Well, what's the problem mate?

Can you state specifically what your problem is so we can help you?

First of all, no means of disrespect, you shouldn't buy things off the Internet if you don't have any idea how to use them, especially those generic things that doesn't come with a decent guide/manual.

Anyways, I can try to help, but you might want to ask BS support to do that for you, for I haven't laid my hands on RATs for a long time, plus I'm not familiar with BS Stealth's interface.

Just PM me if you still insist on getting help, or if you want to try out DarkComet, a free but still a good RAT. I can help you setup DarkComet in no time.
