I just realized you can create a bunch of free accounts and get those 50 free points and use them for views.

Anyone tried it, does it works? I tried with one video, says it's delivered but there's no way for me to tell the difference, cause the video has a lot of views

Why don't you just upload a new video, and set it as private? You could find out then.

Ahh seems like you can do 1 to 2 accounts per IP :(

offspringtw - November 11, 2012, 10:38 am

From my experience, Vagex only delivers Likes

You could make a bot that will automatically change the IP address every 2 account creations, just simply upload a proxy list, as if it was a Youtube Bot.

Automatic proxy switching is really simple to configure. Hell, you can just do it manually yourself.

I think the could ban your video if too many people uses it, block proxies if they already haven't and they list your IP, so the proxy is necessary, because I think they will ban your IP if you have too many accounts.

It worked for me, I never knew you could do that muhahaha - I just used Ultra Surf. Hopefully it won't get patched anytime soon ;D

Good Sir

Well I just suggest you remove this thread rather than publicly reveling everything.

You are not retarded.

Nice find! Very helpful and a big secret to give out.

Tech Experts - November 23, 2012, 8:11 am this could take u ban my mate.

:D dont use this thing's

Maybe with a proxy?

So you can create infinite accounts....
