Oh you are so stupid :) not a black hat method?

this is pure FRAUD and thats very "black" method.

You trick Logitech in to thinking that you have the product and its broken and they send replacement, fraud, simple as that :)

And this method have been known and wide spread through out the internet, for exampel <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2836174&highlight=logitech>

This method has different % of success depening on the country, i for exampel can get items from them at any price, latest was UE900 so, most countries doenst work that well anymore doh.

and 200$ for reseller rights? oh comeon, dont try to rip people off :)

plz ?

Falconw0w - December 9, 2012, 7:32 pm

Why do you guys want to sell methods that are publicly available? Do you think we are retarded?

Captcha - December 9, 2012, 7:34 pm

my method is not public.

my method gets passed sending pics,receipt and sending the products back.

?ody - December 9, 2012, 7:35 pm

You are selling the old "My item is broken, here's a serial or whatever give me a replacement" for 60$?! and 200$ resale price?!

I Highly advise people NOT to buy this.

Even if it's the most original e-book in the world, 55$-60$ is outrageous, especially with the fact that there are zero vouches on this method, and your rep is less then above average.

Think about it.

I've seen about every logitech method out there even though I'm not marketer I would gladly go through the ebook and see if it is infact unique.

I do not know of any good marketers here, due to the only time I post in this section is when I see someone trying to scam/rip other people off.

The guy that left me that rep message didn't know how to read. I said I had a method that had the same result as another but he thought I bought a method from someone on here and tried selling it.

I have no clue what I did that was blackhat either.

Azubu - December 9, 2012, 8:35 pm

I wouldn't even bother looking into buying this, considering the fact that you have huge grammar mistakes on your post.
