Sutton2k9 - November 2, 2012, 6:20 am

Looks nice but if it using the webbrowser control then its kinda useless should use gecko if not already.

Tilthan - November 2, 2012, 9:39 am

I'm sick of seeing browsers.. But I do believe it's a good beginning project. And it looks like you've added a lot. Good job.

in version 1 yes. In this current version i already tried out geckoFX and chromeME (maybe another name) :D but at least i am using AXwebbrowser . You can get it if you enable it under COM resources.

Thanks !

UPDATE :

i cleaned up A BIT . here is sauce : <http://cms.sparkstorm.de/index.php/source-codes/>

Please remember to give credits if you use code from me (code that does NOT appeared here before)

Please red this too ::

- To update the browsers version just go to -> updateform.vb -> Designer View -> the white label at the top . Just change it's text to set the new version .

NOTE : the nv.txt file on your update server MUST look like :

or

0.0.0c

you know what i mean !

Second thing is :

The browser uses the "tab.vb" file inside the "browser.vB" . do not try to change this !

Can i have the source please? <3 I'm still learning VisualBasic, so this will help me!

nuk - November 8, 2014, 3:32 pm

Question though.... I hope that's not your real IP address showing? Posting vids on HF with your IP... hrmmm -- Anyway, back to the topic at hand, looks like a decent start to a Browser... I assume you're gonna keep improving on this :)

this was 2 years ago. Can almost guarantee even if that was his real IP (I'm sure it was) it's changed by now lol.
