Thread: chat room with private clan chats and world chats

Drizzt_83 - November 21, 2012, 3:18 pm

I apologize if this has already been mentioned but I have looked through several pages did did not see this topic.

World Chat room-i believe this will make it easier for people to talk about what ever is on their mind, ask questions, and have them answered instantly by everone that is on.

Clan chat room-this will make it so than clans members can all get together and have conversations amongst themselves and keep it private from non clan members.

Mute icon-this will make it so when people do not want to hear others vulgarity or annoying comments they can mute them.

Posted clan icons-this would be where people may apply to posted clans (clan leaders may accept or deny at their discretion) there could be clan solely for noobs to help learn the basics.

Altogether I believe these things would make it easeir for noobs to learn, and for experienced people to share information with each other without having to go through hundreds of threads of nonsense before you get a proper answer.

Thanks, Drizzt

They could just talk over Skype or any social networking that allows groups.

That's my opinion though.

Chat rooms have been suggested. Omni has denied it. It decreases posting and increases server stress.

Suggested and denied. Omni doesn't want a chat room on HF

That doesn't help new people who are not in a clan, besides I think it best if everything was here on this site so people wouldnt have to go elsewhere to get there info, kinda like a walgreens, everything you need a one place.

We will not have an official chat.
