Dajmond - October 31, 2012, 11:34 am not bad tutorial, i'm beginner in graphic

Thank you very much!

Detoxicate - October 31, 2012, 11:52 am

This is a pretty sweet tutorial for those people who don't quite want to get into the complexity of a program such as Cinema 4D.

Arm4L1t3 - October 31, 2012, 5:22 pm

What font is this, if you don't mind me asking? It's sexy as hell. Good tutorial, as always!

That is a very nice cursive font called Lavanderia.

Screenwriter - October 31, 2012, 7:04 pm

I tried this out but I like the font that you used better!

Temper ? - November 1, 2012, 12:41 am

Dammit, I was just about to make a tutorial on this, but you've made it so much simpler.

Yeah that was my goal for this series. To really break things down and make it easier for newer designers to understand.

Screenwriter - November 1, 2012, 3:04 pm

Could you please, please, please tell me the font that you used? I searched for around 30 minutes and nothing :(

Bad Meets Evil - November 1, 2012, 3:04 pm

Refer to my post above where I responded to you.

Notepad++ - November 1, 2012, 4:40 pm

Thanks a lot for this tutorial. It will help.

Bad Meets Evil - November 1, 2012, 6:48 pm

Glad you liked it. I added your outcome to the thread.

Text - November 2, 2012, 4:01 am

Okay, I done really, really shit.

I just added some Bevel & Emboss for an extra 3D effect, & a gradient overlay (not that visible).

An opinion maybe?

Also, great tutorial. Thanks for this. :)

Skyper - November 2, 2012, 5:04 am

I like tutorial simple and easy to understand 9/10

I really like what you have done. The Bevel & Emboss works quite nicely with it.

Yurt - November 2, 2012, 9:42 am

Thanks for the tutorial OP! :)

I will definitely use this later on!

Elysium. - November 3, 2012, 3:51 am

Nice tutorial. Was quick and easy to follow.

Thanks dude hope everyone keeps the thread alive.

RT127 - June 21, 2013, 1:51 am

Thanks for the tuts I bet they took a while.

Microwave - June 21, 2013, 4:41 am

Love the effect of the 3D text. Nice work! Thanks for the tutorial ;)

Mr.eZee - June 21, 2013, 9:47 pm

Thanks for this awesome tutorial thank you

Skitz - June 22, 2013, 4:04 pm

Not bad! Nice tutorial man. Helps a lot!

Niklas202 - June 23, 2013, 2:16 am

So nice, and so many thanks for showing me this!

Dup3G00n - June 26, 2013, 11:40 pm

how did you get the gloss on there? thanks (:

Bad Meets Evil - June 27, 2013, 3:47 pm

Create a white circle that overlaps the top part of your text.

Now use what you learn in my clipping mask tutorial to create a clipping mask over the text.

Lower the opacity of the circle and voila.

Dup3G00n - June 27, 2013, 8:44 pm

thanks it worked perfectly! here is my result:

nice tut, will help improve my ps skills :D thanks !!!

Homesick - July 6, 2013, 1:59 pm

Seems good and simple but I haven't though about doing something like this before haha, thanks :)

Ab?lish - July 8, 2013, 1:07 am

Very nice, I really like how you broke things down. Keep up the great work.

Br4v0 - July 8, 2013, 1:09 am yea nice tutorial very simple and effective method

Combustion - July 8, 2013, 7:18 am

Here is my attempt at this HQ tutorial.

Ab?lish - July 8, 2013, 10:15 pm

This worked out great, here is my first outcome. I know it's a really bright green, but I thought it looked good at the time.

alignment - July 8, 2013, 11:20 pm

Thanks for yet an effective, clean and fast tutorial BME.
