Has anyone else watched this?

I'm only 3 episodes in but i like it so far, seems interesting imo.

It's new and unfortunately at the moment there are only 6eps but could be another thing to keep up with along with SAO and Btooom!

I'll be starting out Project K when the season is coming near to a finale, I've got too many animes to watch this season!

Currently watching this season: Btooom!, Chuunibyou demo Koi ga Shitai, Code:Breaker, Kamisama Hajimemashita, Hayate no Gotoku! Can't Take My Eyes Off You, Little Busters!, Magi, Onii-chan Dakedo Ai Sae Areba Kankeinai yo ne, Sakurasou no Pet na Kanojo, Tonari no Kaibutsu-kun, To Love-RU Darkness

Honestly, this series has been a large disappointment for me. I was expecting some great gang-wars between the kings, barely any fighting so far (finished episode 6 right now). The visuals are amazing I'll give them that, it has so much more potential than what it is.

Okay, 6 episodes in and tbh, i think it's brilliant. The fact it's basically a fantasy/economy anime i think is really interesting and the fact in it power literally comes from wealth. I hope the ending isn't as disappointing as you guys are saying as i'm really enjoying it so far.

Also, although it's for 'everyone', i think it's better for a mature audience as you will get the more subtle references and economic/business elements, which add a lot to it :)

I've been keeping up with it. Has a nice animation to it, but I believe the ones I watch ruin the coloration a bit. Unless it's like that already.

- Just started watching it, episode 1.

Yeah, it looks good, but I don't really want to start a current anime right now. I'll probably watch it once it's over.

The animation and whatnot is amazing, I must admit.

The storyline so far isn't too bad either.

Even so, people tend to bag it out for some reason.

Agree.

People are hating on it a bit due to the lack of action thus far disregarding the first ep (which i thought was class) but it is still early days and i think it will pick up. Does anyone know actually how many episodes there are going to be?
