Well.. i thought i try BShades...

I know about the Story it's been backdoored - and it's good that we have guys like "The Old Warrior" who used his skills to unmask this...

But since everybody knows about this now, i think you will take more care of such "mistakes" in future, as bshades Team did before..

I hope so, otherwise i will drop every bshades service i use, immediately, and then i am done forever with bshades! Just say'in...

But ok enough of that, i just had the feeling to tell this...

Now i have bought a bshades license from someone who didn't use it anymore, now i'd like to change the HWID, but when i use HWID Grabber it gives me a negative number, + an alert message that tells me to keep this negative number away from bshades..

Any solution?

Not sure if I understood your question.

Do you want to know how to watch and control someone's screen?

If so, just right click on your slave, go to "Surveillance" and then remote desktop.

You can then check mouse and keyboard options which will allow you to use your mouse and keyboard on the slave's PC. (Allows you to click and type things on their PC!)

Excuse any grammatical mistakes, writing this from my phone.

If this is not what you are talking about, you may want to explain your question a little better.

The slave can see what you do if you use the Screenshot Manager, but if you want to edit files undetected, you can use the "System" then "Files" features. This will allow you to view and download files from your slave.

Then, when you have edited them or whatever you may want to do, you can upload them back to the slave.

Unless the slave is away from his computer, no.

You could try to see when the slave turns his PC off, and right when he does, cancel the action and then turn off his monitor. Then he might think it's off and you can use his PC without him knowing. But this usually doesn't work, so apart from the file manager there is no way I know of.

I definitely will not be buying Black Shades ever again. My license was suspended without refund. And BlackShades was and is in fact backdoored with a fake windows activation program. It told the user to enter in personal info. such as address, name, cc number, etc. And it had a Bitcoin miner attached. I know this because, all of my bots had the window open and I was even infected from testing my servers.

Payments go trough PayPro Global. They are responsible for processing all orders. Don't worry, your order will most likely be processed.

It probably takes so long because they most probably flagged your order as high risk, and tried to call you up on the provided number with no luck.

Blackshades told me it's 15 $ / m and they include VPN and free scans.
I think it's a pretty good idea.

Me for example, I use the RAT for a short period during a month and then resume my work with the RAT after like half a year.

Better for me paying 15$ like 2 times a year where I also have VPN and free scans.

HWID is your hardware ID, which is unique for every PC.

You can get your PC's HWID from bshades.eu/HWID.exe

You will also get 1 month free VPN access so just enter any password in case you want to use the VPN later.

Instructions for the VPN are also included in the receipt after completed order.

With 15$ a month, you get VPN included also with all ports forwarded and you are completely safe using our RAT without having to worry that someone will trace you back.

Also, using the RAT correctly, you'll be able to have the 15$ back within a couple of days. There are many ways of making money with a RAT.

Yes but even still its over twice the price of netwire and cybergate, even if they matched their prices ($65) a year that would be reasonable or just kept the normal $40 but make that per year. $15 ($180) per year is still too much.

This is good for some and bad for others.

I have 2 friends who couldn't afford BS but they both got it now with the 15$ price and one of them already got his money back plus more by selling some RS stuff.

I mean, you're right that it's more expensive than others, but I think there are many others like my friends who actually got around 10-15 to spend.

Once they spent that money, they always find a way to make money at a later time and paying for the upcoming months will not be a problem.

hi guys, so considering that

. the pc i want to infect is behind a corporate firewall (intranet - connects to the internet but through an intranet that goes all the way to Australia)

. The pc does not have admin rights (does the client still install if cannot run .exe?)

. Super strong enterprise AV (endpoint)

. Old Java version and no .NET

Would this RAT still work?

and what crypter works best?

Thanks

just to add.. what is port forwarding? and why do I need it? cause i have the feeling the infected PC could not do that either ;)

Hello,

I'm controlling my work PC which is also connected to the internet from an infrastructure like yours, though a little bit more complex, but yes it definitely works.

Your main problem would be like with almost any other RAT.
You need a Crypter to remain your exe "silent" from yelling AVs.

If your aim is not to have so many features, but just wish to enjoy super fast connection and optimal stability to your target PC, then I suggest you having a look at Blackshades RAT instead a.k.a Stealth.

It doesn't offer the same amazing range of features like this RAT, but in the other hand, it's way more faster and designed for simple and fast remote control.

Dynamo999_eu - December 16, 2012, 12:55 pm and which crypter is recommended for blackshades? I am seriously considering this RAT.

I don't plan on mass infecting.. just my pc at work.. so would my file remain FUD for longer in this case?

There are many to choose from...
I would suggest DarkEye Crypter.

PedroDJ - December 16, 2012, 1:08 pm

DarkEyeCrptcr / THCrptcr / Chronic Crypter / TLTK works very well with Blackshades RAT :)

It depends on the crypter will you use :)

Dynamo999_eu - December 16, 2012, 1:25 pm

so which crypter has a unique stub? (all related to blackshades so still on topic ;)) and where to buy it that crypter? and how to guarantee unique stubs.

finally, any side by side comparison for NET and RAT? what are the main differences? im guessing a big + in NET is not dependencies? but is it as stable as RAT?

Shorty:

Bs RAT also has no dependencies. It's coded in C vs VB, which Bs NET is coded in. Code runs much faster for Bs RAT.

Blackshades RAT pros:

The RAT is amazing stable and fast! Already here, enough said! But let's keep goin...

The beauty of the AES implementation makes the RAT very secure to use. To me, it's a also big plus to have access to program's source-code, which is the case for Bs RAT as client is coded in Java.

The fact that it's coded in Java makes it possible to run from not only Windows, but almost any operating system.

Blackshades RAT cons:

Here I could only find two things. The GUI is not as beauty as Bs NET where you can also chose between multiple skins. Secondly, not as many features as Bs NET.

Blackshades NET pros:

Tons of features. There is no other RAT in the market or (I actually dare saying this) even existing RAT today that can offer the same range of features as Bs NET. Enough said already here if this is what you're looking for.

Blackshades NET cons:

Coded in VB vs Bs RAT which is coded in C.

Well, not really a big problem, unless you're looking for extremely fast connectivity between you and the target PC.

First off, Blackshade's NET controller has made over $240,000 in sales, On that product alone, I highly doubt they would steal a bank account. Use some common sense.

Secondly, You are emailed a download link within 12 hours of your payment (Stated when you pay & On the thread) Which comes with a read me on how to use the controller, If you had read these thing's & paid appropriate attention you wouldn't of had to post here. Wait it out for the download link, If you don't receive the download link then send Illuminates a PM to notify him AFTER the 12 hours is up.

We were charging 40 before, but it's 15$ / M now.

We had too many customers who couldn't afford a one time payment of 40$. With 15$ for the first month, anyone can easily make money by using Bs NET correctly, and afford the upcoming months.

It is possible to have the BlackShades NET client fully functional in Mac OS by using a Windows virtual machine.

However, if you do not want to use a virtual machine I would recommend checking out BlackShades Stealth, which is coded entirely in Java while compiling a server coded in C.

In order to make it profitable to keep updating a RAT, develop new features, you can't offer lifetime packages.

Let's say you get 1,000 customers. That's a lot of money, but it's only a one-time payment and there's no profit in continue with the project.

If you instead take a small monthly fee, you will have a income for as long you have customers and then you have a reason to keep updating it etc.

So I see a montly fee as a good thing ?

After 3 months?

That's 45$, more than I would've paid for a lifetime license.

3 months with blackshades will cost you 45$.

Lifetime with blackshades(not anymore) will cost you 40$.

Do you see my point? In all, you're just charging the customer more.

I do, but you did not read what I wrote.

If there isn't any profit in keeping the RAT updated, then why not just shut it down?

In order to keep it running, the owners must have a profit in sight, so they will keep develop it etc.

I'm not discussing the price of the RAT. The owners decide it and if we don't want to pay what it costs, we can always use DC or CG which are free RATs.

But I must say $15/month is very cheap for a RAT of this quality.

A one time payment is ALWAYS better than a monthly payment.

I don't know if it is true or not, but apparently blackshades is "backdoored" to where the blackshades administrators can steal your slaves. With this rumor in the air, paying monthly for a BLACKHAT product doesn't sound very appealing.

Paying monthly for an illegal product isn't a very good idea, in my opinion. Something like yearly payment or something around that makes more sense.

Hello,

I'm interessted to buy your RAT. But first of all I got a few question:

Could you explain to me what the difference between the remote gallery and the picture gallery?

Does this mean, that I can have previews of .jpg-files on the remote server?

Could you please show me one or two screenshots of the filemanager?

Thank you in advance.

There is no difference between them They both mean the same thing.

Using that feature, you can preview pictures on the remote computer without downloading them, just like you can preview pictures on your own computer.

It has been long inactive and the creator of the video is merely trying to hurt the name of Blackshades.

For your safety and concern, the latest build of Blackshades NET does not have that command.

Would you need to buy a crypter, or does a crypter come with this?

Also, it says "$15 monthly for new customers". How much does it originally cost because the "monthly" part is thrown in there, do you have to make more than one payment of $15?

Although we do sell an encryption tool labeled "BlackShades Protector".

Just to be clear, BlackShades NET is $15 a month and includes a free license of BlackShades VPN with the purchase.

It is a required monthly payment to continue use of the program.

Bitcoin miners are usually big in size and it's very easy to install and run external Bitcoin miners on your connections.

The Skype commander is working. However, since the latest update from Skype, they're hooking it to detect external "commands" and ask the user for permission.

The update was mainly fixing stability and compatibility issues.

Controller:

- + Improved internal exception handling for Windows 8 x64
- + Improved VMWare performance Fixed compatibility issue in API-Wrapper under Windows 8
- Fixed compatibility issue parsing MAP files with very long decorated names
- * Fixed compatibility issue with Windows 7 build 7077

Client:

- + Added new anti-dump Virtual Machine
- + Added compatibility with specific DLLs used for wide API-Hooking
- + Added antidebugger detection (inbuilt)

It's pretty fast as it is, haha.

If you're experiencing slow frame rates it is likely an issue on either your connection or your clients connection.

I recommend playing around with the size, interval, and quality controls until you receive a decent frame rate.
