - Although it is not really worth mentioning, I am fairly intermediate in HTML/CSS. I have taken multiple skills revolving web design and have created the basic terms and design of websites.

Graphic Design - Photoshop is something I am always in and out of. While taking a few classes at school revolving around graphic design I always hold a passion over art. Although, my level of graphic design is not expertise, I am still able to hold up to intermediate standards and am able to utilize photoshop to the best of my ability.

Video Editing - I really want to get more involved with this. I hold knowledge over iMovie, Final Cut Express, and Adobe After Effects. (CS4 and CS5) Here is my youtube channel if you'd like to look over some of the video's I have recorded, and created. Channel: <http://www.youtube.com/Hostile>

Writing - I am an exquisite writer. I am superb with vocabulary, grammar and punctuation. I am a very good essay writer when it comes down to random (or common) subjects.

Debating - What can I say? I never back down from an argument. I was in The Wraith and one thing that Hawkins always told us was to never back down from an argument even if it means you may be wrong. I always speak my mind, you could probably tell from my posts.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I've heard from past and current members that it sounds like a fine group. I would like to see it myself. Being lonely and bored with HF I've been trying to get interested into more groups so I believe joining The Empire may help. Plus, I may gain something out of it and I am always looking forward to meeting new people.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I personally believe anyone should be accepted to The Empire. The only thing that may qualify me to a better chance would be my skills, honest to death personality, and my loyalty to groups I join. I am a very hardworking individual and I will for sure be active and complete any assignment that comes forward.

While growing up, I realized being the quiet guy will only put you in last place. I believe in order to be successful in life you need to be willing to step into the spotlight, and take risks. Why do you want to join The Empire?: This group is extremely High Quality. It seems like a User group that I can speak my mind without being trolled, or flamed. It's nice to have conversations with high quality members.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I would be very active. I post about 50 posts a day, since I started being active again. I also can provide great advice and be a great mentor to those who need it. I display great maturity.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: The day I was announced as part of the honor role in school:

I was 14, in 8th grade. It was the end of the school year, late May, and I was stressing over my exam I just took. Finally, after all the tests, quizzes, and homework was over, it was time to have fun. We had a big inflatable slide to play on while the 8th grade graduation certificates were being handed out. All of a sudden, me and about 5 other classmates were called up to the microphone where the DJ was playing music. I was awarded honor role for my 8th grade year! I had never expected this, as I didn't pay attention to my grades as much as I had thought. However, I was doing much better than I had thought, with all 90's or higher, leaving me with a 4.0 GPA coming in to high school. After I was congratulated by the principal, all of my teachers, and the guidance counselor, I was given a 50 dollars gift card to the ice cream store down the road from my house. After getting home that day, and after saying goodbye to all my fellow classmates for the summer, I immediately told my mother. She cried with joy. That was the most memorable part. My own mother crying over my achievements. She was so proud, and I was so proud as well. That feeling could never be reproduced by any means. It was a once in a lifetime experience. This was about 8 years ago, and I still vividly remember it. The expressions in my mothers face, the cheering of my classmates after being congratulated, and even the rough feel of my principles hand after shaking it. In conclusion, my most memorable moment to this day will always be when I was awarded honor role in 8th grade. It changed my life, and is a main contributor to the fact that I'm in a great college. I am now going on with my life, and will always be thankful for the opportunities I was presented after gaining this achievement. I thank those people at my old school from the bottom of my heart, every day.

Anything else you want to say: I hope I get accepted. I really feel like I would be a great addition, and can prove high quality and maturity to this usergroup. Thank you to all the leaders and owner, and have a nice day.

I have some skills in RATting.

I am currently learning Java and I'm pretty good in HTML.

I'm very familiar with both Windows (from XP to 7) and Mac OS X.

I'm pretty familiar with most Apple products.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

It seems like a very close group.

I want a place to where I can have a small group of people I'm familiar with rather than just being forum wide.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel like I can bring a lot to the table.

I'm a very helpful and HQ member.

I'm very on active on HF so in turn I would stay active on the sub-forum.

I'm a kind member who tries to keep peace with people so you don't have to worry about me causing problems.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

Well I'm 20 years old. I'm from Louisville, Ky originally. Lived there for 20 years before moving away.

I'm an avid gamer. I love photography. I love the outdoors along with almost all outdoors activities.

I've been into computers before I could even go to school.

I'm a big technology person. If it's high-tech I'm probably learning about it.

Anything else you want to say:

Glad to see recruitment is going on and good luck to all that apply.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): My current skill are as followed:

Graphics

Security (Web and Systems)

Business

If you wish for me to elaborate on any of those skills please let me know. I also do programming in Java and aim to learn PHP + MySQL. I also develop and design pages in HTML and CSS. I feel that there is always something new to learn so the skill's I've just listed will grow in other areas as I go further into my career. I try to stay away from Blackhat work but I have had a venture or journey down that path in the past.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I'd like to join Empire because I've seen and help a couple of members from the group and all the members I've talked to from the group have something good to say about it. Another reason is because a lot of members from the group develop products and monetize here on HF, which is something I plan on doing in the near future.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I fell that I should get accepted because I would fit in with the group of people that I've helped in the past. It would be an easy way for us all to connect. Other than that it would be for you to decide.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: I don't have really much to say but I guess I will just give you a rundown of how I got to this forum. I basically join in November of 2010, there were a lot more helpful members back then and a friend introduced me to the forum. I got on and started to look at some threads and very helpful tutorials. After a couple of days of browsing around I slowly began to forget about the forum. A month or so after being inactive my dad got a virus on his computer. It was pretty bad as it came with redirects, a rouge AV(Ransomware) and many other things. After "working" with the worst Antivirus company in the world (you guessed it Norton) for a week I the "Technician" decided it best be to just reformat the computer. Not only did that make me very angry but It made me get thinking about how this could have happened, how he could have gotten infected, how the infection worked, how the technician couldn't remove it.

Fast forward a couple of weeks and I'm still reading about how this "Virus" works and trying to find out where it came from. I finally found out that it was Ransomware and it also added our computer to a massive botnet. It came from spam through email. I posted in the HJT section and got it all fixed in less than a couple of hours. Something that the Norton worker couldn't accomplish in a week. After the computer was fixed I decided to check out the Beginners Hacking section and got started to use RATs and Crypters. I grew bored of all of that and decided to scale up and start a botnet which was a complete fail. Then I started a booter as it had started becoming a fast way to make money. Had that going for a bit of time then slowly became less active as I got introduced to paintball (Which is the best sport/game in the world). By this time its now mid 2011 and I'm now playing Minecraft and hacking servers(no griefing) with two buddies. In the process I'm learning Java. But I do get tired of all of that and decide to learn about security and defacing.

Present day I'm still learning about Web Security and try to analyze Blackhat techniques and malware to use in good ways also I try to find ways to prevent others from getting infected, etc. I also picked up HTML/CSS and a bit of PHP. I plan on graduating with a Masters in either Computer Science or Information Technology/Security. If you were wondering I still play paintball :D

Anything else you want to say: If you have any questions or need help with anything feel free to PM me.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would like to join The Empire so I can experience new things and also meet new people. I feel the group has a lot to offer me and that I have a lot to offer the group myself. I can help out where I can and help out both members of The Empire and people who aren't. I would also like to join as it will finally give me a chance to connect with other HF members who share my mind set. Members, who like me, want to share, learn and contribute.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I should be accepted as I think of myself as being a high quality member as I always try my best to be polite and helpful to all members of HF. I do regular giveaways and answer many questions. If I see a member who needs help, I do just that and point him in the right direction. I should also be accepted as it's always been a goal of mine to be accepted into The Empire.

My real name is Michael, I'm 14 and I'm currently attending high school. I'm doing my options this year and also starting my GCSE's. I took IT and Business as my options as I hope to either start my own business or get into the IT sector of work. In my spare time I game on the PC with both my school and internet friends. I've got to know a lot of people over my past year on HF. Many I'm still with, some I'm obviously not.

I have a great fascination in everything engineering and technology. I enjoy finding out new things in both sections and I'm always looking for new things to do.

I hope to set up a cloud and web hosting company in the near future too, this could be possibly something I bring into The Empire.

Anything else you want to say:

Mostly thank you for reading my application, I hope to hear from you soon, thank you. ?

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

---The only real skills I have attained that would apply to this group is I am a great writer and reader. My vocabulary is phenomenal. I seriously will just read the dictionary some days. I believe my drive is like this from the movie "V for Vendetta". The one scene where he says 10 long words that start with v, and every single one correlates into a majestic sentence transuding with intelligence. -off topic

---My writing skill probably comes from my voicing my opinions to a sheet of paper for 2 years. Ever since 8th grade I get epiphanies but when I would try to remember the idea it wouldn't have the same stimulation as the when I first had it. So I carried around a notebook. Nobody except for me knew about it. I burned it quite some time ago.(Can't tell anybody why)

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

---Really I feel I could contribute a lot in the general information sector. I will record myself playing Jeopardy one night. I am also Interested in your views/ opinions on particle physics, Religion related topics, and some nice news articles. Things get pretty boring in Logic sometimes, the idiot filter breaks sometimes and a scrub or two spams the group forum with pointless shit. Hopefully empire has a the newer 2012 "Idiot Filter v2".

+ The userbar is the shit.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

The real question is why should I let the Empire have me. ?

---That was a joke by the way. Empire and all of its lovely leaders would enjoy having me, I have much to offer. Maybe not as much some people...Tibit. I am on HF as much as I can be with School, golf, and other stuff in the way. Thanks for reading my application. I had to redo it a little because at first there was hardly any information. Witing last part at the moment.

---Well, I'll get started by telling you about myself. I am 15 about to be 16. My favorite possession is either my car or my golf clubs. My car is a 97 BMW 528i, the rear BMW symbol was coming off so I sanded it off and replaced it with a golf ball sticker. She is a beauty and purrs like a kitten, rides about like how a whale swims, smooth and graceful. She will never be "blackened out", have subs put in, or have decals of flames put on her. Under the hood she has an inline 6 generating about 220 hp.

---My life has been pretty dull for the most part. My goal is to become either a nephrologist or a professional golf player. I normally shoot in the mid to high 70's when I play. I try to play everyday. I try to keep out of relationships with girls for the most part. I will flirt and mess around, but the first sign of something becoming serious I will duck and cover. It's almost subconscious. The moment I sense something more than physical attraction It's like uhh, got to go. I don't know if this is a consequence of me never being in a real relationship or me being messed up in the head. Ehh, saves money.

---The third paragraph is going to be about me and Chief's love like. Spoiler (Click to View) There is none. (; We are bff's though.

Anything else you want to say:

---Yeah, I just want to say thanks for reading my application, I hope I will receive a Pm in the meantime or i see that I'm accepted when I wake up in the morning. Peace out. Have great night, or morning depending on where you are.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Well, I was removed for being inactive for about 3 days, didn't post an inactivity notice. Talked to 630 and Tibit about it, but they wouldn't let me back in and said to apply in the thread again :/

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Well, I was only in it for about 2 weeks, and have about 150 posts which is far beyond the 5 posts per day mark. I also got accepted to be support on the stresser, which I still haven't been added too :3 I felt I was a good addition, providing activity and dedication towards the stresser support position which I was very eager to join.

Well, I'm fairly certain most of the Empire members saw my "Meet InHuman" thread which we were all required to do. A lot of information was in there, but I guess I'll say some important things. First off, I've had a girlfriend for almost 2 years, anniversary being November 22nd, and I truly love her to death. Without her I will definitely be a lot worse of a person than I am now. My sophomore year I was a complete stoner, I sold and was high all day everyday. I got suspended for 5 days a month before school ended, which really turned me around. I attend private school now, as well as hopefully playing volleyball.

I played JV basketball my freshman year, as well as JV baseball. In the summer from 9th to 10th, I pulled my hip flexer and slightly tore my groin, which sent me into 3 months of physical therapy and basically stopped me from playing sports. I picked up lacrosse last year and did that, and I signed up for volleyball this year so I plan on doing that for my senior year.

Anything else you want to say: Applying to hopefully be added back, and I'll post in inactivity notice next time :(

My father cheated on my mother while I was still in my moms stomach, they went their separate ways and then I was born. My mother, sister, and a few family members, and I moved to Sarasota, Florida for 2 years. We came back to Massachusetts when i was 4. A year later my mother met my former step father (Andres). They seemed to be meant to be. They were together for 7 years, and then that's when they had my little brother Jordan. 3 years later he cheated on my mother and tried to control her life (his days were numbered pretty quickly lol) When I was 5, I had ITP. ITP is a bleeding disorder in which the immune system destroys platelets. When I was 11 I had ruptured Appendicitis. My appendix had ruptured and they had to remove part of my intestine for me to survive, My great grandmother died that same week. My father is now being close to my sister and me, and he gets us whatever we want and tries to help us as much as he can to make up for the past. Him and my mother get along.. The most memorable moment Is when I went to Aruba this past summer. I hung out with my cousins every night till 3AM at Bars and clubs and was only 15 at the time. I danced with older girls and met some cool people. I had the time of my life in Aruba and I'll never forget it.

Well, I am a nearly 17 year old British citizen living in America. I lived in London up until I was 14, which was when my mom and stepdad divorced. My mom moved to Sweden and my stepdad to the DC area in America. I lived primarily with my stepdad but also spent some considerable time in Sweden. I was a pretty normal kid for the most part.

Then, around 4 months ago I was kicked out of my house for revealing my displeasure in my parents religion to my parents. I spent a few weeks on the streets living without a home. With some help along the way I found a job at a local restraunt and moved in with a roommate who was previously a good friend of mine.

Since then I have recieved my GED and plan on attending college soon, as I am saving up for it as we speak. I am also most likely moving back to the DC area soon to live with my sister. I am excited yet a bit nervous for what the future holds, all whole anxious and impatient at the same time. That's pretty much my (latter) life story. :)

My HackForums Story:

So, I wasn't very interested in gamertags, but from a website I was on (TheTechGame.com, I am no longer on there) I got interested in gamertags. So I was looking at recent threads on TheTechGame and as I was searching, I came across the original gamertags, I got interested in them and a few days later I saw a post about it, so I went to the post and it said blah blah blah here is a website for gamertag selling! The website was gamertags.in I went and registered on the site and I met a guy named, Apock. (Famously known as Pocky now) great guy we became friends, and I also knew a guy named TheHackersLove, from a website named GhettoGaming.com so these are two really good friends, I go to gamertags.in one day and it says we are now back on HackForums, I didn't know what that was, so I just went on with my day. (I am assuming Gamertag Section was closed on HF.) So later on I was talking to TheHackersLove on skype, and said "GhettoGaming is boring, do you know any other good forums"? He said "Yeah, HackForums", so I said "I am not into hacking thanks though." he told me about how it is not just hacking so I signed up (not under his ref sadly) and messed around in the gamertag section and decided. Hey, why not try the rest of this site, now I rarely go in the GT section anymore. Became a prodigy on HF (don't mean to sound concided) My username was Godly. I had 500+ rep, no negatives. Then I got banned, for 'Vouch Copy Begging' because I went away from HF for a short time and I guess when I came back there was a new rule, I get banned for a week and repfucked. Now, here I am just trying to make a comeback, I am just hoping to get a name again. (I changed my name from Godly. to Nolan)

Anything else you want to say:

Thank you for reviewing my application, have a good day.

Can we all stop debating on a recruitment thread, seriously.

Chief - October 28, 2012, 8:55 pm

For all concerning sexuality questions:

We want the members to be more open in the group and not ashamed of their sexuality. We don't judge you by it.

Name: Empowerment

Sexuality: Heterosexual

State/Country: United States

Time Zone: Eastern Standard

What are some skills that you have (Explain): I believe I possess a variety of skills on an abundant amount of topics that could be deemed as very useful and unique. Such as: Logical Thinking

Debating

Writing (Articles, Poems, Stories, etc.)

Grammar

Advanced Computing

Programming

Malware Removal and Detection

Anti-Virus Software

System Security and Protection

Server Maintenance

Software Debugging

Network Analysis and Configuration

Website Management

Hardware Builds and Repair

Remote Administration

DDOS and DOS Attack Protection

Social Engineering and Human Manipulation

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I personally want to join The Empire because I believe the group is extremely unique and also extremely rare and it would be a fantastic opportunity to be apart of it.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted into The Empire because of my overall belief in teamwork and dedication. I see feel I have the dedication to accomplish anything I set my mind to. I feel without this dedication I would be noting. I believe I should be accepted into The Empire because dedication is a very rare attribute to find in a person. Dedication has the possibility to influence anyone to accomplish anything. That sort of mindset amongst the members could set The Empire very high.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: To start off, I am a free-thinking individual who doesn't limit himself to closed-minded ideals. I am a person of open-mindedness and also acceptance. I hold a very strict belief that people should be able to believe in anything with freedom of persecution and ridicule. I find I have always felt joy at the thought of learning something new ever since I was a child. I love to read, write, and endow myself in knowledge. 'Knowledge is power' -- that is by-far my favourite quote. Those three words sum me up as a person, after-all, without intelligence there isn't much to fall back on Intellectually. I always try to question myself to allow for more possibilities on learning something new. I hold an optimistic attitude about life; I always attempt to see the better things that could occur and are occurring. My personality is usually seen as being a common 'introvert' but I am more than that. I am a well-spoken loving individual who embraces life every step of the way.

Anything else you want to say: Thank you for this opportunity, Tibit. Much appreciated.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): Being a fast learner, I can naturally do post things. As for my specialties, I'm great with gaming, I'm a decent coder, and I'm a good editor (audio, image, video).

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Why not? You guys are pretty awesome.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I'm a pretty high quality helpful member and I pretty much sum up the description of the group!

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Not much to say about myself. But, I'm not brag or say anything awesome. Honestly, there are many people who post that will be a better fit than me. But, I will tell you this, I am a great teammate/leader. I will follow the rules to a T. I will do whatever I'm told. I will respect everyone and change MYSELF as a person to fit the needs of the groups. And I will be someone you would want in the Empire. I would bet my money that 90%+ of the people applying would not do this.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): I know a little bit of C# and VB. I am very good at helping people. If someone needs help with something and I don't know the answer to their problem I will still try to figure it out. I also love helping people with learning the rules of HF

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I would love to be a part of an amazing group and be recognized as a member. I want to be able to set a good example for The Empire. I am still learning and helping.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted because I would set a very good example to other members and whenever I get the chance I will always do giveaways and tutorials of something new. I am just waiting for something new and original.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

I am a sophomore in high school. I always loved computers and I plan on majoring in Computer Science in college. I want to be accepted into NYU and keep getting good grades for my next two years of high school. Pretty much get a good job and live the American dream.

Name: 3.25.12 or Steven.

Age: 18.

Sexuality: Straight.

State/Country: NY, USA.

Time Zone: Eastern America GMT -5.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

I'm an experienced gamer, and know my way around games. Have also, done some competitive through out my gaming life so to speak. So I do have insight for members who need help through various games.

I'm an excellent help, in the Innuendo section. I know how to help others with their problems regardless of what they are, as I've been in most of them and had to deal with it myself. My help is almost perfect and helps out them 100% of the time, if not 99%. I can have members' vouch for me, through situations I've helped them with.

Socially active. Know how to cheer up people when they're feeling down. I know how to turn their frown upside down? Always looking to give members a great time, and to enjoy being apart of the community.

Very friendly, and love to make conversation about anything, this isn't really a skill so to speak, but it's very comforting for others, to come and talk to you about things and expect someone to hold the conversation.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I would like to join The Empire for several reasons. The first one being, you're well organized. This group is one of the top well organized groups on HF, and that is something truly great. The content produced from this group is amazing and HQ. I would love to be apart of that. You're all always looking to have a great time, and treat everyone with respect no matter what, and that's something I love doing myself. In this group, I've seen everyone come together like a family and be able to discuss things more easily than they would be with others, that's something I look into. I'd love to be apart of an online family, and be able to do whatever I can to better myself, along with the members of this group and all of HF. You're all always looking to give others a great time and enjoy being on HF and I wanna be able to be apart of that.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: The reason I feel I should be accepted into The Empire, is because i'm easy to get along with. I'm a good going guy, and like to go out of my way to help others, as I've seen this group do. I'm always looking to better the forums, and make others feel better about them selves. I'm dedicated to helping out as much as I can, and try to give others the good day like they always deserve. In my eyes, I feel like I would be a good addition to The Empire, and I say this because i'm friendly, easy to get along with, always looking to help out others regardless of the situation, give others a good time, have members enjoy being on the forums and i'm excellent when it comes down to communicating with others' about almost anything. I'm on a very understanding level, for most things and I feel members would find that comforting.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Well first off, my name is Steven aka 3.25.12. I'm currently engaged to my fiance Maria. I graduated high school 2 years ago and graduated at the top of my class. I was born into a middle class family and had to earn everything I ever wanted, I had never really had things handed to me. I've always had to put my blood, sweat and tears into whatever I wanted. I always felt things you want, have to be earned for through hard work and my parents showed me that. During my high school career, I was a sports junkie. I was on the Basketball, Football, Wrestling and Baseball teams. Each one of these sports, I found a family; a family amongst friends. I love to snowboard, play sports, read, work out, attend work, hangout with friends and family, and just overall have a good meaningful life. I recently started to take on 2 jobs, so my fiance could focus more on her college work. I want to help her acquire her dreams, even if it means I have to work harder and go out of my way. I'm only 18 years old, and I feel like I've accomplished a lot, for being so young. My fiance and I currently live in our own house, and have a steady income. In my eyes, as well as others, hard work does pay off. I've been doing the best I can to support myself and my fiance, as i've been doing for the past 7 years. I always put my dreams in my reach and they are slowly, but surely coming true. 1 particular dream, i'm extremely proud of myself for, is marrying the one I love, which I will be doing on November 20th. I'm always looking to impress myself as well as others, and do the best that I have to offer.

Anything else you want to say: I just wanted to say thank you for your time in reading this and I wish the best of luck to all that have applied. Have a good day. ? <3 ?

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

My skills online are as follows: Giveaways

I don't know how to use a keylogger, RAT or get someone's dox. Nor do I care about any of that

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join the Empire because I see that they do nice giveaways. That is all I do, I think I would fit in perfectly with people in the group. I am very active everyday checking almost every part of the forum and staying in contact with people

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I think I should be accepted because I have contributed to the forum countless time within the years

I been on HF. I am respectful to people who deserve it, always willing to help and very dependable. I have given all I could to the people here and they show their thanks to me in various amounts of ways

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

My personally is all of these traits:Respectful

Dependable

Thoughtful

Helpful

I always put other before myself and I believe free is better. So I check the Marketplace of the forum everyday providing likes, comments, subscribers, followers or every MSP. Im honestly not here to hack because i'll probably never be good at it, but im good at making people happy so I stay with the giveaways because I don't need the stuff.

Something memorable on HF was when I ran the Tryhards. I thought it was an excellent group with some good ideas, but I never got the money in time to make it happen. I had my good buddies on HF in the group that stayed loyal even when it wasn't official. Even now some people remember that group..

Anything else you want to say:

Yeah, that's not a 80% warning level you see. Clearly a mistake..

I also believe I can show some secret methods that I have stored on my PC that would really impress some people. Also, I dont think I have seen a website/forum hacker in your group yet thats active in that section & I would love to be your first.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Because, I am a very active & loyal member and surely will be to The Empire. I also, love interacting with other members & would love to meet & greet members.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: One day, I was at the mall and it was about to close. As, I go to the elevator and it starts going down for me to leave. It stops. ? and I am in the elevator alone at night. I call the firemen and they come and for some reason the cant get it open so I freak out and I was like. If the fireman cant get it open who can?! But eventually a guy came that looked exactly like Shaq & hammered the elevator down and it opened and I was free. I was so happy, I was alive as it was getting incredibly hot in there and then they gave me a free $100 gift card to there mall. So, it went pretty well... kinda.

Anything else you want to say: Not really, all I can say is I hope to get accepted.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

I wouldn't say that any of them are skills, but I'd refer to them more as qualities. They are as follows:

- General to advance knowledge of using a RAT/Port Forwarding (I don't use them anymore).
- I work with PPD and a little PPC, and make all my income from both of those combined.
- Advanced HTML/Javascript online applications (Creating fake online code generators, video players, etc)
- I love games to death, and genuinely understand and know a lot about many different types of games.
- I'm a very overall helpful person.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

To be quite honest, I feel like the more I help people, the more I give myself more practice and understand things better. For example, instead of working on my own websites to better myself, I help others to get them starting up. I always wished that someone could help me when I needed it, but nobody gave it to me. I find it amusing to help others and giveaway content.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

As said above, I love spreading knowledge. Whether it's beginner knowledge, or advanced - I will release it. No question should ever go unanswered. I try to answer a question with as much information as I can possibly give, even if I myself don't understand fully.

Around a year ago (21st of August, 2011), I heard about PPD on here. I earned around $150 a month all together for about 6 months. Then one day, I started to think about what I really want to do with my life, and what exactly I'm waiting for to get it started. So I worked, close to 16 hours a day, for a month straight. The outcome was pretty good, I was raking in a good $2,000 a month. All of my income is autopilot, I only put in about a single hour each month to update my websites, and that's it - a constant $2,00 a month. I'm sure if I worked at it harder, and put more time into it like I first did - I could easily be hitting $6,000 a month.

Anything else you want to say:

I don't think you guys would be at all disappointed in seeing me around. I honestly can't explain how my mind works, but I truly loving giving things out to people, helping them improve, and with that, allow them to evolve into a better money making machine.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): I am a skilled GFX artist been an artist since 2008 so I've learned tons of different things. Through different classes etc.

MLG (Major League Gamer) I've been playing video games as long as I can remember I'm a very skilled gamer. Over the years you seem to learn different things from different people when playing games and I seem to acquire a good amount of them

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Ever since i signed up on hackforums I was so interested in this group and so very badly I wanted to join.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Well I think it be a great honor to get in I'll provide many things for the group like giveaways etc Also I am a HQ User so I won't be having any LQ things from me.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:Well I'm a guy who has always been interested in gaming and computers been a passion for me. I'm usually around electronic devices 99% of the time. People always looked at me that I'm the odd one out because I'm so interested in electronic devices it's caused many problems in my life but tons of happiness as well. so I guess it evens it out.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I don't, but hopefully you might. I will put a fair bit of effort into this application, maybe that will impress your leaders.

Well, I am a 16 year old male, and I enjoy doing many things which include Skateboarding, Painting/Drawing, Computer games, and things as such. I live in Melbourne, Australia on the Mornington Peninsula. It is a large area, and I live in 3 houses. My Mums, Dads and Step-Dads. The reason I still go to my step-dad's house is because he was in my life probably more than my actual dad, which is sad to think about. He is also father to my 2 bothers. My step-dad and mum divorced about 3 years ago, which was a massive change in my life. But it was for the best. My mum got a new boyfriend, but never remarried. He is the reason I started skating. He had 3 kids of his own, and the eldest child, Tom, was about 2 years younger than me, but skated very well. Once I started, everyone moved into a house with 7 acres of land, and built a 10ft half-pipe. Did I forget to mention a jungle-gym? We were always productive, and were only inside on rainy days and night watching movies. Usually Tom and I skated until 12am before being told to come inside.

But, I didn't always get along with Troy (mums boyfriend), probably cause she got with him so quickly after the divorce. One morning, about 2 weeks before Christmas last year, Troy and I broke into an argument. This quickly turned bad. He threatened me with a frying pan, and quickly threw it at my mum, narrowly missing her and denting it! This was a $100 frying pan, may I remind you. It would have surely broken her shin.

Eventually, I tackled him down and he left at his own accord.

Soon after, maybe a week from Christmas, mum stupidly forgave him. It took me longer than that to forgive him.

When I finally forgave him, about a week after Christmas, but of course, a few weeks later they break up for no reason. Mum is now single, and we are living in a smaller house.

There's my story, hope I didn't bore you.

Anything else you want to say:

Not really.

Good luck to everyone else whom has and will apply!

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would like to join the Empire to be part of a new community that seems to have so much to offer. All the members seem to be very nice & helpful and makes me feel like I would fit right in and love it.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I think I should be part of The Empire because I am member that would never bring shame to the group in any means possible, from low quality posts to scamming, you will never see that from me! I will represent the group proudly and never go against the word of my superiors. I will participate in the giveaways I have seen The Empire doing. I love giving back to the community with no strings attached, and doing it in the name of a group makes it even better. I will also participate by posting helpfully in the sub-forum throughout the threads I can relate to!

I am 19 years old I currently live with my mother & visit my father a couple times a week. I am working full time at a warehouse while I wait for my specialized course to commence. I love going out with my friends & girlfriend. While I am not out, I like to spend as much time as possible on Hackforums or gaming on my Xbox. Personality wise, I am a very easy going guy. I like going with the flow rather than being a shit disturber. Don't get me wrong, I love a good debate, but when it comes down to an actual argument, I will avoid it and if that isn't possible, I always keep my arguments clean and respectful.

This isn't really a good memory, but it made me the person I am today. My parents got divorced when I was 9. Of course at that age I did not understand why it had happened. I now see things clearly and wish I would have known what I know now. Jumping past that, my mom has been single for 6 - 7 years, that means I am the only man in her life. She struggles with the disease MS, which prevents her from working from time to time so basically I am the one that has to help her out with the bills most of the time. I protect her, take care of her & love her to death. Until she finds the right man for her, I will be by her side the whole time and even when she does, I won't be too far. My mother is strong and made me strong. I am a better person today because of her, guaranteed.

Anything else you want to say:

My life story above was not for you guys to pity me, it was honestly the first memorable thing that came to mind.

Thank you for the opportunity, I appreciate it ?

Knowledge of internet monetization

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I've been waiting since I saw the group and what it's given to HackForums for the opportunity to be apart of The Empire. I feel that this group is the most high quality on the forum, and I would like to help it keep it's prestigious title that it holds.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I will give my all to the group, and hopefully donate some big items to the group's giveaways. I will also help the group's sub forum thrive with high quality posts and threads.

The biggest moment of my life was probably in a baseball game in a league I play in a year or so ago. I hadn't pitched the entire game, and the coach kept putting in shitty pitchers. Finally, the last batter was up. We had 2 outs and were up by 1 point, and the bases were full. The pitch count was 2 strikes, 3 balls, only 1 away from a walk or strike. My coach then put me in for the last pitch that would decide the game, if I threw a ball/base hit we would lose. I threw a fastball down the middle for a strike and won the game.

Delusion's Application

Name: Delusion (Levi)

Age: 17

Sexuality: Straight

State/Country: California/USA

Time Zone: Pacific, GMT - 7:00

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

First of all I would like to say I knew nothing before I joined HF, except graphic design and writing. I only joined about 3 months ago and I'm still learning.

Graphic Design - Graphic Design has always been one of my true passions, It comes very easy to me and I love making work for others. Here's my portfolio: <http://delusionhf.minus.com/uploads> Writing - I'm a very critique when It comes to writing, I always try my best to use proper grammar and punctuation.

Entrepreneur - I'm very good at looking for quick buys that I can later resell for more.

Ewhoring - Ewhoring is one of my very best skills, I've made over $300 in the same month I learned.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I would like to join the Empire because you guys are the best group in my eyes, because you're strict and you only except the best your always active and that includes all the members as well. And you guys always are there to help when needed. When I first joined this forum and I didn't know what to do I asked for help. I don't remember who specially helped me but I do remember they were in The Empire. I truly want to join you because I want to help others just as you helped me. I also would like to join to learn, even though I've learned a ton already from this website I can always learn more, and I can do that by learning from the best.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

There are a lot of reasons why I believe I deserve to be in this group. Here are just some of them.

Helpful: I'd consider myself a very helpful member just as many of you are, like I said earlier, even though I've joined 3 months ago I've learned a lot. Now I know how hard it is sometimes getting started when you first join HF. I always try my best to help as many members as I can and give them that extra push.

--

Intelligent: Over my entire lifetime I have learned ton. What I bring to HF is not just computer skills and hacking but knowledge accumulated over a long period of time. I use this wisdom and knowledge to benefit others and myself.

--

Respect: I already have a huge respect for Empire, they have helped me a lot and are very very nice people, as well as being very active and doing lots of giveaways. But I have huge respect for Empire and I always will.

--

Active: Although I just joined 3 months ago I'm a very active committed even with my social life I try to be on as much as I possibly can. I usually spend 5-8 hours a day on HF, I finish school pretty early and hang out with my friends on planned days. Pretty much what I'm saying is, I'm very active and will always be there when you need me.

Loyal: I personally have never ever betrayed anyone I know or don't know on HF and never plan too. I'm a very Loyal person. If I promise something I do it. And I always follow commands when given and never complain.

Involved: Not only would I just get 5 posts a week to stay in the group but I would be involved, just like I'am with other groups. I make sure I stay active not cause It's the rules but because I want to, and I want to post and learn.

I can list a ton more things that I'am, also please don't think that I'm lying about these or I'm bragging. I'm just trying to give you details of who I'am and what my goals are.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Well to start it off, my name is Levi, I'm 17 years old and I'm a male. I like doing different things such as going on the internet, hanging with friends and drawing, I got into drawing 2 years ago and since then I can't seem to stop. Anyways, I have 2 brothers 1 older and 1 younger, the younger one is really annoying and I can't stand him, hopefully he will mature one day. And my older brother is the smartest guy I know, he's in honors for writing and gets a A+ Every single time. He literally writes 5000 word essays like its a walk in the park, he's very talented. I currently don't have a girlfriend, but love is patient. I have 2 parents, never divorced and they are really good to me. Were not very wealthy like we used to be, basically my dad's company went down hill when the economy crashed and now he's working 3 jobs to provide for us. Won't go into further details, but that's pretty much a short story on my life. All and all though I'm just glad to have a roof over my head and a family that cares for me.

Anything else you want to say: Yes, I would like to wish everyone good luck in this recruitment thread, and I would like to thank Empire for all you have done for me.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

I have a lot of skills in gaming (FPS Games and such). Also I am a beginner in hacking and also learning White Hat (HJT and such).

Also have skills in Social Engineering, SE'd a lot of stuff online :D

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Since I've seen this group, I want to join it. It looks really HQ and I think I fit in there. I am a helpful person and would like to share my knowledge and also learn from other members.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Well, I think I should be accepted because I am really HQ member. I've helped a lot of people and did a lot of giveaways. I think that Empire is PERFECT for me :)

Here is some of my giveaways:

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Because it looks like a nice group, I really want to join it. The leaders and most of the members are people I truly respect and take note of. The quality of the group also draws me in.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Well, I would be active and boost the reputation of The Empire greatly. I would also use my knowledge to help other empire members or to create guides/tutorials.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

Due to the fact that I literally do not know ANYONE on this forum (personally - as in met in real life), I won't share personal things but I can tell you some things...

- I enjoy playing cricket - I bat :)

- I enjoy playing LoL, not competitively though - perhaps as an e-sport one day.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): I'm an extremely dedicated and focused individual. I'm also very knowledgeable in regards to gaming, and the majority of technology. When I want something to happen, I don't stop until it's achieved. I'm also extremely generous, which is easily seen through the past and ongoing giveaways that I host. I believe that leaving people with a good impression is a form of skill. Ask anybody who's interacted with me, they can <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2843729> < - An example.

Why do you want to join The Empire? The Empire seems like a very unique group. The quality and organization really shines, even outside of the sub forum, and it's something to be admired. Joining a group like this could only improve my time here on HF, and giving my contribution to this user group would be an achievement.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire? I would like to start off by saying that I don't have pages upon pages of accomplishments on Hackforums, nor do I have the ability to create cool and unique graphics for my application. Though my account is from 2011, my activity on this forum only begun around two months ago. In these two months I have went from only 50 posts to over 2k. I have hosted multiple giveaways, one of which I have given Runescape gold to over 150 people! I have been given the opportunity to join two other user groups as well. This is the amount of dedication you will see out of me. I'm constantly striving to improve, so you will only see positives from me within your group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Hey, as you already know, my name is Devin. I'm 18 years old and recently graduated this summer. My initial plan was to go to university to become a registered nurse, but after further investigation I decided that it was not what I wanted to pursue. I'm strongly thinking about going next year to study nutrition, because it interests me and is obviously a beneficial career.

I'm an extremely big gamer, name a game and I'm probably maxed out on it. I'm very competitive when it comes to first person shooters, such as Halo. I held the #1 spot on Game battles for Halo Reach for 6 months, and hold one of the best 1v1 records. It took me a month and a half to get to 10th prestige on MW3. I have 4 85's on Wow and 11 99's on Runescape.(Exciting life, I know ;p.) Though I game far too much, I still socialize and take part in regular activities.

Anything else you want to say: Disregarding everything above, I'm an average person. I'm friendly, generous and willing to fulfill any roles. Hopefully I'm given the chance to represent, and show you guys the quality of user that I am.

Name: Louis

Sexuality: Straight

State/Country: UK - England

Time Zone: GMT

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

I have knowledge in: GFX, Website Development and some coding. I also am a dedicated member of many teams of support staff, so I guess you could say that is a skill also. I am an avid gamer and like to have fun.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

The main reason that I want to join the group is because I feel that it will allow me to help more people, in and outside the sub forum, and I think that it will label me as a more HQ user which will mean more people will trust me and I will be able to help more people.

I also feel that being in the EMpire will allow me to have fun conversations with other members and will let me learn some new skills.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I think that I should join Empire because I am dedicated, respectful and fun to be around. I will engage in every group activity and will follow any rules that I should. I will always give a good name for the group and will often wear the userbar. I will help our members in any way possible and will never let anyone down.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

Well, I am Louis and I live in England, I am currently studying computer science at school and am doing just great,

I am tall quite thin and have blonde hair.

The most memorable and upsetting thing that happened in my life would have to be when my parents split up and I moved house.

So, I was doing great in school and everything was dandy. There had been discussions about moving before and I didn't mind.

Then one day, I came home and there were boxes, I was very excited about moving but then my parents broke the news that they were breaking up. I ran straight up to my room and didn't come down for a very long time.

Obviously we moved and they broke up, and to this day, it still makes me upset when I think about when they were together.

I am still in contact with my old friends and see both my mum and dad regularly.

Anything else you want to say:

As you obviously know, I was kicked from the group for being inactive and not posting structured and thought through posts in the sub forum. I am not here to make excuses but there was a reason which you can ask me if you wish.

But I would like to say that should you re-accept me I will be back, stronger, more dedicated and even more helpful,

I will NOT let you down again and can assure you that accepting me back would be a good decision.

Thankyou for taking the time to read.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): I am pretty good at graphics (not great but I learn), I am learning Python coding language at the moment (I am progressing), I can do anything I put my mind to For example: If someone asks me to help them with a project on whatever I will learn whatever they are learning and be able to help each other out thus I am a willing person to help anyone, I am also a problem solver [if that makes sense]

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I would like to join the Empire because I feel that this group is one of the best ones to apply for mainly because of their HQ users and also seem to be the ones always helping and giving away stuff and I would like to be apart of that. I also feel I can help your community grow stronger and help people within the group progress with their skills.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:I feel I should be accepted in because I strive to the best of my ability to be a HQ user and try to be nice to everyone.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: I am currently a student and am trying hard to get good grades in school, but also trying hard to work on my graphic and programming skills either by talking to my mates in group conversations or following tutorials on the internet. I also am working on websites (Learning PHP) to make them more popular and helping my mate manage his website and suggesting ideas for things he can do.

Anything else you want to say: No not at them moment.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

Rats: I know quite a lot about rats and always like to help people with rats if they have a problem with it. Ratting is one of my main skills but I like to do other skills aswell, Even though ratting is easy, I find it really fun to play with my slaves. I can help people in this group with it and teach people how to rat and spread and portforward, I can also probably learn more about RATs here.

Botnets: I find botnets harder and better than rats as they can hold a lot more bots than a RAT can and because of need decent hosting. I know quite a lot about botnets aswell and how people use them. I havn't used a botnet in a while but once I get good hosting again, I will getting a new botnet.

Those are the main things which I can do but I can do some other things but just not as good at doing them as I can with RATs and botnets, I can also make forums but that not really a special skill. So basicly I will be willing to help of the group out if I got accepted on how to do the main stuff a RAT or Botnet or any of my other skills can do.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

The Empire seems like a very good HQ, friendly group which I think I can fit into very nicly. This is a official group that I been really intrested in joining because of the HQ and all the help they provide. It is a very unique group that I think everyone wants to join. I been told a lot of good stuff about this group which really wants me to join even more. It would be so amazing if I got accepted and I would do what the leader says, follow all the rules, never give up on anything that the group sets me.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I know that I am kinda of new to this forum about 2 weeks old but I think I could really fit into this group as I am trying my best to help a lot of people with ratting, also i'm trying my best to stay HQ and never let HF down, mostly all my posts are HQ because i'm trying to avoid posting any LQ posts. I will do what the group set's me and I promise I will never let this group down as I will try my best and never give up. I will learn from this group and also I will try my best to even teach some people in this group if they want to learn something that I know very well. I am a very nice person and I don't get mad easily. I will do the 5+ posts per day in the section. I am very active on this forum in my time zone and also I show a lot of respect to all the users on HF, I always try my best to be helpful.

As you already know now my name is Luke and I am 14 years old. I like ratting people but sometimes if I feel sorry for a certain slave and unistall them off my client but sometimes i'm mean to my slaves and play around with them. I am also in yr 10 at my school and doing some exams which I think is really going well. I will tell you 2 memorable moments the first one is the time I came to HF and the second one is what happened to my dog. Hackforums story: I will on xfire talking to all my new friends which I made from a halo server, it was very enjoyable and I loved that server but then all my friends started getting ddosed. I added the ddoser, he ddosed me, I deleted him, added him, ddosed me again, about 1 - 2 days later, I re-added him and said I wanted to learn how to hack, He wasn't very trusted at first and I was kinda scared but then he said get on teamviewer, of course I never trusted him and said no, but he made go on teamviewer so I did, he sent me to this forum and now I love this forum so much and I am always trying to be HQ. For the dog story: Well 1 day I let my dog at for a walk, we went down to a grassy patch by a road but I was only like 9 so I didn't know shit. I let my dog off their lead and my dog for a stupid reason went running into a road, I kept calling my dog back but in a flash, BANG a car hit my dog and the dog looked like it was dead for a few minutes but lucky it got up but only broke 1 leg :).

Anything else you want to say:

I thank you for opening apps for this amazing official group.

because like the other users I'm HQ and I believe I'm good enough to be part of your team. I can help other members with their needs, I can do competitions from the empire.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

Well I'm 17 and I'm from the Uk. My life is a normal life nothing very special happens. I'm a mixed martial arts teacher as my job. I enjoy helping users so I would do well in the group

Anything else you want to say:

Good luck everyone and I hope to be accepted here. Sorry if there's any grammar errors I'm using my iPhone

SkyGuy - October 29, 2012, 7:01 am

Name: My HackForums username is SkyGuy.

Age: I am 14 years old.

Sexuality: I am straight, nothing more to say.

State/Country: I live in London, which is located in England...if you somehow didn't know that already.

Time Zone: The current timezone here is GMT - although we did just move from BST (the switch happened about a day and a half ago).

What are some skills that you have (Explain): Okay, so I am a decent web designer (I know HTML and CSS), I have coded many websites in the past for different purposes. I enjoy doing this, although I'll admit I am not the best at it. There are much better people on here than me so I will not claim to be something I am not. I enjoy creating graphics, I'm not a professional graphics artist by any means and I don't consider it to be something that I'm highly talented in at all. Nonetheless, I enjoy working with Photoshop and my creations involve my current signature, as well as a few thread designs I've posted before. Also, I know a lot about the English language and the grammar regarding it - I will help anyone who needs it if they want to improve how they write! I know a lot about computers; again I'm not the best when it comes to this, but I know enough knowledge to help people when they need it. Another area of knowledge of mine is transportation. I know lots about Planes, cars and trains. I'm an expert plane spotter - I do this all the time from my house and impress all my friends and family with it. Good fun! Yet another area of knowledge for me is the production of Music. I like using Ableton Live to create Dubstep, and I don't post any of my creations because personally I don't think they're good enough, but I do know how to use the program effectively. Finally, I know a lot about Minecraft; from playing the game to running a server. I used to run a server which brought in huge profits but I decided to give away the server to a friend, who wanted to run a server more than me. It lasted 6 months, and was a great source of fun for me while it lasted.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join, because I see an amazing future in this group. I know for a fact that the owners are extremely high quality, and so I'm sure that they will be great people for running such a group. They're extremely mature and helpful. They're perfect role models to look up to, and people often look up to the owners of a group! I'm sure this group is going to be amazing in the future, and so I'd love to be apart of it whilst it grows! I want to help all the members out who are currently part in it, and I'd like to share all the knowledge that I posses. I want to be part of an exquisite community in which I can share my thoughts, and be apart of. It'd mean so much for me if I got accepted, I'd be so happy! I hope you do consider me!

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: This is a very interesting question. Personally, I believe that I'm a very high quality member, and I avoid spamming low quality posts. This can be seen because I have very few posts, but still a lot of rep. I know that rep doesn't mean that much, but it often does reflect how helpful or even high quality a member is. If you do read through it, I'm sure quite a lot of it says 'HQ' haha. As I've said many times above, I think I have a lot of knowledge that I'd just love to share to all the other members who are in the group. As far as I'm aware, most of the other members are very high quality themselves, and so will be thankful for what they receive/pickup, unlike some of the other members on Hack Forums (the trolls). I've spent quite a long time on this thread, which shows just how much I would love to be in Empire, and I've given so much away to Hack Forums. Not just money, but entertainment, topics to debate, and even some humour at times. I express my true opinions without offending other people, and so I'm able to take part in various debates. I'd love to interact with the community in Empire, I hope you consider me!

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Hello there, I'm SkyGuy. I attend one of the most prestigious secondary schools on England (well... we get the 2nd top exam results, not bad) and I participate in various clubs at the school. I'm gonna build a new computer soon so I'll be able to do a lot more stuff on my computer, as I'm currently stuck with a crappy tri core 2.2GHz processor that can't do anything at all - furthermore it runs integrated graphics which just makes the whole thing around about 100 times worse. I've been saving up for a while though now, so yeah. Anyway, here's my story of my time on this amazing forum. So, I signed up to Hack Forums sometime in January and spent most of my time just browsing the forums. I was 13 and way to scared to post, so I just viewed threads, laughed and slowly gained knowledge. After my first post, I started contributing a lot more, and began to really enjoy being on the forums. I was posting more regularly now (twice a day) by I think something like April, and soon enough I'd past over 50 posts. I decided to buy I33t when I was on about 90 posts, and waited 48 hours for it. When I got it i was thrilled, and started posting a lot more. I was on 11 rep, and still pretty gutted by the negative Frida had decided to give me after I neutral-ed him for being racist. :P Oh well, that's what I get for -repping an ub3r, haha.

I hosted various giveaways and stuff, I think I probably gave away about $40 in total. I made more threads, I was a lot more active, although I wasn't too concerned about rep or my general 'status' around the forum at the time. My first main thread was my client reviews, which took me up to about 25 rep, and from them I started posting a contributing a lot more. I didn't post much but my rep shot up, and I guess that was a good thing as to some people that made me seem better. It also got me closer to the ability to apply for ub3r.

Eventually the inevitable happened. I accidently applied for ub3r. Don't ask me how, I was a fucking idiot to manage that lol. I was on 28 rep and about 200 posts, although to my shock, two weeks later (when I had 350 posts and about 40 rep) I was actually accepted. I upgraded immediately, and I became even more active. I made more threads, I began some GFX on the forums as time went buy and I tried to just be more of an HQ member overall. On the forums I enjoy writing and I'm sure that's reflected in many of my threads. I'm still not that 'known' around the forums though and there are few people who I actually talk to, but meh. It's a fun time here, I really enjoy it, and thus I hope I can make my time here even more enjoyable by being accepted into Empire! Thank you for reading this section of my application lol.

Anything else you want to say: To the group, I will offer my expertise in all of the above skills that I have presented to you. I will do my best to help out the other members. Currently I'm not in a custom usergroup so I can dedicate a lot of time and effort to helping the members who are also a part of the Creed. Another thing I can do in the group is write for people who enjoy it. I love to write myself, and I write for other people, so I can put up a fictional story from time to time, or make a nice review on something. I've also spent Hours and hours browsing on HF so I know ever so much about it. I often go on at night from about 23:00 - 03:00, and also in the day when I'm on my PC I usually have a window open which happens to be Hack Forums! I don't post much as I'm sure you can see, I spend most of my time browsing the forums. Moreover, I only started being an active member fairly recently, and I made very few posts in the first few months in which I joined. That explains my low post count. I've contributed so much to HF, including:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2392931> <-- $15 giveaway.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2491543> <-- $5 giveaway.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2653175> <-- Minecraft client review thread, made my own website for that, too.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2655476> <-- Method to help MC servers being spammed.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2658184> <-- $15 giveaway.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): Coding, Marketing, Rating & experience as a webmaster.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Well to begin with I spent like 4 hours working on the first thread for The Empire Recruitment, I remember when the first un official thread came out and I really wanted to be apart of this group. When the group came out I worked so hard to try and join the group, I think now that I have been here for almost a year my profile looks a bit more high quality. I remember when you and I were pming each other then you got mad at me. You put me on your ignore list and then some one made a bull shit scam report on you and I said on that scam report you are not a scammer even tho you hate me. I remember you replied to my reply and said you don't hate me and then I said if you don't then pm me saying you love me & you did ! LOL that was really funny your pretty cool to chill with tibit, I really enjoy the people that belong into this group & I like how most the members are high quality unlike other shity groups. I would like to have something to represent when I do give aways and releases. I been working on something for such a long time since the empire wasn't even here. I am very close to releasing it now and I would like to have something to present it with. I would love to be a apart of this group also for I can meet some new friends and not feel so alone.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I have only been a member for not even a whole year and I have more rep and posts then members who have been here for a few years I have done almost 50 give aways, I try to stay high quality and cause no problems for any one here. I work hard on my hackforum's profile, post's and threads.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

So my real name is Dustin, I live in a small town in the united states in the state of Indiana, I am seventeen I dropped out of school and live with my girl friend and her parents I have a girl friend that is sixteen and is six months pregnant I am 17 and I will be a dad in one year. My mom had me when she was sixteen and when she found out I got a girl pregnant she flipped out and kicked me out of the house. I had to move in with my girl friends family, I dropped out of school to try and get a job for I can try and get a apartment by the time my daughter is born. I still have had no luck and time has gone by so fast now that I am only 3 months away. I have been through a lot and I no family is the most import thing in life.

Anything else you want to say:

I really hope you go through my application.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

Currently I don't have that many skills to offer but I am an avid learner. I am ok at graphics and would love to learn more to do with computers and such.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would love to join the Empire as it is a great group and known to have very high quality member. I also see a lot of the members being helpful and kind to others.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Since I have joined HackForums I have always wanted to join Empire, I feel I could offer some skills and all round be a good high quality member. I would also try my best to help members who are in need of it.

I am 15 years old and spend a lot of my time online. I am trying to become a better member of HackForums as it is such a great community. Also I am trying to get started with PPD to earn some extra money on the side, although I am finding it very difficult I will succeed as I am a very resilient person.

One of my greatest memories would have to be when I went on my school football (soccer) trip last year to Germany. It was a very good trip and Germany is a very great country so I enjoyed it a lot.

Anything else you want to say:

In all honesty I don't think I will be accepted into this group as it is such a good group. I think if you gave me the chance I would be very helpful.

Thanks for reading.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

I have several abilities, some shows here, others are best shown in real life: Argumentation - this is what I've been doing the most here at the forums lately, debating in SRPP. I've got strong opinions on many subjects, and I'm good at backing them up with arguments. Please refer to my posts to see.

Teaching - I've written several tutorials on a variety of subjects for as long as I've been active on forums. I've got two here at HF, both have been helpful to many (WPS brute-forcing and a clone a website and turn it into a JDB- tutorial (after I posted mine there has been posted several others on the forums)).

Website construction - I am fully capable of constructing websites in SQL and DreamWeaver, it's not my best skill, but it's worth mentioning.

Mathematics - Something I'm fairly good at. I'm studying science mathematics, and I'm doing fairly well. I've also helped other HF members with it before.

Sailing - It's not really something that shows on the forums, but it's my favourite hobby. I love sailing. ?

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

From what I've seen from the group they are a collection of HQ members. It's a group I'd like being associated with. Besides, being a part of a smaller community within a big one is nice.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel like I can contribute to the public image of The Empire. I'm always polite and I've gotten feedback on that. You can of course check my posts for yourselves. I've had a 133t giveaway once and I'll have it again.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

I'm 18, from Norway. Like I said, I especially like sailing, but also skiing, politics and people. Getting to know people is always fun. Currently I'm on my last year of Secondary school. If everything goes according to plan I'll be studying psychology at the University of Edinburgh next year.

As for music taste (why not, it's the first thing I ask people about after I know their name), I like various genres. However, lately I've listened a lot to good old classics, especially Queen and The Beatles.

Anything else you want to say:

I hope I can get to know some of you, apart from that, nothing.

Who enjoys going to the Gym and php coding.

In my spare time i perform Pen tests for local companies which are without any fee's. when i was 16 i graduated from High school and went to the local business university to study business economics. Which will take approx. 4 more years to graduate.

In my early years age 13-15 i struggled with child obesity.

Which was really holding me back. My parents divorced and i couldnt cope with the stress i was getting from my mother. So i ate, and ate untill i weighed around 100KG. When i turned 15 i decided that i was going to die if i didnt do something about my weight.

The very next morning i went to a local gym and bought a subscription for 2 years. Did it work you ask? Yes it did.

In 2 years time i lost arround 30kg and gained some big ass muscles.

I am really good in money making. I do PPD, CPA and got many other private methods (white & blackhat). I earn monthly like $200/350. I can also code the basics of Java & HTML. I have knowledge about anti-virus' and malware removals. I can also do GFX a little bit.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

There are many reasons why I would like to join Empire. First-off it's a great place to share knowledge and learn from others aswell. I have experienced this when I was a member of The Empire awhile ago. I was invited by 630 to join Empire and I think I disappointed him because I was removed for being inactive (2 days). I really want proof The Empire and it's members than I can be a nice member of the group, one who stays HQ and follow the rules.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I was invited by 630 to join Empire, but got removed due of inactivity (2 days). This time it will be different. I will stay active and stay HQ and contribute to The Empire and it's members. I will post (video) tutorials, reviews, methods and I will host contest and giveaways. I will do my best to keep everything high quality in The Empire.

Me and my boyfriend broke up like a week ago and I still run my relationship with my girlfriend and yet didn't told her anything. I am trying to tell her about all what happened slowly, but I don't think she will "appreciate" my story and will dump me. I don't want lose her, so I am just really confused. My father nor my mother knows that I am bisexual, they will just kill me if I tell them due of their religion. I, personally, always thought that I was straight till I met that guy. Anyway, I am in need of proffesional help about this issue.

Posting/debating

I feel that my background in debating could be beneficial to The Empire, but do not worry i'm not confusing this group with a debating group and I understand it's different in most ways. I mean this in a way where I allow my post to be very well thought out and that I do not post spam and I would make sure to meet the 5 post minimum requirement with high quality post. I also feel this gives me A way to look at things because I do research before I post about topics.

Graphic Design

I can do Graphic Design pretty well at least when I was active in it you can check my reps for proof of that (back a ways into it). I love doing design and in fact i'm taking a Design course in my school. Please note I do not really do at home design anymore so my graphics I do at home would be limited to freeware program such as GIMP, or Paint.net. I do not have any of my portfolio's left as the website I had updated them to has been sense removed. If you wish for some proof you could go back and see my REP like I said not all of them still are wearing the signatures I made them but most are.

Academics

I would say i'm not stupid by any means I score very well in my advanced courses in which I do take in my school and I would say i'm very good at mathematics and technology courses. With this high mark in technology courses I would say i'm gifted with computers and a variety of programs that are on them. I can also say i'm a very quick learner how how these things work and why they work (most of the time). I also feel my background in academics could help me provide help to some of the members that are struggling in Mathematics or technology based courses.

Video Games

Me and most of my friends in real life are very good at video games. We did start a clan up which I won't release names as I don't want my actions on this forums related to it encase we ever go big. I would say i'm very good at FPS games such as Call Of Duty, Halo, Battlefield 3. So if The Empire ever did competitive gaming competitions I would gladly participate in them. My mic is a piece of crap though meaning I don't use it often if not at all. (i'm working on that problem.)

Personality

I would say that my personality I have is an asset I think i'm A good person to be around especially in a casual conversation type situation. I also love to help out other people and I try to be generous where I can. When I did graphics almost 98 percent of all of my stuff was free and the only time I took money was when people offered after I said I would do it for free. The only time I could ever get iffy is when i'm debating but only if I know i'm right (do not take me as close minded because of this because I do admit when i'm wrong). I think the fact i'm a giving person that would reflect that I am a helpful member and I could do one of the things this group is about helping.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join The Empire because the two amazing groups i'm in right now (Serenity, and Logic) are heavily into debating and I would want a place where I could be maybe more relaxed, and help out people. I also like your group user bar and how you guys have carried your self around the forums you've set your self apart from some of the other groups that have not had a good run publicly. I also want to join The Empire so I could help out other members that are in and outside of The Empire although I do understand that I do not need The Empire to help people outside of the group which I have done before.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I'm not posting this to come off as cocky but I believe my application speaks for it's self and I don't feel like retyping it all out, and if you've not seen a reason than i'm afraid i'm not fit for this group, but if you do need more reasons on why I should be accepted is because I think I will be able to keep your sub forum high quality and won't make my posts a bunch of spam.

I would have to say the most memorable thing that happened in my life would be simply my family and I mean this in the terms as the most important thing to me. I think they mean the most to me as a whole and I love to spend time with most of them and they're all around great people. Another thing for me would have to be school and the people I've met they've shaped the way I act and the friends that I have made are very good friends to me and I would trust most of them with a lot.

Something about my self would be that I've not always been a helpful person in real life and to be honest most of the time in my youth I was an asshole. With age and maturing I did stop treating people like dirt and showing respect and almost like I had an awaking when I got into junior-high almost in high school. It all snapped that getting good grades did matter and that paying attention in school and being nice to people would get me further through life than where I was headed. I was always into technology I used to play SNES when I was like 4 and ever sense then I have been playing video games, and doing technology related stuff sense.

Anything else you want to say:

I don't think I have much more to say other than what I've put in this application. Good luck to all.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

Coding - Knowledge in VB, C, C++, PHP. I'm not an expert in either, but I'm a student of programming engineering, and my skills will grow over time. I will always do my best to work on my coding and help starters.

GFX - I have basic GFX skills which obviously would need more practice. I can do basic stuff though. I would love to improve my GFX as soon as possible, as I'm very interested in GFX but lack practice.

Internet Marketing - I'm quite good at this, huge experience. I've had several projects which always turned out quite well.

Internet forums - In the last 2-3 years I have started over 10 Forum communities. Some have been sold, some have been disbanded. I currently still am running 3 quite active forums. My specialty is myBB, but any other board would also be fine.

Journalism - I have been working as a freelancer/hired journalist for over 5 years now. I am currently working for a famous multigaming website. I love reading and writing articles.

Gaming - Ex-professional gamer, I know basically anything about any game out there. Although my specialty is PC gaming, my knowledge is extensive in the category of console gaming as well.

Mathematics/Physics/Homework - I'm a huge expert at these cases, and know mostly everything up to college courses, including those as well.

Creativity - My best skill in my opinion, I can overcome even the hardest of tasks with the minimum time. I often have great ideas which turn out amazing if done right.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Lately I came back from my inactivity and I'm very active at the moment. I like meeting new people and communicating with other members, as well do my best to help out as much as possible. I personally think my contribution to the Empire would be the one of the finest quality and that I would fit in perfectly.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I'm always trying to be as HQ as possible, and I think me being accepted to the group would be a great contribution in general. I will surely do my best to help other members out as much as I can. My activity and quality would benefit the group in multiple cases. I'm an outgoing person who loves to chat with others and give a hand to everyone who needs one. I'm pretty outgoing and active both on the forum and on Skype/MSN/AIM so you will be able to contact me anywhere you'd like.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: I'm just a regular college student with a bunch of ideas in the world of IT. I have joined a computer programming college to help me out make all of my ideas come true, not depending on anyone else. The most memorable thing that happened to me is when I got scholarship for all 3 years of my college. That motivated me to work even harder and become one of the best.

Anything else you want to say: I hope I will get accepted to The Empire as I can see myself contributing very well and getting along perfectly with other members. Cheers!

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

Webprogramming - I am very good with webprogramming, and has been programming websites for over 5 years. Everything is taught by myself, and I am willing to teach others. I am currently in the making of a Handball Manager game and a programming forum. My main languages are PHP, HTML, CSS and PHP used together with MySQL. Also I am very good with jQuery.

Graphic Design - I am all right, with Graphic Design. I recently started doing it, and I am already feeling very familiar with it, I am hoping to learn more over time.

Marketing and Monetization - This is probably one of my best skills, throughout my time on HackForums I have made over $8,000 just selling here on HackForums, this is something I am really proud of, and hopefully I can continue to teach others, and go far with this.

Computers - I have been interested in computers since the age of 4. Since then I have been expanding my knowledge to a very wide point, so today's date, I know a lot about computers, of course I hope to expand my knowledge even more, and possibly get to working with programming, computers and stuff when I get to the point where I am gonna start working.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Because I am looking for a place, to share ideas - teach people and help people. This is one of my goals on HackForums, to stay as nice as possible to people, overall The Empire seems like a respected group, which I would be very honored to join.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

To help people, dedicate myself and time to the group and teach people in the group about programming, designing, marketing and monetizing.

I am a 14 year old guy, going to a normal school, in the 8th grade (diff. class systems in Denmark), I love spending my time on computer or just hanging out with friends. I am also a guy who loves to learn new stuff about the things I am very interested in. When I am finished with school I am hoping to get into something called HTX which is pretty much a technical secondary school, and after that go to the Technical University and study datalogy.

Anything else you want to say:

Good luck to everyone.

I am a good marketer and have made some thousands of $$ by selling online

Monetizing :

I am quite good at making from PPD's so would like to add it to.

Remote Administration :

I am good at Rat's. I left it nearly some one ago as was time to move and learn more things.

Social Engineering :

Another skill i would like to add ,thought i dont discuss it more here as it is disallowed.

Website Development :

From last few months , i am spending my time in website construction. I am not best in it but will achive the title soon.

Website Management :

I am good at website management and do have very good previous record at it.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would like to join "The Empire" group as it is full of HQ members with a great knowledge. Being a part of this group will provide me many opportunities like making new friends , increasing my knowledge in many subjects. I know it would provide me the best i can get from a group so worth applying .

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

The qualities in me like i am very much active , i do spend much time to help new members and do tell them about the rules of HF , i do report a lots of posts to make HF clean. I do contribute and have some good giveaways on HF. I do not abuse anybody's opinion nor do fight with them , till are breaking rules and not accepting their mistake . Pentesting – Certified in wireless cracking (experienced with Aircrack suit, Reaver, CoWPAtty, and John The Ripper)

C++/SQL – Though still a neophyte, I have taken a few courses with these languages.

Chemistry – Possibly one of my favorite passions, I have taken three Chemistry based courses including Physical science, Chemistry H, and Chemistry AP.

Physics – Though I may not be quite as experienced in Physics, it still remains one of my favorite sectors of modern science.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

My goal in this brief life we live is to strive and gain as much knowledge about the substantive world we live in. Joining The Empire will allow me to see into the minds of some highly respectable members of Hackforums. I wish to learn more from you all and immerse myself in all you have to offer.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

My acceptance into The Empire will allow me to put forth more time and effort into my Wireless Security tutorials and share with the community. I am by no means a "low quality" user and will prove such. By joining The Empire I will spend more time contributing my opinions and knowledge and less time lurking. The time I have spent lurking these forums have shown me the quality of your members and all they contribute. If you allow me under you wing I will show you all I have to offer.

My interests in computers and science flourished around the age of twelve when I was asked to set up a network for my brother in laws family business. I was tasked with the simple job of creating about three hundred feet of CAT5e cable and running the network to a single node. Creating around eleven cables and running them under the trailer to their corresponding workstations proved to be tedious, but allowed me to build my interest in networking. After my job was finished I was bestowed two hundred USD and more importantly, the know how. Fascinated by the intricacies of what was really happening in such a simplistic design, I learned to appreciate what I had once taken for granted. By learning how information was send and received via ARP packets, I began my excursion into the world of Linux and "man in the middle" attacks. From there my interests have branched into thousands of different areas of computing including pentesting.

State/Country: I live in Illinois, which is located in the mid-west of the United States

Time Zone: Illinois has the Central Time Zone

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

After spending most of my high school career browsing the web and researching tutorials. I have mastered the basic knowledge of any different areas. I can read just about any coding language, but can code very well in; html, php, and C#. I also know a lot about hacking. Such as SQL injecting, DDoSing(not necessarily hacking), etc. One thing is having all of this knowledge, but another is being willing to share it. I love helping other members, whether they are regular, L33T, UB3R, or whatever. And having a small amount of knowledge in almost everything allows me to help answer any general question. Then when it comes to the discussion of the skills I have mastered, I can help answer just about anything.

Here is a list of my strong points.

- Coding in html
- Coding in php
- Coding in C#
- Web Design
- Music Composition
- Business
- DDoSing
- Business
- SQL Injecting
- SEO enhancing

Majoring in Business has also brought me to a high aspect in my career. I help many members with selling their products. I also teach members how to get their products/websites/etc. well known. Thanks for reading about my skills and listening to what I have to say. Lets now move on to Why I want to join Empire

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would like to join Empire because I have a lot of knowledge to not only share with the members of Empire, but with everyone around the forums. Within the first 2 weeks of being on the forums, I won an upgrade contest which granted me the status of L33T. Then less than a month later, I had reached my next goal of being accepted into UB3R. I feel like this status really shows people how HQ I really am and demonstrates the rank that I deserve. I strive my best to be very mature and to use the high level grammar that I have learned throughout college. We will now continue on to why I feel that I deserve to be accepted into Empire

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel that I should be accepted into Empire because I know there is so much that I have to offer. Looking back to what I have given to the HF community by myself, only shows how much I could give being a part of Empire. My post count has slowed down to under 10 a day because I have been really focusing on my school work as I am planning to start my own business a few miles away from my house. Wish me luck ;). Another main reason I would like to join Empire is to be a part of another group on HF. As stated above, I was given the rank of UB3R which was very exciting to me. But I am now ready to be part of a group on HF where we can all work together to make HF better. I have a lot more to give away, and a lot more knowledge to share. As you may have noticed, I also have started to write several eBooks. I have only started giving away one on the forums because people are still requesting that eBook on a daily basis. When the requests start to slow down again, I am ready to release my next popular and successful eBook to the forums. All of this mainly sums up why I feel I should be accepted into Empire, I am happy to be given this opportunity, and now we will move on to three paragraphs about something memorable in my life.

On my 2nd birthday, my dad was accepted into Brown University which is a medical school located in Rhode Island. Two months later we were on a plane leaving Illinois and flying away from my entire family to Boston. This wasn't a big deal to me at the time as I was only 2 years old. We lived in Rhode Island until my dad graduated from Brown and had finished his training in residency. At the time, we were bringing in a little over 40k a year living in an apartment. I got to see my dad about 1 hour every week because he was always in the hospital working on patients. It wasn't until my 8th birthday that I finally got to see my dad more than 1 hour a week. After 6 years of tough training for my dad, he had received his MD and was ready to start his own practice. The same year we moved back to Illinois so he could start his practice where the rest of our family lived. We moved into an average house located in a subdivision. The next year, my dad had found a nice building to start his practice, and it took several months for everything to get set up. He decided to make it a more cosmetic office, than a hospital. It took two years until things started to get going nicely. After 3 years, his business skyrocketed! Going from the bottom half of the country to the top 10% felt amazing and it gave our family a successful feeling. We lived in the subdivision for another 6 years before moving out into the country in a $1,400,000 house. This is not me trying to brag, this is me showing how if you put your mind towards something, you can be very successful. This income was not granted to my dad by luck, but by hard work. I thank my dad for showing me where hard work can lead you. This is why I choose to follow in his footsteps throughout life. I have attended the same Ivy league college as my dad and instead of going into medical school to start my own practice, I went into business school to start my own business. I have only gotten 1 B in my life throughout school, and I am hoping to be just as successful as my dad is. I am praying that my future business will go just as well as planned, and my knowledge in web and app development can only help me so much.

Anything else you want to say:

I want to thank you Tibit for allowing such a thread to allow me to apply to Empire. And I want to thank you Empire for being willing enough to allow other members from HF to apply to your group. Another thanks would go to the HF community! If it wasn't for you guys, there would be almost no purpose in most of the stuff I do here.

Thank you so much for taking the time to read my application, I hope to some day be granted the acceptance into your group.

Good Luck to everyone that has applied, and I will see you all around the forums!!

What are some skills that you have (Explain): I am skilled at coding in several different computing and web development languages. These range from C++/C#/VB/ASP.NET/PHP. I also am decent using graphic and image manipulation software but will be developing these skills over time.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to make a group like Empire to be my first official group to join too. This is because this group's work is amazing and has contributed more than any other current group. I would love to be a part of it.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I would like to prove myself worthy and be a part of this amazing group. I think I can benefit the group by sharing my knowledge with the group and the community itself.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Two weeks ago I was suspended from my college for apparent severe offences. The offences were classified as 'Hacking' and 'Malicious' content within my work area and my portable hard drive. The IT engineers within my college have little to no knowledge about more or less anything IT related. At the time I was creating an advanced database system which I worked on during my free time within college. Because of the design of the database inbound and outbound connections to an external database are created and an encryption tunnel is generated as well as using hotkeys. Files will be moved dynamically and deleted/created when required. Because of these actions the database was classified as 'Malicious' and an attempt at 'Hacking'. The college IT technicians alerted the authorities and I had been suspended for a week while the investigation was carried out.

After my suspension was lifted I had a meeting with the director of the college. Apparently my offences are as listed below:

- Hacking
- Spreading viruses
- Downloading illegal data
- Content included Keyloggers
- Malicious connections
- Mass deleting important system files

Moral of the story. Don't hire morons.

Anything else you want to say: Nothing else really.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): Social: I find it very easy to work with others, to accomplish a goal, or to just have fun. Some may not consider this a skill, but I think it is important.

RATs: I am very knowledgable about Rats, and keyloggers. I am now switching to a more whitehat point of view, therefor I can help people with the malware needs, and I can help in a more blackhat way.

Bitcoins: I know quite a lot about bitcoins, and mining, and I have helped many people all over HF about this topic.

Debating Issues: Even though many people may not consider this a skill, I think it is important to learn, and think about every point of view, before coming to a decision.

Kindness: I feel this is the most important skill that I, or anyone else can have. I truly think that this characteristic is important because it is a lifestyle, and not just something that you can put on paper.

Leadership I am playing football, and I think that this puts me in a team mindset. I am always willing to lead a team, and think for my team, and not just me. After all, there is no I in team.

Computer Hardware I am putting together everything I need to build a computer, and I will be more that happy to share everything that I know and have learned with the Empire community.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I like being part of a team, and Empire seems like the best "team" or "family" group on HF. I have always seen people in The Empire, and they are always HQ. I feel that if I am inducted, then I will along with all of the other Empire members, continue the thought of HQ. I feel I can contribute a lot, and I will be doing a lot of give-a-ways shortly. I am talking about free crypts, BTC miners, and a lot more stuff, only to Empire members. I am a good learner, and I would love to learn what other members in The Empire have to say.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I work very well in a group, or family mindset, and I feel I can contribute a fair amount of things to this group. I am also very willing to learn more about many subjects. I have always been HQ, and my main goal is to help other people on HF. This can be seen on my BTC sales thread. There, customer service is my number one priority. I think that this idea of helping, and making HF a better place is something that the group Empire stands for. I want to extend that, and basically continue the legacy.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: I am a tall, athletic, intelligent, 15 year old who thinks that kindness, and HQ is important. I am soon to be an Eagle Scout, and if you know what they stand for, then you know that I am not here to waste your time, rather improve a community. That community is HF, and I think that if I join Empire, we as a whole can help the community. Other than being a future Eagle Scout, I am in football. This makes me think about time management, and organization. I find that these skills are hard to come by, and they are very helpful.

I also have straight A's throughout my classes. I feel that this simply shows that I am dedicated to anything that I put my mind to. I would love to improve the HF community, and therefor join Empire. Even though I excel at school, I also love to have fun. Whether it be games like Minecraft, or Xbox live, or HF. I would love to bring some fun into the group of Empire, and not just be all serious.

I got my first computer in 5th grade, and since then, I have learned a lot. I always though that there had to be people like me. People who knew a lot about computers, and who just enjoyed them in a whole. About one year ago I learned about HF, and I signed up. About 10 months went by, and then I realized what I was missing out on. I then became active, and I learned a lot. I recently got Uber, and got accepted into Logic. I would love to extend that list to include Empire. I am very positive, and I look forward to improving this community even further.

Anything else you want to say: Thank you for reading this rather long application. I look forward to hearing who this group accepts. Good luck to all who apply, thank you, and see you later?.

I am studying Network Engineering & Security at UAT. I am experienced in Java, Javascript, & some python. To back that up, I am Dev-team for a popular community & server called Bashurverse. Look for xXtornmageXx to confirm. I am a very helpful person. I can make just decisions without being an asshole. I am also a quick learner.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Seeing as I am newer to HF, I look to be a respected role model of the forums. I am already starting to do this in my opinion. I think being part of the Empire would be great motivation to give back to the HF community.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Because I have the ability to help others, and make fair & just decisions. I can be a fantastic role model for HF noobs. I feel as if only good things will come out of me being accepted as Empire.

Well, I am a very determined person. If I start something, I'll stick to it until the end. It's really hard to get me to quit. I feel that if I'm not moving forward, I am moving backwards. So I am always trying to progress no matter what I am doing. I was greatly inspired by my father who passed away recently. He was an honor student, and had a full academic scholarship to the Georgia Institute of Technology (Georgia Tech). He also went to medical school, and became a doctor. He was a Lt Commander in the navy. After his passing, I have been inspired to live up to his greatness.

Anything else you want to say:

I just want to restate how much I can help the community, if accepted into the Empire. I can become a fantastic role model for new users, as well as old. I just need some motivation.

Skills

My skills, I always have a hard time listing "skills".

I will mention things that I do and suppose myself to be above average in them, if one can be.

Human Relations Conflict resolution, is literally my job; I am a conflict resolution manager.

This means, I work for personally for an entrepreneur, (and in turn his multiple companies), and any conflict, dispute, or strife that relates to him or his business's goes through me before it gets to him.

Admittedly, my services are very rarely required, but nevertheless I am on staff. ^^

Support: I offer general support (mainly emotional) here on HF and I was, for a time considering it as a career.

Debate/Philosophy

Anybody who knows me knows this: my home here on HF is the SRPP section. Two out of four of the groups I am involved in revolve around the SRPP, and over 1,000 of my posts reside in the SRPP section. Needless to say, most of most of my time here is spent in SRPP discussion/debate.

Enjoying intellectual dialogue, though, should not exactly be considered a skill, but I have found I have learned much about various subjects that can be found in such discussion. Any knowledge I have obtained would be shared freely in The Empire

Like many other HF users, in the past, I have used method after method both on and off the web, to successfully raise funds.

Computing Skills

In the past, I was generally interested in learning/teaching the coding languages including java and python, I was a fairly successful SE'er, I dabbled in digital video/design, and I spent more time than I'd like to admit on RAT's and Keyloggers.

That said, I used the past tense for a reason; I am no longer active or interested in these areas of computing.

From what I have read, it is not, but if The Empire is based solely on computing, it will probably not be the place for me.

Why do you want to join The Empire?

The Empire is one of the few, groups (that I am not already a part of), that I fancy myself being at home in.

I have noted a multitude of generally awesome people in The Empire.

The family styled community that The Empire is rumored to possess is quite enticing.

I have mentioned that my home here is a group that centers around angry debate. Debate is lovely, but sometimes one needs a mental repose from it all. In other words, I am attempting to branch out of the SRPP section of HF.

At risk of sounding pretentious, I enjoy helping people. Though I do not generally offer computing advice (it is always welcome though), there is more to offer than simply technical support. The Empire, seems to revolve around helping the community, sharing knowledge and generally making HF a better place. I can't imagine a better group goal.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?

Well, The Empire fits the description of what I want, but I like to think that I fit the description of what The Empire looks for in an applicant.

I'm not one to go on a tirade about how much better I am than others, which is what this question suggests.

Were I to be accepted to The Empire, it should not be because I suggest that am in anyway superior to others, but because of the very reasons I wish to join.

In addition, I have enjoyed hosting/creating things such as Giveaways, Tournaments, and Guides. The Empire would see similar events in it's name, hosted by myself.

About myself

I attempt to be rather secretive about myself when I am posting on a publicly viewed forum, it's really just a bad habit... nonetheless, I'll give it a go.

Employment: Ice cream shop- Management [Shop is closed for the winter, so the workload has significantly dropped, but has not been extinguished all together.]

Child care- Currently: Special needs, social therapist

PA, PR and other services including the above mentioned conflict resolution services for a name that will certainly not be posted publicly.

About me

I was self schooled until my senior year of High school.

I have a special love for both mental and physical fitness.

I was previously a swimmer, and a soccer player. The stabbing of my leg has left me unable to run comfortably, though I still run occasionally.

By mental health, I refer to practices such as meditation and disciplines of the mind such as lucid dreaming.

I love animals, have studied zoology, and were the circumstances surrounding me different, I would love to study it further.

If I'm not at home nerding it up, I am creating awesome memories with friends. I have been known to have the craziest and ridiculous ideas, because they are the ones that make memories.

I love hanging out with random people- just to mess with them.

This is the end of my application, thank you for taking the time to read it. ?

Webmaster skills

Monetizing sites, I have made some fairly successful monetizing websites in my spare time and I'm continuing to do so right now.

Managing sites, I have managed a fair few sites in my time and know the tricks of the trade, how to manage a website efficiently and effectively and use the website to the best of its capabilities.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I deserve to be in The Empire, because I'm a high quality member.

I would participate in numerous ways.

Personally, I was thinking of doing various giveaways and contests in the name of The Empire thus giving the group an enhanced reputation.

I would share my knowledge and opinions aiming to give something back to the community, I will also gain knowledge and use this to my advantage when participating in The Empire.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I deserve to be a member of The Empire, I am a high quality member of the forum and I aim to progress further, sharing my knowledge and experience with others, The Empire can aid me in doing so.

I progress exceptionally in communication, web development and coding. And I am willing to share my knowledge with the rest of the members as well as gaining knowledge for myself.

as well i get along with people pretty fast and don't give i try till the job is finished.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:Its the most active group I see and with just little time online maybe a month is what i have spent online and i have become pretty active some users know me already and Empire is a group that i have been watching and waiting them to start recruiting and finally they are I really hope i can join

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:I Have just joined only have 1 month but with little time i have done much as what i think almost or is 5 post everyday done 2 giveaways and will do more soon as i might do another giveaway today plus if i am accept i will try and contribute more stuff into empire .

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:I Started out as kid that was really stand out to everyone cool guy but i moved schools everyone talked and did more things than me and i was shy for 5 years and i got over it moved again 1 year shy and still am I don't have problems i just fear i do something and make everyone think I am a horrible person this year i have better reason is a girl came up to me and told me if i never tried i would never do good since that day i took her advice.

I Had started doing good next week she started seeing that i was doing what she told me and i tried in sports , events , after school , and I was invited to lots of parties while she didn't . She helped me so i helped her people said not to bring her she wasn't cool . I said everyone is weird but some people like to act like there normal but no one is normal. So after that day people started respecting and talking to her more she was never bullied either pushed but she was ignored she helped me i pay her back as a thank you.

The next month new girl every one thought she was pretty but no one talked to her. One girl got jealous and the next day she almost got in a fight with her because people ignore her. The girl and the boyfriend they went up to her started calling her names they told me to go and see because it was funny to them.

I didn't wanna leave her alone there being bullied i went up to the guy told him to stop. Next week I started going out with her and protected her she respected me like if i meant everything to her because I did . I Went out with not for beauty but because she was smart and shy like me i found that in common and I am still with her as i speak today . <3 and this moment was memorable to me.

Anything else you want to say: Not really just saying this story ^ maid me think that I don't leave anyone else behind and treat every one the same.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):Remote Administration Tools - I've been doing this for quite some time now and it really fascinates me. I have also been running a RAT Help Desk with a couple of other Members.

Graphic Design - I have loads to learn compared to other HF members. But that drives me to do my atmost best and the "will" to become better than them :P

Monetizing - I stopped monetizing not long ago it became quite boring a times.(i made around 70$ in a month)

Why do you want to join The Empire?:I've seen allot of contributions made by members of the empire and it looks like such an amazing group.I'd like to share my work/idea's with other members within in this group and learn from them aswell.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:I've been helping other members since i joined the forum , being in this group would stimulate me to do more contibutions etc...

What are some skills that you have (Explain): I am skilled in quite a few things generally, but nothing specific. I know some java, a bit about webmastering, computer hardware/software (mainly hardware)

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Because the Empire in all honesty seems like a rather general group. I don't mean that in a bad way, I mean it covers a large variety of topics. I think it would suit me well because I am interested in a large variety of topics as well, some listed above.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Because I am a HQ member that will work hard to make the group look nice, in and out of the sub-forum. I am willing to help others in any way that I can, and am willing to do what is asked of me, to a reasonable extent of course.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Well my name is Hayden, I'm just your normal kid I suppose. I am really pale, and I have a reputation for it :P. Why, as I was typing this I got this on Skype: <https://i.imgur.com/s6ezr.png> On the internet I get underestimated and shot down a lot because of my age, but over time I think most people realize that for my age I am pretty mature. That's not to say I don't have my moments, because I'm sure everyone does.

A memorable thing in my life... hmmm. I guess it would be the time me and my friends hopped over this fence, into a guys property that led into the woods. (I actually got stuck on the wire at the top and ripped up my new hoodie.) As we walked we came across this huge, huge cliff that led down to a lake/river thing. Being the safety concerned kids we are we proceeded to climb down this wall of rock. As my friends Nick, Trevor, and I got to the bottom, Ethan was still up there. As he climbed down the wall fall, and he hit the ground almost crush by a huge boulder. It was pretty scary at the time, but looking back it is hilarious for us. The reason I choose this and not some vacation, or sad story is because this was just me and my friends, having fun out on our own which is really what its all about.

Online, I'm not really a big name for myself either. I have run a couple of forums, and known a couple of "larger" people on the internet I guess. I don't excel at any type of coding or anything like that, which I would like to change. I'm a pretty cool, and relaxed guy most of the time. I'm willing to help others with almost anything. I'm that guy, that if he has $1 in paypal and your $1 short for something I'll give it to you. I think I would be a great addition for this group, in the term of group projects/coming together to do things.

Anything else you want to say: I don't suppose, other then I hope to be picked. Thanks for taking the time for reading this, and good luck to all the others as well!

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

Virtually everything involving RATs, Keyloggers, crypters, metasploit, etc. I used to be really into that kind of stuff, but I gave it up years ago. However, I still love to help others who are having problems setting up RATs etc.

I am very good at math and science, I know this really isn't a useful skill online. But I enjoy helping out other people with homework or w/e. (To be more specific, I have gone up to Calc 3, and virtually every Chem class imaginable)

I have started to take classes in coding, since they are required for my engineering degree, so in the future I will be able to help people with that as well. (Python in specific)

And last but not least, I am great at grammar. I usually try to help people out with common mistakes if they are willing to learn proper grammar.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

From seeing The Empire members around here on HF, I have noticed that every member is HQ. So I think it would be great to be in a great group such as this one, and I think that I would learn alot from being in this group, and hopefully I can teach some other members some useful information as well.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I have a lot to contribute, and I especially enjoy helping others with what I am good at. And I am pretty kind and thoughtful.

Well, I guess I will start with where I am now in life. So I am 23, and in my last year of studying Chemical Engineering at Purdue University. I mention this because this has been the greatest experience in my life, and by far the best 5 years, as well as the most difficult years of my life.

So more about myself: I went to a Catholic high school, I am a very physically active person and love to work out. I am also huge into sports, and I have been playing hockey since I was 5. More recently though since I have arrived at college I have been getting into weight lifting. Winter is my favorite season, mostly because I love snowboarding and skiing.

I have worked in construction for nearly 8 years now, since it is a great paying summer job for me. So once I am out of school I work over the summers to help pay for my college tuition.

Anything else you want to say:

One last thing, I hope you take what I have said into consideration, and I thank you for taking the time to read my application, that is all.

Some skills I have acquired throughout my time are social engineering, e-whoring (Used to be way, way, better), researching, beginner monetizing, IRL conflict resolution, and I would love to learn some things such as Ratting, SQLI, and much more advanced things. I first learned to social engineer when me and my dad were messing around one day, so we decided to get some free stuff from some company (It was awhile ago). At the time, I didn't know it was even considered fraud, neither did my dad, but it worked. Over time however, as I got out of e-whoring, my skills have become mediocre and I would like to improve them. I learned e-whoring when I first came to this site, and as I was pretty good in SE'ing at this time, I was successful from the start. I quit however when I lost my email and password for my PP account with little over 1000$ in it. I no longer e-whore, and dont plan to, but I still have a few things I believe I can share. I have always been able to research, and I have recently become pretty good at it. My most recent work for this forum involved research and it's located here. I have recently begun monetizing using things such as PPD, but I want to get more advanced in it. Finally, I learned IRL conflict resolution while helping one of my friends through all of her problems. I eventually got better and I help as many people as possible.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join The Empire to broaden my skill-set, and improve my current skills. I believe your group can offer me many things such as white, grey, and some black-hat techniques. I would also love to contribute what I could to the group, and it would give me something else to do in my free time.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be accepted to the empire, because I can contribute some things I have learned, represent The Empire throughout my "quality", and even keep the group's activity up. I also feel I should be accepted because I love to learn new things. This means that once I become highly skilled in one field, I can give back to the group with some of my techniques I've learned.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

Well to start off, I'm a little scrawny 14 year old who isn't the average computer nerd. I may be scrawny, but I'm still athletic and very coordinated. I have many hobbies such as skiing, baseball, football (Street), gaming, hanging with friends, and a few more. I also love to help people out and because of this I'm generally nice online. However, I'm one of those kids who can be a huge dick at times. One thing I hate to do is write autobiographies. When I write blatantly about myself, I tend not to have a sentence flow.

I'm also really smart in school, but tend to get in trouble from time to time. This makes my Honors teachers think where I'll end up in life; successful or in jail ?. For example, in 7th grade I got into huge trouble when I was climbing through the ventilation shafts with some friends. When we were in there, we heard our names being called to go to the office. While going back to class, however, we certainly ended up in the principal's office. We fell through the ventilation shaft due to our weight, broke the ceiling, and almost fell onto him and the other kid that was in there. We were all okay except for minor cuts and bruises, but we were taken to the nurse anyways. While in the nurse, our principal was screaming at us and me being the badass I am said one word, "lawyer." This worked better off for me, however, as the fine was reduced to 500$ instead of the original 1200$ I believe? I got the full fine as it was my idea to go in, while the others just got a suspension. Just to let you know, the vents were just wide open things as the school was from about 1926. That's just a little bit about me.

Anything else you want to say:

Nothing really, although I suppose I should apologize for the wall of text. Hope you enjoy it!

Logical™'s Application for The Empire

Name: Jared

Age: 15

Sexuality: Straight

State/Country: Texas, United States

Time Zone: Central (GMT -5)

What are some skills that you have (Explain): I have multiple skills, intermediate in most of them. I know quite a bit about RATting, I know obviously what it stands for and some advanced parts of it. I can code in Java at a beginner advanced level, higher then intermediate but barely. My best topic and expertise is in the hardware or gaming part of things, as I have been gaming and dealing with things related since I was around 6. If you have any questions about hardware such as Xbox's, or anything I am the man to come to. Lastly, I have intermediate skills in Photoshop as I know how everything works and what not.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I am looking for a family here on Hackforums, not just a 1 week quickie either, I plan on staying for as long as the group goes on. I will dedicate by making a tutorial or two every month and post on a daily basis throughout the sub-forum. I am looking to make friendships and others to respect through this group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I am a hardworking, dedicated, and respectful User of Hackforums. As I said in the above, I will work hard on making a few tutorials every month and post on a daily basis through the sub-forum helping newcomers and sharing my ideas. I will not let this group down, and I promise you that.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: I am a 15 year old in High School and I plan on becoming a professional gamer & Youtube commentator. If I cannot achieve that then I will pursue to be a cop or study my skills in coding & hacking to get hired for a company. I have played football my whole life, but this year I decided to take off to try and raise my grades as I do not enjoy school. From playing football my entire life I know how to work in a team environment and how to contribute to almost anything. With that said, I am a hard worker and will not quit until I am told to do so.

My parents have been divorced since I was around 6 years old, and I live with my mother. I have a good sense of humor, and know how to give people a good laugh when it is the time but also know how to be completely serious. I enjoy swimming and this summer I will actually be getting a job as a lifeguard at a pool near my house.

Anything else you want to say: I feel like I would be a great addition to The Empire, as I have many things to offer and will respect everyone inside of the group. I will work to the highest expectations and never slack off, being active in the sub-forum while making High Quality posts and threads.

Now reading through the other applicants, I believe I misread sexuality for sex.

I would just like to confirm that I'm straight. I'm not editing the post because I believe that twill affect my chances of being denied due to the fact SoulZeh said not to.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

Graphics - I have been using photoshop for a bit over a year now, I've made a lot of signatures and profile pictures.

Animating - I've been animating in "Blender 3D" For over 2 years now. I've been working in Blender for 2 years now so I know how to create useful effects with it, and fully fledged animations and even a few games!

Media (Youtube) - I've been doing youtube for over a year and learned a lot from it, I know how to get a video popular (Well what to do to increase the chance) I managed to make 100+ Dollar each month from it by making animations.

Great attitude - I am always cheerful no matter what happens, I always try to greet & treat people with respect as long as they greet & treat me with respect! If anyone ever needs help with anything and I know what to do, I never hesitate to help, "Hence my youtube channel with a bunch of tutorials"

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join the Empire because it seems like such an exclusive group with so much respect. And reading from what all the other members state, it seems like everyone are such close friends, more like a family than a group. And to be part of that family would be pretty amazing. An honor really, to be part of such a well respected group, and it would grant me the opportunity too get to know other HF members a bit more! I would probably gain a lot of knowledge on a wide variety of subjects considering you have such a wide variety of members!

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be allowed to join because I have a lot to offer, I would only post the most High quality threads. I would always try to help any members within The Empire, and my Graphic's tutorials would now represent The Empire. I would always inform the group of any useful information, and I am always open to learn something new! I always come with a happy attitude towards learning, and I spend around 7-9 hours on the Internet/Computer every day, so I would never go inactive!

Well, right now I am a 15 year old male with a passion for games but when I was about 2 my parents divorced, and I've never really had a connection with my father. So I always lived with my mother, we had it really rough for a while. Barely enough money for food and house, but my mother started working extra hours so we managed to survive. When I was about 8 years of age my brother bought me my first Computer, and I remember I was so happy I was jumping in my bed and just screaming with joy.

Ever since I have been really hooked at playing Computer games, somehow I still managed to keep some what of a social life. I was never the popular kid but not the bullied one either, I was in between and a bit more indifferent I guess. But I had my friends who I used to play football with.

I've switched school a lot, so most of my friends have not remained very long. And because of this I've lost a lot of confidence in myself, but I've managed to regain it by telling myself to stop feeling sorry for myself and go out and fix it! And I did, I met some new friends, and some girls and now I seem like your average teenager! I enjoy playing computer games with a passion!

I started a youtube channel where I did animation, and I managed to hit 3k subs, and get over a million total views. Unfortunately someone got my password and took over my account, but I took it as a life lesson, and told myself to be more careful next time. And that is how I found hackforums, to see if it was possible to get the account back, and if not, to learn how to prevent this from happening again!

My life long dream would be to play Computer games for a living, but more realistically a dream job would be a game designer. Which is why I started using Blender, to learn animating and modeling 3D characters and objects! Quite recently I've gotten really into parkour and just running around with friends messing! But with school, and exams I don't have a lot of time to parkour, so I spend most of my time playing games, and talking to friends on skype!

Anything else you want to say:

Thank you for taking the time to read this, and giving me the possibility to join "The Empire"

What are some skills that you have (Explain): The skills I currently have are related to that of White hat, it's a tad bit limited but I'm trying to gain more knowledge everyday, this includes graphics. Coding as well is another "skill". I say that simply because I'm taking online schooling and the classes I'm in right now are coding and game developing.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel that I should be accepted into Empire because I'm an outstanding member that always tries to help other members when he cans. I do not however think I have anymore of a chance/privilege than any other member on this site, or thread. I see that no matter what an individual has done, everyone has an equal chance if you follow the rules.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: I'm an individual who doesn't tolerate harassment of other members, I think each and every person should learn to get along (Agree to disagree) I'm a very happy, yet patient individual, that wants nothing more in his life than to learn and help others eventually with computer related problems. As for a memorable event, it'd have to be May last year when I went to Disney World with my family for a week, was a very exciting and memorable week for me and I'll never forget it. A few other things about myself are that I love to read, watch anime, play games and just be an outgoing person in general.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

CodingHTML

PHP

C

PYTHON

Doxing

Knowledge of Linux servers

Marketeer

(d)dos

Always want to know more

The items I have listed above are the skills that I own. As you can see I am a coder and I try to code much of what I use. I know all the languages listed above and the ones that are listed first are the ones I know the best. Next I have great knowledge on how to find almost anyone because I believe that today most people can be traced if they do not know what to do so I am very good at doxing. Also as you can see above I do have a great knowledge of linux servers because I work with them a lot. I am a great marketeer I always say I can sell a ketchup Popsicle to a woman and white gloves. I have great knowledge of ddos and the resources to do it. I am a very very fast learner anything that I try to study I can understand it very quick and become advanced on it. And finally I am always wanting to know more. I never want to stop learning.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I wish to join The Empire because I know the quality of members that are in this group and I would like to be considered one of them. I know you are all really great people and I have had a really great time in root and I would now like to be able to get to know more and better people by joining this amazing group. I want to have the feeling of knowing that I am allowed to be in the best group that is available on this amazing site.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Because I believe I am of the high quality that you are looking for and I have great skills that I believe I can contribute to the group and share with all of you. I work hard every day to learn more and more and what I find I would love to share with a great group such as your selfs.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

Hello members of The Empire my name is Sib3r. I have been in the hacking community for quite some time but as you can tell I am a new member to this forum. I am 20 years old and I have been working with computers since the age of 10. I actually do not work a job at the moment because I make such great money from this site and other service that I do such as working on computers and coding different things for people. I love to spend time with my friends but because of what I do I end up spending most of my time on here working coding and learning ever day.

Anything else you want to say:

I would like to take this moment to say thank you for reading over my application and I hope that I will be able to soon set The Empire as my primary group. Also best of luck to all the others who applied.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): Gaming, Graphics, Video Editing, and HTML. My really strong point is Xbox Gaming. I have a lot of knowledge about what goes on with Xbox LIVE, Gaming News, and Other various gaming updates. The next best would be Graphics. I'm planning to go to college for Gaming and Art Design. I'm really good in Photoshop and I'm learning more with C4D currently.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I've wanted to join since the day it was made but I never got around to applying or you guys didn't have an application thread up at the time. So now I'm applying to try to get in. It looks like a group I would be most interested in.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: The Empire seems like a nice group to share and gain knowledge. I'm a pretty knowledgeable person in some subjects but I would love to learn more about what other members know. I love sharing knowledge because knowledge is power, at least that's the way I look at it.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Well, when I was about 10 years old I started skateboarding and it has really changed my life. I've been skating for 6 years now, have had 2 sponsorships, and have had a better self consciousness and focus ever since.

Anything else you want to say: I hope to see you guys really consider me as an applicant and I will hopefully be talking to you guys soon!

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

I can code in a few different languages, and I'm currently learning new ones as well. The languages are as follows:

- PHP
- HTML
- VB (That's a given)
- C++
- Python
- JS
- C#

Other than that, if gaming counts as a skill, then I am decent at gaming, such as Strategy games and FPS.

I am pretty good with computers, such as taking them apart, building from scratch, learning the ins and outs of the OS's.

I also am decent with graphics, though I don't go all out with renders and C4D effects a lot, but I think I'm have a good skill level.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

The empire seems like one big family, and it is a family I'd love to a part of. From what I've seen so far, the members in the empire are great and have been helpful with anything I asked them. I want to be that member people come to for advice or help. It seems that it is a quality group, and being that I have nothing going against me, I feel I could be of quality as well. Even though I don't have a ton of posts, I am trying to be more active on HF, and this would be a great way to do so.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I can't say I deserve the position more than any other member on here. I feel if you give me a chance to be in The Empire, I could exceed expectations and be the quality you guys are. I think I have the skills and the personality to be in this group from what I've seen of several of the members.

I could do both. A little about myself, well I am a 20 year old male, bisexual. I am currently living with my roommate and lover. My life revolves around my schoolwork right now as I am in college. Speaking of college, I am working towards a degree in Engineering. This takes up most of my life as I said, seeing as it's demanding going to school for the degree itself, along with taking the standard academics. Off the subject of school, I have lived in Pennsylvania most of my life, living in the UK for a brief period a few years back. Right now, my job is working retail, but I also DJ on the side to earn a few extra bucks. I have been into music and producing for about four years now. I am an avid gamer as well, been one since I was little. I am probably one of the biggest game freaks out of my circle of friends, maybe around where I live as well.

Let me change gears quick and talk about a memorable moment in my life. I think the most memorable moment I have right now is graduating High School. I only say that because I graduated at the top of my class with a 3.9 GPA. Knowing that I graduated top of my class really propelled me forward into what I chose to do with my life, and where I went from there. I think the career I'm looking to get in to (Engineering), is perfect for me. That would probably be the most memorable moment in my life, seeing as I'm still young.

Anything else you want to say:

Nothing really, other than thanks for giving me the opportunity.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

Teaching/learning skills:

- Quick learner, if I'm interested in the topic I'll learn even faster.
- Quick to pick up on things.
- Able to distribute my acquired knowledge to those in need of it.

IT skills:

- Fluent in PC talk.
- Able to adapt to new PC environments.
- Able to use and understand most program.
- Have experience with most mainstream operating systems.

Gaming skills:

- Got a nuke without boosting, numerous times.
- Can adapt to most game styles with ease.
- Windows-Mac-Xbox compatible.

Coding skills:

- Learning C++
- Learning VB.NET
- Decently strong knowledge on HTML

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I'd like to join The Empire as it seems it's really taken off and has stayed true to itself since its creation. The people seem great, and I've seen nothing bad of a member of The Empire yet, so it's even more appealing to me. Your group aims seem like the perfect aims to me.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel that I should be accepted into The Empire because the aims of the group are how I personally operate myself. I'm an active user, I treat everybody fairly unless I've been given a reason not to.

I'm a 15 year old student living in Australia (16 in two weeks).

I live with my Dad and Step-Mum, after suffering enough torment and abuse from my mother. I've got 7 siblings all up (3-Blood, 4-step).

I work at a lovely international retailing company that goes by the name 'Kmart', maybe you've heard of it?

I'm fairly good when it comes to school and education.

Never failed a class and in English and IT, I've consistently been graded with year 12 marks. I enjoy math, english, science, history, and IT.

Anything else you want to say:

Nothing comes to mind.

5 A'S

1 B

2 C'S in my GCSE'S which is good and were the necissary requirements to get int 6th form where I'm currently studying.

In my free time I spend it on HF, (I'm becoming more active ?) I spend the most of it out with friends and playing football for my local team. Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Mainly to meet new people, and have higher quality discussions outside of the general hackforums sections.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I believe that is up to leader decision only. Nobody "deserves" to be in a group, but should earn it. In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

My name is Brandon, I'm 16 and I live in a small town in Kansas, and I suppose I'll tell you something memorable in my life. I was seven or eight, staying the night at my grandparents house in the country. It had gotten fairly stormy out and we were listening to the radio to make sure we knew if a tornado was coming; and sure enough, it did. We went out and got into my grandpas old ford truck (single cab, 3 of us AND a dog, it was crowded) and went out in the country, looking for the tornado.

We finally found it and followed it a bit, I remember seeing a farm house getting completely destroyed and thinking to myself how bad it must be to be the farmer that owned that house. He didn't deserve to have his home scattered in pieces where it once was. We got too close, and before we noticed the tornado reversed direction and was coming towards us. The truck was flipped into a field and (thankfully) landed right side up. The truck was tore up pretty badly, but we were okay. It was one of the scariest moments in my life.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

Online Gaming - I have been playing MMORPG'S since 6 year's of age I always wanted to go the extra mile with online gaming.

Web developing - I have been developing sites for about 2 years since I was 14 I was interested in that kind of area.

Online Marketing - I would like to sell Diablo 3 accounts but no one is interested in that as they all love runescape

Why do you want to join The Empire?:To give stuff away and share my knowledge about the topics that everyone's heart.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:Because I feel I could expand knowledge around the area's I stated above and bring a great amount of loving and happiness to empire I may not be ub3r but I have a great amount of knowledge also I am not here to brag about "OHHHH IM In EMPIRE YOUR NOT AHHAHAHA" I will never brag about stuff I have earned.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

When I was 13 - 14 I wasn't your typical teenager I didn't care about my religion or faith it was just there just causing trouble and was at a certain level of maturity I was just a bad boy. on may the 20th 2012 my friend got stabbed in his stomach so I thanks to my self for 2 weeks thinking should I go down the same path as him? So I said to myself "NO" I started practicing my religion it was hard along the way month's of hard practicing to understand what Allah said in the Qur'an once I fully understood it I started going mosque every Friday and I am still on going.

Metasploit Expert

Malware Analyst

Windows 7 Guru(sevenforums.com)

Teamwork and leadership skills

Coding (C, C++, C#)

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would like to join The Empire for a number of different reasons. My main reason is that I would like to not only share my skills with the group, but learn new skills too. Moreover, I can meet new people.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I am hardworking, active, and considerate. I feel that I will be a good addition to the group.

Anything else you want to say:

I am also a person that likes to help others, ever since I have joined HackForums, I have made many friends here, I went to them when they were in need and helped them out.

I am very kind to everyone on HackForums, when I run into trouble, I try to resolve it in a very mature manner.

Thank you for the opportunity to join The Empire

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to be part of The Empire because i enjoy helping others and want nothing more then to see others succeed. When i was a younger I was not given a chance in life nor did anyone ever help me. I enjoy showing others and respect and helping the as i was never helped. This is why i want to join.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Because i will do my best to help others on the forum and make it a better place. I don't judge anyone on race or religion and will help people as best as i possibly can.

]In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:[/b] When i was 7 years old i lost my father in a tragic accident.

Growing up i had to do things for myself and never really had the chance to have a childhood. I went through school graduated, went to college. To be honest I made alot of mistakes in my life, and now that i'm older I try to help out others in all to make myself a better person.

Anything else you want to say: I would love the opportunity to be part of this group. I don't want to be part of this group just to be considered great or honored in other peoples eyes. I just want to be part so i can be part of something great, So i can meet some new friends, and be part of something for once in my life.

The Empire - Application

Name: Andrew

Age: 16 years old, I turn 17 in a few months.

Sexuality: Heterosexual

State/Country: Michigan, United States of America

Time Zone: EST

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

I have basic knowledge on some PHP, html, and MySQL. I'm good with talking to others, depending on who it may be. I can SE fairly well. I'm not going to Google a bunch of skills that people have and list them here. I'm fairly intelligent when it comes to the history of certain places and/or things.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I'd like to be apart of a smaller community, within the community here. I want to learn more about things I hardly know about now. It would be a big opportunity for me to learn from others and hopefully teach others. It'd be nice to get to know others better than some. Hopefully I'd be able to contribute quite a bit to the private section.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Well, it isn't up to me, but I feel that it would be worth a shot to see how well I do around the others in the group. I'm easy to get along with and I'm knowledgeable on most of what I talk about. I will try my hardest to contribute the best content I can to the private group section.

Well, my name is Andrew, I live in Michigan. I'm a pretty laid back guy, unless something really bothers me, then I speak out depending on how severe it is. I'm rarely ever biased. I'm 16 years old and I'm currently in 11th grade(Junior year) in High School. I am planning on becoming an Astrophysicist and hoping to work for NASA in the near future. I absolutely love Astronomy/Astrology, as well as History involving any topic. I have been a Sectional Moderator for the official Minecraft Forums since October 14th, I look after the Support section.

Anything else you want to say:

My previous history here on HackForums may be a bit repulsive, but I'm just going to start going the opposite way that I have been. I understand that you can't just change in a day, but people do change. It gets old trolling others and trying to pick fights. It just isn't worth it, at all. I've been banned a few times and repfucked several times as well. It is completely understandable if you deny this application due to my history, but if accepted I will not let you down or deceive you. It would be such a great opportunity to be apart of The Empire.

Thanks for reading my application.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): I am learning C++ right now.(Completed Structures,Arrays,Functions) || Advanced cPanel User || Mastered HTML and CSS || Good at Administrating Forums,cPanels,WHM,WHCMS ||

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Empire is the group that seems to be the only one leading and it seems to be disciplined a lot. Its my Dream to join The Empire Since when I joined.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I think I will be accepted because I think I can do anything for those who deserve that.And I know Empire Needs these type of people.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Well Let me be too honest.About 3 years from now I didn't even knew the pattern of the keys in keyboard.I was just indulged in playing games and all like a child does(I was 12-13 that time).I played specially evony.

But soon While surfing internet one day.I found a forum gstek.info.I really Liked that forum I joined it on November 03, 2011.And that day was the start for me to a great world.After some months I realized that I'm into a new world and it seems it can expanded more.I just Googled some more and found HF.I joined this forum with the name shivamsaluja14.After registering I gone off.And lost the password. After some days I again remembered HF and came back but with a new name Technopope.Soon I was Upgraded to l33t via drac I gave him 3 domains as a gift/deal from my side.

I opened a Hosting Company named as Technopope Hosting Services at 10 Oct 2012.And Having a small number of clients now and its a happy family.

I think this all is enough to say.Or It will be too much.

Anything else you want to say: Nothing Much but Thanks for the opportunity to let me join this Great Group.And yes you made me remember my old days.And I am gonna play evony again today for some time. ;)

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Well for the start, I love the subforum icon and even the userbar, and it reminds me of a king, and thats what im striving for on the forums. I am searching hard to be in a group that fits me and i found this one. I would love to have another chance in this group. I am very active and would love to help members out even more and have this group private but keep growing. And if there is ever a problem and they need help, I can always try my best to help them. The majority of people in the Empire i know well and none of them are low quality, there are lots of HQ members, the people are great and respectful, and do truly help out alot. I can show all my skills, use great grammar and prove i am not Low quality. This group was never low quality, And i did try my best, but giving me another chance i can prove i am more worthy.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Well since you didn't get to know me to well i want to prove to you again i can do it. I have a vast variety in many knowledges, as i stated before, going from Coding, all the way to monetizing, hacking, and miscellaneous. I believe i am a high quality member, I am respectful, helpful and trustworthy. Well anyways I'll tell you some reasons why i think you should let me join. I have been a member for almost a year now. I am very active on the forums, mostly from morning to night, and if not i'm always on my phone. I mostly do buisness or talk on threads. I have donated numerous times and have done lists of contributions, and wouldn't mind doing more. I feel this is my chance that i can prove again i am high quality and help members daily. Accepting me and giving me another chance would be honorable!

Hello, My name is Alex. I am 17 years old.
I grew up in the United states and have lived here my whole life.
I have never been anywhere else in the world. I will be telling you some things about my hobbies, and were my future holds.

I have many hobbies, and stuff i love to do.
As in skateboard, snowboard, Skii (somewhat) play any other sport usually besides soccer. I like to visit HF, code and learn many more languages than i already know. I love hanging out with my friends and just having a good time.

I hope to spend my time after high school in some college.
Then after i am not sure what my future holds, but i hope it turns out good, i might have wanted to do something for a computer type guy, i am pretty experienced, but just don't know what i would do if i be a computer tech etc. I maybe wanted to do something for engineering, but have some troubles learning it. So maybe one day we will see what happens.

Anything else you want to say:

I use to be in the Empire, and i loved it.
I always loved how active it was, the giveaways, and how nice the members were. I would really love a second chance back into the group and i can prove i am worthy, active, help people and can do giveaways or however the case may be.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I noticed that all your members enjoy sharing knowledge. I find it enjoyable to talk about the things that I have interests in and when people want to learn these interests of mine, it drives me to show them how awesome they are. (Take programming, I love teach others .NET, If they want to learn then I am all for teaching them.) I also like to learn, I am filled with quite useless information on everything, but it's still fun learning it. (I recently took into learning stuff about Geosynchronous satellites. My dream was crushed when I couldn't launch it.)

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I'm actually not sure how to answer this. I don't want to demand entry, or ask like for acceptance like Oliver Twist for a bowl of food. I guess I just wanted a chance to learn more seeing as this was a group that like to share knowledge.

My sister was competing in WorldSkills Australia Retail and I went to visit her and see how she was doing. The venue this event was held at had tonnes of different trades such as Hairdressing, Jewellery crafting and automotive repairs.

I spent all day learning different things from sign crafting, to speed brick laying and then I found the IT section; it was awesome. Programmers were typing faster than I can now (this was a few years ago) trying to meet their deadlines for the project set. I saw a web designer switching between a blue background with white clouds and a css style sheet. (had no idea what it was back then) He'd tab in and out ever 2 seconds, change a variable and go back to work. I didn't notice anything until he removed a whole cloud. (I think he was moving it slightly for a template.)

The moral of this story is that, on that day I found a new interest in IT. An interest where I could create, edit, design and revolutionize the world with a single computer. This is what I've always wanted to do since then and hope to compete in the same competition in another 2 years. That is why I have done, am now doing and will also continue you learn and share; that competition of trades.

Anything else you want to say:

No thanks. Enjoy the read, sorry for the length of it. Haha.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

Programming - .NET, Java

Web design - Programming and Web Design go hand in hand. I specialize in process automation, especially with automated website tasks via an application.

Farmer - I can basically grow anything, with the exception of vegetables. I specialize in Tiger Lillies, Stock, Status and more.

Gamer - Honestly, I have about 10,000+ on gaming. I am an avid gamer with an extremely large knowledge of games on PC/XBox/PS1/Wii etc. I specialize in CS:S.

IT Support - I have a CERT 4 in General IT Support and hope to get accepted into the HJT team to further my knowledge.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Webmastery

I've owned several websites for the past few years. In that time I've learnt a lot, such as the general basics such as purchasing, changing NameServers, and setting up a website. This also has led me to become familiar with my popular scripts, CMS's and Forums (such as Joomla, WP, IP.Board, MyBB, vBulletin, Vanilla and PHPBB). With this, comes basic knowledge in coding (HTML, CSS and PHP) as well as getting to know fundamental server applications such as cPanel. Although I'm not the best at what I do, I believe that the expertise that I've accumulated over time is enough to help members within the group with questions in the areas listed above.

Graphics

I've been using Graphics programs over the past few years for both personal and helping reasons. I've got knowledge in a large variety of programs, such as cinema 4D, Photoshop, After Effects and Sony Vegas. Due to this, I feel that I'd be able to help many users out within Empire as well as write tutorials in Empire's name if need be.

Gaming

I've been an avid gamer since I can remember. I grew up with by my father's side, playing all the older games such as Hexen, Blood, Doom, Wolfenstein, Redneck Rampage, Duke Nukem and Quake. From there, I've continued playing games in all genres, and all game types. These range from MMORPG's, RPG's, FPS and puzzle games. Not only do I have an extensive knowledge in these areas, but I also have extensive knowledge in customization of games as well as helping others with errors they may face.

Computing

This is perhaps my biggest skill that I can list. I've used a computer since I can remember, and since then I've always been interested into not just accepting the fact that it does work, but how it works and how can I make it better. In regards to that, I have extensive knowledge when it comes to customization, tweaking and troubleshooting Windows PC. In my family, I'm the "go-to guy" when it comes to problems that they may have, and I feel that I'd be able to help everyone out within The Empire, helping out where I can and as often as I can. Similar to "Graphics", I'd be more than happy to write tutorials and help other users out amongst the forum in the name of The Empire.

[img]<http://imagize.me/images/2012/11/01/obQYP.png>[img]

I've been a member of The Empire before, for around 2 months. The experience I had, whilst being in the empire was amazing. The people that I met, and the friends that I made is enough to want me to join it again. Empire has always been a HQ group, ever since I can remember, and when I was in it, the "HQ" nature definitely showed. All tutorials, resources and general conversation within the group was not only High Quality, but was always helpful.

When I wore The Empire userbar, I took pride in helping members, as well as hosting contests all in the name of "The Empire", and I wish to do that again. This is probably not the best place to say this, but I wish to get back into Empire on a fresh start. During the time I had been in the group, apart from work and UNI stress, I had other issues going on in my life which I cannot say, which led me to become inactive and so be kicked. With those issues behind me, I long to be back in the group, talk to the members that I used to know and help as many people as I can, which is what my original goal is.

For a start, I'm an extremely friendly guy and good to get along with. So, if I get accepted into the Empire, there is no doubt I'd talk to people, help them out if needed (support wise) and hopefully help plan events with others.

As seen above within my skills section, I've got a lot of experience in many different areas. If anyone needs help within Empire, I'd be more than glad to help them out as long as it's within an area that I'm able to help with. If not, then no doubt I'd do my hardest to help them regardless of my skill. As stated above also, I'd be more than happy to write tutorials as well as support people around the forum in the name of The Empire, all to help improve the image.

Last but not least, I'm hard working and high quality. I've spent a long time on this application, and I strive to do things right. When I was in The Empire earlier, it was the best group I've ever been in as I had great conversations, great help and made many friends. In saying that, this application should be a clear representation of how much I want to get back in the Empire and prove my stay. As with the "HQ" part, you'll never see me post anything that's below standard on the forum, or anything that could at all hurt the image of The Empire.

These reasons, are why I should be apart of The Empire

[img]<http://imagize.me/images/2012/11/01/5yBf4.png>[img]

Where to begin....

There has been no set "event" in my life, that has stood out as being memorable, and so I'll talk briefly about myself instead. As said above, my name's Alex and I'm 19 from Sydney, AU. I'm currently studying at UTS (University of Technology, Sydney) and doing a Bachelor of Applied Physics (which will most likely change).

As with many Australians, I'm easy to talk to and very laid back. I very rarely stress, and when I do there's an obvious importance behind it. There haven't been that many people, that I've talked to and not be able to get along with, and so I'll most definitely make a few friends here.

I'm an avid Videogamer, as stated above, and have been playing games in any shape or form since I can remember. Though UNI has taken up almost most of my "game time", and give me no opportunity to play competitive ladders, I still casual game with my friends in games such as Minecraft, SWTOR and most current Xbox 360 games.

I'm what a lot of people might call a "nerd", as I spend a lot of my time at the computer, whether it be working on websites, doing Graphics, playing some games or doing some UNI work (rarely ?), yet always find the time to go to the GYM, clubbing with friends or just have casual drinks every so often.

[img]<http://imagize.me/images/2012/11/01/XLSid.png>[img]

Everything that I've said and wanted to say, is listed above. I really do hope you consider my applications, and I do apologize for the length as I want my passion to get into The Empire to show across.

Thanks for your time.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

I have said many times before to many other people, i have no massive skill set in "SQLI" etc. I am only 15, and i have done no IT courses or anything of the sort. I like to learn whatever i can, and put it to use. I am at the moment learning C++, which i am enjoying, i am more of a white hat than anything else, i enjoy helping people solve problems that they may have. I also like to just generally chat with other group members. I am always learning new skills, and will do my best to help other, using those skills.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join the Empire, because i want a group to learn from, and in turn help the members of that group. I am not trying to join the group because it has a nice fancy userbar, but more because i want a HQ group with HQ users to help, and learn from.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I may not be the user with the most +rep, highest post count, or most liked member on HF. But i am very active, i enjoy working in a team, and doing team projects, and will represent the Empire well.

In all honesty,my life is pretty boring.I have not achieved much,as for memorable things,that is a hard one,but I will do my best to make this as "interesting" as possible.

I am the type of person who prefers to learn new things,rather than smoke weed,and spend most of my money on alcohol,I have been on computers since i was 3 years of age,my father is a great age of empires fan,and he loves all game like that.He got me playing on aoe1 when i was 3 years old,and by about 6-7 maybe 8 years of age I knew how to use a computer,use the net etc.I spend most of my time on my PC,I am currently moving to a new house,that is far out of the town i live in,so my PC will be my only entertainment.

I try my best to keep a good reputation (not HF reputation) and try and keep my grammar up,I like playing video games,such as skyrim resident evil etc...I like to make friends and try my best not to argue and make enemies,although I will always speak my mind,and not keep my thoughts to myself.I have enjoyed my time on HF,and plan on staying here for a long time.

I have spent a long time thinking of something memorable that has happened in my life,and to be honest,i am stumped.The only thing i can think of isn't very "interesting" but here it goes.I was about 11,and me and my mates were playing in a friends back yard.We decided to play football but with no rules.After a good while,someone punched me,and tripped me up.I fell to the floor and broke my wrist but then as i was getting up,a friend had not seen,he booted the ball and it hit my wrist,that was preeeety painfull.My mum thought i had just "hurt" it a little,even though i was crying a ton.I went to school the next day,then she took me to the doctors from school,we found out i had in-fact broken my wrist,yeah i never got so much sympathy from my mum until that day xD.

Anything else you want to say:

Not really,good luck to all other applicants.

EDIT: I would do a graphic,but i don't know how to do them,and don't have the $$$ to buy one.

EDIT2: Sorry for edditing,i had put [/color] at the end of a line,removed it.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

Debater : I can debate on various topics from different point of view

Listener: I am a good listener. Instead of speaking too much I intent to listen carefully before making my act.

A friend to speak: Are you feeling alone. need some one to chat with or want to tell which you can't tell anyone. I am the guy for you. Don't worry the secret entrusted on my will follow me to the grave.

Malware Removal : I am currently training to become an malware removal expert. When my training is complete I can share my knowledge in this part of are.

also I am good with psychology and little bit of gaming.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: This is an awesome group consists of awesome members and I want to become a part of them, if given the privilege.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I am an active member and a fast learner. I do my best to help other within my power. I have done many tutorials and plan on doing more.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

I am a twenty years old boy from Bangladesh. It's country situated in south asia. I live with my family and going through my courses on Mechanical Engineering.

I am a very friendly guy. I like making new friends and knowing new peoples. I have met many friends over the past three years here. I love PC and it's security. I have a passion for malwares and it's removal. That's why I am currently learning them.

As for my pastime I like reading books, listen to music, hang out with friends, tease my little brother (well I love him a lot) and currently I am checking out a new girl whom I wanna hang out with. Well, that's all about me. Yeah I know it's nothing fancy but I like my life the way it is.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): Various coding language knowledge, great grammar, GFX and many more. ?

Various coding language knowledge

I have learned a lot of coding languages and I consider myself great at them. I know a lot of Basic, Java, C, C++, C# and more. I have wrote two extensive guides to coding (one Web-related) and one as an Intro to coding. You can find them here:

Introduction to Coding

Tools and Technologies of Web Creation

Great grammar

Yes, I believe that I have great grammar. I rarely make mistakes and nobody has any problems understanding me. I'm not a grammar nazi, but I still like members with good grammar a lot more than the ones with bad grammar.

GFX

I also have some GFX skills. I'm not that active in the Graphics section, but I think I have decent skills in GFX.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join The Empire so I can get a bit more recognized within the forum and to help other Empire members, as well as regular, non-Empire members.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Because I really think I can help a lot. And that I can learn a lot. That I can help you, and help myself.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

I'm Parazyd. I'm 22 years old and I'm from Croatia. I joined Hackforums back in 2009. I wasn't quite active those days, but now I am.

I have helped a lot of members throughout the time I've been on HF. I posted various guides and I'm always willing to help any member. I hope to stay on HF for a long time, maybe even for the rest of my life. HackForums has changed my life and the way I look at hacking.

I upgraded to l33t a year ago and I'm working my way to ub3r. I wasn't yet accepted, but I believe I'm a high-quality member and that I will get accepted.

Anything else you want to say: I'd really like you to accept me as a group member and I promise to be a great member. Thank you for your time and for considering my application.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): Web Development (PHP, HTML, CSS & JS)

- I am a pretty good PHP coder, I've coded some pretty great stuff including User Management systems, booter features, other projects.

Networking

- Mostly in terms of stress testing, the strength of amplified attacks and the difference in attacks and how to utilize each attack method.

Marketing and Sales

- Marketing as in some great plans and advertising techniques to get products out into the market, I have experience in large scale drug dealing (I know it's not the best experience, but it is if you've been there) whilst moving 8-10 pounds of weed weekly, it becomes a very lucrative business. And I have experience with Cryptex (Popular C# Crypter of 2010-2012)

Social Engineering and Manipulation.

- I've SE'd many companies, including but not limited to Logitech

Microsoft

Many Clothing companies

I've also received many cheques from manipulating companies, also real life SE when cashing them in, knowing they were obtained by a method of fraud.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I've been in this group before (if Tibit reads this, he'll know why I was kicked) and while I was in it, it was just getting on it's feet, and now I see it's going good, I'd like another chance :) I used to be good friends with many people in this group, and like a chance of redemption.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I'm a unique member, and pretty known (according to Control Booter's thread) I've been a member of this site for almost 4 years, and I feel I could contribute some great things to Empire as a member. I'm also a very friendly guy, so getting along with members wouldn't be a problem.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

I was driving along one night with my friend, picking up another friend at 1:30 in the morning. We stopped in front of his house, and waited, as that went on a cop pulled by. This was sketchy.

Once we got in the car, and started driving off, the cop must have turned around and was now following us closely. I quickly put something in my crotch as I knew we were getting pulled over, this was an ounce of MDMA. We were pulled over while downtown, and the cop came to the car, started asking us questions. I tried to SE him as best I could, without hesitating. But as he went back to his car, 3 other cruisers rolled up.

They all got out of the car, one even unbuttoned his holster. They asked us to step out of the car, so we complied. They found a little air compressor end that one of my idiot friends smoked weed out of -.-, this allowed them to arrest my best friend who was driving for possession and this allowed them to search the whole car. The pulled out my backpack, and searched it.

I had a half pound of weed in there, which was lucky cause I just got rid of the other 2 quarter pound bags. I'm now on probation for 12 months, I SE'd the whole court system saying I was just a bulk buyer that smoked a lot, providing bank statements and proof of my trafficking innocence.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

This is my first time I'm applying for a group. I'd like to join because I like helping other people (always done since elementary school) and I already do it - I don't need an usergroup to help other people. By the way I'd like talking with other people who like helping as I like. And I think that sharing my knowledge with other people is a good thing.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I think...because I am totally new to groups: I am not the best, maybe I don't know anything if I compare myself with some other person here on HF but a new person always bring fresh air. People who instead are here for years and have already been in other groups, will take what they need from an usergroup (some private trick, sharings) then they will quit.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

The only memorable things that happened in my life are very private...I can talk about an event that's not memorable but that for me changed my life.

It was July, and looking for [I don't remember what] on the Internet I found TheBotNet. And I discovered the Black-side of the Internet.

After about 1 month I discovered HackForums and my life is changing (but well) because I make money every month, and I hope they will grow. I discovered a place that I never thought to exist: the place where many virus born, where I can know and make friends other money-makers, all people that want to share their knowledge to multiply it by 100 learning from others.

This is a memorable event for me: when I knew about this community.

Thank you.

Anything else you want to say:

I would say sorry for my grammar: I tried to do my best but I'm Italian so English is not my first language.

Then, about my warning level 40%, I really don't know how it happened. I never "flammed" anyone. Maybe it was a wrong-section-thread somewhere.

And, finally, I can't wait to buy AC3 and I can't wait some other news about Kingdom Hearts 3. This is my favourite Kingdom Hearts music (but they all are beautiful). Please listen to it only if you want to listen to it all, and not first 10 seconds then close. Kingdom Hearts' musics always have a big beginning and then start.

Even if you don't accept me and this will become useless time, thank you for the opportunity.

SoulZeh - November 2, 2012, 3:34 am

I did a couple of applications, you will find out sometime Today or Sunday if you've been accepted or not, you will receive a private message saying you've been accepted..

If you don't get a private message past Sunday, Sorry to say but you didn't get accepted, always next time..

Good luck to everyone and thanks for all the applications.

rxki - November 2, 2012, 3:54 am

As SoulZeh said, good luck to everyone that applied.

NeBuL? - November 2, 2012, 4:36 am

Good luck to everyone who applied. Very nice applications out there, have read through a few.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): The highly knowledgeable skills which my support and help would mainly come from since im more experienced with are yes the basics of coding and programming languages, Using applications like MyBB, Whmcs, Wordpress and just simple softwares lik the following i just provided. I know a whole lot of sports maybe a bit too much.., When im not tired and in a non lazy mood im quite a great typer with persuasive and enthusiastic writing skills for the audience providing in whatever im writing from an ebook to an essay. I have great basic computing skills as most of Hackforums would have and im learning a whole lot more day by day.. Theres nothing i dont really know about apart from Hacking which isnt my biggest liking.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Im really not in it for the userbar as half of the people are but im wanting to contribute so i can help out others with all the knowledge that i know, It would be extraordinary to give back to others with what ive seen and whats locked in my mind so it could either take them down the road which what they want to learn and possibly help them achieve there "Learning Goals" I will do everything in my power to get others to were they want to be.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I havent been massivley envoled with groups and nows my time that i want to contribute and take a step forward, It would be over whelming being in the empire knowing i have an oppurtunity to take my skills and everything i know to help others out and also for my sake to learn more from members in the group which would be great for me.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Well nothing to big in my life to be honest but coming up in my life is something huge next year where i will be heading over to america for a month where i will be competing against High school basketball teams around the states of Texas and the Carolina area. I've worked years for this and know its finally paying off with this tour and it never would of came to my mind. So the saying "Do good things and good things will happen" is pretty much correct and has worked out great for me. Its not everyday that you get a phone call asking for this opportunity to go across the other side of the world to represent your country. I have also lived in Australia my whole life and about 6 years ago my parents had split up and it was really tough for me since i loved both of them to parts and not seeing my biological father is tough for me at times when i see others with theres. But yeah im a sports type of person and usually after working out and games, Im generally on the computer adapting my skills.

Anything else you want to say: I know you may not or you may like my form but give me a chance, I guarantee i will not let use down.

Advice - November 2, 2012, 6:10 am

Name:

Hi there, my name is Blic on HF and Andrew in real life.

Age:

I currently do not wish to disclose my age. However, if you're really interested, PM me. :)

Sexuality:

I'm a straight male.

State/Country:

I'm from New South Wales in Australia.

Time Zone:

My current time zones are:

- Greenwich Mean Time + 10 hours (GMT +10)

- Eastern Standard Time +10 hours (EST +10)

However, these are currently 1 hour ahead due to daylight saving..

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

I pertain a variety of skills, however I prioritize the following:

- Marketing

- Programming

- Idea Pioneering

I've been marketing since last (about) last July. In this time I've learned read over many tutorials, methods and guides teaching me the online methods to success. I believe I can harness the guides and classify this ability as a skill.

Programming was the first skill and reason for joining HackForums. I have been programming for over 5 years in multiple languages such as:

- Visual Basic .NET
- Java
- Basic PHP
- Basic HTML
- Basic C++
- Basic C#

Idea Pioneering is another skill I enjoy performing as it allows me to visualize and idealize possible projects, scenarios and more. This can be useful in many ways as it allows new areas to be viewed at from a different perspective.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join the Empire so I can not only benefit from the community, but contribute and teach to the community. I am willing to learn new things everyday, yet at the same time to teach new learners of content they have yet been exposed to.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I plan to contribute by bringing my knowledge of my current skills to the group's subforum. I can commonly post on almost all forms of topics. I can giveaway, teach and showcase methods regarding or relating to my skills.

I believe I should be apart of Eminence as it can be a great opportunity for not only the group but for me as a user. I can contribute to the group in ways listed above, yet at the same time learn from other members. I'm willing to accept criticism and always looking for another perspective to view from.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

First off, I'm "tech savvy". I'm into the latest technology and am down-to-earth in discussion. I love marketing and programming, especially to do with today's society and needs and wants of others. I enjoy discussing a variety of topics, engaging in group activities and generally being a member of the community.

Anything else you want to say:

Thank you for taking time out of your busy schedule to review this.
Good luck to the other applicants.

Regards,
Blic

Omg...
Okay, honestly.

Every time I glance at this thread I see you've made a new post criticizing someone else's application or riding one of the members/leaders sack. Just because Yellows or whoever said you have one of the best application doesn't mean you go around and basically tell people to fuck off. You're not even in the group yet, so you have no right to consistently post and better yet tell people what's wrong or right. (yes, I know he put Male as sexuality but still)

If this is how people in The Empire act then just deny me and skip over my app.

Tibit - November 2, 2012, 7:19 am

Those that are not Empire members or applicants should not be posting in this thread period. We are reporting every off topic or spam post. We've already had dozens of posts removed by staff and will continue to do so. If you spam the thread you will not get in.

Also, vouching for a member or calling out a member will not hurt or help their chances, we have a nomination thread from our current members where they can recommend, they know what it takes to be in the group so they know who to recommend, and they don't recommend bad members as it will look bad on both the current member and the one nominated.

If you are not a member of The Empire, don't post here unless you are posting an application or have a question for leadership.

Fallenour - November 2, 2012, 7:25 am

So heres my question. we were told the day before yesterday as of about 630 server time, I can quote the post if youd like as well, that we would find out yesterday, and that you would inform us all, which is coming from a statement made by your leadership, not you specifically, but soulzeh.

Now Im not one to complain, but I waited over 11 hours to find out if I got in, and I actually began monitoring you twos activity about 4 days ago, just to know when your peak times of activity are, (you were on yesterday quite late I may add, looking at other users, checking their threads, etc) ((yes I recon just about anyone and everyone around me, mama didnt raise no fool so the saying goes)) and soulzeh generally has a 4 hour period of activity, generally starting around 430-530, and ending briefly for about an hour to an hour and a half, then returning for another hour, generally leaving about around 8-9 on average.

now, I waited, I watched, Neither of you sent out the announcement you promised. Can we expect that announcement today, since from the looks of everything I monitored, I can conclude that since both you and soulzeh werent on at the same time for an extended period of time, I can conclude you didnt have time to discuss thoroughly I take it in regards to admissions.

Ill be waiting.

Sounds good to me, Ill be waiting online then till about 11, Cant wait much longer than that though, I have the fall championship to go to in dallas in the morning, anyone want souvenirs? I hear that teemo hats are all the rage.

In regards to the forum, its best if you go off of server time. Itll be easier on you that way, its the same regardless of where you are in relations to time zones, so theres no adding or subtracting for GMT, just simply see what time server theyll be on, and be on that time as well.

As you can see, I'm an all-around kind of guy. I like to do many things, and many things at a time. I'm a multi-tasker and like to think of myself as that. I excel in mostly all of those things but still have a lot of room to learn which is why I practice those skills daily, of course not all of them, to boost my experience and techniques. Of course, if you indeed accept me into the group, I can help out by holding and hosting classes explaining and teaching some members of the group, or even the forum some expertise that I know to share my knowledge. If you would like to test me on any of those subjects if you doubt me or have any questions, don't hesitate to PM me as I'm always up to help someone out.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I've been a Hack Forums member for a little over a year. Let me say, it's been a great run. I lately have been getting into debating and such. Hence why I am in Logic, well we're going through a ReVamp so everyone is kicked at the moment. I feel like though, I haven't really given anything back compared to how much people have taught me and how much time and dedication people have put into me to teach me the skills I have today. I took a venture into the Members Contests section and saw The Empire all over the threads in that section and that I really wanted to be a part of it as it could fulfill some things I wanted to do which is, to give back to the community. I talked to Tibit for a little via Skype and learned some cool things about him, now knowing that he owns two groups. I thought it would be worth a shot, so here I am.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

To start, I'm a very active and outgoing guy. I love to interact with fellow people and the community which means no doubt, that I will be active within The Empire sub-forum. I can share my experience and help anyone that asks and shows dedication to what I am going to teach them.

As you can see, I have many skills that I will be willing to teach. I can hold classes and groups within the sub-forum to teach people some things via join.me, TeamViewer, Skype, etc. Along with making unique tutorials on those subjects as well.

Lastly, I'm a hardworker and take my time and dedication into things on this forum. As you can see, it took some time to make out this application and I really do hope you read it and think about accepting me as I will not let you down and you will actually be surprised to see how much I can help the group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

Well, my name is Matt or Matthew. I'm Catholic. I live in South Florida and I'm a Sophomore in high school. I take part in the medical academy at my school and I play Junior Varsity Wrestling, Basketball, and Golf.

My grades are pretty well. I excel in school and get all A's with the occasional B. I want to go to the University of Miami for college and that's what I'm achieving for.

Hack Forums is a little part time hobby that I have and I enjoy it very much when I do not do school work.

Anything else you want to say:

Everything that I've said and wanted to say, is listed above. I really do hope you consider my applications, and I do apologize for the length as I want my passion to get into The Empire to show across.

Thanks for your time.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

My skills include the more generic options such as singing (which I have been heavily involved in since I was 3, photography (yearbook, senior portraits, family portraits, etc). I find you will be intrigued to know though I have a special skill of reading people's facial expressions, pitch changes, and distinct typing/text styles. Skills I acquired after a traumatic experience of losing my father. They were better harnessed and trained by a man working in the military who helped me learn more on it properly. The skill of reading micro-expressions takes years to master, but at my age and what I can do, it really is a skill to be impressed by.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

The main reason I would like to join The Empire, my boyfriend Natha is a member within the group. Also, I think the Empire will offer a range of interesting topics to keep me more occupied and intrigued on HF. I'm high quality, I will be dedicated to group projects with the help of Natha, as I am kind of new to forums, but I'm sure I will do fine.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I will remain active in this sub-fourm. I will participate in group projects. I also feel as my first group experience this would be the right choice for me.

When I was younger I was traveling to go visit some family members up North. My father, who was a Marine, was riding along with his friend in a separate car following behind my mother's. Every few minutes I would find myself making faces at my father followed by his reciprocation. The fact that we were driving in the daytime should have been an indicator of the following event. My father and his friend(the driver) worked at night and slept during the day. The driver fell asleep at the wheel. I turned my head just in time to watch my father's car skid off the road, flip multiple times, land in a ditch, and begin smoking. I remember that image so clearly in my mind. I could tell you exactly where everything on that road was located. Bumper, near the guard rail, or what was left of it. Headlight from the glass was in the middle of the road. Licence plate was dangling from the rear er just above the ditch. I remember hearing a high pitch scream, and the look on my mother's face in the rear-view mirror. Clear as crystal.

Anything else you want to say:

I am a criminal justice major in my college. I am minoring in psychology. I am hoping to eventually go to law school and become a DA or an ADA (defense attorney/assistant defense attorney) The reason I decided on this career path is my constant use of debating and need for an explanation from someone to arise a potential debate. I was always told I would make an excellent Lawyer. Thank you for your consideration.

SQLi (Srbliche's old SQLi partner, look him up if you don't know him)

XSS

OMGPOP (I also have a method to get unlimited coins, if you want proof PM me or ask Bane.)

Gaming (I'm writing a HUGE mega-thread about Minecraft. It will be the biggest thread in HF history from what I see. I'm also going to write a Counter Strike and TF2 one after I'm done.)

Rapping (I'm constant in the rap battles section and looked as one of the best. Ask Lemur even)

SE (I have practiced for 2 years studying psychology)

Debating (Ex-Logic, Ex and current Wraith member. Second top posted section SRPP)

For coding a couple of months ago I decided 2 months ago I figured I would start out with the most basic languages. HTML and Batch seemed like good options so I started out with them. I first went on w3schools and started learning HTML and after that Batch was a absolute breeze. I'm now learning C++, Ruby, PHP and Python.

For SQLi I started out in the hacking section back in early 2011/2010. After a while I gave away TONS of vulns and made multiple threads. A couple of them were deleted because they had over 1k replies. Eventually I started talking to Srbiche and we would find vulns in gov sites together. I really didn't want to profit off of hacking and saw it as a learning pursuit so I let him sell the hacks. I eventually stopped with everything and stopped talking to him with that. I could help members regarding this though.

I'm not the most skilled with XSS however, I simply know the basics of it. I've tested it and helped people learn it but I don't have a lot of experience with it. All I've read is a couple tutorials and I really don't know a lot.

With OMGPOP I started months ago when it first started to pop up on HF. I never played with members on here though. I only started playing with members on here when the OMGPOP section opened up. I loved it and have beat members such as Yellows, Instagram and Derby before. Yellows is still better though.

Gaming I've been doing for years of my life. I am a current member of Respawn and a ex-member of The Gamers. I wish it was paid for though. Shame to have seen it go.

Rap I started doing a couple of weeks before the rap battle section. I have been active in it ever since and starring in multiple battles. I was also personally invited when Lemur made the official judges of the section.

SE is one of my favorite here. I used to be active in the SE section along with Clockwork and Ph1sh before it was shutdown for PIDs. I used to call companies and SE them then at the end expose I was faking and show them how to prevent people from tricking them. I still do occasionally. I have always loved the idea that you can manipulate people to do anything you want them to do. I usually lie a lot to people IRL just to see them believe me. I can tell what a person is thinking from their movements and emotions at the moment. I am a good SE'er IRL and online and I could help people learn.

With debating I've always been a fan. Since 2010 I was a fan of SRPP where people can debate and speak freely. I joined The Wraith soon before it was deleted and I am a current Wraith member on Wizard-forums. With Logic I was invited by Hexicidal during a Tyny chat session with him and I loved it. I spent a couple of weeks in the group and contributed debates along with some official debates. I loved the group and it felt like a family until I was kicked out for calling Wiggles a Neo-Nazi (Yes it's ridiculous) but it was Hexicidal's choice and he owns it. I remember Tibit/you from it to and I wonder if you remember me. I love to debate with people even outside of SRPP who try to contradict me yet don't have proper reasoning or logic.

I also fucking love you if you got the HTML reference.

</body>

Why do you want to join The Empire?

Good question. There's a lot of reasons I want to join The Empire, mostly the community, giveaways and leadership. For the leadership, I have been friends with most of the leaders before the group was even started and I think they would be good leaders:

Been friends with 630 for a while, cool guy on Tyny chat.

Been friends with Chief way back in PandasPrivate

Been friends with SoulZeh since early Parlaying-ish.

Remember Tibit/You from Logic and liked you from it. Wouldn't exactly count it as a friendship though.

And I think they're good leaders in general from what I can see IMO. Can't fully judge as I haven't been a member of the group though.

The community? A lot of Empire members are friends of mine and cool people in general. They have been in multiple other groups with me and I think I would fit in good knowing these people since I wouldn't just be some stranger. I also hear you're as/more active than Rhythm? I used to be in the group (Recruited, not paid), but was kicked 3 days later by Yellows/Phegget for being 'cocky', I can assure you though all of our issues are resolved and we wouldn't cause any drama in or outside of the sub-forum. For the giveaways, I am astonished at the quantity and quality of the giveaways Empire's done in the extremely short time they have been here. Search "The Empire" in search. You will see a absolute shit-ton. I want to help contribute to the sub-forum and out of it in the name of The Empire. I can only imagine how many giveaways you will have done within a year or two of you being here.

Why do you think you should be accepted into The Empire?

Maturity: I try to act as mature as possible and not a child, this forum is for teenagers and older and not pre-pubescent children. I would not bring drama or start useless flame wars in the SF.

Helpful: I think I try to be as helpful as I can when posting and ultimately help members as much as I can:

Innuendo: Spoiler (Click to View) I try to help members with relationship issues and problems they have involving this as much as I can and I'm a active poster in it still. I've also participated in 2 143 emotional support threads.

Beginner Hacking: Spoiler (Click to View) I try to help new members and beginning hackers with issues and advise them on things to do.

The Announcements/Site Help Section: Spoiler (Click to View) I try to help members as much as I can with site issues and problems they're having.

The Groups Section: Spoiler (Click to View) I try to help members as much as I can regarding questions about groups, what groups are recruiting and what groups would fit their interests. Questions such as that are what I try to answer the best I can.

Active: I try to be as active as possible on the site and in the group sub-forums. I have 7,072 posts at the moment and I am on the 5th page of top posters. I went from the 9th page of top posters from the 5th within less than 2 months of active posting. Rhythm was a big help when I did this as they're the most active group that I've seen so far. Although from what I see The Empire may beat Rhythm on this which would be good and allow me to post a lot.

Grammar: I try to have the best grammar I can and have been the proofreader for multiple news articles on other forums. I would say I have relatively good grammar and I try to proofread everything before I post it.

Why besides that? Because I try hard to contribute and work on applications like this. But really there are a variety of reasons. One is that I'm a good group member who can fit in with the community, in the 2 and a half days I was in Rhythm I was nominated by Nolan as ROTM (Rhythmer of the Month), in the first ROTM (Respawner of the Month) I got 7 nominations compared to the other top which was 3. I also beat Astonish which was surprising with the amount of ass-kissing by 2 percent. I think I would fit in to the group and be relatable and helpful to members. That along with all the giveaways and tutorials I am working which I can do in the name of The Empire is what makes me stand out as a candidate in this IMO. I will also be dedicated to the group if I am accepted as you paid over 4,000$ for the group and I'm lucky if you accept me. I also post as much as I can each day and try to be as active as I can possibly be while sticking to meaningful posts in group SF's. But it's really up to you to decide if I'll get in or if I'm worthy enough for it.

Also, here's some of my giveaways. They didn't get a lot of replies and I think they would get more if I could use "The Empire" tag. I just started giving away stuff so I don't have a lot of them though. But I'm writing 3 mega-thread tutorials ATM so it's hard to do.

When I rode my first roller-coaster this year. Yes I'm serious. I went to Six Flags Great Adventure and decided I would face my fear of them. I went to Nitro and by the time I got in the cart my hands were sweating and there was vomit on my sweater already, mom's spaghetti. I was nervous but on the surface I looked calm and ready. Then when the drop hit holy shit it was amazing. It's a un-explainable feeling. I then rode El Toro and Kingda Ka (World's tallest and second fastest roller-coaster) with no fear. I now love to ride them. I know it's silly but I don't know what exactly I would put here, don't have the most exciting life.

I did have one other one though which hit me in the feels.

3 Months ago, my grandfather died. We were the closest friends you've ever seen. He died of cancer in August of cancer. He smoked nearly all his life and had extreme health complications. Near the end of his life you could barely tell what he said. It was hard to speak due to surgery and overall it was a extremely tough time. We had talked a lot ever since I was a young kid. When I got the news I didn't know what to say about it. I could of burst into tears and did when I heard it. My family's nearly all Christian except my older brother, me and my uncle. I was pissed when I knew he wouldn't of went to a better place. No offence to any Christians on the site. I don't expect you to add me though because of a sob story. I just figured it was needed since the last wasn't exactly the most memorable moment in my life.

Anything else?

Hope I get accepted, seems like a good group but I can't really judge as I haven't been a member of it before.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): some of my skills are Website / forum hacking!
Making tools! Helping people (yes that's a skill ;D) making ebooks! Doing amazing contest!

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I have always wanted to join, it's always been my favorite group as well! I think I will make a great addition to the group The Empire

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel that I will be able to give to the community a little bit more! I also feel I will be able to help more people and do more things for other people!

Hello, and I'm just an ordinary guy! :p

Well at first I had no idea what anything meant when I joined this site last year(monetize) black hats everything I had no idea what any of this had meant! Well about after a month I became inactive still not understanding but I had some of it down!

Well about 1-2 month after I thought I was finished, I wasn't. This time I was hoping I would be able to help give the community something because I wasn't able to do so before! After many long days of reading ad writing ebooks setting up bots learning about VPNs as well as learning about website hacking I had finally got a lot of it down! And now I thought I could finally give to the community.

After I had kept learning about this stuff I decided to start writing ebooks of my own! As well as find niches to spread stuff across the Internet for like PPD or such. I starting coming up with ways to get easy YouTube views as I used to have a shop, I could give likes comments etc... Now a days I just love giving to the community and helping its really the best thing I have ever felt! It feels amazing! I hope I get to help more and more member as time goes on.

Anything else you want to say:

I love the empire!

And good luck to everyone applying for the empire!

And thanks for reading my application <3

What are some skills that you have (Explain): Hacking - Im a decent hacker and i have tons of programs for hacking. I'm also good at finding ways to get around stuff.

-Graphics i have just started graphics and im getting better and better.

-Gaming I would have to say gaming is something im good at. At nearly every game i play i start off bad and then i get really good -Sports im good at sports. I made the school basketball, baseball, and soccer team.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join to share lots of the programs i have. I would also like to join to meet some new people and see what they have to say. I also want to help some of the members out. Also i want to help some members out and maybe chat with them on skype. I can also code some programs for them and play minecraft with them. I also think it would be cool the be in a whole new community and meet a whole ton of new members which i wouldnt usually meet in the sections im mostly in.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I help a lot of members and i want to be in a new group and check it out. I also fell i should be accepted because i have helped a ton of members on hack forums and i think some members in empire could help me back and share some things with me.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Well ill explain the time i moved.

I lived in italy for some years and just moved to USA. I lived in USA before and then moved to Italy. It was pretty hard making new friends and stuff and i also went to 2 schools in Italy. The first school was pretty bad. No air conditioning. Dont teach you much. But they did have good food :D. The second school i went to i met tons of friends and it was great school. I learned a lot of stuff and met tons of new friends. They had even better lunches :D. They also had recess which in my new school they dont.

Then i moved to the USA. I went to this school before and i got to see all of my friends again it was great but i also didn't get to see my friends in Italy. Although i still always chat with them on skype. My school in the USA has great teachers and teaches me a ton. There lunches aren't that good and we don't have a recess. I do get a much better knowledge at this school so i like it. Also when i moved the USA i had to move into a new house. I moved into a giant new nice house. Compared to the Italian houses my new house is gigantic. Bad thing is i had to move furniture and get the walls painted and stuff for the past year and it really sucks. You wake up at 9 in the morning and your door bell rings. Also the cable people are annoying and they always come 2 hours late. Except i have a lot of cool neighbors and we also have a lot of parties. There are some things i miss though from Italy. They have some good food and we cant bike to the grocery store, or to dinner, or even to go get a phone. Also in Italy i did tons of traveling and got to see tons of places like Spain, Venice, Florence, some famous lakes, Rome and many other places. Im glad i got to go to another country.

The scary moments of moving.

It is also scary when i moved because i had to learn Italian which i didnt know at all. I also love sports so i had to join new sports teams which kids i didnt know. And i found out they all sucked at basketball. Also i was use to playing over 3 sports in a year and in Italy u play 1 sport year round. Also when i was moving i had to bring my dog on the plane which is scary because he was frightened when he left us and it was a 11 hour flight. We couldnt give him any good, only a little block of ice for water, and he was in a little cage. He also didnt get his dog toy because he could choke on it. Also when i was on the plane i heard my dog barking when we took off. He probably annoyed everyone :/. Also when moving to Italy we didnt just pick our dog up some where. We had to have a driver drive him to our house. It took about 3 hours after we arrived at our new house until our dog came. He was hungry and we had no good so we fed him a pizza. Also we had to unpack tons of boxes so i used my pocket knife and i sliced my hand. It wasnt bleeding too bad but it really hurt. After we got all of our furniture me and my brothers all fought for who got the bigger rooms lol. I also had to meet all new friends and since everyone in my neighborhood were like 17 all they did was drive around dirt bikes. It was also scary because in the first 2 months of living there i was robbed. The robbers took my dads watch, 800 dollars, and some other stuff which wasnt too bad. By that point we had to get a alarm in our house and metal bars on the windows. Also my uncle came to visit us and he was pick pocketed 200 dollars. He was really stupid to hold so much money. It is really scary to move to a new country.

Anything else you want to say: I would like to say my skype is Link.Lance I like sports and i spend a lot of my free time on hackforums.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):Graphics

Around 8 months ago I began practicing the art of Graphics Design. I taught myself everything I know, and enjoy creating cool works of art. I have used what I taught myself to create signatures for several members of the forum, as well as assist in business graphics for members of the forum.

A few graphics I've created:

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Gaming

I have created threads to help members of Hack Forums receive 50's or requested amounts of Experience for Halo 3 and Halo: Reach. I was the creator of the gaming news for the HF News, having been the gaming journalist. I have a history of writing gaming blogs for multiple gaming websites. I sold Xbox Live Gamertags for dirt cheap and donated all profits towards Hack Forums.

Writing

I used to be a member of the Writers, I wrote for the HF News team as well as dozens of gaming blogs, amazon full-reviews, literary pieces, english writing assignments and more.

Debating

I love to debate, and I'm rather good at it. I have opinions of everything, and I support my opinions with knowledge that I have acquired over a large amount of study on the topic(s).

Grammar

This skill should be self-explanatory, I try to use correct grammar in my posts.

Music

I'm a self-taught guitar player, bass player, drummer and pianist. I love music, it makes everything better. It relaxes me, energizes me as well as helps me get through some sad situations. I have a tremendous amount of respect towards my music as well as others who are as passionate about creating music as I am.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

From what I've seen the group has several extremely dedicated members to both the forum and the group. They have given back with giveaways, upgrades and even made a splash on the stress testing market. I aspire to be another one of those dedicated and contributing members.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Because I am a dedicated member of the forum. I have contributed in several ways towards this community and the members within it. I am an avid Graphics Designer, Gamer and Musician. I have leadership skills as well as teamwork skills. I respect this community and all the committed members within it. The Empire needs more members that will maintain and uphold a positive image for the group and it's members. Members who help those in need of assistance and those in search of knowledge. I haven't had a single warning on towards my account since early March 2012, and have helped out by keeping members informed of the rules. I have created the largest thread ever to exist in the Halo Section here on Hack Forums. It was a thread designed with the intention to help all Halo gamers with Account Leveling, Experience Boosting, Deranking and Custom Boosting. I have released multiple Free GFX Threads to help members of the community (mentioned above).

I am an easy-going and exciting person. I enjoy to make others smile, usually by laughter. I put others before myself, a few people have actually commented on me saying that the world would be a much greater place if there were more people like me. I do whatever it takes to satisfy anyone I can, not because I feel I have to, but because I want to. I look at everyone as friend, whether they dislike it or not. I am very friendly, but I am also very prideful. I have a son who was born on July 30th of this year, he is my everything, he saved me from myself. I felt like nothing I've done before then ever made sense. I felt my life change in a moment. I was headed down a very bad road, and once I held him for the first time my life changed entirely. There's no greater feeling, than knowing you created a piece of the future. You brought another person just like you into the world. Someone who would get to experience all the amazing thing this world has to offer. You gain a friend, that will love you unconditionally for the rest of each of your lives. He means the world to me, and will always come before anything else.

January 21, 1999 12:43AM - Wickliffe, Ky

I lived in a trailer with my mother, father, sister and two brothers. A tornado touched down and completely destroyed our trailer. After gathering the stories of what happened to each member of my family, here's what happened:

Everyone but my father was asleep. There was a bad thunderstorm that night, so he was checking the weather. He started to hear a loud rumbling sound that was getting progressively louder. The electricity went out, the noise woke me up. It was like getting hit head on by a semi-truck. My trailer flipped very quickly, last thing I saw was my face going into a wall. I blacked out. My father was making his way into our room to take us into the bathtub for a little more safety before we flipped. The trailer flipped, the television slammed into his back, the next thing he remembered was being slammed into the wall. I woke up, I thought it was a nightmare. I had a wall on top of me, it was hailing on my face, the lightning was the only source of light I could use. As the lightning struck, I saw a massive tornado in the cornfield behind my house. I panicked, I started running the opposite direction, I got tangled up in a barbed wire fence. It ripped into my skin all over my bare legs. I couldn't see but I kept on running, the lightning flashes, I tripped over a tire and fell into the pond. I got out and ran back from where I came, I found my dad's red pickup truck sitting there. I got inside and turned on the lights. I kept flicking them on and off over and over again and constantly honked the horn and screamed for my family. I see my mother coming closer, she approaches me with a massive shard of glass stabbed completely through her bicep. My father then comes to the truck holding my sister. My sister was pinned down by a dresser, she had no injuries. Me and my father leave my mother and sister at the truck and start looking for my brothers. We found my younger brother trapped under the washing machine. We took him back to the truck. We later found my brother hanging upside down from a dresser. His leg was inside a drawer and was very disfigured. My father carried him to the truck. I see flares shooting off about a mile away. Next thing I know, 3 Ambulances, multiple police units and the Rescue Team arrived. Apparently they were trying to reach us before the tornado made it to our area, but when they arrived it was too late. The 20 minutes of horror I felt that day, felt like it lasted 20 years. It was the most terrifying and intense moment of my entire life. I am eternally grateful that my entire family survived. I was mentioned in a news broadcast as "Superman" two days following the tragedy.

Anything else you want to say:

I sincerely hope to become a part of this group, I feel like I have a lot to give, as well as a lot to earn by being a part of The Empire. It is lead by a good group of members, and contains outstanding and intelligent members. Thanks for the opportunity for recruitment. ?

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

1. Dedication.

You may or may not agree that it is a skill, but i am going to place it down anyway. Once I set myself a task I will and must complete it, unless something drastic happens such as someone in my family gets hold for random.

2. Sense of humor.

Sense of humor is probably key for a good relationship (In all ways) as you can still take serious situations seriously, but at the same time keep your head on with telling who is joking and who is being a complete Bitch.

3. Gaming

I believe I have great Gaming skills, I started my first GB (Game battles) competitions in 2010 with an x-clan I was in, we did very good and never lost a match for about 43 challenges. We later found out if we played a challenge every day for the next 6 months and won, we could get into MLG, our age restricted us... I later quit the Clan.

4. Typing speed

Yes, a lot of people have fast typing skills and I agree is not very rare at all! But how many people have fast typing + being able to do all the capitals and punctuation without stopping to make sure they are in the correct place? Kbkasey can.

5. Communication

Great communication skills, I know how to deal with certain people in a certain way, such as a person with a short attention span, to a lovely-bubbly person. Not only this, if I want to get someones attention I will, but I will NOT be annoying about it or make them 'rage' metaphorically speaking.

6. Confidence

I have a lot of positive confidence that i believe could help inspire the group to be motivated, such as a member feels like they are going to fail their cook a cake challenge, I will swoop in and encourage them and make them want to win, not feel like they are going to loose.

7. Black hat and White hat

I have great knowledge in both Black and White hat activity's, I believe this greatly prompts me knowing both as I know how to prevent, remove and how the attacker attacks. I could also help others with both of the above.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join 'The Empire' because the group has some very intelligent, mature and very nice members. I believe i could learn a lot from them whilst trying to teach a lot to.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be accepted into the Group because of A. My current skills listed above (And more) + I am younger, I can spend much more time on HackForums unlike some of the older members who have to go to work. (I can get on HF at my school, on my Net-book) I am also a very dedicated member of the community, I have defiantly contributed my fair share of help to others on HF, and even gone to the extent of helping them Off site, Skype.

I am a Dedicated, confident and well-spoken person, I like to debate and unlike some people I don't just stick with what I believe in, but what is correct... I have Great skills in I.T in and out of school, I also have excellent Maths skills with a average English score. Not only this but I have to say I am very active and physically/mentally fit.

The 2nd of July - 2010

I went to the 'Boardroom' which is a small indoor skate park, I am an aggressive inline skater who had been skating for around 2 months doing the sport. Most of the others have been doing it for a lot longer as they were also a lot older. I pay for 4 hours and go onto the bowl as it's the best for to learn more, the more experiences skaters came over and asked me if I wanted to do a competition with them. So me being me I instantly say YES! I did not know what it was... The competition was a set of obstacles, we started of with who could do the longest grind on the bowl after coming up backwards. I came 3rd out of 4th. I was pretty chuffed with myself, but I think the guy who came last let me win, you could tell. The next one was who could complete or partially complete the wall-ride (It was very big), at a decently fast speed and without any faults, I came 2nd surprisingly, but I would say the only reason is because I was a lot shorter, weighed less and had more balance because of them perks. Now we did about 3 more other challenges to get into the 'finals' So 2v2 and 2v2 - 1v1.. The first challenge for it was who could complete the whole course doing certain tricks, I won! I was happy, I had learnt a lot from it, I have 'leveled' up in the world! And then my mum picked me up before i could complete the challenge.

Anything else you want to say:

I do seriously hope you pick me for acceptance 'The empire'. I think I could help the group drastically and that the group could help me! It has plenty of great members with excellent leaders!

Best regards

kbkasey

Thanks for wishing us good luck. I really hope I get accepted, although I don't believe I will be...

Clarkeson - November 4, 2012, 9:13 am

Thanks, I really hope I get accepted I put loads of effort into my application and I think Nathas girlfriend Tegan got accepted because Tibbit said he would let one in early and I think he is letting two more in a couple of hours. i will be UB3R too <3

Manwë - November 4, 2012, 10:58 am

Good luck to everyone! I'm hoping to get accepted, though there are other good candidates who've applied.

Tibit - November 4, 2012, 11:09 am

I'm going to rush through the thread. Those that stand out I'll note down and come back too along with those that other members have nominated already. We expect to add 15 - 20 members tonight. Expect acceptance PM's to go out within the next 12 hours.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): Graphics, web development, gaming, sports and various other topics.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join 'The Empire' because from what I have seen from the current members, the group seems mature, active and high quality that's why I would like to be part of the group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I am very active around the forum, I always try to speak with good grammar. On top of that I have made many transactions with members on the forum and they have all gone successful, I also have no negative or neutral reps, I always try to get on with everybody.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

The night I got spiked:

This summer (July 2012) I was on holiday in Spain, I went out at night and I was in this bar and the bar owner owed me some money from some bets on the football, he wasn't really happy about it, he give me a pint 'On the house' I got about a quarter of the way through my pint and felt like I wasn't in my body I then went to the toilet to be sick and passed out in their for one hour and almost choked on my own vomit. I then had to get back to my hotel (4 miles away) in the state I was in no taxi would accept me so I got carried home (passed out at this point).

Anything else you want to say:

Thank you for reviewing my application.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): I am quite good at SE and I would say a great salesman (you can look that over yourself). I am currently in the process of trying to make $650 more so i can afford my new PC. I will sell any thing and everything to get what i need. I have made over $2k on this forum with out a single scam or dispute. I am good at monetizing when given the opportunity. I like to put forward money when need if I get more in turn (investing).

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to be part of the empire because I feel like I fit in this group the best because it is about share knowledge among a variety of people in the group and finding out what fits you best in life and I just love everything about that. I want to be apart of something that people actually like not some random group but this awesome group :).

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Because I have worked hard and strived to be apart of any one and any group that wants me. I have contributed alot to this forum e.g; Donating, being as HQ as possible, helping members when ever, being nice, etc.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: Well where do I start. Every since I was a little boy I have had a thing for money. weather it be 15 cents as a little kid or $500 now as a pre-adult money and currency has just always fascinated me. I have recently started up my own currency exchange in the Currency Exchange section and I am really hoping for it to take off.

I have try and have worked hard to make the friend I have here on the forum everyone seems to like me and me them. I love to give everyone good or bad a chance and if I somehow get screwed over in that process I just guess that how life goes.

Anything else you want to say: Thanks for taking the time to read my application and I hope you find me note worthy.

To everyone who is applying put as much effort in as possible. You don't wanna miss the chance to be in this group.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): My most professional skills include RATing, Keylogging, DDoS, Server Setup/Website Setup & Design, Marketing & Sales, SE, E-Whoring, Graphic Design, and just being HQ. (Posting/Deals/Sales/Transactions/ect.)

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I feel that the Empire would be a great fit for me. I have plenty of knowledge and experience that I can share with others to help them grow in their own knowledge, while at the same time I have plenty to learn as well so I can absorb some knowledge for myself as well.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel that I should be accepted into The Empire because I will be a great deal of help. I am always active, and I am always around to help. One of my favorite things to do is give back to others. I love helping people, and I truly believe that helping others brings happiness and good things upon yourself. I will do whatever it takes to help The Empire succeed.

Well, there is plenty of information I could give you about myself and who I am and the thing that have happened in the 18 years of my life, but I would like to focus on my passion for helping. I know I touched on this in the questions above, but this is a strong thing for me, so why not talk about it? To start off, yes I love accomplishing things myself, and I love making money, and I love having things, who doesn't? But in my own opinion, we are not in this world to worry about ourselves and what we have of our own. I truly believe that happiness can be found when helping others. For example, I could be roaming around Hackforums looking for all the free stuff, trying to scam everyone, and soak up all the money and items I could get, but I don't. My favorite thing to do honestly on Hackforums is to just give back to the community. This community has helped me gain vast amounts of knowledge and things that I never would've learned on my own. I love talking and meeting the cool and new people, and I love my experience here on Hackforums. So why wouldn't I give back to everyone? I enjoy having giveaways, free things, helping others when they need it, and just being HQ and legit. I would never scam anyone, or rip anyone off because someone worked hard for what they have, and I truly believe that it is down right disgusting to just take that away from someone. Being legit, HQ, and kind is my main priority.

So you might be thinking, "Why did this Nine guy write all about this?" Well to be honest, it is because it is why I am here. I am here because I want to be able to give back to the group, give back to the members, and help others. I want to be able to learn more myself, but most importantly of all, help others learn. I think that helping and giving to the group will be one of the best contributions the group could have and want, and that is what I am going to give.

Anything else you want to say: Thank you for reading this and your time. I really hope that I can soon enough be a member of The Empire.

When I was 6, I had multiple seizures in a 8 month span.

Even though I can barely remember any of it.

I remember my very first seizure like it was yesterday.

It was a very hot July 4th, year 2000.

My family and I went to the beach to celebrate the holiday.

That very day, I had a very high fever. At peak, about 104 degrees.

Which is fairly high for a 6 year old.

I remember sitting by the shore of the beach right in front of a life guard.

I looked up into the sky, then looked back down at my legs.

All of a sudden, I'm staring at the sky with 4-6 people looking down on me.

Everyone was panicking and running around.

A few seconds after that I pass out.

A little while later, I wake up in my parents car being rushed to the hospital.

My sister was sitting to my right, and I look at her and then she says, "he's awake".

I watched my mother look back at me and shortly after I look at my sister again.

Out of no where, I have another seizure in the car.

All this happened in under 45 minutes.

I can just imagine what my parents felt like.

After that, I had about 3-5 more seizures after that in the upcoming 8 months.

I also remember passing out in 1st grade.

During a show-n-tell.

I was holding my teddy bear that I was going to show my class.

Sitting down in a circle with my whole class on a rainbow colored carpet.

All of a sudden I fall backwards.
I woke up in the nurses office.

That's pretty much it after that.
Doctor said I was "a lucky one".

Makes me think about all the things I take for granted.

Anything else you want to say: Thanks for the opportunity to let me share.

Name: Felipe.

Age: 16.

Sexuality: Male.

State/Country: United States.

Time Zone: Eastern Time.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):Programming: Good knowledge of Visual Basic and C#.

Web Development: HTML, PHP, and Javascript being my strong-hold.

Security Research: Research of software and hardware security such as the entry I wrote on Jailbreak here.

Photoshop: Intermedian photoshop skill.

Teacher: I have always loved to teach and have always received great feedback, thus I believe this should be added here.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: It seems I never run out of ideas to post, but sadly, I have nothing to push me to research, study, and eventually publish them. By joining The Empire I'm hoping it would give me a bigger reason, a motivation, a inspiration, to post more good content trough out HackForum. "You can't wait for inspiration. You have to go after it with a club." ~ Jack London.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I believe that I would be a great addition to the current The Empire crew and both parties would benefit.

I'm a student with a immense interest in security research. Before my interest in that area grew (which was lately), I have always pushed myself to learn as much as I could. I started with the simple batch, then HTML, then VB.NET, CSS, Javascript, and so on. Since I have learned enough of several languages and mark-ups to be able to comprehend, understand, and code. There are several other languages in which I can fully comprehend, just not code, yet.

Changing the subject back to teaching, I have noticed from past experience that I love to give out what I know. So much I usually speak to myself as if I was lecturing an invisible person about what this code does, what this line will do, how this connects to this, and how that equals to that. Thus when writing anything I tend to try to make it as clean, easy, and best as I can. I simply cannot stand unorganized, trash looking tutorials, explanations, articles, or entries out there.

Anything else you want to say: I love quotes, because after all "A quotation in a speech, article or book is like a rifle in the hands of an infantryman. It speaks with authority." ~ Brendan Francis, and that even though I'm the underdog compared to the rest of the folks applying, "A man needs to look, not down, but up to standards set so much above his ordinary self as to make him feel that he is himself spiritually the underdog." ~ Irving Babbitt.

Thank you for the opportunity,
Synchronizing.
