Thread: ? OFFICIAL | THE EMPIRE | RECRUITMENT ?

Tibit - November 29, 2012, 11:31 am

General Introduction:

Welcome to The Empire Recruitment thread. We will be leaving this thread up for awhile. Members will be nominating applicants for further review from leadership. If you'd like to make it into the group, make sure you put a lot of effort into your application. Here is the last Recruitment Thread.

What is The Empire?

The Empire is a group of high quality members who will share knowledge throughout our sub-forum and with the rest of Hack Forums. We will mainly work within our sub-forum, however from time to time we will operate publicly to help enhance the site as best we can. All members are to be helpful, kind, and share knowledge with those that need it where they see fit. Members are expected to conduct themselves maturely across the forum, with no exceptions. We do not endorse or condone trolling or members who flame consistently. As a group we want to make a strong impact throughout the site, so if you can please wear the userbar or any group related images when you can. Members who are unable to preserve a positive image and reputation for our group will be kicked immediately without warning.

Basic Requirements:

Around 60+ posts per month of the account's age

No LQP or Harassment Warnings

No legitimate open or unresolved scam reports

Usually an upgraded member, or a very committed non-upgraded member

No trolling or flaming other members

Must have acceptable grammar

Application:

Note: Our application is extensive as we want to know exactly who we are letting in. Answer the questions, but you may reformat it: (You may use GFX or even a Video Application)

Here are two examples of good applications:

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Social engineering - I have two years experience at social engineering, I have used my skills for numerous reasons in different occasions.

Remote administration tools - I have over three years experience with remote administration tools (RAT's) , I also have great experience with port forwarding.

Graphics - I have very limited graphic skills, I am currently learning more about photo and video editing.

Website Development - I started to learn website development when I was fourteen I started with basic html and then progressed on to what I know now (HTML, CSS, Javascript, basic PHP).

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join The Empire as it seems to be a group of close individuals who contribute in all areas of the forum, I have always wanted to join the group and now the opportunity has arose I thought it would be a great opportunity to join such a high quality group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I believe I am a knowledgeable member with lots of experience in various subjects, I can help contribute more under The Empire's name and bring a positive view towards the group. For these reasons I hope that you can give me a chance to join The Empire and allow me to contribute to the group in various ways.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

My name is Jamie, I am sixteen years of age. I have always been around forums since a young age learning and contributing in many different ways. Now more about me, I have recently finished high school where I achieved and exceeded my predicted grades, I am now going to my local college learning business studies. This is a basic summarisation of me from an educational point of view. In my spare time I enjoy earning money, programming and going to the gym and going out with friends, I attend the gym four days a week and go out with friends mainly on the weekends, during weekdays I spend allot of time on Hack Forums.

Anything else you want to say:

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to apply and best of luck to all other applicants.

Odin the Wanderer - December 4, 2012, 12:53 pm

Name: Odin the Wanderer

Age: 17

Gender: male

Religion: Atheist

State/Country: The Bahamas

Time Zone: US Eastern

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I am good at E-whoring I have made over 600$ total from it.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I have been in the Empire before and I absolutely loved it.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Because I will do my best to do whatever is asked of me, and I will contribute very often.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

My intrinsic curiosity has always been an essential part of who I am and eventually caused within me a passion to make a difference in the world. I have hoped that this would occur through my understanding of science. I always felt that my great desire to comprehend how and why things work set me apart from the norm and have allowed me to develop into a unique person. I have directly engineered projects within the realm of electricity, the utilization of high voltage as well as experimentation that use radioactivity and energy sources. My dream is that someday this will be used for United States military defense.

My classmates are ever curious about my projects and want to learn and acquire some of my knowledge base. At times I felt this difference made me into a leader. I was chosen at age 15 for the "People to people" leadership program at Harvard University. I thoroughly enjoyed the experience and have utilized the tools it has imparted to me to help my fellow classmates. Scientific theory and the innate desire of becoming a physicist is something that I want to pursue as this to me is the fulcrum.

Having had the opportunity to grow up in the United States as well as The Bahamas has made me open to more cultures. This has allowed me to examine who I am. In my estimation it is quintessential to find out who you are, as well as be able to confront and resolve your issues. Without doing so, you render yourself solely a product of your experiences, making it impossible to truly learn and advance as an individual. I believe that it is essential to understand ones perceptions and views in order to gain a grasp of scientific phenomenon.

Anything else you want to say: I really hope you do not skip over my application and actually read it, and thank you for providing this opportunity for us to apply for the Empire.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Graphics: I've been using Photoshop since I where around 13 years old, back then It was only for fun, and to make some smileys, wich actually was the reason I started using photoshop. Eversince, I have had a passion for both making, and looking at graphics. Ive made several logos, backgrounds and such, designed some simple websites also.

Moneytizing: I've been trying alot different menthods on/off for about 3 years. My main online income atm is PPD, Im trying alot of different things out with sharecash. Besides that, then I make a nice profit IRL, with reselling things bought on Ebay and dealextreme and sites like that.

PHP - Website development I'm still a newbie with PHP, but I started last week reading tutorials, and making small basic projets.

Malware setup and usage I really don't consider this a skill, but I would say that I'm quite good at it. I've wored with many different programs, rats, ccrypters, keyloggers, stealers etc.

Social Engineering Never really gotten any great expensive items, but Im still trying to learn, and I have alot to learn yet. I am really fascinated.

Gaming Lately ive begun to play the game League of Legdends, still learning though... I've been playing World of Warcraft for 7 years, almost from the beginnig of the game. I know alot about it, and I hang around in both the WoW and LoL section to try to help out whenever I see something I know about. Besides that, then I play Counter Strike: Source, mostly when Im with friends ;)

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I've heard alot good about the group, and I think that I'ts a good place for me to be.

Besides that, then I think this is a great group, and I hope that if I join, I can learn alot, and teach others all about what I know.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I know that I'm not a ubet with 200rep or some high respected and trusted guy on this site, not yet. But I hope that just because Im not all that, you will still look into my application, and consider accepting me, I have alot to offer.

St. Jiberish - December 4, 2012, 1:39 pm

Rats - Been using rats for about 1 1/2 years and have a very extensive knowledge about them and what they are capable of.

Sales - I sell many different things (Mostly on other forums) but have sold Stressing Now, which was a very successful project and made alot of money.

Support - I am very good at supporting people (Emotional, physical, or support for projects) and feel as if I do a very good job.

SocialEngineer - I have been social engineering about 1/2 year now and feel as if I am decent at it.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Empire is one of the most HQ groups on HF (In my opinion) and I have been waiting to apply since the last recruitment thread. I love that yall are a close group of friendly people and I want to be apart of it. I could teach and learn from everyone in the group to further enhance my knowledge.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I have alot of helpful things I could offer the group. If anyone has any questions/problems with rats I will do my best to clear things up. I am on the internet 3 - 6 hours a day and could help anyone needing it to the best of my knowledge. I try to only make quality post/threads, I usually research everything before making a thread/post to make sure I am not posting incorrect information. I would also love to meet some new people around hackforums. I am very friendly and would love to share my knowledge with anyone needing/wanting it.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well I am a 16 year old high school student that is trying to graduate early. Parents are having a rough time financially, so I am currently looking for jobs and trying to graduate high school early so I can get a good paying job.

My personality is unique and I plan to keep it that way. I do not follow others and never will, I am a leader, not a follower. I am a very friendly person that is easy to get along with and love to meet new people.

Anything else you want to say:

I can't wait to be apart of the most HQ group on HF (If I get accepted) I really hope that I get the oppatunity to join. Thank you for reading.

Vypor - December 4, 2012, 2:18 pm

Name: Taylor/Vypor

Gender:Male

Religion: None but i believe there is a god.

State/Country: California . USA

Time Zone: Pacific

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

1. Server administration and protection, for awhile i have learned from a really good teacher/friend about server administration whether it be Sending Dos attacks, Protecting from them, or setting up game servers and websites. i have learned it all and continue to progress my knowledge.

2. Graphics, I have been doing graphics for awhile back when i first signed up on hackforums i was in the graphics community and it was great i have been getting board of that and moved on to different skills, but i do still do graphics in spare time and keep my game up.

3. I also am a great gamer and i take it as a skill. i started gaming when Cod4 came out. my Neighbors is a the producer for activism and he gave me my first FPS. from then on i progressed to pc and gaming on the xbox console.

4. Computers, I built my first computer when i was in 6th grade. I still have it now. I have built many computers after that and im on my newest one now.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I need a group i can put forward to. something else to do here on hackforums and something i can contribute to. Being in no groups get's stale and a bit boring and i think it would be a great change.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Because i have many skills and can offer new changes to the group and help out as much as i can. i also show great appreciation and prove my self vividly.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Ahh this is a good story. to begin let me set the stage. at my best friends mom's baby shower. The house is on a hill with a 67% drop, about 50-70 people at the shower. We are out side me him and his brother. Me and him are riding some old bikes that we found at the house they have no breaks ;/ or at least thats what i thought. we were riding down the hill him on a more modern bike me on the old one then i relise i cannot stop his brother yells while crying " Taylor is going to die!" I then see a car coming close and have 2 options Jump off or hit the car. i jumped... Knowing that if you jump off a moving vehicle i saw in a movie jumping off it backwards you land just fine. Well movies are wrong. I jumped and spin when i hit the ground, rolled around and stopped My legs were completely covered in concrete and asphalt horrible rode rash. I then tried to get up i could not and screamed. Then a car coming down from the party came by they were leaving I was pulled back up to the house and they pored 99% alcohol on my leg it hurt like a bitch. i then went to the hospital and spent 6 hours in the E.R they pulled out all of the asphalt as they could. Months after that accdent i still could not walk right. But i did start to get intrested in biking. So a year later for my birthday i got a Bmx bike now about 4-5 years later i am riding a new bike and i and my friends ride daily i can grind, 180 flat, and other things. it has become something i have been acustomed too.

Anything else you want to say:

Name: Martin

Age: 17

Gender: Male

Religion: Undecided

State/Country: Netherlands

Time Zone: GMT +1

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Marketing : I am pretty good in making and selling products, I mainly make and sell ebooks or buy/sell stuff.

Gaming : It's one of the things I do daily, but I don't spend more time on gaming than my friends and family.

Monetizing : I've started (online) monetizing when I was 12, I often do PPD and Adsense but in the most cases I use different (secret) ways to make money online.

Leading : I've succesfully lead a couple of groups online and offline, a small (online) monetizing group and a couple of clubs in real life.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I've seen the quality of The Empire already, it's one of the best groups I've been in and honestly the best organized group. I want take this whole forum to the next level which is in The Empire I believe. I would be honoured if I could release things and host giveaways/contests in the name of The Empire. I want make new friends, learn new things and teach others with my knowledge as well. The members of The Empire are high quality and treating each other with respect, they're like a family, I love to be a part of that.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I have a lot of things to offer for The Empire. This is what I am planning to do :
Releasing new free products in the name of The Empire.

Hosting giveaways & contests in the name of The Empire.

Making high quality tutorials in and out of the subforum.

Backup for the members in The Empire (Such as helping them when in trouble)

I'll make high quality posts in and out of the subforum, I'll do everything I can to make myself a good addition of The Empire.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well first-off, my name is Martin, I am 17 years old and almost graduated from College. This story happened in my last visit to Turkey.

I went to Turkey for a few days and some interesting and touching things happened, which changed many things in my life. We have a small house in the eastern side of Turkey almost at the borders of Iran, that's where my father was born. It's a house in a small village.

One night my friend came to our house and told us, "There is a family with eight children. They have not eaten for days," My brother and I took some food and we went. When we finally came to the family, we saw the faces of those little children disfigured by hunger. There was no sorrow or sadness in their faces, just the deep pain of hunger. We gave the rice to the mother. She divided it in two, and went out, carrying half the rice with her. When she came back, I asked her "Where did you go" She gave me this simple answer, "To my neighbors-they are hungry also"

We were not surprised that she gave, because poor people are generous. But we were surprised that she knew they were hungry. As a rule, when we are suffering, we are so focused on ourselves we have no time for others.

Anything else you want to say: I wish Tibit the best of luck with it's new group. Good luck to all applicants as well!

Oldskool. - December 4, 2012, 3:11 pm

Name: My real name is 'Leroy', but I am mostly referred to as "Oldskool." or "Masked Mind" on this, any many other forums.

Age: I turned seventeen years old this year, but tend to act more mature than that.

Gender: Male.

Religion: I am an atheist, however, I am unsure whether you, or others, would consider that to be a religion, even.

Time Zone: GMT+1

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Human manipulation I have been studying psychology for nearly seven years now. I started specializing in behavioral research four years ago and marked my territory with many projects, tutorials and theories about statistical thinking and whatnot.

After many successful manipulation jobs, I decided to settle with research in the field of psycho-therapy and forensic experimental psychology, which is a lot more interesting than it may seem.

DesigningI used to be a member of the Graphic Masters. I started tagging last year and increased my skill level and general knowledge about Photoshop greatly in the last six months or so. That's also when I started joining more and more tagging forums.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I have read and seen a thing or two about the Empire that really sparked my interest in a short period of time. It seems like the Empire contains many knowledgeable members in certain areas, which in its turn makes it a great group to learn from. It has also come to my attention that people in this group get treated with equality, and that is something I really admire. Structure, equality and knowledge. Great group structure is a must, and I'm sure that this group will act as the 'empire' it should be acting like.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Because I have a lot to offer. Surely there is no real way to say why I should be accepted, or why not.. But if you were to look for hidden potential within people, then I could easily convince you I am the person you are looking for. On a forum, I am capable of showing sympathy. I am always ready for social interaction and am always honest right on the spot. Hell, I could tell you right now that I am not always the most trust-worthy in real life. My past and actions involving human manipulation mainly play a key role in that.. But hey, it's not like that really matters on a forum, in my humble opinion. If a member of The Empire would be in dire need of help, I would usually be the first to offer psychological help, or guide them towards their goal. Seeing as how I am nearing my three year old existence in this community, I easily know my way in, out and around a lot of things. I am not unfamiliar with the rules either, so there'd always be a thing or two I could add to a conversation. Last but not least, I am going to say that I am someone who's really tight with finding and living up to a certain structure. Leaders are people that are to be obeyed under any circumstance, however, my competitive character is one that helps me strive to a higher position, so I will never hesitate to disagree with a leader's commands. Again, this does not mean that I will disobey, however.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Oh, where to start, where to start? The hardest part about questions like this is being sincere. I am a man of my word, although I am one who likes to push people in the dark when they are trying to read me, my facial expressions, my way of working, or my past. I understand that in order to join this group, answering this question is a must, though.. So I may as well tell you the story of how I became interested in psychology at the young age of eleven years old.

To keep a long story short; it all started when my father committed suicide. Needless to say, I was devastated.

The reason why my father committed suicide was because his girlfriend (my parents broke up when I was four years old) left him. My father used to have a severe cocaine addiction. Everything went well when he got out of rehab, however. He managed to get more social contact, didn't crave for alcohol or drugs anymore, and he obviously had more money as he didn't spend it on hard drugs anymore. But when the woman left him, he became depressed. The depression soon got worse and he started snorting again. I, as an eleven year old, disgusted the man my mother made me call 'my father'. Those feelings quickly changed when he decided to take his final decision, though.

When my father died, I started wondering why anyone would commit suicide in the first place. My interest about the human brain increased a lot and I quickly picked up some rather interesting books that helped children live with the loss of relatives. Mum made me go see a psychologist because she thought it was unusual for an eleven year old to be interested in, so to say, more 'mature' topics of non fictional literature. I told the psychologist that my interest in psychology grew with days, and he then started guiding me instead of making me go through therapy. I saw him an hour a week, and he had a new book to read for me every single week. We skipped through chapters that were less interesting and discussed countless of topics regarding depression resulting in death. After a while, my mum couldn't afford my 'therapy' anymore, so I stopped seeing him after about four months. That's when I started researching on my own.

Spoiler (Click to View) Fun-fact: I worked for seven months on a research project about how bias influences the decisions we make in our daily lives with the psychologist that I had therapy with when I was eleven years old, last year. He's now a great friend (although a lot older), and I still look up to him a lot, even though he doesn't have anything to teach me anymore.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Minecraft/Griefing: I am a skilled builder in the game, Minecraft. The funny thing is I am a builder and a destroyer, I grief in teams I would said that it is one of my skills. I can build castles and mansions. Making a big thing usually takes 1 1/2 hours. I a very dedicated person when it comes to video games. I have had the addicting retro game for over a year now, I am hooked into this game real easy, it is hard not to stop. I can help anyone with any minecraft related issue.

GFX: I can create GFX in Photoshop CS6, I have been using Photoshop for around 1/2 a year now, I am always keen to learn more, I am also a photographer and Photoshop helps me with my daily tasks, I can easily edit a photo, but I am in the process of making signatures for members all over the forum. I always try my best, and if the standards aren't met I will redo it.

E-Whoring: Now I wouldn't say that I am skilled at this but I can do the basics and I have made $5 off of it and I can easily make someone think I a, someone who I am not. I have everything I need and I find it fun to E-Whore, in the near future I think that I can become pretty skilled at it. It is definitely something I am interested in looking at!

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I find this group is more of the HQ groups out there, I also want to giveaway things in the name of a group, if you look at my threads you will see that I have given away various accounts and E-mail accounts. I have been waiting for the application thread for awhile, even though there are other groups, this one is more HQ and I find has better people in it. What I look for in a group is HQ, People and trust. So far I have met people in the Empire and they seem friendly and helpful, I really like chatting with these people, this group is also very HQ, you guys do a lot of giveaways and all of your members have very decent spelling and are all HQ. I trust this group as well, you have a booter (A nice one at that), also counter the huge amount of people you have helped though out this forum. I would like to be one of those people that newer members can look up to and say, that guy is really nice and helpful. Overall I don't see I reason why I wouldn't want to be in this group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I think I should be accepted because, I try my best in posts, I always try my hardest to be a HQ as I can, I am also very active and I post frequently every day, I am on this forum about every day of the week. I give back to the community and I think that I can still do a lot more (Giveaways, Tutorial threads, etc..). I try to post as much as I can and I help with anything I can, I have given emotional support to members in the Innuendo section and I give advice in the lounge. I am on this website 7 days a week and I have a mini, addiction. I have also been a member for almost a year (Joined January 2nd 2012). I try my hardest on everything I do, and I don't give up easily, if I have a chance to learn I will always take it!

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

A big thing that changed my life was when I found out my dad left me a note (He left me at birth), I have never told anyone this story and I would like it if no one shared it.

6 weeks ago, my mom took me to a cemetery for a walk (A usually thing) when we got to a little park we sat down on some benches, we talked about casual things, and then she started to get emotional and cry, she then said "Sometimes Matthew, I don't know if you are old enough", I was really thinking about this and then she pulled out a note in a pink envelope, it had been opened before. I will not post what it said in here, but it was my dad (Who I don't even know what he looks like), he said that my mom was strong and that they didn't get along well so it would be best for me if I never heard from him. It also said that he knew my mom could cope with handling me by her self.

I was completely shocked by this letter and I fell into tears. I had always thought of my dad as an asshole for leaving me with out any notes or anything, no photos, no e-mails, no notes and then I read this and my whole life flipped around. Just thinking that my mom had carried around that letter for 15 years blew me away. I really was heart broken by this, and I have never been the same since. This letter has made me a different person, I think I am more open to the world now and emotionly it has made me stronger as a person.

Thankfully I have had an awesome step-dad these past 9 years, who has a son of his own (University) and he doesn't push me and me and him have a solid relationship, we go out for wings every Tuesday and we go skiing in the winter. I am really happy that I have had such an awesome opportunity to meet such an awesome man!

Thanks to everyone on HackForums, for giving me a hobby and for helping me per sue to become a hacker. Without HackForums I would be nowhere. When I came onto this forum, I was a very LQ member, my grammar and hacking skills where horrible, now I have changed my personality and the way I act. I would just like to thank the entire HF community.

I also need to point out that I did most of this on my iPad, so if there are some weird auto-correct mistakes, please over look them. Thanks.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Team Leader:

Before I got into the WebHosting Industry, I worked for IsMyWebsite.com which is now known as IsMyWebsite.net.

I started off as a Support Person for the Abuse department, after two months of my work the Head of the Department stepped down and I was chosen to be the Head of the Abuse Department. As the head, I changed the whole back end of the Company and had coded many tools that would go through a clients account automatically and check for stuff that is not allowed like Rats/Botnets/DDOS Tools/Illegal Content/Warez. After a year the IMW Owner fired all of us, and got a new staff team for IMW 2.0, as the Developers of IMW quit due to personal issues. I've always been a team player.

After that, I had a taste of what the WebHost Industry was like, and I decided to open my own WebHost here on HF.

Managing Businesses:

Cryptic-Hosting started March 2012, I ran the whole WebHost alone, it took a few months for me to get a stable Client Base of ~ 400 users which gave me an income of about 1.2K/mo. (My WebHosting packages were dirt cheap, and my support was instant, which is why a lot of people loved my hosting, no one wants to wait hours for a ticket reply). Around August/September EdenHost bought my company and I am now the General Manager of EdenHost.

I manage RuneGalaxy.net (I don't own it, but I get paid to manage it), I manage their server which is hosted on one of my dedicated Servers and I manage their Website which is also hosted on another Dedicated Server.

I make my money online using white hat methods, I hate black hat stuff and have never been into BH stuff like Ratting.

Programming:

I'm good at programming Python, and I am currently learning Java in School. I've won many awards for the subject in school. I have had to transfer schools this year since I moved and am currently THE ONLY STUDENT IN THE SCHOOL TAKING THE SUBJECT The school initially did not want to have the course due to the fact that I'm the only person interested in it at the school, after my parents and the previous of my old school contacted the new school regarded it, they made an exception.

So My mark is the class average, I currently have a 97% in the course, were doing Java this year.

Managing Servers:

I manage many Dedicated Servers running Centos, and Debian, for many clients.

And no, these are not EdenHost clients, I just manage sales with EdenHost.

I have other clients from all around the world (Some are even former clients of Cryptic-Hosting that did not want to be migrated to EdenHost, I currently make $320/month from these private clients and private deals.

If you need a VPS hosted in Italy, HMU. I guarantee no down time or your money back. :). Anyways this is not a sales thread, lets get back on topic.

Building Computers

I have built many computers since I was 15, for the past 2 years I have built over 40 computers for people in my neighbourhood, and the local Comptuer shop (Which I work for in the Summer/Part time)

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join The Empire as it is a group that is not related to just one focus, I have always wanted to join the group and now an opportunity is here.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I want to be accepted into the Empire because I am a very active member, and have a lot to contribute to the discussion as well as make good discussions.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Back in Grade Nine, when it was my first year of high school, I was unsure of what my plans were for after high school. I have always liked computers, so I took Computer Science even though I had no idea what it was. In grade nine, we did Scratch which is basically drag and drop programming, Grade Ten we did turing. Sooner or later, Computer science was my number one subject, I had the highest mark throughtout the whole school from Grade 10 - 11 in Computer Science. I have won a few scholar ships in the subject, and now I am in grade 12 doing Java. If I never picked Computer Science in grade 9, I would never have known how good I was in such Topic.

I even created a Python Tutorial (I learned Python last year in Grade 11),

Skills

GFX Artist: In my opinion, I am a very advanced GFX designer. Not only have I been doing GFX for almost 2 years now, but I know my way around Photoshop and Cinema 4D very well. How does this relate to the characteristics of an Empire member? I could be very helpful creating graphics for the group and doing what ever is needed in GFX at ANY time it is need. I am a very active member.

An example of my work is the title that I made for my application. More examples can be found here if they are needed: Spoiler \(Click to View\)http://s1353.beta.photobucket.com/user/WriteHF/library/

Friendly: I believe that being a friendly and helpful member is a key attribute to a good member of any group. Friendly members are definitely needed in such an HQ group like The Empire. I mainly enjoy helping new members out with anything that they may need. I enjoy giving out my wisdom to anyone, experienced or new. With my skill of being friendly, I will have an easy time getting along with the other members of the group. You can already see that I get along with all members of Hackforums with my 0 Scam reports ever and all positive rep. I plan on making new threads in the near future in order to increase my amount of contributions to the community.

Gaming: Who doesn't enjoy gaming? What makes me unique is that I have a lot of experience with gaming. I have had an Xbox 360 for almost 3 years now and I have made every minute of having it count. Most days, I play COD, Minecraft, and any other game that I am into at the moment. I also enjoy gaming with HF members. I game with two of them every day to which one I know in real life, and another that I have become good friends with. I would absolutely be happy to game with any HF member or The Empire member. Id have fun teaching them how to try hard on Black ops 2 ;)

Computer Skills: I use my computer almost every day. Most of the time I am on Hackforums, but I also spend a lot of time doing other things too. I play online games like OMGPPOP, try my best to make money on Liberty reserve, do GFX, and just spend time learning what makes a computer a computer. With my knowledge of computers, I could contribute to The Empire in a variety of ways. To name a few, I could help out members with computer problems, to the best that I know how ?, and participate in anything that The Empire does that has to do with computers. Computer skills are great for a good Empire Member.

Grammar: This is an extremely important part of being in a HQ group. I believe that I have exceptional grammar and try my best to make all of my posts with no mistakes.

Questions

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I think that the real question should be: Why wouldn't you want to join The Empire? It has everything that a great group should have and the things that I have seen being produced by its members are just amazing. The Empire is High quality, trustworthy, giving, devoted to HF, and much much more. I constantly see high quality threads coming out of there and every time I see one, I think that I could be doing that some day. I also want to join The Empire so I can bring my knowledge to the community so that I can try to help out the members as best as I can. I think that being in The Empire will not only allow me to help make it better, but it will allow me to grow and become a better member. That is the best thing that I could find in a group. Why not join one the fulfills what I look for?

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel that I should be excepted for so many reasons. I'm not trying to brag, but I think that I have every quality that is needed to join this group. I have many skills which I mentioned a few above. Those are a few of the skills that I think are the most important. I have many others that will also help me to be a great member of The Empire. I see The Empire doing giveaways all of the time and when I see them it makes me want to join more. By looking at my signature, you can see that I love to give things away, like Netflix and other things. I can't help but think that that is a perfect quality for me to have to be in The Empire. I have a very selfless personality so If anybody needs anything, I will be the first to jump to help them, even if I am doing something for myself that is important. That is a quality that I see in many Empire members.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

This is a pretty easy thing to do for me because I have gone through a lot in the past few years. Let me start off with some simple things about me. I am an average 16 year old male outside of Hackforums. I do things that most normal boys do(go on the computer, play Xbox, play sports, hang out with friends, etc). I have a Mom and a Dad, a sister, and two cats. My family means a lot to me. I am in 10th grade and I go to a public school. I have lots of friends I get pretty good grades too. I think that I am a pretty normal teen boy.

Here is what is unique about me. About 2 years ago, my doctor noticed I wasn't growing. I payed a visit to The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia and I found out that I have Crohns Disease. To put that in simple terms, I have inflammation in my small intestines, causing me not to grow. For the past two years, I missed a lot of school because I was going to doctors appointments and just overall dealing with my disease. It was really bad for a long time and I hated it. After this amount of time having it though, I stopped hating it so much. I realized that this is what makes me, me. When I do go to the Hospital, I participate in studies in hopes that some day soon they will find a cure. This disease is not fatal at all, by the way ?. Out of the hardships and medicine that I have to take everyday, I still manage to lead a pretty normal life, as I mentioned above. Because of this disease, I have learned some of the qualities that I know and use on Hackforums. I learned to think of others and not myself, which is a good quality that I now use in the posts I make.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Coding

I started coding and i bet i have watched about 1000 youtube videos to learn LOL. I also went to a coding academy to learn java. When i went to the code academy i started learning coding any language real easy. I then learned VB.net then moved over to C++, i also know batch which is i think the easiest. I have had a lot of fun coding and i keep improving.

Hacking

Something else i am good at is hacking. I'm very good at setting up and using Rats. I also am good at keylogging and one day im deciding to create my own keylogger. I also love coding youtube bots, auto viewers, and account makers it is really fun for me to experiment new things and its a way of hacking to me :D. I also love to hack in games such as minecraft and sometimes counter strike.

Gaming

As most people do these days they play video games. And that what i do at a expert level. I have a very sexy gaming setup to game for long hours. I love to game with my brothers and meet new groups and friends online. I also love to experience new games even though i can get completely baffled. Gaming is a way to calm down for me and it is tons of fun.

Social

I never forget about being social its probably one of the most important things to me. I am nice and kind to all of my friends and like to help them out and play games with them. I also have a lot of fun in school with friends and im always trying to make new ones. I also love sports and i spend tons of time playing sports. I usually play on two sports teams every season. I play two teams for soccer, two teams for basketball, one team for baseball, and other sports like skiing.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join the empire for many different reasons. The first thing is i want to share some programs i have with all the different members. I also want to code things for other members and share my tutorials. I also will make very HQ threads and posts to keep the forum active. I can also help members with all the skills i have and they can help me with some other skills. I also really want to learn about the other members and become good friends with them, and they can teach me new things i dont know.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel i should be accepted because i am a HQ member on HF who makes a lot of nice threads and good posts. I'm also going to help out the group like i explained above.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Something i remember the most in my life is when i moved to Italy. It all started when i was a 8 year old. My dad got a promotion and i was really happy bit the side affect was we had to move to Italy. So that is what we did. It was very hard on my life because i had to go away from a lot of my friends. I also had to pack up all my stuff and i was only 8 so i was a bit confused. I also just got a dog about a month before so he wasnt very old and we had to find a way for him to get to Italy also. My family did some parties before we left and also went to some of our favorite places to say good bye.

It was time to leave for Italy, i locked my dog up in his cage with a ice cube and left for Italy. As i was taking off i hear my dog barking so crazy and i heard other people on the plane annoyed as hell. I remember my mom and dad telling me not to talk anything about our dog or else the other people might get mad at us. We were on the plane for 10 hours and we finally landed. All i heard when i left the plane was tons of weird words, and i said to my self thats Italian. Sooner or later i picked up my luggage and left the airport door. First thing i saw where about 20 smokers standing out side the door and i smelled smoke so i held my nose which was pretty rude. I took a 1 hour ride to my new house.

Once i arrived, i waited and waited for my dog to arrive. He finally came and i was really excited. We fed my dog some pizza because our whole house was filled with boxed and we had no idea where the dog food was. My dad handed me one of his old pocket knives and told me to open some boxes so thats what i did. I ended up cutting my self and i was gushing blood. I washed out the cut and kept opening boxes after a little while. Once all the boxed where open and the items where out of them it took us about 20 minutes to get all the trash outside. Then we started to place the furniture and move stuff around. That took a little while but once it was all fixed i was really happy. I was also really tired so i went to bed because of get lag.

[img]http://i1.minus.com/ibbCaCIBeoXJ8c.PNG[/img]What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Gaming I love to game. I have been gaming for as long as I remember, my first game being Runescape, second being Maplestory (I have 1 level 132 Dragon Knight), League of Legends, then now Counter Strike (Original and Source) and Minecraft. I must say that all of those games I am experienced and can help anyone with their problems in those games. I currently co-own a great Minecraft server and am trying to get more players on to it. [My Minecraft Server thread \[Click Here\]](#) All of these games in some way encourage either teamwork, coordination, and/or reflexes.

Those are the types of game that just pulls you in, the way you're attracted to a hot girl, or a water bottle on a summer day.

GFX I try to help other members with their GFX needs, even though I know I'm not the best. I have done GFX for a number of people, I will show a few examples of them.

Examples for GFX(I can't find most of the other stuff I did, but I'll put down the ones I remember that I did.

I made this Thread Design for this Anonymous Gamer's re-sell service:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3070989>

I made another Thread Design for Disfigure's Botshop:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2795932>

I made this when I first started GFX (Took me like 3 hours ?)

<https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=1270924>

I can't find another other examples. I'm sorry. I know I did more than this though. If you check my Reputation Report, there will be other people that thanked me for GFX, if you want to check that out. (You probably don't since you're reading like 18 of these)

Social I love to talk. I crack tons of jokes, and am very friendly. If someone is down, I know a lot of people on HackForums have a lot of trouble I'll cheer them up no problem. If someone in Empire wants to know my Skype to see how I talk and the way I socialize (frostbauws is my Skype by the way) and they want to check me out, feel free to.

[img]http://i1.minus.com/ibbCaCIBeoXJ8c.PNG[/img]

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I have seen you guys around helping other members, doing giveaways, and some good products in the name of you guys (EX: Empire Stresser) I also want to learn new things, and I know that the people in Empire are knowledgeable in many things like coding, RAT'ing, and GFX.

[img]http://i1.minus.com/ibbCaCIBeoXJ8c.PNG[/img]

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I am active in many sections of the forums, such as the Lounge and the Gaming sections (League of Legends and Minecraft). All of my posts are High Quality (or at least to my eyes) and I have given away 9 Steam Accounts with paid games, given out two monetizing methods and one method to get free, easy and unlimited Android Applications. I have done two TuTs so far, about how to decrease lag in Minecraft and easily plagiarize and/or delay essays easily.

Links to the giveaways, methods, and TuTs. (Some of the links for the Steam Accounts are giveaways that I gave away 2 Steam Accounts in one giveaway.)

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

The most memorable thing I have done (and most painful) is what I am going to tell you.

It was September 16th, and I was coming home from Malibu. We stopped by sand dunes to ATV for 2 hours before we make the 5 hour drive back home. I got my ATV, got some air on a few jumps, etc. While I was riding, I saw a nice, flat, plateau. Being my stupid self, I decided to ride on it. Thinking of how fun it would be to speed up ahead, I sped up to 60 MPH. But, what I didn't know, was that there was a 6 foot deep and 3 feet wide ditch, a couple hundred feet ahead of me. I hit the inner ditch's wall and the ATV and I flipped over about 7 times and the ATV slammed on me. I blacked out for about 20 minutes. The emergency unit came and picked me up, and some doctors told me that I must've hit my elbow when I flipped out, breaking it, then the ATV slammed on it. My elbow was broken into 7 pieces and needed 2 surgeries. In the first surgery, the medicine was not working well and wouldn't knock me out. Guess what? They had to wait for me to sleep and knock me out physically. I will stop here on this story, but there is a lot more to it.

My heritage makes me who I am. Since I'm from an Asian family, my parents have high expectations. (If I don't get at least an A in all my classes, I get yelled at, etc.) Therefore, I am raised to do my best on all the work that gets graded or looked at. I am a Vietnamese 16 year old male student, 6 feet and 5 inches tall and is sexy as fuck. ?

[img]http://i1.minus.com/ibbCaCIBeoXJ8c.PNG[/img]

Anything else you want to say:

I hope I get accepted. I'm sorry I haven't done much giveaways and stuff. Even if I don't get accepted, thanks to the HackForums community for being there for me and teaching me new things. I am a new member, but I will try my best if I get accepted! ?

Why do you want to join The Empire?: The Empire looks like a very good group and something that i wold want to dedicate some time to.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Well, i feel that if i were to join that i can help out the member's and do some stuff for user that would get other's to see how good the group is.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

About Me: I am 16 years old and i live in Milwaukee Wisconsin. I like to code, game, and bike for fun and i am a very kool person.

Something Memorable: My Short HF Story

I started off playing games and then later got into modding. after modding for a while i came across Hackforums and registered to see how it was. At first i was just here browsing and viewing stuff as any normal member would. Later i then found out about booter's and stresser's. I had purchased a spot on one and i really enjoyed it. Not so long after that i decided to become active on here and start my own stresser. So i got some hosting and used a free source and had it hitting pretty hard. I had purchased L33T about a month or 2 of being on HF and became very active. As time past i felt as i wold stay active and applied for Ub3r and got accepted. As soon as i received and purchased Ub3r i decided that i will stay on HF and started to code a little at a time and learned pretty well. Time goes on and im still here and being active and loving the forum. =D

Anything else you want to say: I am a very chill person and i am open to doing new things, helping others and helping out as much as possible.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples)I am super helpful, i have grown up with a mom who has multiple problems. So i always helped her with as much as possible. I try to be helpful in hackforums as much as possible but i've been super busy lately.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:Well i would like to join The Empire because i see a good amount of people in your group posting High quality topics. I'm honestly amazed what kind of HQ stuff comes from the Empire it really does amaze me. It looks like The Empire members never fight much and seem like one big great family, and who can have a great time. Honestly that's something i need, that's something that you don't get very often online.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel as if i should be accepted in The Empire because i'm super outgoing. I'm a nice, helpful guy. I honestly love helping people who need it. It's like a habit honestly. Also because i could be some high quality content not just to The Empire but also to the community of hackforums.I love to do giveaways, contests, that's a way of giving back to hackforums. Honestly though. I'm not the most knowledgable person when it comes to stuff like money making.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Well this might be long. It all started back when i was 9. My mom was dating this guy who was very abusive. They both did drugs and he usually forced her too. At the time i couldn't be without my mom. So i was always with her. So basically i witnessed them do drug's. Then one day the boyfriend was so mad at my mom for some reason he started punch and kicking her while they were upstairs and i was downstairs. So i ran upstairs to see what was going on. She was getting brutally beaten. Then 5 seconds later i thought he was done. Guess not, He threw her down the stairs while he made me watch. She broke both her legs and her left arm. Crazy right? So after that i promised my mom i would never be that way, i was raised to never hit a girl.

Here's my next part of my life. I never grew up with my dad. I never really knew who he was. He has multiple aliases. He's been arrested multiple times due to credit card fraud and stealing, stuff like that. One day during my 6th grade year he called us out of the blue after 12 years of not seeing or hearing from him. He just disappeared. He called to ask for a second chance to be a dad. Of course my mom asked me first, i said yes... What a big mistake i made. So he moved in with us and for the first couple days he was fine. Then one day were all out of the house and he stole a lot of expensive jewelry./ So basically he left with the stuff and never got a call back from him.That's not who i want to be.

Next part of my life. Sorry this is so long! My mom has multiple diseases such as Multiple Sclerosis. So she's always hurting. Sometimes she can't walk sometimes she can't move whatsoever. It usually results in me being the person to take care of her. Which i don't mind. She has so much diseases it's honestly overwhelming to even name them all. I've gone through so much in my life. I'm homeschooled. I'm mainly homeschooled to take care of my mom. Let's talk about me more. I'm bi-polar and i have a lot of problems too! I have depression, migraines, i might have MS. I don't hate my life. I'm actually grateful, because of the fact that having a normal life is no fun, but one with obstacles is not just fun but hard too and its challenging to get through stuff like this but its what makes you the bigger man in life. My mom raised me to be a man. That's what i want to grow up to be.

Anything else you want to say: I would like to thank you for the opportunity to share my application and life story. That is NOT the full story so if your interested in the full story please pm me. Also have a great Christmas and have fun.I'm also super sorry for not having much skills to list.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Gaming- Being in Respawn has taught me more about the different styles of gaming which has added to my present knowledge. I have been playing the Call of Duty games since CoD 4, have finished all but the last Halo game and have owned a considerable amount of consoles. Through gaming I have learned how to adapt to new situations, work together as a team to accomplish a common goal and be a strategic player.

Graphics- I have done some free thread designs for people on HF over the course of a year and learned a lot about Photoshop and image manipulation and creation. I have learned how to structure a design around a specific topic and how to match what will look good whilst also being informative.

Reliability- If I say that I am going to do something, I will always get it done. I will manage time effectively to do any jobs that are required of me. I can perform community-related topics and interact well with other people who may have different opinions to myself, and engage them in a professional yet persuading manner.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:I would like to join The Empire as I want to open myself up to new ideas and different people, and also to engage and become friends with people who I know are also friendly, and looking to expand their knowledge and engage with new people.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be accepted as I have a lot to offer people. I am always willing to listen to people and help them out with anything that they want to talk about, I can show people different ways of thinking or going about a topic or idea, I can interact well with the community and raise awareness, attention and excitement for a particular topic or event which may be happening.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm just someone living in the most remote city on the planet. Being in Perth (And Australia in general) has shown me new people and new places to experience. I have seen the contrast between cultures, countries and the people in general.

Something that has made me who I am would be one of my old friends. She was going through a rough patch in life in used self-harm as a way to escape. I helped her through that time by being there for her as a way to let her feelings out instead of taking it out on herself, and got her to stop harming herself in general.

Anything else you want to say:

So long, and thanks for all the fish.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Social engineering: I have been a social engineer for quite a number of years, I'm not just someone who can get free items but I'm very good at talking myself out of situations and having to deal with lots of questions.

E whoring: I have E whored for around 2 years now, I do this when I have some spare time and need some cash, I use my social engineering skills and doing this makes me better.

Gaming: I'm an avid gamer for about 12 years now, I started when i was very young and now I can grasp concepts of games and use strategy to overcome the situation.

Photographic Memory: I have a photographic memory which makes remembering things a lot easier and I can use this in a number of ways.

Monetizing: I monetize online, Its almost more of a hobby than anything else, I make around $100 per month on PPC autopilot.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join the empire because I see it as the highest quality group on Hack Forums, The extent some Empire members go to just to help with a simple question is amazing.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted into the empire because I've been a quality member of Hack Forums since 2010, I strive to help everyone. Even new members who people rant about because they ask a question without searching.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I have had a pretty easy life, most things have been handed to me or have been at my disposal. If I wanted to achieve something I would try to achieve it. Once entering High School, at that point in time, I thought I was having the time of my life. But to my observation I was wasting my time, drifting away from my parents and watching my grades drop. It was a girl obviously.

I moved down in all of my subjects, the next year was very hard for me, I had average grades which I wasn't very happy with, although they weren't as bad as last year. In the next few years, I slowly got all of my friends back and climbed my way up the classes and back to the top.

All of the factors of having a great school, good friends, good teachers and support has helped me to become a good and successful person.

I have now finished school and I am about to start my IT course in University. There is my schooling life.

Anything else you want to say: Thank you for taking the time to read my application and long live the Empire!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I am pretty good with online Money-Making, I made about 100 $'s in total but spent it all for my sister. I also got kind of into GFX, I made a few signatures here and there but never really used them due to other things going in my signature.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

A lot of people that I talk to are in The Empire, they all say it is a wonderful group and that everyone is so accepting. Now I am in a group like that right now, but it's always good to talk to new people and share your life story with them too.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I don't get to contribute a lot in a giveaway sense due to me not having a lot of money to giveaway. Instead I try to make my posts as contributing as possible, and that is all I can do.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

My name is James, I am 14, and I live in the state of Washington. When I was three I picked up the sport of Swimming, I quickly got attached to the sport and I have been Swimming ever since.

Something memorable that has happened to me is when I six my friend let's just say tried to drown me. I don't exactly remember what I did that caused him to attempt to drown me but yeah. I was just sitting in the pool and he pushes me under the water, I was under the water for a little over a minute, and remember I'm six so my lungs were the size of peas. Later the lifeguards had to give me mouth to mouth or something, I am so glad I am alive.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):GFX- I have done a bit of editing over the past couple of months. I am not perfect nor would i say i'm GM material but i do a pretty good job. I mainly use Photoshop.

Video Editing-I have been making youtube videos since i touched a keyboard. I love to make montages. I am really good with Sony Vegas. I am currently learning Adobe After Effects.

Boosting- I run my own boosting service. I sell instagram followers, facebook like, youtube views, etc. I have been doing this since i started HF.

Marketing- I was a hired reseller for many different users on the forums. Since i started HF i have never been called a scammer and have all legit deals. I am currently the sales rep working for the user Krimpet.

Monetizing- I am very good at getting "eFame". That what my company was called. I use private and classic methods to get legit likes, views, etc. My page on Facebook has 7.6k real likes.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I have been a very helpful member and been repped by top posters on the forum for a very good reason. I don't whine like a kid and i respect ALL members. I am no ass kisser. I am not scared to take a -3 from a member. I speak my mind. I have also done several giveaways. I have made some tutorials on here as well.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:I've never been in a group. I'd like to see how it is and if i could learn more in sub forums. I want to make some friends on this site and start a partnership. Looking at my posts, dedication, and commitment i don't why i shouldn't get accepted.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Well, i used to be a bad person. A really bad person. I use to criticize everyone. I used to think i was "top notch" material. Over the years of me being a prep i went into clinical depression. It was very hard because i had no one at the time. Everyone hated me. I learned over time how to love people and show respect. To this day i am a changed man. I listen, i work hard, and i don't hesitate.

I am just a average 17 year old. I do what others do. I play video games, i go out with friends, i party at times, and i love to learn. Not school wise tho, i hate school. I don't believe in it. I spend a lot of time on HackForums reading and posting. I love to stick to the HF L33T OT section mostly. It's more HQ there than anywhere to be honest. And i've helped tons of members there. I don't post in the lounge at all anymore. I'm here to learn.

Nowadays i run my own clan, TeamSpeak Server, and MineCraft server. I sit at home all day long. I don't go to school anymore. I study a bit of coding when i get a chance too. Not always. It's kinda tough. :p

Anything else you want to say: Thank you for the opportunity to join The Empire and reading my post.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:I have admired empire for a while and it being the only group i wanted to join other than root it has kind of been a dream. Not only that but i am certain that this group will help me expand my knowledge and hopefully a lot of other users knowledge.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel i should be accepted into The Empire because i am someone who is willing to work hard for others. throughout my life i have constantly put others before myself.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

well back when i first got my computer at the age of 13 i had been intrigued by how it worked and functioned. i spent ages 14-15 learning how to put one together and realized how amazing of an invention it had been. around age 16 i had been sent to live with my awful drug induced mother because my dad had messed up for the first time in his life. and for around a year i kept my self secluded in my room with nothing to do but read articles and chat on forums. i never had friends over and the only real friends i had were friends i met online. In July some of my friends had mention sqli to me and i found it easy enough i could try and do it on my own. With success comes failure and that's what i got so i got the courage to ask him how he learned and he directed me to this forum. i felt happy that someone had finally pointed me in the right direction after lots of error. I fell in love with the community and worked on my knowledge of hacking from august to September i had learned so much. i had hardly gone to school so i could stay at home and work on my coding and xxs. Around October i had found my way to the beginner hacking section which i now consider my new home. i love it there and the thrill that i get when someone says thank you is the best feeling you can get. so i stayed there and changed my name so it suited my feeling towards it. i have made many friends and continue to make more. From October to December i spent a lot of time in the BHS with my newly found friends. leading to this day when i thought i would never get the chance to apply for The Empire. and i am truly in awe that i finally got the chance.

Anything else you want to say: Nothing really. i enjoy helping people. im a member of root. im a go getter. im only a l33t.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

- Remote Administration Tools - I have a lot of knowledge when it comes to Remote Administration Tools. These programs are the reason i joined Hack Forums. I'm always using them for Runescape and other types of purposes

- Botnets/ Exploit Packs/ Java Drive By's - After i was researching into Remote Administration Tools, i heard of this stuff like botnets, exploit packs, java drive by's. Now i know how to setup most of this stuff, and it has helped me in my spreading skills. Now whenever i am spreading, or looking for something to do web based, i just setup one of these and commit to it and make it strong. Now i am looking at PHP coding, but that will be in the near future

- Video Editing - Before i joined Hack Forums i used to video edit my Runescape player killing videos. I still use editing tools like Sony Vegas and Adobe After Effects to edit my school projects, and my mates riding skateboards

- VB.net - This is one of the skills i enjoy and don't enjoy. The reason i enjoy Vb.net coding is that in the end, i make good programs. And the reason i hate it, is that it takes to long. But i enjoy it when i come out with a good result

- Batch coding - This is a skill i am still learning. I have made a few programs like a skype resolver and a batch code to make your computer talk. I'm still currently learning this skill

- Computer Hardware - I know how to build a computer, i know the install process of windows and macs. And know most of the basics with windows application tools

- Information Technology And Processes - I am currently taking a course on this subject, within this subject i have learn't some things about making computer chips, wireless connections, making wires and programming them. I will be taking this course next year at school, and at tafe

- Computer/ Ps3 Gaming - I play video games like normal teenagers, i play a variety of games including, Modern Warfare 3, Battlefield 3, Counter Strike Source, Half Life, Borderlands, Grand Theft Auto

- Singing - I can sing, and i do write my own songs, i go in my school talent shows yearly, and go busking on the streets to earn money with my guitar. In the near future i will be planning to go on a TV show competition and try my luck there

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

The reason why i want to join The Empire is that, the people who are in it are very well known on Hack Forums. And that is something i want to be apart with, i want to join because, i want to be apart of something on Hack Forums which would make me feel apart of something. They're threads are always high quality, and so is the users in this group. I think i would get a long with a lot of users in this group because there commitment and my commitment to these forums are similar, i try to be as high quality as i can. And i think the Empire is one the main current groups still on Hack Forums, who gives to the community. I tried to apply last recruitment but failed because of my warning levels. But that has changed, and now i see a new side in Hack Forums. It not also that, it because i see Empire around, and doing a lot in giveaways. And i think Empire is one of the best groups on Hack Forums, and now i see that they are recruiting so i am giving it my best shot. I also do give stuff away and try and make good tutorials

If i do get accept i'll try to keep The Empire and myself as high quality as possible, i will show other Hack Forums members how helpful and high quality this group is. My personality will not change if i get accept, but i think the more commitment i have to Hack Forums Will

And if i don't get accepted, i believe nothing will change about me, i will just keep doing the helpful stuff i do regularly and support any user in need.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel that i should be accepted into Empire because, i help a lot of people with problems like, RATS, Crypters, VB.net/Batch coding. I am just the type of person who would help any one out with anything. And if i couldn't do it, i would tell the person in need to contact some one better in that skill. I believe most of the time i am on Hack Forums is to help people, and learn skills and knowledge to whatever i want to learn. I believe that i get better at my skills from helping people who are in need of assistance. I always try to put 100% into whatever i do, even in real life, in a football game, i don't give up.

I'm also apart of byte crypter support staff. I am always fixing issues with customers who need to know or need help with things. If i wasn't with Byte crypter i would feel like i wouldn't be apart of anything on Hack Forums, and just quit. And if i did get accepted, i would try my best to make Empire as high quality group as possible. I would not let you guys down, and i try my best to help out with anything

I also made a RAT support team, to help out new members to learn the basics of setting up there RAT, and spreading it

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm a 16 year old male. I am from Australia New South Wales and i live in a house with my sister, mum and dad. We have a lot of property. I have 1 motorbike, 9 horses, 4 dogs, 3 cars, 2 tractors. It not really a farm, just have a lot of land. I go to school like any normal 16 year old. I have a lot of hobbies including, skateboarding, motorbikes, motocross, BMX riding, fishing, driving cars, playing my ps3

One of the most life changing experiences i've had was in a motorbike race, my friend died when he hit a tree a long the side of the track in the Australia titles, he was trying to over take another rider, so he could win the Australian Motorbike Titles, he was one of my best mates, and he will never be forgotten. On that day things changed starting from there. I went through depression for 4 weeks, and finally got over it, when his funeral was over. His family are like family with me now, we had Christmas together last year, which was hard, because it was the first Christmas without my mate being around. This experience i've had changed my life not only for the better, but for the care i have with every one.

Now when i ride my motorbike at that track he died, i always go to that same spot, and pray. I will never forget him, i believe he will always be there for him in the decisions i make. Now when i ride my motorbike i ride for him, no one else. I always try ride safe, and go my fastest. If i make one little mistake out there, i would end up like my mate. I will never forget you buddy R.I.P 11/8/11

Anything else you want to say:

All i got to say is, The Empire is the best group i've seen. There high quality threads, there booter. Nothing can beat that, you guys are committed to this group. I would even proud to have Empire has my user bar. I think you set a good example to people who haven't been accepted into a group. And you guys should be happy for what you guys have done. You've not just made Hack Forums look good, but you've made most of the members on this forum wanting to join The Empire. Every time i see a Empire user, i stop and think... i want to be apart of this group more then any other group. The users in this group have a lot of knowledge.

I would also like to thank Aurora for making me the GFX logo

P.S natha you're my idol, the feedback and the commitment you have to these forums are unreal. Thanks for teaching me how to make a shell booter

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Helpful:

Helping fellow Hack Forums members on a variety of topics. The topics range from Innuendo, Gaming, Computer Troubleshooting, Real life problems, and the occasional cheer up! I also love doing giveaways to lend a hand to my fellow members who help contribute and keep these forums going.

Computer Skills

I have learned an array of languages including PHP Development, Java-Script, and HTML. Currently educating myself on Python, C# development, and an assortment of other languages.

Gaming

I currently have a Playstation 3 system with an assortment of games like Black Ops 2 and NHL 13. I'm an active pool player on OMGPOP and always down to play with friends and worthy adversaries.

Social

I love to meet new people and learn new things along the way. I enjoy conversing about all topics, whether they relate to philosophical discussions or just plain down to earth conversations. I love to cheer up those around me and keep everyone feeling welcomed.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I just want to be a team player and help those who require help in different fields. Yes, I'll be doing giveaways but a lot more than just materialistic things. I'll be hoping to help those who require help beyond Hack Forums, and more so in their real lives. I love the history of this group and what you guys stand for and I feel I can represent The Empire well and make my fellow members proud.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I can bring knowledge in a variety of fields to help those who require help. I want to assist those who feel out of place or shy to discuss issues with others, and let them know there are those who they can approach and talk to you. I have an enormous amount of respect for the Hack Forums community and would like to continue being a contributing factor in making sure everyone is happy in all aspects, whether online or real life.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm 22 years old and currently working to earn enough money to attend University. I will be majoring in Kinesiology and hoping to come out of my education as a Professional Sports Doctor. I have a huge soft spot for animals, especially those who are abused or not treated properly. Ever since I was little, I have always had a hero complex to me, where I always want to help those around me. I feel I've brought those qualities onto Hack Forums and hope to do some good with it. Hopefully as a part of The Empire, and the vast number of respected members for which also represent the group.

Anything else you want to say:

Just want to thank you guys for giving me the opportunity to apply and hope you found what you're looking for in regards to your high quality members and group.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

- Intelligence: I'm a very smart person with anything related to school so my skill would be my intelligence, therefore I can help members out with problems they have.

- Computer Skills: I am new a programming so if anybody would want to start I could help them out. I know JavaScript, Ruby, HTML and CSS.

- Gaming: I am a big gamer on the xbox 360. If anyone would wanna play, I could help them out accomplish something on a game they'd like.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: The group looks like an excellent group that contributes to the HF community and I would love to be apart of it so I can contribute under Empire's name and also it seems that your sub-forum would help me out and most likely I could learn some things, as well as to help out other members of the group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel like I should be accepted to Empire, because since I have been active here on HF, I have done some giveaways, I have helped out members as much as I can and I have tried to stand out in the Halo section (Most active section). If I'd be accepted, I could help out fellow gamers, and participate in Empire's giveaways.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: The most memorable thing that has happened in my life would be when I went to Lebanon to visit my family in the summer of '06. I arrived there early July and 1 week prior to my arrival, a war had begun. I was there with my father, my brother, my 2 sisters and my step-mom. The war did not affect the region in which I was in, but one day they started to bomb that region. They were bombing the ports so that no boat could dock or leave. That was a pretty exciting moment. Also, I had to leave the country by a U.S. Navy boat which dropped us of in Cyprus.

Now for the part about myself. I am 18 years old, I have a HUGE passion for music, I play drums and I started to do a little bit of DJ'ing. I am currently in university getting my B.Sc. and hopefully going to get into Medical school to become a Neurosurgeon!

Anything else you want to say: Thank you for the time you have taken to read this, and best of luck to us all! ?

Good Luck to everyone applying. This is such a great group to be a part of. It's my second family!

Tibit - December 5, 2012, 1:36 am

I've seen several applications that are very interesting, I've also seen many applications that I won't be reading. Put effort into them if you want it to be reviewed. Also, each member of The Empire has the ability to mention their thoughts on your applications, listen to them, they got into the group so they know what it takes, not only that, but they can suggest a member for blacklist or nominate them for membership as well.

And lots more.

Psychology - I enjoy talking to people, but I also do like to mindfuck people, I enjoy to help people out and figure the next step and how people will react. I love to take down a person's disguise and talk with the real person.

Friendly and caring - I care for everyone, some things I do not like, but I will always accept people, I will never hurt, but rather help, it gives me a good feeling, and I am sure people appreciate it :)

Enjoy gathering knowledge - I absolutely enjoy gathering new knowledge, and friends, I am constantly trying to hit for new goals, and I enjoy coming with ideas, I love to bring peace, but I do also love to do a bit of research, and especially with friends by my side ^^

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would like to join the empire for a few reasons:

Not only is it a HQ group, and I have heard that people gain friends, and make friends with people in there, but I - as stated above -, love to do giveaways, so seeing that you contribute with tutorials and giveaways is making me eager to join the group.

I would like to join Empire because of the people in there, friendly people, and to contribute more, not enough with that, I wish to gather knowledge from in there.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

First of all, I would like to state that I am not better than anyone and believe that everyone should have equal chance, with that said:

I would like to get accepted, I feel like I should be accepted because I know, that I will help within the group, I feel like doing something good for the community, and I absolutely love to get into new groups, and meeting new people.

I do not know what you would like me to contribute with, but I will of course try and do whatever I can.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I am a boy at the age of 17, I live in the small country Denmark, within Europe. I am a design student, and I enjoy reselling things here and there. I gain friends wherever I go if possible, and am socially active when I am not on the pc. However when I am on the pc, I do always have HF open. I have a girlfriend, at my age in a longdistance relationships, though I have had some scars through time, which I will tell a bit about:

I have some stories, but I will not be going too personal (I actually wrote one here, but deleted it, so I will use another one).

There was this time, I was in love with this girl, my first love. We lived close, and I were her only friend, we hang out a lot in class, and I were happy with her, I later visited her and such, and we had a great time and all. I began getting the feeling of love, so eventually we hang out more and more. Well, happy story, huh? Let's tear that apart. I went to a boarding school (kind of, it is a different system in Denmark, it was my own choice). Friendship began getting lost, we wrote alot on mobile, and such, I eventually got a letter from her, I was so happy, it was the only thing on my wall, but one late night, I got the message: "I can't take this anymore, I know you like me, I can not keep this up, if you can not stop liking me in that way, we have to say goodbye".

I was shattered, did not know what to do, so, I broke down, I did not answer her before 2 days later. I told her that I could try but I never thought I would get it away. So I did, and I succeded, I overcame my love, and now she is my best (girl)friend, yaaay, happy ending ^^

Another story, not that sad, but rather memorable was when I got a new friend on the online game: Runescape.

We ended up as quite good friends, and he was danish, that was great, we talked alot on skype and such, but eventually he told me about some things, he was psychologically unstable, and later on he have been proven schizofrenic. At the time being we did not know, so I guided him through his daily life, told him everything was okay, and that nothing would happen, he had shut himself in, so no contact with anyone else, he had a bad relation with his mom, after some time talking, and we got his diagnosis, I were chocked. I had not figured that one out... So I helped him up after the big chock, and helped him gaining new friends, as of now, he is socially active, he have friends, and he is not shut in. He is talking more with his mother, and this made me believe in miracles.

Anything else you want to say:

Thank you for reading through the long application.
I do not hope it was too much...

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Human Manipulation - I think I am good with this and know a lot about human psychology and their effort.

Personal support - If you ever need to share something personal which is bugging you or even need to someone to chat with I am the perfect guy. Don't worry I am good with secrets. When a secret enters into me it stays there forever.

Malware Removal Expert (still under training): I am training to become an malware removal expert like the HJT Helpers from another Malware Removal school. So after my completion of my training you can add that to my skills as well.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: The groups has an awesome stand and people who stands from different view yet united under the same roof. Also the group holds many awesome member from whom I can learn a lot of things. I am a fast learner and Empire is the group which can help me to take my skills to a whole new level.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I am an active member in the community and try my best to help the members as much as I can with my limited knowledge I gather over these time. I do not troll, flame or disrespect members in way I know of. I also been here for quite a time and I think I am not a hated member here.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: There was a time I was nobody. I complete noob. But I had a great thirst to learn. The ocean of the internet world used to overwhelm me. Then I met some really awesome guys here like Shwack13, Ph1sh, Clocwork (all were mentionable in the old SE section). Like today new members used to get trolled and flamed for asking questions. But Shwack13 told me never to stop asking questions. He once told me that there will always morons who will make fun of us but there are always people who will help us as well to ensure us that we are not alone while taking a hand in tight spots. I still believe that line. Even when I see newbies now I keep that words in mind and treat them like I was treated by those great members. Yes, that really changed me and made a part of me what I am now.

Anything else you want to say:

Nothing more really. Thanks for reading my application and I will be really glad if I am accepted.
Thanks again.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I am very familiar with GFX, although to be completely honest I would need to freshen up my skills a bit. But I know after a couple days of messing around with it, I will be able to gain my skills back.

I am a good gamer. I have been gaming since before I was a teenager, and have gotten pretty good at it if I don't say so myself. I game on the PC rarely as I tend to use my desktop for strictly school work, and my laptop tends to lag the game a bit too much for my liking. I do, however, play the Xbox 360 and keep up with news on updates, newest hot games, next-gen consoles, etc.

My personality sets me off as someone who does not care about much, but when people really begin to talk to me, they will soon realize I am a very helpful person who is extremely social. I enjoy interacting with the community as well as cheer people up, as I know what it's like to be down. As I said, I am very social and will lend a hand to anyone in need, despite our differences. I also do not hold grudges.

Social Engineering is another one of my strong suits. Granted, I am not nearly as active as I should be in the S.E. section, but that still does not mean I lack this skill. I can get myself out of almost any situation, and I have acquired free/discounted items from stores in the past. Stores I have acquired services/products from are Gamestop, Wal-Mart, Bestbuy, Hollister, and a few more.

I am a very good writer. I know this might not seem much, seeing as my application probably isn't the best you've received. But Language Arts is my strongest subject in school, and I have a rather vast vocabulary. So, there will be no need for you to worry about my grammar as it is acceptable.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would like to join The Empire because to be completely honest, I have wanted to join this high quality group for a very long time. I literally missed the last application deadline by just a few hours. I have heard nothing but good things about this particular group, and I want to contribute as much as I can, and in whichever way I possibly can. I want to join this group so I can help others just as members in this group have helped me. The Empire is very admirable and respectable, and I think I will be a good fit.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel as if I can contribute to this group and make it even more unique and high quality as it already is. I am a very dedicated individual who is seeking to meet and interact with fellow members within the group and sub-forum. I will be committed to this group as I have been wanting to join this for a long time. I want to share my knowledge, as well as learn from fellow respected members.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I have always been a very unusual according, that is according to my teachers. They call me unusual simply because I am not afraid to speak my mind, nor am I afraid to stand up for what I believe in. I enjoy interacting with people, this being because I am a very outgoing person. A little fun fact for you, I was voted most likely to succeed due to my perserverance my sophomore year in high school. I do not take anything for granted, and the day I do is the day I lose respect for myself. You see kids nowadays standing around with their iPods, iPads, iPhones, and other ridiculously expensive items that will more than likely be replaced if broken. Truth be told, they are unappreciative. I grew up in a household that was, let's just say, not in the richest of areas. I didn't have fancy music players, I didn't have name brand clothes, my refrigerator wasn't always full. I do not want to give off the impression that I was "poor" but rather not as privileged as kids nowadays. This limitation growing up molded me into the person I am today, and I do not want to seem cocky, but I am relatively pleased with how I turned out to be. I have a roof over my head, clothes in my dresser, food in my kitchen, and I am grateful for every bit of it. I never take anything for granted. I respect anyone who respects me, and always seek to resolve any conflicts with people. I do not hold grudges, they are a waste of both time and feelings. Forgive and forget.

My father also told me as a child, "As a man, you only have two things in life. Your balls, and your word."

Anything else you want to say:

I love you. If accepted, I will not let you down. You have my word. Also, my apologies for the wall of text. ?

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I like to think of myself as someone who has many skills. I am good at problem solving and won't give up with something easily. I have quite a wide knowledge on computers and technology as a whole. I know bits of programming languages and I am currently learning C++.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join Empire because I feel that this group could really help me expand my knowledge. I also want to join Empire because I see it as a good opportunity to make some new friends

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel that I should be accepted in to Empire because I always try to be as as HQ as possible. I also think that I can do quite a lot in order to help the group! (Giveaways & Tutorials)

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: My name is Luke and I am 14. I have loved technology and gaming for as long as I can remember. Other kids would just accept that it worked the way that it did because it did, but I wanted to go deeper... Find out what really was happening inside these pieces of technology to make them do what they do, this was where my love for technology begun.

I started going on the computer and looking for how certain pieces of technology works and then trying to re-create it. I stared programming when I was around 11 years old, I first started learning VB. I chose this language because it was recommended by some dude on YouTube and it was a very easy language to get to grips with.

Anything else you want to say: Remember to just be who you really want to be and don't let anybody change you just because they don't like something about you.

Oldskool. - December 5, 2012, 8:52 am

Note to the people who have put human manipulation as one of their primary skills or areas of specialization:

Dear reader,

I'd like to introduce myself as Masked Mind to the people who haven't heard of the user "Oldskool." before.

To those who know me; Guess who's back.

I will keep this rant / word of advice / comment short because I would not like to bother the applicants with a waste of postage space, but I feel it as a necessity to enlighten you with a heads up.

First of all, I am in no position to tell you what to do, nor am I someone whom easily gets mad at people..

However, after browsing through the applications, I could not help myself but drink away my headache.

Human manipulation is an art. The oldest and purest form of art known to the history of mankind, that is.

As long as people have roamed the earth and known how to control their body, their emotions and the pitching of their voice, we have been deceiving each other. It's not a lie when I say we have all lied our way out of a situation before.

But does that make us human manipulators? No.

Does being able to talk our way out of a shitty situation make us manipulators? Hell no.

What does that make us? Liars.

It takes a long time for someone to take the step between being a liar and being a successful manipulator.

It takes years of dedication, study, failed attempts and moments of joy before you'd be able to call yourself a manipulator.

Now you're probably wondering; "Who's this guy to tell us what would make us a manipulator and what wouldn't?"

And in all honesty, the answer is simple: No one.

But think about it, just like a true hacker would hate that someone who uses RATs gets called a hacker, someone who's been manipulating for years would also hate that people who lie on daily basis get called human manipulators, as well.

I don't want to brag, but people who know me from back when the HMSE section was open will know what I am talking about. The last seven years of my life have been devoted to reading body language, forensic psychological studies and way more.

I'm not saying you can't use "human manipulation" as your skill set, but please, if you are going to use it, at least be more specific about your goals, your accomplishments, your studies, your area of specialization, or your definition of the term most of you are simply throwing around with no end.

Thank you very much for reading this.

Good luck to all other applicants,

Regards

~Masked Mind / Oldskool.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Creating and managing mybb forums and wordpressblogs

Social Media Followers

Counseling and mentorships, as well as mediation

Blogging

Virus and Malware removal

Detailed explanation

Firstly I would like to say that I am not a hacker, but I am a webmaster. I have two mybb forums, as projects for fun. I know how to administrate and build mybb forums. I also know a bit about social media, such as how to get real twitter followers, Facebook likes etc with an exploit of addmefast, well a bot really but who cares?

I am good at helping people, I have mentored several members of HF since I joined and I still talk to some of them. I know how to relate to people is what I am also trying to say here.

I am good at troubleshooting android issues, rooting etc. I am not a developer yet, but plan to learn Java in the next few months.

I know how to get rid of viruses, I joined HF to learn more about infections and how to get rid of them and I have done so successfully many times. I love virtual machines lol.

I also know how to write, I am a blogger. New to it but still, I do what I enjoy.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Simply because of this statement "we will operate publicly to help enhance the site as best we can" I love helping people, and letting people know there are people who have been through similar things and bringing peace of mind to those members.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I believe I should be accepted into The Empire because I am a loyal person who likes to make a better environment for the people around me. I also love collaborating with the groups I am in to make projects that benefit other people.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well, let me say that I have been through a bit in my life that made me who I am. I was abused as a child, my parents were drug addicts and my father abusive. I moved out when I was 15 to a foster home and bettered myself, because I was horribly depressed, suicidal and the like. Since I moved out I have forgiven my parents, I am still with the girl I have been with since I was 13 and I have a pretty decent life.

I left the past behind me, but I remember it from my scars, and my damaged nerves in the left arm. Because of my past, I like helping people. I hope to be a psychologist one day, as well as run a business online. I am very open and honest to people who approach me, and I am not an elitist, I believe everyone is on equal ground.

Anything else you want to say:

Whether I am accepted or not, my main purpose on this forum is to set an example for other members. I want people to go out of their way to help others, and to make others feel accepted and appreciated. My goal is to let people know there are people out there who care. My other goal is to meet people, to make friends and expand my network so to speak. I hope you enjoy reading this as much as I enjoyed writing it, have a great day.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

One thing I am very good at is e-whoring. I make a lot of money from it using Creaigslist and Omegle. Another skill I have is the spreading of viruses such as RATs. I've spread to over 1000 computers in a week.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I have not yet had a chance to join a group, and this seems like a great oppritunity. I've heard many great things about this group and it seems like the right place for me.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I can contribute to helping other members out. I have many tricks that many people may not know. I am a very active and intelligent member. If you ask me to do something, I will have it done with no questions asked.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I was born with albinism. My life has ben very difficult as I have poor eyesight and I'm very pale. I'm made fun of at school but I don't listen to people. I am a hard worker and I am very patient. I have had to overcome a lot to get to where I am today.

Anything else you want to say: I would like to say that I am a very active and trusted member. I hope that you will think about my application :)

I won't say exact details, but we require members to be active and try to contribute as much as they can. I realize things come up or you might not be able to contribute monetary value, but some sort of help towards the group is usually what we look for in the time that you are in the group.

We are currently revising our systems for activity though.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I am learning to code in visual basic and then onto c++, I am at least somewhat knowledgeable in most things. Also decent at spreading and ewhoring.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Would like to be a part of a new group and try and raise the quality of the group. I'm always looking for more people to add to my "family".

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Because I'm the best user on hf, check my sig, and I can help raise the quality of the group.

I will make this short, I found anime and it has shaped my life styles and how I act. I'm actually a better person after entering into the world of anime.

I also have been around the world to countries such as: England, France, Spain, Czech republic (however spell that), Germany, Poland, Switzerland, and Egypt. Going to these countries has given me more understanding of other peoples cultures and religions. It is a very nice feeling.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Servers- I own a number of servers and have two servers in my house. On those servers I have run cPanel, Plesk, Multi-Craft, websites, game servers, and I even have used one for a computer application that I made a while back. I am also in the process on creating a web hosting company and I am working on the website design right now.

VB.Net- I am an experienced coder of Visual Basic and I love to code in it. I rarely ever go into the coding section on HF due to the low quality of it. I do have other forums I am a member of and post on that frequently.

Server security- I actually work at a place in Dallas, Texas that has many servers and financial and secure data on those servers. I help secure those servers and diagnose the intrusions and errors and fix them. Basically I just help with all the back bone work.

Cryptology (CISSP)- I have studied to get a certificated in the cryptology course CISSP, I have been a little busy lately and I have not been paying much attention to it, but I will soon start again.

PS3 Jailbreaking- I really don't care much about this one as I only do it on my free time and if I'm bored, but here you go. I know an exceptional amount of PS3 hacking and jailbreaking. I have jailbroken well over ten PS3's, most are friends. You can see my thread about PS3 jailbreaking here: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2979749>

Web design- Well, I am just starting web design about three months ago, but I hope to go far with it. Truthfully, the only reason why I started to learn was because I was tired of paying people hundreds of dollar to make me a website. Nothing much to say about web design, except that I just started and I'm still learning.

Certifications- I also have certifications in two different A+ categories, as well as in N+, MCTS, and I am working on my CISSP certificate.

[img]http://i1.minus.com/ibbCaCIBeoXJ8c.PNG[/img]

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would like to join The Empire because it is probably one of the most high quality groups I have ever seen on HF. I love how you guys manage your members and your members are really helpful when it comes to certain topics. I mostly want to join The Empire because I want to learn new things. I love to learn about computers and tech stuff. I also would love to be able to share my knowledge with the community. I really would love to be part of this amazing group and contribute to it in any way shape or form. I was told about this group when I first joined HF and have always wanted to be in it. I have applied before, but have since been a lot more things to better myself. I think if I join The Empire it will encourage me to share my knowledge of server, computers, and networking with the community whether the thread gets attention or not. I think The Empire would be a great opportunity for me on HF to gain some and share knowledge of computers and it will also allow me to start contributing to the community doing giveaways and upgrade contests.

[img]http://i1.minus.com/ibbCaCIBeoXJ8c.PNG[/img]

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I have a lot to share and I am always trying my best to stay above normal. Every time I see a member of The Empire I know that he is probably HQ member of the community and he gains my respect and I would love to be a part of this. I would love to represent The Empire in a very nice way and be able to say that I am a part of an amazing group. I have been getting a little low on posts lately, and I hope that The Empire will help bring me back up to my usual 20+ posts a day. I have recently been trying to stay out of the Lounge and I am in the process of creating a tutorial on web designing that I would love to share while being you all of you. Being a part of The Empire will help me do more giveaways such as upgrades and money giveaways. So far I have only given away $20 to an HF member, but that was a while back before I bought L33T. I hope that getting accepted into The Empire will allow me to raise my quality and do some more giveaways to the community.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I am 16 years old, male. I was born in Miami, Florida and my dad left me for another life style I prefer not to talk about and my mom and me moved to Dallas, Texas to get away from things. While in Dallas, she got married and we moved out of our apartment and into a real home. When I was nine, my step-dad got me my first computer. A very pretty Windows XP Home Edition with nothing on it besides Minesweeper, no internet. About after two years of having the computer we finally got internet, it was a miracle. Surprisingly enough the first week I had internet, I got a virus. I had the virus for about a month until my step-dad called my cousin who is a network security specialist to come and fix it, my cousin is the person who inspired me to get into computers.

A year later and thirty viruses later I found my first game for the computer! Club Penguin. This game was the shit back in the days, waddling around and acting like the girl penguin was your hoe, yeah, we've all been there... Anyways, I wanted to get unlimited money on Club Penguin. So I download shit, got a couple more viruses... Then I found one that actually worked, it was not the best, but it got the job done. Two years later I was 14, I thought I was the biggest bad ass online. Until I met my match of all computer viruses, the Remote Administrative Tool, which we all know what that is. Basically I was doing some homework online and my mouse started moving, and all shit broke loose. After about ten minutes of fucking up a chat box popped up saying, "Hello" I said "Hello" back. We talked and I asked what it was and where to get it. He was a member of HF, I sadly don't remember his name though. So I went on HF, looked around, signed up, looked around some more, downloaded something, signed off, and never went on again.

Now two years later, I decided to join back after getting way more into computers from my cousin teaching me. I tried to login into the old account, but it did not work. I later found out that it was deleted, which is no surprise since all inactive accounts probably are. I have yet joined this community, and have been posting since. I have partnered with Barneyyz since I have signed up and he is also helping me create my web hosting company which is 90% done and about to be marketed. Well that is my story of how I got into computers, and if your wondering how I got a job working on servers at the age of 16, it's because my cousin is really good friends with the owner of the place and he worked out a deal with him. Since then, the owner does not regret hiring me.

Well there's my little life story.

[img]http://i1.minus.com/ibbCaCIBeoXJ8c.PNG[/img]

Anything else you want to say:

Nothing, much as I got it all out in the last question. So thank you very much for your time reading this and good luck to everyone else who has applied. Also sorry for crappy graphics, I usually get Barneyyz to make graphics for me, but I already have him doing enough. Thanks for reading. ?

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):RAT'ing - I have been using RATs ever since I joined this site. I have a lot of experience with RATs. I make a good amount of HQ tutorials and facts about RATs in the Remote Administrator Tools section and the Hacking Tutorials section. Below I have some of my HQ threads about RATs.

Coding - I've learned a lot of coding, for about four months. I am an intermediate coder at the moment but I hope I become an expert in a couple of months.

Here are some of my Helpful Coding Threads:

Virus Removal - I have been into Virus Removal long before I came here and you can call me "almost experienced." I have been into virus removal since Oct. 2011 and I know how to remove almost all infections.

I am not very known for Virus Removal because i'm not so active in the White Hat section.

Monetizing - I am not as experienced with Monetizing then RATs, and Malware Removal, but I have been doing it longer than them both. I first started using PPD and paying Ad sites since 2010. I usually make 2k + a year but I never save up my money so it doesn't feel like i have that money.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join the Empire because all the users in their seem helpful and nice, so I can learn from them and get along with them. I can also share my knowledge with other members of the The Empire and to other members in need when they ask. The Empire does a lot of giveaways and I can help on some, such as giving away Hack Packs that include Ddosers, RATs, Keyloggers, Fud Java Drive By's, Crypters, and many more. I would also like to join this group because the content that is brought out by you guys is very HQ and helpful.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I think I should be Accepted into The Empire because my grammar is acceptable and I have HQ posts that can help many users out. I'm also nice to all users that don't harass me or talk shit about me. I'm not a person that trolls, in fact, I hate people that troll users here on Hack Forums. I have many helpful threads and a good reputation (NOT POINTS) here. I can help with giveaways and tutorial/information threads because I have stuff to giveaway and I know what i'm doing when making tutorials.

I can also help out a lot of members in The Empire because some members are probably not as experienced as I am in things I'm highly experienced in. I will be as active as I can in The Empire's section if i get accepted.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well, I am Aaron, I am a smart Freshman in high-school. All my grades are above an 85 most of the time. Of course I get failing grades sometimes, but I always try to fix my mistakes next time.

A memorable moment in my life was when I got a laptop. I was about 10 years old and had a Windows Vista computer that was awesome to me, at the time. I started getting into playing games such as Combat Arms when my neighbors told me about it. Then I finally started playing online. I was extremely good and never raged at that game until I was introduced to dDosers. I remember Ddosing people that killed me and made me rage.

Nothing else to say but this: Thank you for your time in reading my application, I hop you liked and have a nice day.

I am also very experienced in manipulating human beings through forms of hypnosis, and other various tactics that don't really have names (body language, lying, etc).

Link to compilation of hypnosis tutorials: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2756532>

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Ever since the Human Manipulation and Social Engineering section was closed (for social engineering, which my skills are not related to), I've had little to no reason for coming here. I love the community here, and I want to be able to contribute what I know to an exclusive group who could actually appreciate what I'm teaching. I wish to learn more about things like coding, computer hardware, possibly more in the human manipulation, and countless other categories. I want to meet people on the site, as I haven't made any friends here yet. Again, most importantly, I want to be able to contribute and write tutorials again, and be appreciated (I've written countless guides that get 2 replies). I want to be able to extend more "confidential" information to a higher quality group of members. I feel that Empire is just that group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I've been a member here for little over a year, and have been contributing ever since. From my Minecraft guides, to my lucid dreaming guides, to my hypnosis guides, to my music reviews, I've always had a connection to the community, and had a desire to give back to Hackforums. With guides topping over 50 pages of replies, the countless PMs I've sent helping members with 10 posts to 10 thousand posts, I've always helped out the members of Hackforums undoubtedly. I feel that I should be accepted to the Empire because I've always assisted members disregarding their stature, if it was inconvenient for me, or any other factor. I've always been helping members and contributing. I'm also a master of very rare skills and could give tons of diversity to the group.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1498645> &

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1498650>). I'm also a movie fanatic, my "Movies" folder has just hit over 60 movies today. I have a very contrasted taste in movies, I love movies from The Shawshank Redemption to American History X to Memento to A Clockwork Orange (all great films by the way). Apart from gaming and movie watching, I like to listen to music a lot in my free time. My favorite genre being rap, I like artists similar to Black Star, Binary Star, De La Soul, Souls of Mischief, and many others.

Anything else you want to say: I hope you accept me, as it'd actually give me a reason to come back to one of my favorite sites and have a purpose here. Good luck to everyone else.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I can contribute to the group in various aspects. Each post I make is always well written and thoughten out. If I had the The Empire badge, people would obviously read my post and know that a member from The Empire made a clear and collective post. I am always trying to help other members and maintain an exquisite, well manered reputation. I would be one member you would never have to worry about, guaranteed. I am also quite gifted when it comes to graphic design. Which I wouldn't mind helping around the sub-forum with graphics whether it be signatures, avatar, banners, etc.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: This group is a clear definition of the exact group I would want to associate myself with, along with in real life I would only want to associate myself with mature, highly mannered, members. I never troll another member. As you can see my account is 3 months old, even though I am not new, I am still not old. I realize the negatives to being a new member and I always treat new members how I would any other member. I give everyone a chance until they give me further reason not too. The Empire is a well organized group, with a high reputation, that I feel I would be an immense contribution too.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I think I deserve to be a The Empire because I would be a great addition to your group. I realize how I act in the community is how The Empire would be represented and I would definitely always have that in mind. I want The Empire to be as successful as possible and I am willing to do whatever needed in order to further the progression of The Empire. I would always represent myself and The Empire in a mature, well manered approach.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I would hope I am a pretty laid back guy. I tend to not get involved in other peoples matters unless I am involved in it. I am a stern believer in respect and I feel that if I give respect then I will be returned and equal amount of respect. I find that I differentiate myself from others because I act extraordinarily similar to how I do in real life. I will always treat others how I would like to be treated which is a trait I wish many others (especially on the internet) would follow.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Well to tell you the truth I haven't really got any skills myself to write about. Its best for myself that i say the truth myself and not bs this application.I mean i have some skills in helping people with there computer around my neighborhood. When there having trouble with there computers not turning on or whatever the case is then that's when they call me to go and help out the best way in my abilities. Also with the computers what i like to do is help people that want paid programs such as the Adobe products or the Microsoft programs such as Microsoft Office and don't really have the money to buy it. I guess that really isn't a skill but you could considering it helping.

Also another mini skill that i have is drumming. When I was in High School I was in the Marching Band for about 2 years and i was part of the drum line. I was the 4th bass drum out of 5 that were there. I could say that i was pretty good myself and i help out my group members read music and stay on step while playing. I personally i think myself that reading music is a skill considering that most people don't really know how to read it. I consider it as a new language. But know that I'm in college now I kinda left the music scene since my major is Computer Engineering.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

So far in my stay here at Hackforums, throughout the year i seen all these high quality member being in groups and such. Right around September i started being a little more active in the forums (Little more on the MarketPlace) I started seeing all these all these people that were dealing with gamertags, booters, etc. All i mostly seen them with The Empire Userbar on there profile displayed. At that time when the user, 630 was in it as co-leader i started following up on your group to hopefully see a recruitment available. Until now that i have an opportunity to show you guys what I'm capable of doing and willing to learn and put in this group. I feel that i could contribute to The Empire by doing giveaways and helping other on the forums which Im doing at the moment. I might not be the right fit for your group because for example that i don't really have any skills for hacking or doing big sales but what i could promise you that Im a be a helpful member here and do what i can to learn more skills. I want to know how to CC code and some what on hacking tools. If you give me the opportunity to show that Im capable to show what i could bring to your group, that would mean a lot.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Ever since i joined on December of last year, I have not had any scam report or had any warning level at all issued to me. Ive always try my best to help others and do some giveaway. Even though i haven't done many giveaways i will be doing them more often now. I also feel that I'm could do some giveaways such as member upgrades for the people that actually really deserve it. If you check, i don't flame others on there threads. I basically give my opinions on them and the truth on it. Im improving as i go.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well to start off my name is Giovanni, Im 18 Years of age. I graduated Class of 2012 and now going to college as a Computer Engineering as my major. I want to become a person that works for Microsoft or Apple. When i was in my Senior year i won 1st place in Designing a Flyer for a company. I won it out of 18 people and got a check of $250. Also something that i got obviously was my Diploma, All the hard that i put in school payed off at the end.

Something that i would not forget was when I started High School I join the Marching Band. I join and made lots of great people that i still keep in contact with still. I made a good relationship with my drum instructor, Mr. Joe and my Band Instructor, Mr. Grey. I was memories that i would not forget ever in my life. I still look back in the videos when i was in it and it brings tears in my face.

So those were the memorable things that took place in my life. Im a hard worker in real life and like to meet people every-time i can. Im really respectful towards other and like i mention, I like to help out other as much as my knowledge goes from. Thats what makes me who I am in real life.

Anything else you want to say:

Well i would like to thank you for making this happen, giving the users the opportunity to show you that they could bring something useful to your group and make you group more HQ as it is at the moment. Thanks for giving me the chance to express myself to you to join your awesome group. If i don't join i will still be the same person in the forums, helping, doing giveaways etc. But i will be nice to be a Empire member.

Thank you again and good luck to everyone that doing there applications :) -giO

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Gaming! I have been playing video games since I was young and believe that I have natural talent. Every game I play I get good at it and it becomes very easy to me. Not only do I name this one of my skills because I am generally good at games, but I also do other gaming related stuff. I have been glitching/modding games since Call of Duty 4 was released. One of my friends showed me how he did it and it got me hooked, made me want to learn so I did. I have been Modding Xbox 360 for a while now, whether it'd be in-game or profile modding, I have done it all. As for glitching, I would spend hours running around the map with friends trying to find new spots or soft spots to jump out of the map. We failed more than we succeeded, but it never stopped us because we loved it!

Graphics/Video! I first started Photoshop a couple years ago and I am now hooked! I am still learning, however I already know a lot within the program. I loved drawing, but was never really good at it, so this is where I release my artistic needs. I think of what I want my design/text to look like, and I make it happen! I offered many services of graphics to help out members, but as I am pretty busy lately because of a new job, I have stopped that. I will still do work on the side, for example, I do many graphics within the 143 subforum!

As for Video Editing, I am very good with Sony Vegas. My first project ever was my Halo 3 Team Montage and it was fun! I look back on that and see all the mistakes and over editing I did, but it made me learn a lot.

I now do simple high quality short intros because I do not have time to do anything else! I quickly realized Sony Vegas was not enough so I then expanded my knowledge into After Effects. I am still learning so I will not speak much about that.

RAT/Cracking! I used various programs when RATing, but the main one I used was DarkComet. I can go on for pages and pages on everything I did with that. I accessed over 200 victims computers. Very important, I never stole ANYTHING from anyone, it was for pure amusement and personal satisfaction of knowing that I could do it! Spreading through Youtube was always the easiest for me. Those days are now behind me and I am completely white hat.

I've been cracking premium accounts for over two years. It started when I saw all the adult content on hackforums, it intrigued me how these people got so many accounts. I learned quickly and started cracking my own fast. My biggest hit on this site would have had to of been Netflix accounts. The demand was so high and I had so many, instead of selling them, I just started handing them out to a large amount of members. I am now onto steam account cracking, I am still learning various ways to breach private account combo lists to crack.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join The Empire simply because they seem like an awesome group of members that I would get to know and like really fast! I love being part of various communities because I learn new things from new people all the time. That being said, it is more than just a user bar and the private subforum, it's about family and being in a brotherhood, sticking together as one when the times get tough. I believe this is the case with The Empire from what I see. What do I see? I see very supportive & proactive members. I always see new contests & projects and they always have members from the group supporting it! It would be an honor to be part of such an amazing group based on the facts said above.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be accepted because I am a member that dedicates himself and puts everything he has into something that is given to him as a privilege, which in this case would be being accepted. I am a friendly, easy going, respectable kind of guy that treats everyone as equals! I would never bring shame to The Empire by flaming, scamming, lying etc. I will continue and stay the member that I am which will make other members look up to The Empire and it's members! A key attribute that I have is that I love giving stuff away & helping members, I never expect anything in return. Here is a list of how I have helped in many ways.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

About me

My name is Alex and I am 19 years old. My parents are divorced, I live mostly with my mother and see my father about three times a week. To get my mind off negative things in my life such as my parents divorce, I work out or play video games. My biggest escape from reality is hackforums. I browse this site for hours and hours and forget about all my problems! I do not go to school, I work full time at a warehouse. I am waiting for my specific specialized course to begin.

Who am I?

When people ask me who I am I tell them I am a strong 19 year old teenager. Strong in the sense of mentality and emotions. My mother developed the disease Multiple Sclerosis when she was in her mid 30s which made me about 12 - 13. It's been hard living my life seeing my mom struggle here and there. She is a trooper and acts like she is fine, but I see her pain. A couple years later, my father divorced my mother because of money issues. He likes to travel around the world, however my mothers medication was 2,000 a month so that prevented him, yes his priorities were messed up. Moving on, after a couple years on her own, she was strapped for cash, it was very tight & hard living paycheck to paycheck. I hate seeing my mother struggle or sad so I picked up a part time job and help her as much as I could. I give her roughly 500$ a month.

All this made me realize life isn't too pretty and made me into who I am today. I am 19 years of age, mentality wise, probably about 30 years old. I am already looking forward to getting married & starting my own life, my career is starting soon, I want to start a family! Everything that has happened to made me mature quickly. Name me some other 19 year olds that think like me and do what I do, I'm sure there are, but not many.

Anything else you want to say:

I would like to thank the leaders & the members who have taken the time to read my application and even consider me as a potential member of The Empire. You guys are running an awesome group, keep up the good work and never stop what you're doing!

Good luck to all the other candidates!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

XSS

I have found pretty good XSS's, and shared them publicly to everyone on HF.

Example:
Spoiler \(Click to View\)
This is persistent one!

SE

I have had success with almost every single one of my SE's. Currently waiting for my 24 pack of free Redbull to arrive. :)

Doxing

As I recover Runescape accounts, which requires knowing everything about the victim, I naturally am pretty good doxer. I have probably doxed over 200 victims in my life, and I have seriously gained over 1000$ with doxing too. (In form of recovering Runescape accounts which is pretending to be the owner of that account.)

E-Whoring

I have e-whored for 2 years now. I used to be pretty trusted member on Netflirts \(here is my profile\)
Notice the professional e-whoring award. I have e-whored more than 1000$.

Gaming

I am also a gamer. I have made a lot of money trough Runescape, I am pretty good LoL player and I love gaming. I own Wii, PS3, PS2, PS1 and Nintendo DS. :D

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would really want to be part of something. I have always wanted to be while I was on hf! But now I think it's time to apply. Empire looks like a friendly group, full of people with great knowledge.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I will share my knowledge. I am a really friendly and polite member. I am also going to write MEGA "How to make serious $$$ with Runescape!" e-book, which I could give away to Empire for free. And perhaps do giveaways about it and stuff like that.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I registered on forum called Bugabuse, to get better at Bugabusing in Runescape. Shortly after that, I heard about recovering. That's where it begun. I started getting better at it, and found Hackforums. I registered with really skiddy name "L2 B3 3P1C" (lol) and posted pretty LQ stuff with my bad English. But anyways, recovering (doxing) basically started everything. Also, HF has taught me so much. Without HF, my English would still be really bad.

Anything else you want to say:

Thanks for reading my application. I hope it's not too long, or . You will decide what's happening next. Have a nice day.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I am a proficient web developer. I have been in the web development business since I was 11 or so. I have worked with numerous large organizations including Mozilla and Google. I am skilled in the following programming/markup languages: PHP, SQL, HTML, CSS, Javascript, AJAX, and some JQuery. I am also familiarized with modern web methodologies such as HTML5 and CSS3. I have also been Penetration Testing for a couple of years now.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I feel that The Empire has the potential to expand my knowledge in a variety of subjects, in a friendly, studious environment.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel that I should be accepted into The Empire because, I believe that I have a lot to contribute. Such as Web Development, either knowledge or services, and Pen Testing knowledge enhancement.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Ever since I was young I have been fascinated by Technology. By the age of 2, I was teaching my Great Grandmother how to operate her V.C.R. When I turned 10, I became extremely interested in the art of web development.

I began to teach myself multiple languages that are utilized while developing for the web. I was a fast learner too. At the age of almost 12, I got into the web development business, creating websites for local businesses and schools. As I got older, I started doing more recognizable work, such as Volunteer Web Programming for Google and Mozilla.

Just about 2 years ago, I started getting extremely interested in Penetration Testing. I mean, after all, how can you design a secure website if you don't at least know something about securing it? And now, here I am today.

Anything else you want to say: I cannot think of anything more. I believe I pretty much covered everything.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Graphic design: I am not a graphic designer that makes manipulation images, but I prefer make thread designs or signatures. I had a graphic shop, but I closed it because I had no time and my laptop crashed. I still make things like signatures for fun, not for somebody else and I'm not planning to start professional graphics designing again Gaming: I have been gaming since I got my PlayStation 1. I remember maps very good, like the best places to hide or wait. My favorite game is League of Legends and I play it several times a day. You can get ribbons in the game and I got the "Great teammate" ribbon, it represents my teamwork and my kindness. I love strategy games, like Empire Total War and League of Legends.

Kyokushin Karate: I'm a Kyokushinkai which means that I practise Kyokushin karate. It's the hardest kind of karate, because it contains full contact fighting and a lot of techniques. I have a blue bond with a black ribbon, so I'm half the way to the black bond. I participate to contests for katas (fighting in a dance against nobody) and fighting. I like both contests, because the kata contests require very much technique and concentration. The fighting contests require both strength and endurance, but also focus.

Tennis: I enjoy playing tennis with my friends in weekends or vacations. I practice 1 time a week on Monday with 4 of my friends, we have our own trainer which is very friendly with us. I like playing duo tennis with my friends, because it's more fun and it requires teamwork and good communication.

Cars: I really love cars and I love to repair them or pimp them up with my dad. We bought a old timer and we are now making it look like cool and shiny. We also gave in more horsepower and got a new interior. When we finish it we will enjoy driving in it and we might sell it, not sure yet.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

In my opinion The Empire is one of the most organized groups together with some other groups. I see many giveaways in the name of The Empire, once I've won one and I really felt happy. I can image other people also wanting this, so I can contribute with the giveaways. The members I see that are in The Empire are always friendly and can explain things well, and I really like that. They are fun and interesting to talk with and you look like one big happy family. I want to be a part of that family.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

My loyalty and quality level is in my opinion and I hope also in your's high enough to get accepted. I would love to contribute in the name of Empire by doing giveaways and tutorials. I would also love to just be a part of the family and bring my joy and happiness to it.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I am an 18 years old male, I'm originally born in Armenia. At the age of two my parents and I fled to The Netherlands and that's where I live right now. We were placed at an ASC and lived there for 10 years. I hated it in there, because you could do almost nothing, in the morning the bus brought us to school and after school it brought us back and that was all. There were no houses, only caravans so there was not much room to get many things. There was not a real playground, so it was very boring for a child. There was also no internet, only adults could be on the internet in a special room 1 time a week.

After the ASC we got our first real house and it was the best moment of my life. I was totally happy and my parents too, we could get our own place which we could decorate like we wanted to. I went to secondary school and got on the highest level. Here in The Netherlands we call it VWO. I finished it and got my diploma, now I'm studying at the university and I hope I can finish it in a couple years so that I can get to work! I want to help my parents earn money so we could get our own business, me and my dads dream is to open our own billiard club.

What I love to do is repairing and pimping cars with my dad, it's really our moment together. I also like to play tennis with my friends and practicing karate. Before I started practicing karate I was a bit shy and didn't like to talk with many people, but that changed when I started and learned what discipline is. Practicing karate gives me a happy feeling and I feel really focused. I also like to play games, especially strategy games like League of Legends and Empire Total War. I like to make new friends and I hope I can do that in The Empire.

That is my life and who I am, hope you enjoyed it.

Anything else you want to say:

Thanks for reading my application and good luck to get the right people.

Alright so, I haven't got that many internet/computer-related BIG achievements, but I guess BTG (my old Bot company) would count as something memorable, basically it was an xat bot company, bots operated via sockets and were pretty fun to talk to (like cleverbot).

Well that's all I can think of, along with my small achievements which aren't mention-worthy.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Graphics. My field is graphics. I love doing them, I love helping other people with tips, advice and tools, I love sharing them, I love doing them for free. If you take a quick peek at my reputation, you will see that almost all of it is from graphics I made for free. I even had a Graphics Workshop and did sigs for free, with 90 replies or so, but people stopped posting. I'm thinking about making another one soon.

Gaming. I have many experience in gaming, Counter-Strike 1.6 . I have been an admin on the most advanced platform ever created (PlayZeek) for almost an year now. For people that know the platform, I'm a Support Admin (a pretty high rank).

Web-Design. I have a friend that works as a web-designer. I stood by him when he worked and picked up a few things. After a while, I started editing scripts and themes in PHP, editing forums and making sites in HTML. I'm not an expert, but I know a few tips and tricks.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Helping and getting helped. The most important reason is that I want to help other members that need my help and I want to be helped. I think that's the most important thing in a group. I am willing to share knowledge, tools and information with anyone who needs it. I hope someone will share that with me too.

Respect. The Empire is a respected group. Being a part of this group feels (to me at least) respectful . I think that's an important point of view.

Family. A group is like a big family. You can't realize what the word "community" means untill you are in a group (my point of view). Honestly, I was never a part of a group on HackForums, and I think it's the time to start.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I am a decent, mature guy. I like helping, but I also like being helped when I need it. I will share my knowledge with you. I feel like I would belong in this group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Untill 2 years ago, I was a rebel. Long hair, piercings, drunk all the time (but at least no drugs). You get the point. It was my final years of HighSchool. We were presented all sorts of collages in the region, but I didn't really liked them. After a while, I decided that I want to go in Denmark, at hospitality management. All the papers were done, got an 98 on my english exam and was ready to go. The only barrier between me and the collage life in Aalborg, Denmark was the most important exam of my life (the maturity exam, something like the SATs in USA). I needed an avarage of 8 ( Romanian, Mathematics and Biology) to go to Denmark. I got 7.78 . That 0.22 keeping me away from the life I wanted, and then I had a revelation. Maybe this is good, maybe it`s some sort of a sign, maybe everything will turn out to be good. It did. I am now in my frist year at a local collage ( It`s very nice, I have to tell you) , I got a great job (Hervis Sports) , I am starting my own Tourism Agency and my life basicly got right back on the tracks. That`s what changed me, that`s what made me who I am today.

Anything else you want to say:

I want to thank you for this fine opportunity and I would really love it to be a part of your group. Thanks.

I'm going to say this again:

Don't post here if it isn't an application. Questions go to the leaders. Other comments aren't needed. Anyone posting will have their post reported. We need this thread to stay clean not filled with bullshit like "Please look at my app","So and So is a nice person. Glad they made it", etc.

Any questions? PM one of the following:

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Computing- I have decent knowledge with computers and how they operate. I am also an EX Black Hat member.

Weight lifting- I have been working out for roughly 3 months and enjoy getting healthier and in shape.

Learning- As long as it sparks my interest, I will learn almost anything.

Paintball- This is something I play with my friends when I have time. Paintball was a huge part of my life but I rarely play anymore.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Honestly, the Empire in my opinion is a overall awesome group where members can express things freely without worrying about getting flamed by other members. I would like to join because I have been trying to change. Most of my posts were low-quality bull crap but I changed. I would like to join because I want to be apart of a group where I can be accepted and help out the community. Thank you for taking time reading this part.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I know there are more members deserving to join the group way more then I do, but I really feel I can help out and make a difference with the group. Over the past few days I have been changing my posts and stopped myself from Trolling and flaming members. Again, thank you a lot for reading this.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I am a very unpredictable person. At one moment I can feel all happy inside and mellow, but when my surrounding changes so do I. I think I have some mental issues but I can control them. Something that no one else knows about me is that I am a member on HackForums, except the members.

Anything else you want to say: Thank you for taking time into reading my application.

Thank you.

Webmastery

I've owned several websites for the past few years. In that time I've learnt a lot, such as the general basics such as purchasing, changing NameServers, and setting up a website. This also has led me to become familiar with my popular scripts, CMS's and Forums (such as Joomla, WP, IP.Board, MyBB, vBulletin, Vanilla and PHPBB). With this, comes basic knowledge in coding (HTML, CSS and PHP) as well as getting to know fundamental server applications such as cPanel. Although I'm not the best at what I do, I believe that the expertise that I've accumulated over time is enough to help members within the group with questions in the areas listed above.

Graphics

I've been using Graphics programs over the past few years for both personal and helping reasons. I've got knowledge in a large variety of programs, such as cinema 4D, Photoshop, After Effects and Sony Vegas. Due to this, I feel that I'd be able to help many users out within Empire as well as write tutorials in Empire's name if need be.

Some Artwork (Click to View)

Gaming

I've been an avid gamer since I can remember. I grew up with by my father's side, playing all the older games such as Hexen, Blood, Doom, Wolfenstein, Redneck Rampage, Duke Nukem and Quake. From there, I've continued playing games in all genres, and all game types. These range from MMORPG's, RPG's, FPS and puzzle games. Not only do I have an extensive knowledge in these areas, but I also have extensive knowledge in customization of games as well as helping others with errors they may face.

Computing

This is perhaps my biggest skill that I can list. I've used a computer since I can remember, and since then I've always been interested into not just accepting the fact that it does work, but how it works and how can I make it better. In regards to that, I have extensive knowledge when it comes to customization, tweaking and troubleshooting Windows PC. In my family, I'm the "go-to guy" when it comes to problems that they may have, and I feel that I'd be able to help everyone out within The Empire, helping out where I can and as often as I can. Similar to "Graphics", I'd be more than happy to write tutorials and help other users out amongst the forum in the name of The Empire.

I've been a member of The Empire before, for around 2 months. The experience I had, whilst being in the empire was amazing. The people that I met, and the friends that I made is enough to want me to join it again. Empire has always been a HQ group, ever since I can remember, and when I was in it, the "HQ" nature definitely showed. All tutorials, resources and general conversation within the group was not only High Quality, but was always helpful.

When I wore The Empire userbar, I took pride in helping members, as well as hosting contests all in the name of "The Empire", and I wish to do that again. This is probably not the best place to say this, but I wish to get back into Empire on a fresh start. During the time I had been in the group, apart from work and UNI stress, I had other issues going on in my life which I cannot say, which led me to become inactive and so be kicked. With those issues behind me, I long to be back in the group, talk to the members that I used to know and help as many people as I can, which is what my original goal is.

For a start, I'm an extremely friendly guy and good to get along with. So, if I get accepted into the Empire, there is no doubt I'd talk to people, help them out if needed (support wise) and hopefully help plan events with others.

As seen above within my skills section, I've got a lot of experience in many different areas. If anyone needs help within Empire, I'd be more than glad to help them out as long as it's within an area that I'm able to help with. If not, then no doubt I'd do my hardest to help them regardless of my skill. As stated above also, I'd be more than happy to write tutorials as well as support people around the forum in the name of The Empire, all to help improve the image.

Last but not least, I'm hard working and high quality. I've spent a long time on this application, and I strive to do things right. When I was in The Empire earlier, it was the best group I've ever been in as I had great conversations, great help and made many friends. In saying that, this application should be a clear representation of how much I want to get back in the Empire and prove my stay. As with the "HQ" part, you'll never see me post anything that's below standard on the forum, or anything that could at all hurt the image of The Empire.

These reasons, are why I should be apart of The Empire.

Where to begin....

There has been no set "event" in my life, that has stood out as being memorable, and so I'll talk briefly about myself instead. As said above, my name's Alex and I'm 19 from Sydney, AU. I'm currently studying at UTS (University of Technology, Sydney) and doing a Bachelor of Applied Physics (which will most likely change).

As with many Australians, I'm easy to talk to and very laid back. I very rarely stress, and when I do there's an obvious importance behind it. There haven't been that many people, that I've talked to and not be able to get along with, and so I'll most definitely make a few friends here.

I'm an avid Videogamer, as stated above, and have been playing games in any shape or form since I can remember. Though UNI has taken up almost most of my "game time", and give me no opportunity to play competitive ladders, I still casual game with my friends in games such as Minecraft, SWTOR and most current Xbox 360 games.

I'm what a lot of people might call a "nerd", as I spend a lot of my time at the computer, whether it be working on websites, doing Graphics, playing some games or doing some UNI work (rarely), yet always find the time to go to the GYM, clubbing with friends or just have casual drinks every so often.

This sums me up very well. If any leader has any questions about the authenticity of my application, or general questions then please feel free to as me as I'm happy to answer them.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):High school: I am currently in grade 11, attending a high school. I plan on graduating next semester, and going to University next year, I'm taking Math-31, Physics-30,Bio-20,and Chem-20 leaving few courses I'll need to graduate. I'm naturally smart when it comes to science, as I understand it a lot easier then others. My average in grade 11 is 86%, and I hope to at least graduate with an 82%.

Personal Support: Through out my time on earth, I've found I can understand a lot of different people, and help them with there problems, which probably brought me to the dream career of a mental health nurse!

Python: For the past 6 months I've been learning Python, and I'd like to say I know quite a bit when ti comes to it, after I plan on learning c sharp, or Java... Undecided Video Making: I used to have a video channel on Youtube, with in real life blogs, and gaming videos. I quite enjoy making videos, weather it's a music video, or what. I've used Camtasia, Sony Vegas, and such.

Creative Writing: With all the time I have on my hands, I started blogging quite a bit, with over 100,000 tumblr followers, and 30,000 twitter followers I started writing stories, of various sci-fi things that I post on my blog, and such.

Pet Keeper: I have four turtles, three north American box turtles, two being three-toed, and one being Asian, then I have a yellow slider turtle. I've had them all for a total of 5 years, and my slider is 18 years!

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

To he honest, I've always wanted to be apart of a group, and seeing as The Empire is one of the highest quality groups on HackForums, I figured I'd attempt to join it. The Empire is looking for High Quality members, and I think I have quite a bit to offer, from certain knowledge, to beliefs therefor this seams like the group for me.

A while ago I created a thread, asking what sort of group would suit my type of style, and my interests, and the majority said The Empire, and after being around for quite a bit longer (I posted the thread first week I joined) I was driven to join it.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

To be 100% honest, I'm not sure. I just feel as if I belong in this group, and it's what I'd like to try, I mean everyone should be given a chance right? From what I here, and read about the group, it's a place for quite mature people to hang out, and that's pretty awesome, and could suit my style.? I also believe everyone should have a chance, and I'd like to try being in the group!

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well, as stated above I'm a sixteen year ol Canadian. I live in a small town called Okotoks, with only two high schools, so for obvious reason literally everyone knows everybody. From this I've learned to always be liked, and avoid getting on peoples bad side.

In my spare time, I do school work, work, and spend time with friends. I currently work at Starbucks, but I'm quitting in four days (gave my two week notice). I've kept a job at Wendy's, and Safe ways for over 6 months on each, but I as well have over 3,000 volunteer hours accumulated in 2011, and 2012 alone! I did the elder appreciation day, in which I met the premier of Alberta, and Danielle Smith! I do incredible in school, and I strive for perfection, I get 80-90's in everything, except my 67% in Social last semester... Though I don't enjoy being friends with a lot of people, I find friends that are supportive, caring and really un to be with, so I never tend to be bored.

I am a manga freak, from death note, to even naruto ? to loveless. I like a wide variety of them, and for certain series I even watch the anime's like in FMA, Bleach, and other 'Mainstream' manga's. I tend to enjoy old classics, more then new movies (ith thee exception of a movie based off a book, or anything with Bruce Willis in it.) My hobbies don't stop there, I am huge on a lot of Korean based culture, one of my favorite movies being 20 pound beauty <3 Nice guy, The Great Seer, and Vampire Prosecutor is the shit c:

Anything else you want to say:

First of all, thank you for reading this ,I know it was quite long but I truly appreciate the time you guys took to read mine, as well as every other persons application, and I hope whether you choose me or anyone else, that you keep The Empire High Quality an improving the forum.?

Also, I'm trying to get 100 posts in each section! eh?:D

? Religion: Not dedicated to any religion.
? State/Country: Alberta, Canada
? Time Zone: -7:00 GMT

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

? Psychological manipulation - I am sure this is self explanatory, but I have taken classes when i was in university and know quite a bit about what a person thinks and feels when people do certain things. I can go into it further via pm.

? Web design - I have created a couple websites for businesses and my own en-devours. (www.endercrafthosting.com) (www.codersfouryou.com/code) (www.codersfouryou.com/medidart)

? Programming (Multiple Languages) - I will not lie and say I know every programming language like the back of my hand, but I do know bits and pieces that are needed to code anything in pretty much any popular language.

? Large amount of *nix knowledge - I run multiple servers for my own personal reasons and have configured them completely by my self. I have great knowledge in this field and have come a long way with this skill. I am very proud of it.

? Multiple Hacking Exploitation Methods - I know multiple ways to hack a website/web server and other dedicated machines. A computer can never be secure and there will always be loop holes. I try to find as many of those loop holes as I can and share them with others.

? E-commerce knowledge - I have helped many people out with their own e-commerce site and have given them a great deal of tips and tricks to help them succeed.

? SEO - This is not my strongest front, but I am very dedicated to know the inner workings of how Google uses their algorithms. This is one of my main goals, and I hope to achieve it soon.

? Extensive Project Planning - Being an entrepreneur, I have had to plan a great deal in order to have anything I want to go right actually work. I am close to a master at planning.

? Create Long Lasting Partnerships - I have had multiple partnerships with many members of this website. These partnerships are still running today.

? Establish Trust With hesitant internet users - From any one I met on this forum, they were hesitant at first. After about an hour chat, I can have them fully trust me. this is a very powerful skill and do not want you to take this the wrong way.

? Create excitement in a group environment - I have led many small groups (Not forum related) that I had to coordinate and keep them on track as well as keep them motivated.

? Teach and learn from the people I teach - On the side, I tutor for extra money. These kids range from Grade 8-12. I have learned a lot from these kids and some of the best knowledge came from them.

? Bachelor's Degree In Computer Sciences (I mentioned this for an obvious reason.)

? Marketing - Not necessarily on a forum, but I can get quite a few people to purchase a product. I believe they just need the right push.

? Internet Business Planning - This being from the same stem as project planning, this is just for businesses. I know what it takes for a business to shine from the rest of the group and have them noticed.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I believe that I am one of the most hard working entrepreneurs on this website. I currently am juggling multiple projects that are not your run of the mill 'booter' or 'crypter'. I have innovative ideas that can further me and anyone that I converse with. I am looking to further technology in the long run, and hope to do that with my ideas. I usually do not boast about what I do, but i believe it is what I need to do to be noticed. This group has not had many complaints from anyone and seems very advanced. The Empire is a haven of knowledge and learning. I want to help others in this group with a wide variety of topics and bring their knowledge base to a level of my own. I will make tutorials and other threads that will help members of this group out with certain things, and will take requests on what ever they might have questions about. Now, you might look at my rep and see that it is low, but actually read who I received those reps from. I do not rep whore and look to do giveaways just to l33t's and ub3r's in hope to raise my reputation. I personally like where it is and it makes me stand out a bit. Out of all the groups I have been in they have all had their ups and downs. I don't believe that this group would have this. Tibit, I know you are a very experienced leader and just might be one of the best on this forum. I am not doing this to kiss your ass, I mean it. Your groups had the least controversy on this forum. (Other than the staff made groups) If you are actually reading this part I think I have grabbed your attention. I would like to speak a bit about why I am talking so much on this part. I have noticed that most thread recruitment leaders look for content. I would like to supply this content just to catch your eye. I am not trying to do anything other than that. It may seem weak but I really do want to be in this group. As you read my application I hope you see potential in me and consider me for a spot in your user group. If you are reading this and have noticed what I have done then I believe what I have tried to accomplish has worked. Please pm me, I would like to speak to you further about my application.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel that I have put a large amount of work being high quality on this forum, and I believe that I could give your group some special anomalies (good ones) that might not be in there right now. I have put a great deal of work into this application and I do hope you don't just dismiss it. The Empire is one of the newer groups, and it most likely does not have as much content as the other, older groups. I would like nothing more than to bring more high quality content to this group and have this group more well known around this forum for the quality of its members. I could write a 1000 word essay on your group and what I think about it, but I still don't think I would be able to get what is in my mind onto paper, or in this case pixels. (Pm me if you want a long ass essay about your group, I will write one. ?)

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who you are you:

Well, when I was younger I never really had internet. I had one computer with no internet connection and like 1 MB ram total. I was always interested by technology and it fascinated me about how things work with the circuit boards and how electrical pulses could create something on a screen right in front of me. Of course, I didn't know that's how it actually worked. I thought it was wizardry.

Years past and I believe I was around 15-16 when I really got into computers a lot. I went to high school and they had a couple computer courses so I decided to take them. I loved it. So I kept working with computers and got a job at a computer repair shop on my senior year. That is when I started to detach from my friends and when I got back I believed no one liked me. I thought it was the end of the world. I was the stereotypical 'nerd' and had only a couple close friends. I was never bullied though. At that point I never even tried to mend friendships. I knew what I wanted to do and kept my goals straight ahead of me, and never veered off track.

I went to university to get my bachelors degree in computer sciences and went out to look for a job. I was hoping I didn't choose the wrong degree and end up in a dead end job. I knew that computers were going to be a part of human life for as long as we live, and cannot avoid it (that is also one of the other reasons I chose this as a degree.). Soon enough, about 3 months out of university I landed a job at an oil company. I was a junior systems programmer. What we basically did was monitor and improve an automatic pipeline system that is controlled remotely by computers. We call this the 'SCADA' System. Google it. As of now, I still work at this place and love my job. For anyone that is reading my application and is still not sure which career path you should take, follow your heart. They make degree's in these subjects for a reason. It is popular and is useful in pretty much any business. Even though the SCADA system is pretty much finished, I am a close to a Senior Systems Manager (Which is fairly high on the totem pole) . We continue on with experimenting with different projects and are constantly creating new things. It is my dream Job.

So as for who I am, I really was shaped by my parents. Looking back they raised me almost perfectly. I never was a fighter and always put the feelings of others in front of mine, I still do. There are three things to you need in life to succeed.

1. Education
2. Respect
3. Drive

If you have those three things then there are no limits to what you can do. I am as of now revolutionizing how these pipelines operate, even though i can't say much. we are close to being fully automatic, meaning that we do not need any control room operators any more and a computer can monitor the pipelines and fix it a problem with an algorithm that we are currently working on.

Anything else you want to say:

Sorry about the very long application. I hope I am considered to be part of this group. I may be able to make a video application, pm me if you want one.

Name: Dave.

Age: 17.

Gender: Male.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

I am experienced in Web Developing, Monetizing/Internet Marketing, and providing support for people in need. I'm also a LITTLE experienced in Adobe Photoshop and video-producing.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I am a high-quality member and personally I would like to be around only high-quality people due to the amount of trolls and rude people The Lounge consists of. I'm tired of chilling in The Lounge, and whenever I ask for a simple vouch on my YouTube clip they all write stupid comments such as "SCAM!!!" and then dislikes the video. I've always been the guy who is there to support people and bring high-quality posts whenever I can. I try to share lots of information so people can do what I do. I feel like this is the right group for me as I've been called (not to brag) a high-quality member several times under the time I've been part of Hackforums.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

As I described on the aforementioned, I am quite experienced with lots of stuff on the Internet. I am a high-quality poster and I do not like rudeness and trolls. I feel like staying in a section where there is zero trolls and high-quality members just like me. That would be a dream come true.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

My name is David or you can call me Dave, I am seventeen years old, live in Sweden and was born in Chicago, Illinois. You can describe me as a person who likes to have fun but most of the times I try to be a "serious-type" of guy where I enjoy having serious discussions about certain things. You can basically call me a conspiracy-head, my username describes it all though. I still go to school and everyday I try really hard to get good grades because that is the type of guy I am. I like to work hard because at the end of the day working hard is pretty much rewarding.

I used to play soccer in a very well known team in Sweden until I broke my leg when I was about fourteen. That wasn't quite fun as I lost something that meant everything to me. I had it all planned that I wanted to be something in the world of soccer but that dream didn't come true. The thing that still makes me the happy guy that I am today is that I am a patient guy and someone who isn't like the others. I tend to work hard because that has been proven rewarding several times. It is also easy for me to get over things easily because that is how I have been ever since a kid. I tend to show people that doesn't like me that I am a better person than them and from time to time I tend to prove that right.

I remember when I started earning a lot of money on the Internet. That was a milestone to me and I was really happy about it due to being neglected when asking about money by my father most of the times. When I didn't get what I wanted, I decided to do something about it. You could say the Internet is my best friend, but I am definitely not a nerd even though being a "nerd" is something you should be proud of. That is basically all I can say about myself.

Anything else you want to say:

Thank you for such an opportunity, I am so proud to even have the ability to apply for such a high-quality group. Thank you.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

The two skills I pride myself on the most are my proficiency with communication (meeting new people, creating contacts, ability to convince someone of something, presentations, etc) and programming.

Communication simply makes my life easier. It's extremely simple for me to convince a professor to allow me to turn in course work weeks late, or get permission to miss several classes in order to go on vacation. It also helps me create new contacts, and that's really what connects the world. I have a good friend who's father is a highly respected lawyer (has gotten me out of two traffic tickets), an ex girlfriend who's mother is a county judge, several contacts I have met online who can provide me with free services such as web hosting, MSDN subscriptions, and more. It also happens to be very handy when meeting new women and makes it easy to start conversations. I am Dutch, yet my English is, in my opinion, of higher quality than the average British or American person my age.

Secondly I pride myself on programming. I am creative enough to think of solutions to everyday problems. Since I started programming on my TI-83 calculator (TIBasic) in middle school, I haven't lost my passion for it. Over the years I have expanded my knowledge into several computer science fields and have sufficient experience in electrical engineering, embedded systems, game development, algorithms, datastructures, hardware, software, Apache servers, Tomcat, Glassfish, Linux, Windows, OSX, FreeBSD, web based applications (JSP and Java servlets), and many additional topics. I am currently a software engineering major at the University of Amsterdam with a minor in advanced embedded system design. I have two part time jobs next to my university courses which are both in the field of software engineering and database management. Anyone can pretend to know anything and write it down, but trust me when I say I am very proficient in each of the following languages:

C++

PHP

VB6

Python

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened

in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I was born in The Netherlands in 1992, and have spent most of my life there. I have several brothers, but one in particular is special to me. Born with Epilepsy, there was always danger of sudden epileptic attacks, which made taking care of him quite the core. He needed a massive amount of medication each day, each pill battling a side effect of the previous one. I was 5 years his elder, he looked up to me, respected me, and considered me to be "the best brother in the world". It was me who played with him when others would not. We built tree forts, went on adventures in the woods behind the house, explored the rain drainage pipes while sitting on skateboards, pushing ourselves forwards with our hands, flashlights helmets fully charged. I was the person he waited on to get home from school, the one who helped him with homework, everything.

That all changed very suddenly one day in July, several years ago. I was 14, and going to fly to a foreign country to visit family by myself for the first time. I will never forget that morning, as he hugged me tighter than he ever had, told me he couldn't wait for me to get back to continue our daily adventures. As the car left the street on the way to the airport, I looked back one last time and saw him running after the car, waving wildly, saying goodbye. That day was the last time I would ever see my little brother alive. (I actually have tears rolling down my cheeks while writing this..)

While my mother was bringing me to the airport and to the proper terminal, back at home my brother was playing in a small creek behind our house when an epileptic attack occurred. He fell face first into 3 inches of water and remained in that position, drowning, unable to move, unable to do anything. My father found him several minutes later while checking on him. He was not breathing. Flown by helicopter to a nearby hospital, they were able to revive him into a coma, and tests revealed the brain damage caused by lack of oxygen meant he would never awaken. My father called the airport in an attempt to stop me from boarding my plane. He was too late, my mother got the news as my plane was taking off. By the time I got to my destination, my brother was dead.

It changed me, I grew up immensely fast, dropped all the issues I had previously (procrastination, lying, not completing homework, etc.) and realised that tomorrow is not a guarantee, but a gift. Life can be over before you know it, and if you are not happy with the way you are living, then change it. Live your life, learn as much as you can, meet people, be successful and lead a good life, and most importantly: Never let a setback cause you to quit.

That's my story, not many people know it.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Marketing - I have made over $800 in total on the HF marketplace, and I already have a few products lined up to be released.

Server Administration - I have gotten the following Cisco network certification levels: Level 4 Datacenter, Level 3 Network Security, and Level 4 Wireless. As well, I am a certified Cisco Firewall Security Specialist along with having a CCT in Routing & Switching.

Monetizing - I have lots of experience in PPD as well as CPA, and I have made around $400 through these avenues.

Programming - I have at least some proficiency in the following programming languages: Ruby, Python, Bash, C#, C++, Java, JS, CSS, PHP, .NET, Assembly, Lua, HTML (Not really a programming language, as it's a markup language), and several program/game specific languages.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I only saw the last recruitment thread just as it was closing. I was thoroughly disappointed. I have been watching The empire ever since it's inception, and in my opinion it is the most high quality group on HF. You hold awesome giveaways, and you are all so nice to every member on the forum.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I have so many qualities that I think would make me a valuable addition to the group. Before I post a thread or a post, I research everything that I am saying to make sure it is 100% correct. I always have impeccable grammar and spelling, and I try to be as HQ as I can. I'm on the internet for most of the day, and I am beginning to become a lot more active on HF again. I am always open to learning new concepts, and I love to teach people what I know.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

When I was growing up, I was always the "smart" kid. My case was different than what would usually happen, because although I was the "smart" kid, I still had a lot of friends and I was able to maintain a good social life while still balancing my work and my love of programming and computer hardware. I would be called out of class at least 3 times a week to come fix something in the school.

I had a pretty easy ride through elementary school. When I got to high school, things got a bit harder. Grade 9 was the worst. In previous years I was very unorganized and I hardly ever did my work. After that first year, it got a lot better. In grade 10 I took grade 12 CompSci, and in grade 11 I did the university course. I had nothing to do in grade 12, so it was pretty boring.

After that comes where I am now. I am currently going to university, and I am majoring in computer science. I have a job as a sysadmin, I have a steady income, a lot of friends, and I'm doing good in school. I think that I have enough time to dedicate to this group, even with all of that. Life is going very well for me right now.

Anything else you want to say:

Thank you for reading my incredibly lengthy application, and have a great weekend!

Webmaster

I've been into websites/forums "development"(NOT coding) since i was 12. I'm creating and selling some CMS websites[For stores,hotels etc.]. I also had my own webhosting company back 1 year ago. At the moment, and for the past year im the sys admin of asylumstresser website/server.

Computing General

I have linux/unix medium knowledge, and more than enough knowledge on windows. Also, i love doing case modding on my computer[new upgrade soon:D], aswell im good on hardware.

Hacking

Not much to say about this, like everyone i've been ratting long time ago. I'm injecting websites sometimes(no defaces) when i have free time. And I am selling DDoS services.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

From what I know, The Empire is a high quality group i wish to share what i know and learn more things.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I'am a very honest guy, usually-never getting in any troubles and i'am always willing to help if I can.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

As you can understand from my age, i'am a student of high school. I love computing, i bought my first computer 7 years ago back then i was a gamer like most people started. I live in Greece as some of you may know things are quite bad here[economy problems, illegal immigrants committing crimes, corrupt politicians] the only honest political party here is a nationalist one but im not fully supporting it.. I'am K1(Thai Boxing) player, and I totally love it also going to gym 3 days / week. Im making out some bucks online protecting websites and such.

I am skilled in anything that has to do with YouTube as I have been a machining partner for the past 2 years. I know the basics of c++ and some vb. I have had experience with social engineering, but I stray away from that nowadays.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I have observed the behavior of the members of the group and I like the way everyone in the group acts toward other people and members within the group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I have been an active member on HackForums for the past 14 months, and I have always enjoyed helping the members out. I have done multiple upgrade contests and donated to show it. The community is slowly getting a little bit more lq by the day, but I feel if I was part of this group it wouldn't be that way.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples:)
Programming and Scripting

Despite my relative beginner status, I starting to grasp the many major programming concepts. I knew Java fairly well and can assist in minor projects or basic functions. Although it is a markup language, I'm reasonably knowledgeable in HTML and CSS.

Computer Hardware

I'm have a large wealth of knowledge in computer hardware. Despite my somewhat young age I have already built myself personally two custom computers. I also, built my family two computers. A majority of my posts are the the computer hardware section helping out others.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join the Empire because the group is already one of the prestigious groups on HF and also because I have a lot to learn in the world of computing, and I feel as though I could learn immensely from being in this group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel as though I should be accepted into The Empire due to the fact that I have some knowledge to bring to the table. I also have dedication and work ethic. I would try to help the group always progress to becoming bigger and greater.

I am very athletic, and very smart. I skipped a grade and still am in the top ten in my large class. I used to go to school the go to my sporting activity. But while doing so I always felt bored and as if something was missing. That is when I got my first computer for Christmas. Before hand, I already owned an Xbox 360 and would play some days with my friends from school. Well this computer opened my eyes to a whole new world. I immediately fell in love with my computer. Then I learned about programming. After this I was hooked. I started my journey to gain as much knowledge I could on this subject and I'm still learning today.

Anything else you want to say:

I believe my dedication and passion for computers really signifies me as person that has the potential to become something great.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Java Coding: I'm an experienced Java programmer. I've been programming for almost four years. I've made numerous tutorials and give one on one tutorials free of charge. In fact, I've made free tools and released them on HackForums.

Graphics I've been making quality graphics for about seven months now. Once again, I provide yet another free service with my skills. I actually made over 50 pieces of high quality graphic work free of charge. I'm adept with Photoshop and MS Paint.

Video Editing I'm an avid video editor. I've made many clean edits with wonderful effects for my own videos. How about for other people's videos? Completely free. That's right, I've never charged anybody for any service that I could deliver.

Debating I've been actively debating in many different schools on the grounds of religion, poverty and socio-economic bias.

Essays/Analysing Literature I often find myself reading interesting books. While I read, I analyse the use of literary techniques and devices. I write well developed and insightful essays on them.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Well firstly I'd like to mention that I have no problem with leaving groups that aren't appealing to me. I left Logic and Rhythm because I believed the leaders followed amorphous regulations and ill-revised ways of handling situations. Out of the digression, I've heard that "The Empire" was an unprecedented high quality group. High quality groups are common, I want to be revealed to more than what meets the eye.

I would be a great asset to the group. I have tons of knowledge on programming and my criticism is always rational and constructive. I'm a very active forum member, just look at my profile. I have a lot to offer in terms of practical help and advice.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I'm friendly, easy to approach, and eager to help. I don't approach problems superficially, I delve deep and thoroughly research on the subject to give my best input and service to it.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

When I was 16 in grade 11, I had a really rough time. Everybody regarded me as a hacker, although my scope of practical hacking wasn't even something to boast for.

One day in the computer lab, everybody was working on their projects and all of the computers rebooted except for mine. Strange, isn't it? It didn't happen only once, it happened many times throughout the course of the week. Everybody starts blaming me for it, of course. I had nothing to do with it, and I didn't even know what the problem was.

Some random day throughout that same week with computer trouble, my friend and I had asked to go to the computer lab (while it was occupied with another class in session) to finish up our project. My teacher permitted us to go, and informed the other teacher about our intentions. We started our project and everything was fine. All of a sudden, every computer reboots and everyone's projects are gone. The teacher is notified and starts yelling "Who the fuck did it?". Everybody was actually afraid because he started swearing. Two kids in the back of the class pointed at me. He came up to me and started yelling in my face, so I said "It wasn't me, this has been happening all week!" He said "My ass, I've been here all week and it's the first time happening you little shit, GET OUT OF MY FACE!"

Awesome, I just got ridiculed in front of 30 kids for no valid reason. I went back to class unaffected and told my teacher the story. Next thing I know, someone knocks on the door. It's the teacher that just yelled and swore at me. He started explaining about how I "hacked the computer lab". Now both teachers were totally ashamed of me. I said "I didn't even do it, calm down. You're literally trying your hardest to intimidate somebody half your age, this is fucking pathetic."

I ended up getting suspended for tampering with school equipment and insulting teachers.

(This is a prime example of how I don't take crap from anybody. I'm not afraid of being punished for something that I believe is justified.)

Anything else you want to say:
I'm easy to work with, and very respectful.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:I want to join empire as I've never been and in a group, and this will be a great opportunity as this is the best group to join.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted, because I try to use grammar to the best of my ability and help members all the time.

I'll help members when I'm online and when I'm off site to let everyone know Empire is the best group out there. People will know "empire" when they hear hack forums.

In my spare time I like to play basketball, chill on hack forums and help people, or just whatever. Listening to music I think makes the mood chill, and I love that.

I listen to most genres, and they're amazing besides the hardcore rock music(screamo).

I'm a very forgiving person, and can deal with anything.

Playing halo 4 with people from Hack forums is another thing is what I like to do. In the future of my life as a career, I want to get a degree in criminal justice and work in that field.

I hope that can describe me a little and hope to see you guys around hack forums!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I guess you could say I am pretty well educated in the art of social engineering. I can usually get my way through any situation, but as in skills with technology, I love to be a white-hat "investigator". Looking in ways to help people has always been my thing. I remove any type of virus or malware at no cost, because it's helping my community. I may not be active here in school with this but, man giving back to community as school and stuff has really been fun. Another skill set I have would be to learn at an insanely quick pace through the use of hard work and optimism.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I feel as this group would be a very awesome experience and a wonderful chance to meet some new people who have the same mindset and share their knowledge and wisdom of what they have learned in the world so far. Furthermore, I would dedicate myself to being a part of this group and would even go as far as to being a valuable asset? I hope to learn a lot from this group and share my knowledge back, the empire seems like an outstanding opportunity for myself and I wish the best for everyone.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Well, I am a very optimist person who in the end would do what it takes to help another person out of sheer humbleness. I'm not a greedy person and I do not like scammers or rude outrageous people. My motto is your generic "Treat others how you would like to be treated." So thus, I'm always kind. I think this would be all for my application, even tho I am a VERY new member (hope this wouldn't deter anything.)to this growing community. I would always offer my support to anyone, also on a side note I would like to thank you for reviewing my application in regard to this and best wishes to all of you.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well, I guess the nice memorable part of my life started in high school when I entered a Peer group that helped people with disabilities. This was not limited to mental disabilities, but to almost everything. Helping these people and watching them put a smile on my face and really changed me as a person. Ever since then, I've dedicated my high school career (Senior this year) in to putting events to help people with needs, whether that was with daily tasks or those who are high functioning and struggle with understanding stuff. It is an awesome experience to help someone in need and seeing them succeed in the end.

Another fascinating trip was when I got to go to a rural village in South America. It was for a trip for those who took Spanish and we got to go down and teach these people what hygiene was. Teaching them how to brush their teeth to taking proper baths. Was quite the shock seeing coming from a background of California to another country and really made me a humble person who appreciates what they have. I got to do many cool things with my host family and we built a soccer field and it was just the best experience ever!

Anything else you want to say: Other than me thanking you for taking the time and reading my application. I also listen if you just need some emotional time. I understand stuff happens and you just need someone to talk to. I am your guy, I will listen and take everything in and give you some advice to help you cope I want to give many thanks, and hope you all have a wonderful evening, or whatever time you may review this at. :)

Website Development -

Currently I am quite experienced with code languages such as HTML and CSS. I used to run my own website which was quite successful. Sadly I got tired of developing and decided to take a break of it. I am still quite experienced and look forward to strive with these abilities in the near future.

Graphics -

I am aware that this group is not for graphics, but this is one of my skills. I have been doing graphics for about 1 year now, although I am not the best; I am currently trying to improve over time. I enjoy teaching others the basics of programs such as Adobe Photoshop and Cinema 4D. I would gladly share my resources and help those who are having trouble, at all times.

Java Game Development -

I ran my own Runescape Private Server for about 1 year, which is coded off Java. In that 1 year, I learned a lot about the language and became more experienced in video game developing.

Social Engineering -

Currently I enjoy Social Engineering, especially e-whoring. E-whoring has to be one of those things that I do when I need money for a certain cause. I try not to do it so often due to the fact that I feel quite guilty. I have been e-whoring for about 7 months, however like stated above; I do not do it to often. I have made about $500 from it, which seems like quite a good profit. I will always be able to share packs or resources if needed to the group as a way to contribute.

Communication -

Something I really enjoy is communicating with other people. I am quite skilled when it comes to speaking with individuals, no matter what the topic is; as long as I am familiar with it. I try my best to give positive support to those on HackForums or in real life.

Debating -

I enjoy debating a lot, I am currently in debate team in school, which has been quite successful for myself. It makes me feel good when I win an argument, due to the fact that I have just proven my points to opposing debater. I have been into debating for about 2 or so years, I plan on continuing to see what it can bring me in the future.

Marketing -

I can be very convincing when it comes to selling a specific type of product. Although I do not do much marketing on HackForums, it is still a skill I obtain. I am slightly more trusted on other forums, which is where I focus my marketing skills on. I try my best to get a great deal, as well as getting the product sold for a reasonable price. My debate skills do tend to help when trying to get a great price on an item, which is always great as well.]

Gaming -

Gaming is something that I have always enjoyed ever since I was a kid. I have had a passion for it for a very long time. I currently own - Wii, PSP, PS Vita, XBoX 360, DS, and a Gaming PC. At least once every 2 months I do real life gaming tournaments to test my skills against other people. My favorite type of games have to be First Person Shooters and Fantasy. Mostly anything that brings a lot of action to a console, I will enjoy.

Well I have always wanted to be a part of an official, yet high quality group such as The Empire. It would give me the opportunity to share my knowledge but yet at the same time, learn from others. I believe that this is a perfect group for me due to there not being a main focus on a certain skills. In other words, we are all individuals teaching and learning from each other as one group.

The Empire would also benefit me into meeting new people and becoming more familiar with other members of Hackforums as a group. In my opinion, The Empire stands out more than most groups on Hackforums. Being part of it would mean a lot towards my point of view.

[img]http://i.minus.com/j5pfTd6CePFMn.png[/img]

I honestly believe that I should be accepted into the group for many reasons honestly,

For starters, I will always try my best to be respectful to all members of The Empire, as well as contribute to the group as much as possible. I will create tutorials, as well as do many giveaways exclusively for those members of The Empire. It will be my oath and responsibility to stay dedicated to the group, as well as be active on the private sub-forum as much as possible. I will always try my best to use high grammatical skills, whilst making the group and it's members stand out from all the others. My main priority however would to be help out fellow group members and share my knowledge and abilities with them; as well as being professional at all times. Being part of the group has been one of my goals for quite a while on HackForums. I have applied in the past but got denied, hopefully this time I will make the cut. Accepting me will not be a mistake, I will prove it to the members and leaders of 'The Empire'. I promise you will not regret putting me into the group. I currently meet all the requirements which will hopefully raise my chances, if you could please consider it I would greatly appreciate it.

Well my name is Kenn, I am 16 years old. I love playing sports, graphic designing, Web Development and Java. I live in the United States and currently in the 11th grade. Something I prioritize about myself would be my communication skills with others. I enjoy meeting new people as well as being social. I am always trying my best to improve on what I do, whether it's soccer, football, graphics, social engineering, etc. I am currently learning other code languages as well as becoming more advanced in the ones I am currently familiar with. I always try to find opportunities to learn more things, whether it's online, taking extra courses in school or even teaching myself. I enjoy doing charity work, giveaways and of course; donating. It does not matter to me whether it is to the less fortunate or even to the community of HackForums. As long as I know I am helping somebody out making them happy, it counts. In my free time I enjoy going to the gym, browsing HackForums, and hanging out with my friends.

In my life, something I take very seriously is my religion. Both my parents are very religious which is something I respect greatly. Although I am not as religious as them, I do try my best to not let them down as well as make them proud. I go to church once a week on Sunday with my parents, and as well as my brother.

Both my parents are quite wealthy, as they say god has been good to them. They donate over $1,000 to charity and starving children in Africa almost every month. I am quite proud of my mother and father, although I do believe that my parents are to easy on me. They let me do whatever I want, whenever I want and seem to hardly get angry at times. I try to discipline my self to make sure that I do not go the wrong way. I truly believe that I was born in a good house hold, even though I am not always thankful for what I have.

Sorry if I went to deep on about myself, but that is mostly everything!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Coding - Advanced knowledge in PHP/HTML/C++. Moderate knowledge of VB, C#. Currently learning Java and Adroid. I'm also a programming student.

Internet Marketing - Great experience in all terms of Internet Marketing, including PPD, PPC etc. I have managed my business both on and off HF for a moderate amount of time and had many customers.

Gaming - Ex-pro gamer, now part of a powerful multigaming organisation. I have contacts to all the best and most popular gamers in the world.

Aricle writing - I have been a chief editor on plenty of multigaming websites.

Natural sciences - Math, physics, chemistry, biology. I know all of it. My knowledge in these fields goes up to college level.

GFX - Kind of a basic knowledge, but I'm trying.

Social and leadership skills - Managed several forums, guilds, teams and communities.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I see The Empire around the forums quite a lot. You're in every part of the forums, keeping the highest possible quality. The group is doing massive giveaways and supporting the community and it's members. Overall, the members of The Empire are quite active and they're doing a great job of supporting HF. I like how everyone in the group became close friends and everyone knows eachother. I'd love to see myself in the group, meet new people and take part in the group's activities. The group is the highest possible quality, and I can see myself fitting in.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: As already mentioned in the last question, the group is maintaining the highest possible quality. I have been a part of Hackforums for over 2 years, and in my 2+ years of being a member, I have done my best to help others, not sorting them by membership status, reputation, posts, prestige and etc. I have done my best to be a high quality member for the whole time being and help everyone if possible. As part of the Empire, I would do giveaways, write tutorials and help others in the name of the group.

I'd say I'm a pretty talkative person, so I guess making new friendships and fitting in the group wouldn't be especially hard for me. I love meeting new people, sharing ideas and experiences, and discussing all varieties of topics - from politics to animals. My personal skills, experience and activity would surely make a great contribution to the group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm a 20 year old male from Croatia. I graduated high school 2 years ago, and then started 1st year as a Mechanical Engineer. That didn't work out to well for me, as I was losing interested in the whole subject. This year I've decided to switch courses and become a programmer, as programming always interested me, and I have been working on my own for a couple of years now. Soon enough, my college recognized my talent and hard work, and gave me a full scholarship for all 3 years of my college course. Programming is a way of life for me, and I know my studies will help me out to become what I want in the future.

Other than studies, I was gaming at the highest possible level for some time. At one point, I was the leader of one of the strongest teams in whole Europe. This experience made me meet and talk to interesting people from all over the world. Overall, this experience formed my personality and made me 'grown up' at a time where I still should've been a kid. I gained great responsibility and I do not regret anything.

Regarding personal life, I'm in a 2-year long relationship with the girl I love, and one day I'll marry her. My parents are quite old, but have always been supportive. My own personal goal is to finish college and lead a great life afterwards. I want to be the best in things I do, and that's why I always try hard to accomplish my goals. I'm always aiming high and sometimes fail. But failure leads to gaining more experience.

Anything else you want to say: Thank you for your time for reading this application. Have a nice day!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):I'm good at video games and, I am a little skilled in CL E-whoring but, I would love to learn more and to give what I know.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:I want me to be a part of this group because I want to be a part of an active group full of people who can help me to learn ways to make money. Also I would like to give some of my guides I have collected as well, as my basic E-whoring knowledge.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:I think I should be accepted because I would like to learn more and make friends with fellow group member's and to know what being in a group is like.

I am a Pre-ap student making A+'s in most classes and B's in one other class. Along with having As-burgers Syndrome (Autism), I have Essential Hand Tremors which means my hands at times can shake making my typing messed up and, I suffer from Anxiety issues which at times accounts for me acting different(Along with Autism .That's just what I have to live with but, I will try my best to act as mature as possible.

Anything else you want to say:

I am mainly a gamer but, that does not mean don't want to learn.I hope you accept me even though I'm a little young and different. Sorry for any grammar mistakes I have made.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

- RATs
- Keyloggers
- E-Whoring
- Social Engineering
- Coding Simple Programs
- GFX

RATs are one if not my most knowledgeable section of information. I currently have a fairly large botnet and plan to keep it that way. I spread on my own and have a method that gets me a lot of slaves. I have a JDB and am looking to purchase a silent version. I can answer almost any question related to DarkComet and a lot relate to RATs in general. I know a large amount about how a crypter works as well and how it works to keep a RAT FUD.

Keyloggers I know about but not as much as RATs. I feel keyloggers are pointless as a RAT can do everything a keylogger can do and more. The only reason a keylogger is ever needed is if you cannot port forward. Any information applying to RATs can probably be applied to keylogging.

E-Whoring is second, maybe my best known information. I have written an e-book and made about $500 from e-whoring alone. I know what it takes to get the sale and get the cash. If I put the time into e-whoring with no distractions I can get at least $100 in an hour or so. I use only my personal method, not saying it isn't out there somewhere but I have many side methods that increase my ability. E-Whoring is one of the simplest arts to master but yet the hardest. You have to be able to recognize when/if you are going to make the sale. I feel I have mastered this in my time e-whoring.

Social engineering is an obvious needed knowledge for my RATs and e-whoring. If I cannot convince someone to download a program then I can't get anywhere. I have mastered this skill to convince people that a program isn't a virus and even when I fuck up, making it obvious they are infected, that it still isn't a virus. I have SE'd one pair of Beats and 10 Amazon gift cards worth about $200 in total.

Basic coding isn't an area of expertise. I started to code and began wrong. I started with VB .NET which is an obvious no-no now that I know more. I really wish I would have started with something such as C# or PHP, this would have been better for me. But sadly, I didn't ultimately leading to the demise of my coding.

After realizing coding wasn't an option, I began to become interested in graphics. I noticed after making some signature for myself on HF, I had a true natural talent for it. I'm not amazing and nor will I ever be up at Calibur and +Awesome's level but I am advanced for my time put into it. The only problem with GFX I encounter is choosing a font. This takes me hours sometimes which again, lead to me putting less and less time into GFX.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

This group has been a role model to me. I saw giveaways from you and many members helping. As soon as I saw that you guys focused on helping people no matter the subject, I wanted to be the same. You inspired me to do giveaways of my own. Sometimes my giveaways do not get much attention though, so participating in group giveaways would really help me give back. It would also be an honor to show my support of The Empire when helping new members begin their experience. Joining The Empire would allow me to experience a whole new part of HF. This group is ran by Tibit and Aeon, and I wish to be like them one day. They run one of the most successful projects on HF, and they make bank. The Empire is obviously an HQ group and the group is something I strive to be in.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be accepted into The Empire for many reasons. My grammar is well above most people. I rarely misspell a word, or use poor grammar. I also feel like The Empire should accept me because I am one of the members willing to help further new members knowledge.

The Empire is a group of high quality members who will share knowledge throughout our sub-forum and with the rest of Hack Forums

I do this daily within the Beginner Hacking section.

All members are to be helpful, kind, and share knowledge with those that need it where they see fit. I am always helpful to most requests in the section. A group should be all about helping other people in all areas of expertise, this is what The Empire does. I can bring my expertise on many subjects into the group to help the new members daily.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I have always been a helpful person ever since I was younger. My mom was very strict on saying "Please" and "Thank You". I lived true to being polite all of my life so far. Even with the pressures of school and friends not sharing my concern with being polite to people in public, which doesn't effect me in any way. I will always follow these lessons my mother taught me and never deny them.

Only one memorable event has happened in my life. It was last year, I was starting to get away from being a good kid and slacking on grades. I slacked on my manners, grades, and just wasn't my normal self. I always thought I would try and not drink until I was 21 because my Aunt is an alcoholic. Well, a few friends and I had a small party and we drank a few drinks. It was my first time so I was quick to get buzzed. It got worse as the night got on. We went out and went to a foreclosed house. We all went inside and wrecked it. I don't remember exactly how we wrecked it since I was drunk, but it was bad. I didn't think about that house for weeks since I could barely remember anything. Then one day at school, our cop located there, told me I needed to go in for questioning. I admitted everything and told them all I could. I was ashamed of myself and my parents were too.

I had to pay for damages along with my friends, and got 30 hours of community service which I had to pick up trash from my school and clean the lunch trays. It truly changed my life in so many ways. I stopped hanging out with friends after school a lot, and do it only with really close friends. This made me start to get into computing and gaming. I rarely went out and got a little chubby, later working it off, and after a while I found HF. I have now vowed not to drink until I am 21. It ruined my freshman year at school and my parents were insanely disappointed with me as I was myself. Sometimes I regret what happened, who wouldn't, but if I ever feel bad about it, I just remember how great of a community I found on HF. I am just forever grateful that I didn't get into serious trouble. Sorry for the long story, but is the only memorable experience I have had and made me the person I am today.

Sir Asylum - December 9, 2012, 11:09 am

Name: Sc??z????™

Age: I am 17 years old

Gender: Male

Religion: I am Christian

State/Country: I live in the Netherlands. That is a small country next to Germany.

Time Zone: My timezone is GMT+1

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

~Web Development

Most of my daily activities are related to web development. I don't consider myself one of the best developers, but I am quite decent at developing sites from scratch. I have made a Pay-per-minute booter source from scratch and sold this on HF. Also I tend to teach fellow users about the fun/experience you can have, if you learn PHP.

~Penetration Testing

About 2 or 3 years ago I was pretty active in the Hacking scene. My life was dedicated to become the best of the best and find 0day exploits 24 hours a day. I considered myself a very fanatic blackhat hacker and dedicated my life to perfecting my hacking knowledge. About a month ago I realised that it was better for me to become a "White hat" hacker and share my knowledge to help people improve their security.

~Marketing/Managing a business

This is actually one of my favorite subjects in life.

Currently I am studying business economics at the (in the Netherlands we call this HBO). You could interpret it as a pre-university.

I am currently in the first year and I hope to apply this knowledge further in my career. Here they teach us how to make a product popular (Public relations), marketing techniques (Commercials, Getting your product known, etc), How to organise your company and much more.

~Making an organisation healthy

It sounds quite funny if you read it at first, but let me explain this briefly. Making an organisation healthy, means generating profit when it's at loss. For an example: You have a company that sells headphones, but you don't make any profit at all? You ask yourself: "Hey, what do I do wrong to not generate any profit?". That's where I come in.

I usually make a new business plan with that person and make a scheme with all the financial information: E.g: The amount of money that comes in, the amount of money that goes out, the people who fabricate the headphones, any alternatives to those fabricators and so on.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: While being active on HF, i have noticed that Empire members are quite HQ and obviously know what they are talking about with everything they do. Plus they have alot of ambition for what they do and so do i. I hope to learn alot from these members and also to teach them something about web development, if they would like that.

Also most of the people in The Empire are entrepreneurs and work with Business economics on a daily basis. I hope that i can share my knowledge with them, so they know more about marketing/public relations and Organising there business.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel that i should be accepted into The Empire, because i really try to help the new members on HF and support them where i can. You could consider that to be HQ, thats up to you.

Also i spend about 7 hours a day on HackForums looking to improve my and other peoples knowledge. For an example in the Beginner Hacking section or the Website Hacking section. I am not saying that i am spending 7 hours a day refreshing those sections to see if there are new posts etc, but i hope you get what i am trying to tell.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well my life wasnt really enjoyable, untill about 3 years ago. It all starts with the birth of a little boy named Corniche.

Untill i was about 6 years old, my parents were happy together and we actually lived a very good life. We were wealthy, we had alot of family friends and so on. But when i reached the age of 6 my mother started to drink a lot of alcohol (about 1 bottle of bacardi per day). In the beginning we didnt notice it, because she only drunk at night. But after a while she also started to drink in the morning when me and my dad were at home.

Everytime my mother was drunk she started to attack me for no particulair reason and beat me like i was some sort of boxing sack.

My dad couldn't do anything about it, because if my dad did something my mother would cut herself and call the police, saying my dad had attacked her with a knife. At the age of 8 my parents divorced and my mother kidnapped me to a foreign country against my will. Away from my so beloved father.

For the past 5 years my life was a living hell.

I struggled with child obesity, problems at home and problems at school.

One day when i was about 14 years old, i got into a fight with my mom.

And she beat me with an ash tray. That day litterally scarred my life.

I couldnt bare with everything so i ran away from home, to my grandmother, who luckily lived nearby.

After chatting with her for quite a while, she went to a local travel agency and booked me a one way trip back to my old country.

I was delighted. I could finally see my father again.

After moving in at my dads house, my life got back to normal.

I got rid of the child obesity by healthy food and exercising alot!

I think i lost around 30kg's.

After that i went to a normal highschool and graduated from it with excelent grades. Want to know how? I have always kept in mind that if you fight for what you want, no mather how bad your life is.

You will always win and enjoy succes.

Anything else you want to say: Goodluck to all the other members who are applying!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): First of all I'd like to point out that I don't really consider myself a very "skillful" person compared to the majority of members in The Empire. The "skill" that I'm most proud of is my ability to learn quickly, and use what I learn in positive ways. I believe having this skill is important because it gives other, more experienced members of The Empire a way to use there knowledge to improve the group. Don't get me wrong though, I do have other skills. I am moderately experienced in multiple programming languages including Java, Javascript, and some Python. Lately, I have been using my knowledge of Java to create mods for Minecraft. I am a member of the Bashcraft Dev-Team. I'll include a link to my profile somewhere in this application.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I have wanted to join The Empire since I started on Hack Forums. You guys are just so great to this community. Helping out in anyway you can in all areas of the forum. Who wouldn't want to be a part of that? Now that an opportunity has arisen, I have to take my chances.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I fell I should be accepted into The Empire because I can be a devoted, long-term member that only posts HQ, and helps out in the sub-forum, and all other sections of Hack Forums. I spend a lot of time on the internet, and I cant contribute a majority of that time to helping this forum, and The Empire.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I've had a very hard life. I grew up very wealthy, until around age 8. My father was a doctor that had multiple malpractice lawsuits. He experienced multiple hardships, and eventually resigned. He was out of work for about a year, and then my parents opened up an Urgent Care. Money was ok for about 2 years. Then my father became sick. To this day, I'm not sure what was wrong with him. It had something to do with him not being able to get rid of body fluids or something. His stomach started to swell up, and was twice it's original size. He couldn't walk. He eventually was put into the ICU for about 2 weeks. On June 27th of that year he passed away. We were broke. My mother sold the practice for 350,000 dollars. We recieve that money in intervals every month. As of right now, I'm living off of that, and social security checks. I'm also a devoted christain.

Anything else you want to say: Nothing really, except here is the link to my profile on bashcraft.

Good Grammar

Very good monetizer

Open-minded(I don't mind to meet people through the internet)

Off-line(IRL)

Socially active(In facebook I am always talking to my friends, almost everyone knows me at my school)

Not rude

Friendly

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I think that "The Empire" Usergroup is one of the most HQ groups in HackForums. Since I joined this forum I always saw your group active in the giveaways/contest sections, aswell as some nice business mens. Your name(Empire) stays in the hear, and it really sounds like an Elite. Who doesn't want to join an Elite group? I do.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I have done a few giveaways, holding a 3 prize contest at this moment... I am also friendly to everyone who reaches me and even to who doesn't like me. If I get in, count on me being even more active in the monetizing and contests section, representing "The Empire"

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I am Miguel Figueiredo, I am 16 years old. As all the kids I have school half of a day, and 2/3 hours are to stay with my friends/GF, etc... I also play the guitar and I am in High Competition swimming. Swimming defines who I am, what I really like to do, aswell as music. Both of them are an inspiration to me, that I wouldn't let go away for nothing.

Keylogging :

Here started everything. Keylogging got me intrested because there ware some hackers on Habbo Hotel. They sayed that they hacked much accounts with coins so they learned me and now i'm fully intrested in Keylogging but everything has a end? Right?

RAT - Remote Administration Tool :

Here is the most experience that i have. This was something else than keylogging , it intrested me more because you have more features. Spreading was not easy until i say some Youtube Video's. By youtube spreading i got like 1300 slaves.

Gaming :

I'm a hardcore gamer , i'm playing since the Gameboy and the Playstation. First-shooter and Third-shooters have something that attracting me , ofcourse sport games i'm very good asswell.

Phishing :

Here's ending the hack story for me. Phising was very easy for me , i came back to some games. Where i was enable to make a phising site. This was very easy for me and i quited the hacking section , but now i'm active in all sections from Beginner Hacking - Hosting

Why do you want to join The Empire?:
It's a very nice group , with very nice leaders.
For me it looks like a family , what i want.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:
Because i think i can give something back to the group.
I'm Thomas , 15 year old.
Playing football for like 7 years , my dad and mom are separete something what my really hurt.
I don't have really a familiy because when i was born the family of my dad ended contacting with him because he was married by a Algiers.

When i was 8 year olds i got bullied because i got a brown skin.
They sayed to me : " Baby POOP "
I got lucky , because this stops very fast i gaved them something back.

Now i'm lucky , with no family.
Still have some several problems with dad and my mom.
Fighting much whats really disappointing me.

Anything else you want to say :
Goodluck to everyone who's applying!

State/Country: Indiana, U.S. (I go to Purdue), but I really live in Chicago when I'm not at school.

Time Zone: EST or GMT -5

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Teaching others

I am a very good teacher and do great with explaining complex topics in a manner that most people can understand. When I was a Jr. at Purdue I signed up to be a TA for a General Chemistry class, which pretty much means I had a class of about 30 students who I saw twice a week. My job was to go over the material they learned in lecture and help out the students who had problems understanding the material. At the end of the year I received lots of positive feedback from my students and I had a 4.6/5 rating. And this doesn't just go for educational material, I am quite active in the Beginner Hacking section helping out people with problems they are having.

You can also see that in my signature I offer free help to anyone with any chem or math related question, I always love to help people out.

I'm patient and a good listener

I guess this isn't really a skill, it is more of a virtue. But I think that being a patient person and being able to listen is a very important aspect of a person. My reasoning is the same as above, when I was a TA you wouldn't believe the amount of question I received. It was a very frustrating job at times, but no matter how stupid their questions may have seemed, I always listened to what they had to say and did my best to explain it to them.

But I think it is necessary to have patient and the ability to listen to be a good teacher.

RATs, Crypters, etc.

Like I said earlier, I am very active in the Beginner hacking section, usually helping people out with common noob questions. Like most skids I came to HF to learn how to steal RS accounts lol, I was quite good at it and made a decent amount of IRL cash as well. Anyways, I have long quite doing that as I quit RS a long time ago. But, I still know many things about rats, crypters, etc since I used to use them very often. I am great with troubleshooting problems with servers.

After I got to know the basics of them I started getting more involved in more advanced spreading methods like JDB's and such. And at one point I had quite a large botnet. Didn't really do much with it and I deleted all of my slaves off of it years ago.

But I still know all the knowledge necessary to create one again, and I am really now using my knowledge to help those who are new here.

Problem Solving + Critical Thinking

This is perhaps one of my greatest skills that I possess. I already said that I go to Purdue University, but I didn't mention what I am majoring in. My major is Chemical Engineering. The reason I went into engineering is because it heavily relies on critical thinking and problem solving skills. During my years here at Purdue I have done many extra curricular activities involving engineering and community service. My team mates would call me the Sage because I had a solution to every problem of theirs. This is also why I love helping others, because often times I have a solution to their problem.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

For me, I see The Empire as a place where I can learn a lot of knowledge. I will also hopefully be able to teach many of the members a fair amount as well. But perhaps most importantly of all, I have heard from many other Empire members that it is a great group and that there is a sense of "family" within the group. I would love to be involved in a group like this.

I have also yet to meet an Empire member who was not knowledgeable, and all of them have been very helpful. I would like to one day see myself as a member of a group such as The Empire that is well known for helping others, because that is my primary goal here on HF.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I may not be the best coder or the most knowledgeable member here on HF, but what is different about me is that I am openly willing to share everything I know with other members here. I have helped countless numbers of people with issues ranging from Chem HW to crypting their RATs for free. And hopefully what I learn from being in The Empire I can use to further help more members here.

So in short, I feel that I would have a lot to contribute to this group and I am sure that being in this group will teach me a lot as well. And I am always up for learning new tricks and tips.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I don't have many life changing events that have occurred in my life thus far, but there is a video that I remember watching my Freshmen year of engineering at Purdue that has really changed the whole way that I go about living. The video isn't much, but I guess it is the message that stuck with me. Anyways, the video was essentially about mindsets, and before watching it I was always a "fixed mindset" personality, which meant that I rarely took risks due to fear of failing. My fear of failing had severely limited my life: I was usually too afraid to ask girls to dances, for fear of rejection, I was also too afraid of being too close to any of my friends for fear of them thinking I was weird.

After watching that video however, everything changed. I decided that day to take a risk for once. I did, and it really paid off for me. Since that day I have never stopped taking risks and I no longer fear failure or embarrassment like I once did. I can't say I regret it either, most of the risks I have taken have paid off immensely, and without watching that video, I may never have been the person I am today.

The person I am now is much different than the person I was years ago. I am now an outgoing person who is very open and kind. I am always willing to help others out. And I am a very innovative person, I am studying to be a chemical engineer because I am great at problem solving and critical thinking. I also love doing community service, and here at Purdue I am on the EPICS team, which stands for Engineering Projects for Community Service, which is a team of engineers who design projects that will help the community out. Right now I am building an automatic bookshelf for students in wheelchairs who would usually not be able to reach the bookshelf.

Here is the video if you care to watch it or were wondering what it was:

Anything else you want to say:

I would like to say a couple last things, one of them being if you accept me I doubt you will regret your decision. Also, I know my application isn't as appealing as some of the others that used GFX, but I think the content matters most, so I hope you don't write mine off because of my lack of "fluff". If I had the graphic skills to create a very appealing application I guarantee you I would have, but sadly GFX are not in my skill set.

Thank you for reading my application,

Sincerely,

Jack

I decided to re apply because my first attempt was lacking in detail, and I know I could've done a better job.

One last thing, Happy Holidays!

State/Country:

I am from the US, Kentucky to be exact.

Time Zone: I am in Eastern Standard Time

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

E-Whoring

I am pretty good at E-whoring, although I don't do it very often as I used to. I actually bought my upgrade to l33t with money I had earned from E-whoring. The rest of the money I ended up sending to another user on Hf so that he could get l33t too. After that I only earned around $20, I used that to buy some Xbox Live Gold.

Gaming

I am a very big gamer, and have been for a very long time. I started around age 6. I didn't get serious until around 10 years old, when I experienced Xbox Live for the first time at a friends. From there, I just had to have it! I went and bough the adapter, and a membership. Although I had a love for gaming long before then, that is when it got more important in my life. I actually became a no-life loser around the age of 11 because I was so sucked into the Xbox. I now try to play as much, but as a result have just ended up spending more time on the internet, or to be more specific, HackForums, Youtube, and Twitter. Although now I have a much better balance of real life, and online stuff. This is also why I'm also in the group Respawn. You can ask Astonish, me and him play 2v2's all the time, I'm no expert MLG pro by any means, but I'm pretty good. Me and him have a record in 2v2's of around 200-15 or so.

Coding

I was once pretty good with Java, but this was back when I ran an Minecraft server. I coded small plugins for it, and it helped me to understand what was going on with other plugins and the server as whole. I could analyze and solve problems much faster. I have since then forgotten most of it , but wouldn't mind picking it back up. I would also enjoy learning another language, but I think I will wait until I build my new PC. That is one reason I never got to serious about it, or kept doing it. The laptop I am currently on is very small, and not very powerful. Coding is a challenge on it to put it lightly, that is one reason I am so excited for my new PC!

Computer Hardware

I am really into PC hardware, or actually just PC's in general. I am currently building my own PC, here is an image of it:

(WARNING: Very large image, to simply view it in a new window: <https://i.imgur.com/26spS.jpg>)

Spoiler (Click to View)

I really enjoy computer hardware because it is always changing, and I like to experiment with new things. You can make many combinations and see how they compare to others. I also really like knowing how things work. Being on the computer is something I do quite a bit, so it is one of the things I am most interested in understanding, and learning about.

Notice:

The rest of this application will be in a video format

[Video: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=vBVvrSmJX90>]

This is the script I wrote for the video, is pretty much what I said in it. Made it so I wouldn't lose my thoughts throughout the video.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?

I think I should be accepted because I am a nice guy, that is overall pretty HQ. I am easy to get along with, willing to work with others, and not afraid to try new things. I like to help and be involved with things that the group or its users are doing.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you?

Something memorable in my life... hmmm. I was trying to think of something happy for this, but a negative thing stuck out in my mind more. It would have to be the time I contracted Kawasaki Disease. For those that don't know what it is, I will link in the description (<http://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pubmedhealth/PMH0001984/>)

It was literally a living hell. My whole body was swollen, and inflamed. I could barley move, and when I did it was very painful. It itched extremely bad, my eyes where irritated all day, and all night. I could barley sleep. I had Iv's in both of my arms, and they had to change them daily because my veins wouldn't be able to handle all the fuild being pumped into my body. It was like this for about a week. Finally the treatment began to get rid of it, but even after that my hands and feet would peel. When I say peel, I don't mean little bits of skin. I mean that I could just peel the skin off the palms of my hands and my heels.

As far as who I am, I partially made this video in the hope that it would convey some of my personality. The reason I am who I am is because of my parents, who have always been there for me. My two step-siblings. My friends. My teachers. Pretty much anyone and everyone I have ever looked up to in life. I thank all of them for that, because without them who knows the type of person I could have become.

I have no additional notes really, other than good luck to Tibit and Aeon with the new group, and that I hope to see you all in the Empire sub-forum in the near future!

Thanks!

What are some skills that you have:

- Online Monetizing: Over the last two years, I have had an urge to earn an online income to help support my own needs without requiring assistance from other people. Throughout this period I have been through tough times where things haven't gone according to plan (But hey, that's life). However, after several s in the road, I have finally enabled myself to earn online using both PPD and CPA. Although I'm not a major earner, I am constantly developing and enhancing my knowledge of online monetizing to ensure that my learning never stops and nor does my earning potential.

- Marketing: I have been trading goods for cash ever since I was 14 when I first started playing Runescape. I may sound like a douche for saying this but money is what mainly motivates me to play games. If there is no possibility for me to earn money off a specific game, I tend to stay away from it and find something else to spend my time on. After years of developing my marketing skills and attempting to get my virtual items to be sold, I have moved onto much more useful non-game related items. The main concept behind my marketing is attempting to find communities of which have a certain demand where there is insufficient supply and take advantage of this gap between supply and demand. An example would be providing youtube views to a gaming community who are close-minded and shop mindlessly no matter what the price.

- Friendly: I am easy to get along with and try my best to help assist people wherever I can, even if I just met them 2 minutes ago.

Why do you want to join The Empire:

Upon the establishment of The Empire, I first thought that it would be another one of those groups who would have no main purpose and be nothing but a userbar. However, after several months of establishment, Tibit along with all the leaders have clearly developed a very strong group which is respected among the members of HackForums. The group has also shown that the members of The Empire have a strong bond between themselves and are basically a virtual family who would stop at nothing to help each other. The relationship which exists in the group between every member is something that I have always crave for and hence my desire to join The Empire.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I would be a great addition to the group as I am a member who respects both myself and others. I am not hard to get along with and provide great assistance to those in need. Although I am not tech savvy, I will help assist the member in need to the best of my ability otherwise I will help them find someone who is capable of assisting them. The acceptance of my membership will not deteriorate the quality and reputation that The Empire has built and sustained over the recent few months. I attempt to keep my posts as high quality as possible by avoiding the repetition of another's response and avoiding problematic issues which may result in negativity towards the image of the group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

To get things rolling, my name is Gav and live in Australia. I first started using the internet to play Runescape back around 2004, tirelessly fighting goblins and burying bones. After two years of playing such a GREAT (notice my sarcasm?) game, I decided to call it quits with my grades slowly degrading. However, I was then introduced to a game called Maplestory which was where the real fun began.... I started spending my weekends playing the game, which then developed into a daily routine. The game has taught me to trust no-one on the internet and that assisting friends and allies will be beneficial to myself later down the track. Apart from this, the game was also the start to my adventure on HackForums. I was first encountered by a hacker on the game claiming to be Anonymous and have ties with Omniscient and the owner of 4chan. At the current time of this encounter, I was of course shitting myself to what I have gotten myself into, having being threatened of being Dox'd and having pizzas being sent to my address. The dreaded thought of my parents finding out pizzas were being sent to my house frightened me and kept me awake for the following two days. After the two days, I found out it was just a prank and just some faggot in their grandmother's basement playing around with me. However, I decided to visit HackForums to check out the community and develop my knowledge on both technology and online money making. I've dwelled in the market place discussions for the first few months of my HF membership, bought a RAT, xvisceral's incident happened, scared me to shit, decided to do online marketing. So yeah, that's how I got here and posting this very application.

Anything else you want to say:

Thanks for reading my application bebz

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): On the internet I guess it would be my resourcefulness. I am very good at thinking things through and problem-solving. I am a very moral person so I do not even step near black-hat issues. I am a good salesman and sell quite a bit of stuff on eBay. Off the internet I am a very good student and play hockey. I guess some examples of my problem-solving would be like a friend I used to know, all I knew was his xbox gamertag. Through that I went through about 7 more accounts and aliases and a few friends to find out what his name was and get back into contact with him. All that from just a xbox account.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I really want something else to do on HF. Hackforums is sort of seeming to get less enjoyable and I think a group would help bring my joy of this site back. I know that people in the group would be well-educated and mature, and that is the type of group/area I want to be in.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I know I would be a good fit since I am a mature, smart, and friendly member. I do everything I can to help people when I see fit, and have always been honest. I am always HQ when I post, but I never post to just get my count up. I would do everything I could to help boost the groups image throughout the forum, and help members within the group and sub-forum.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: One of my most memorable moments was my first concert. In school I have my own set of friends, just a normal kid. Not going to lie to increase my e-penis and say I am the most popular kid. But I decided to go to a concert with my cousin. It was Avicii, and if you don't know who he is he is an EDM artist. His music is what some would call dubstep but it is more house. Well anyways going to a concert was definitely out of my comfort zone. Well that concert changed me. It turned me more from an introvert to an extrovert. After that concert I have basically tripled the amount of people I hang out with and has made me a way happier person.

Anything else you want to say: Not much, basically said all I felt I needed to above. I just really would like to get into this group so I could maybe have somewhere to post again, and really enjoy this site like I did before. Thanks for reading.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

*Image Editor; When I wrote "Image Editor" in my skills it means I edit a lot of images and people think I made them, I can look at a thread design here in forum and I don't need to ask for a .PSD I can just make it under 3 minutes or more. A lot of people have contacted me to make them Facebook Cover and more, and I was glad to help them!

*Graphic Designer; I've always liked to make signatures/avatars and much more for people. I've got the right colours in my eyes to make it FANCY and good look, and not to forget when people ask me to make for them I make it sexy so they can love it and don't tell me "No sorry." I can make alot of signatures if I want and avatars and it doesn't make me any problem. You can see some my TUTs on my profile.

*Facebook Cover Maker; Well I've made alot of Facebook Cover's and my friend owns a site; "http://www.firstcovers.com/" and I work for him and his team, we have good experiences with it.

*White Hat Helper; As I said, I love helping White Hat hackers who just begun, it will maybe be a big challenge because they wont understand but we need just keep and keep trying, Ive helpt many HF users to.

*Stressing Support Now I guess you think why I added this, well that's because I've been working in alot of stressers (Booters) in my HackForums time. I know how to deal with errors and bugs, and know how to fix Skype Resolver(s). And not to forget I know how to handle the Layer-7 and the normal attack methodes.

[img]http://i1.minus.com/ibbCaCIBeoXJ8c.PNG[/img]

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Because The Empire is the best group for me and I can finally share my knowledge with my or our private sub forum on a variety of subjects. And I can show people that The Empire can be much better than you know. I also want to show them that if you are a regular person, don't feel that you are not worth to join any group because it just take time. I want to meet people from Empire so I can talk with them and have some good conv; and maybe we can be friends.

I also want to do more HQ threads like you and when I design something I can finally be proud and add "The Empire" logo in the thread design in copyright. And what more can I say, I love Empire!

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Because you guys need someone like me, I registred in 2011 and begun getting HQ I didn't know a shit about hacking or anything than I learnt things. I got L33T on 05.12.2012 from a great person and people thanked me alot. And because I'm HQ user and if I get accepted I will feel more HQ and make more HQ tutorials. I think I'm a good user who can help people and be nice with them, and you guys maybe need some more people like that, I don't scam people ether, I've been here since 2011 and I don't got any scam report and I wont have it ether so you guys need more HQ users. And I'm a kid that learn something new everyday and will always learn it to others people, I always want to share my knowledge to show them that I really care for them!

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm a 15 years old boy who lives in Norway and who had many bad things in my life. I remember when I was 2 years old kid my parents got divorced and I had very bad life. When I grow up and was 5 years old I listened to Michael Jackson songs and saw his videos. I begun dancing and he was my inspiration and when I was 6 years old I moved to Norway with my mother.

When I gone in school there etc and lived with my mother we moved to another city and than I was 12 years old who was a good dancer. I danced to many people and they loved it. But some haters told me "You will never be as great as Michael and you will not be famous" and I'm right with them there, I will never be as great as Michael, but I will be famous so I turned around and told them "Watch me, and we'll see" than after I got bullied because of my #SWAG and because I dance. My life have been hard and I will try to handle this by myself, and my name is Jaden and this is who I'am if no bitches in the world like me, well they can leave. For this is who I'am and will be.

When I was 7 years old I begun with making arts in PAINT.NET and always loved it, than I became more older and got more knowledge in computer(s) and I helpt many people who had like virus or got keylogged or anything problem in their computer. And now I gonna join something called "IT" here in Norway, its about computer(s) and technology.

This was everything about me, thanks for taking your time and reading this.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I feel that one of my skills would be advice. Pretty much fitting into the Innudeno section. I've been through everything in my relationship, so I know what advice to give people in this area.

Website design. I'm currently in my second year of a college course in web design. This requires me to do JavaScript, and HTML.

To go with the above, I would list HTML as a skill. This is one of my strongest coding languages. I'll admit, I'm not very strong with JavaScript, so I just try to use HTML instead whenever I can.

Social Engineering - People I know that I've "worked" with have told me that I'm one of the better social engineers. I don't mean social engineering businesses to get products, I mean social engineering people to get info, passwords, etc..

Computer security - This is my most knowledgeable area of computers. If someone is having a problem with intrusion, I can pretty much tell them how to get rid of it, or fix it almost immediately. My last college degree is a computer networking degree. One of the required courses was a computer security course. This was my highest graded course.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join The Empire because it seems like a group that would not use favoritism towards certain members or friends. I've seen members of this group post, and they are all really high quality. HackForums needs more of these groups, so this is one I would to be part of, and to contribute to.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel that I should be accepted into The Empire because I have been a member of HackForums since 2009, so I feel that I could contribute a lot based on my knowledge that I've gained since my join date. I always do my best to strive to be high quality by using proper grammar, and spelling, which is what this group is. When I am able to do a giveaway, or contribute with the limited resources I have, I do this. I would do these giveaways in the name of The Empire, and keep the high quality name that the group lives up to. I am on HackForums for around 6 hours per day, so this would give me a lot of time to contribute, and post.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: My name is Mutes aka Jordan. I am 22, and have been a member of HackForums for 3 years. I can honestly say that so far, I haven't had anything significantly memorable happen in my life.

One thing that makes me who I am is I am vegetarian. I don't believe that animals should be killed and given to us to eat. The reason I say this is the things the animals go through to get on our plate. It's really cruel the way they are killed. I disagree with animal cruelty. I think all animals should be treated like humans. I stand for this, and it will not change. This is one thing that makes me who I am.

Lastly, I guess my journey on HackForums started in 2009 because of wanting to hack video games. I had looked up different ways to hack a specific game and stumbled across this website. I browsed the appropriate section, and found nothing interesting. I stopped coming on for probably a year, then came back out of curiosity. I started reading, and posting, and realized this was a great site. I have learned a lot, and I will keep learning, and sharing what I know.

Anything else you want to say: Did you hear about that Italian chef that died? He pasta way. LOL!

- RATS
- Bots
- Ewhoring
- Social Engineering and other fraud based skills.
- Sqli
- Learning Pentesting
- Wifi hacking

Why do you want to join The Empire?: This would be a good group for me to spread out my HF wings and take to the very sky, i want the group to befit me so later I can be a good benefit for it. Hopefully someday, I can jump into leadership and be another good runner.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I am a multi role member and new, I am already making a good name for myself. I can help add on to the groups good name by accepting another good member into it. Give a chance for a star to shine.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I left school to pursue something new in my life, business was my thing and something i wanted to do very good at. I was going to always try and im a person to get something done. I changed who I was and my perspective on life, Success is my motivator failure is my hater. I will keep going on my path, if it come to take me where ill accept it and go on it. You navigate your boat no one else does!

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

Repairing

Marketing

Repairing and the beginning of my Monetizing

I started to make money when i was ~8 years old. I started with fixing bikes for a small payment and sometimes even just rewards, many in my neighborhood usually got their bikes thrown or just that somebody cut their wheel or something. Later on in 2002 i got my first computer. I bought it with my money that i made from fixing bikes. After a while with my computer, something went wrong. I had some problems with it. I thought that i should check it out and replace some parts too see what's wrong with it. I bought some parts from here and there and then went home. First thing i did was to get all of the electricity gone. Then i started to analyze/study the parts, i then replaced one by one until it started to work, i then knew the issue, my hdd was the issue. I wasn't satisfied by just "fixing" my computer because i just replaced the parts. I had to understand why and what happened.

Marketing

When i got older, around ~16 i saw so many possibilities in the internet, and i started to learn about Marketing. But the first thing i did when was buying my first iPhone. It cost me a lot but i had the money for it. I then started to repair iPhone screens, but that wasn't the main source of my income. I began playing games, i mostly played Runescape. It was fun but that wasn't actually why i was playing, i played it for the money i made. I knew people irl who played and bought gold. I used to lure people into wilderness to kill them for their bank. I made around 400m RSGP in some months although I barley spent some time on it. Some of the people I sold gold to were always asking me how I made the RSGP, I just said "it is easy". I was to blind to understand that they was interested in purchasing it but for a reason they never told me it directly until one of them really wanted to know. He asked me if I could teach him how to make money in RS fast as I did for $50. I taught him. I then made a E-Book on how to lure and made a simple website and sold it online for $10 per copy. That was my start of marketing.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I am interested in joining The Empire because it seems to be a HQ Group, i also want to share some of my tips & tricks and get taught some stuff. I also discovered there already is a iMale in The Empire so its even more tempting to join!

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel that I shall be accepted into The Empire because I deem myself HQ enough to fit in the group and make it have good reputation. I would also share my knowledge and help members, i would also do giveaways and much more :)

The day I saw the iPhone completely changed my life, I was really obsessed with it. I was lucky that i had Money enough to buy it. I had Money saved from all my time working. I had a hard time trying to get my parents to let me buy it, they didnt like me buy stuff they wanted me to save them. I just had to buy it! At last i had my parents permission to buy my iPhone so i Went to the store and purchased it, i spent my week without my computer but with my iphone instead because i didnt actually have to use my computer aslong as i was just lurking the web!

Anything else you want to say:

Just wanted to say that i have Always been looking forward to join The Empire.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
my skills are in Coding & Marketing more info below.

Coding

I started coding about 2 years ago.

I'm skilled at website coding only.
I'm knowledgeable at the following coding languages :
PHP HTML Java script SQL.

Marketing

Not much to say about my marketing skills.
i have sold allot of memberships in my stresser & some other projects that i've created.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Its been a long time since i wanted to join The Empire and now i finally have the opportunity to do that, I & i suppose most of HackForums fine The Empire 1 of the most HQ Group in HF , And i have allot of knowledge to share with the group and i hope i will get the chance to do it and expand the knowledge of the group .

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I think The Empire is an amazing HQ Group and i think i should be accepted to The Empire for a few reasonsI have allot of knowledge to share with the group and the whole community and i would like to have a chance to do that.

I have the power and the will to keep the group active and fresh anytime.

I feel like i have so much things to share about my self and i wish ill have the chance to do that aswell.

as it mentioned below my life wasn't so easy for me in those last few years , and getting accepted for The Empire will make my life better. :)

I have contributed allot to HF Community and i will continue doing that.
a few examples :

I really hope i will get the chance to do all that and make it come true :).

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

My life have been not so good so far but i did learned how change negative to positive everything can be change , its just in our mind.

I had allot of problems in school when i was a kid , i still do.
but i learned that everything is possible.
Life is full of surprises , everything is changeable.

Last year i moved to another city , it was really rough for me because all of my friends were there and everything .. i was really bummed at first , but after a few weeks i realized that i actually get a new opportunity to prove my self.
it did took me awhile but now everything is great :).

this few years were really rough for me its true , i had really bad time this year and last year.. but as i said , everything is changeable if you get the chance to do it right.

as it mentioned above im from israel , and everyone knows about the war between israel to the hamas.
most of the people think that the hamas are the good people and we are the bad people , but its not true.
allot of people thinking israel & jews deserve to die while they only heard the hamas side.
but what about our side ?
its really hard to live in such a country that everyone are just interested in destroying her.

i really hope some day peace will take control all over the world and will end all of this stupid wars.
Anything else you want to say:
I would like to thank Tibit & Chief & Natha & Hazy for leading such an amazing group and letting me the ?ppportunity to be a part of the group & giving me the chance to show who i am. also i would like to wish everyone else good luck with their applications.
Best regards ,
Apple J4ck.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I am very familiar with GFX, although to be completely honest I would need to freshen up my skills a bit. But I know after a couple days of messing around with it, I will be able to gain my skills back.

I am a good gamer. I have been gaming since before I was a teenager, and have gotten pretty good at it if I don't say so myself. I game on the PC rarely as I tend to use my desktop for strictly school work, and my laptop tends to lag the game a bit too much for my liking. I do, however, play the Xbox 360 and keep up with news on updates, newest hot games, next-gen consoles, etc.

My personality sets me off as someone who does not care about much, but when people really begin to talk to me, they will soon realize I am a very helpful person who is extremely social. I enjoy interacting with the community as well as cheer people up, as I know what it's like to be down. As I said, I am very social and will lend a hand to anyone in need, despite our differences. I also do not hold grudges.

Social Engineering is another one of my strong suits. Granted, I am not nearly as active as I should be in the S.E. section, but that still does not mean I lack this skill. I can get myself out of almost any situation, and I have acquired free/discounted items from stores in the past. Stores I have acquired services/products from are Gamestop, Wal-Mart, Bestbuy, Hollister, and a few more.

I am a very good writer. I know this might not seem much, seeing as my application probably isn't the best you've received. But Language Arts is my strongest subject in school, and I have a rather vast vocabulary. So, there will be no need for you to worry about my grammar as it is acceptable.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would like to join The Empire because to be completely honest, I have wanted to join this high quality group for a very long time. I literally missed the last application deadline by just a few hours. I have heard nothing but good things about this particular group, and I want to contribute as much as I can, and in whichever way I possibly can. I want to join this group so I can help others just as members in this group have helped me. The Empire is very admirable and respectable, and I think I will be a good fit.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel as if I can contribute to this group and make it even more unique and high quality as it already is. I am a very dedicated individual who is seeking to meet and interact with fellow members within the group and sub-forum. I will be committed to this group as I have been wanting to join this for a long time. I want to share my knowledge, as well as learn from fellow respected members.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I have always been a very unusual according, that is according to my teachers. They call me unusual simply because I am not afraid to speak my mind, nor am I afraid to stand up for what I believe in. I enjoy interacting with people, this being because I am a very outgoing person. A little fun fact for you, I was voted most likely to succeed due to my perserverance my sophomore year in high school. I do not take anything for granted, and the day I do is the day I lose respect for myself. You see kids nowadays standing around with their iPods, iPads, iPhones, and other ridiculously expensive items that will more than likely be replaced if broken. Truth be told, they are unappreciative. I grew up in a household that was, let's just say, not in the richest of areas. I didn't have fancy music players, I didn't have name brand clothes, my refrigerator wasn't always full. I do not want to give off the impression that I was "poor" but rather not as privileged as kids nowadays. This limitation growing up molded me into the person I am today, and I do not want to seem cocky, but I am relatively pleased with how I turned out to be. I have a roof over my head, clothes in my dresser, food in my kitchen, and I am grateful for every bit of it. I never take anything for granted. I respect anyone who respects me, and always seek to resolve any conflicts with people. I do not hold grudges, they are a waste of both time and feelings. Forgive and forget.

My father also told me as a child, "As a man, you only have two things in life. Your balls, and your word."

Anything else you want to say:

I love you. If accepted, I will not let you down. You have my word. Also, my apologies for the wall of text. ?

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

I'm good with HTML, CSS , PHP and MySQL, WP, Drupal. Plus, I can make you a completely custom forum from MyBB with every possible customization.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

It's all about sharing and caring. I've been helping people with Web Dev since I came here. And, I think being in your group will expose me to a greater number of audiences who want to learn and teach others.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Beacuse after helping people and without any -ve reps till now, I do deserve being in such a honorable, and reputed group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I hit hackforums back in February of this year, I was not searching for hacking forums, but I was making a keylogger in VB 6. After sometime, I felt that seeing a source code would probably help me to understand how keyloggers are made. I started googling, then came up a thread from HF on the results, I clicked it. That was the first time I hit hackforums. I was not as good in PHP and MySQL that time. I was still having bad times learning it. See, now it's december, And I'm not as new here as I were in February. All the knowledge i gained over these months was used to help people come out of problems.

I daily wake up at 4:00 AM just to be able to chat with people who need help becaused i'm in India and the time i wake up, whole world is snorting. This shows how dedicated i am to help people. Because, to get, we must learn to give.

And, I have not charged($$) anyone till now for my help, except Too Fresh, who upgraded me to L33T.

Anything else you want to say:

Games don't attract me, cause I don't like games.

Thank You. :D

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

I may have joined the forums as a Minecraft Griefer, a troll at heart, but since I have made it my goal to be as helpful and supportive to people on HF as I can.

I know a few different programming languages well: Python, Java, and a bit of PHP. I always try to pass along my knowledge when it is helpful.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I have been on HF for quite some time now and am always looking for ways to better help the community. From everything I have heard about The Empire, I understand that its well respected position in the community and the connections that I can make will only help me try to make HF a better and more mature place.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I strive to be a better role model for new members by constantly learning better ways to be a better member. I believe that not only can I bring lessons from my own experiences to The Empire, but I would be an excellent representative for the group, pushing its cause of quality and maturity to the HF niches I'm most active in.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Perhaps the most memorable moment in my college life was when a fraternity brother of mine passed away. He had graduated the previous year and we had heard, just a few months later, that he had died having taken his own life. We had a memorial service for him in which every brother in my fraternity showed up. The sadness in everyone's eyes was incredibly touching and it only helped me realize how vulnerable life is. His passing, and the bond I share with my closest friends and brothers has changed how I approach life. Having already lost one friend, I am determined to be there for anyone who needs it and show everyone that there is someone who cares.

Empire Application

Name: Dylan

Age: 13

Gender: Male

Religion: Catholic

State/Country: Michigan, United States

Time Zone: EST

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Some skills that I have are Coding my best language is VB.NET but I am ok at C# and just started C++ I also have good communication skills I love helping people if they have problems with anything Hacking/Coding Problems. I have coded some famous Booter's / Stresser's on HF. For example Stealth Booter Currently has 45 Pages with all good feedback. Besides my computer life I love playing Baseball, Basketball, and loving hunting and fishing.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join The Empire because it seems like such a HQ Group with great members and a great motive to help out HF. I also would like to learn from the group share idea's and opinions.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I think I should be accepted into The Empire because I have been giving back to the community since I joined Hack Forums. Also I think I could share idea's and help members in The Empire and Members with in Hack Forums.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Something memorable that happened in my life was moving in with my Grand Parents. This was a memorable moment in my life because it changed my life in so many ways. Some ways it has effected me is not seeing my Mother as much, Also moving in with my Grand Parents and changing my daily life was a little hard to get use to. These are some reasons and details on how moving in with my Grand Parents changed my life.

What makes me who I am is my family and friends, With out my family and friends I would be a boring stick in the mud. Without my friends and family I really would have nothing. For example : If I did not have my Grand Parents I would have no were to live for 2 Years (Now My Mom is back on track). Also everything they have provided me with like for Christmas and my birthdays makes me very grateful to all of my friends and family. This is what makes me who and what I am.

Anything else you want to say: I would love to thanks The Empire for giving me a change to apply for there amazing group.

Wallhack's EMPIRE Application <3;;

Name: Teejay (wallhacks)

Age: I'm currently 19 years of age.

Gender: I'm a Male.

Religion: Australian with Italian.

State/Country: Queensland/Australia.

Time Zone: UTC +10:00 (Canberra,Melbourne,Sydney)

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I'm a quick learner, I have plenty to contribute back to the forums and the community, caring for others, I'm HQ, and I'm great to get along with, Im also very very active! I currently know abit about Java & PHP, Learning more about HTML, CSS & Javascript.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I am interested in joining The Empire because it's a very HQ Group, I want to contribute to you guys, aswell as the community itself, I have great knowledge and skills and I'm learning more as we speak! :)

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I'm very generous and kind, always doing giveaways and always contributing to others, I think I match the criteria you're looking for, I love to meet new people and always have discussions of about different subjects, I'm learning more and more every single day, I love to learn and I love to contribute!

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: When I first discovered gaming, I was so addicted, I begin cheating on different games, Maplestory, Counter-Strike, Heck I even cheated on Flash Games, I never use to browse forums/websites, but now that I have found HackForums, I'm honestly loving it. Its so addictive, I can't leave it, I love contributing to others and the community, I love doing giveaways to help people! It's such an amazing site and I wish I came here sooner, I only recently purchased L33T due to money issues, but I would of a long time ago, its truly worth it, I currently am a moderator a "cheat website" for games, basically help others with support they have and just general enquires.

Anything else you want to say: I just wanted to say, thanks for reading my application, I hope to hear back from you soon, you guys are a inspiration :)

Kind Regards;

Grammar-First of all although my grammar is not perfect i think its a plus because english is not my main language.

Logic-I think i have above average logic skills which allow me for a better understanding of how things works and how to fiend solutions to harder problems which needs meditation for others.

Gaming Experience-Since 2005 the date i got my PC i have played uncountable games starting from old ones to new and beta ones.I have a vast experience on all genres and i adapt to all games with ease.

Graphics-A few months ago i started using Photoshop to make myself an unique signature.Well it worked and all i can say now is that i have made at least 100 signatures for different members and i am open to make signatures to whoever pms me as i think this kind of services should be free.I have already made a free signature service in which i have made around 20 requests for different HF members.

Mentoring-I consider myself a good teacher to others and i have always helped others who needed more than a guide.

Great Listener-I consider myself a good advicer.

Computing Knowledge-I have over 7 years of experience in this domain.I have made myself a booter/phisher/rat i have experience in basic site hacking using sql/blind injection and i have a little experience in C++ from school.

Monetizing-I can make money online using different methods but despite i can do it i dont need it right now as i have all i need.In total i have around around 40-70$ by doing different cpa methods and selling gaming accounts.If i will ever require quick bucks i can always sell a few accounts.EDIT:Today after testing some method one of my friends gave me ,i am at around 20$ and waiting to cashout ,it was ppd and ppc.

[img]<http://s7.postimage.org/jncnqly7f/image.png>[/img]

The main reason in my opinion is that The Empire will offer me a plus to my seriousness and will make me feel that i belong to something that i shall respect and protect.

From the beginning i liked the idea of an empire because it makes the impression of a big and stable group just like old empires used to be.In addition to this it will make me feel more respected by others as joining this group is something that its not as easy as it sounds.I have become leet a little over 1 month ago and i can say that in this time i have almost tripled my reputation ,made a lot more guides and helped more members so by joining The Empire i will make a step further into becoming a top HF member.

I would like to participate in The Empire giveaways with my own items from various games which i had given away in my own name thus far.So far i have done around 5 giveaways so far and i am planning for new year another one

I feel i can be a great addition to this group because i have never disrespected another member and never abused my position as leet because until 2 months ago i was a normal member until i have won a contest and i will never remember how other members used to treat me just because i didnt have orange or blue as my name color.One of my favorite activities is teaching others ,so as soon as i will join i will share my knowledge with all The Empire members and soon i will make big and complex guides,because until now i concentrated on learning more.

[img]<http://s7.postimage.org/rrpd93a0b/image.png>[/img]

My real name is Malek ,i am 18 and i live in Romania.I dont have any passion right now all i do right now is going to school and learning new things on the internet(this is why i joined hf).I can say that i am an animal lover ,i own right now 2 dogs and 1 cat(used to own more) and i can also say that i value them as family members.

I am not a very sociable person meaning i spend most of my time at home because i prefer to spend my time learning new things.I think at least 1 hour of my day i spend in searching for new things to learn. Throughout time i have won different physics and math contests because of using my logic mostly.

I am a great listener and a great mentor and consider that once you learn something you must teach others and only then you can enjoy it.I believe that we should be all equal and that the greatest nation is a united one.

I love watching cartoons.My favorite cartoons are Courage the brave dog and Flapjack.

I have knowledge in all domains and i fit everywhere you put me and i am open minded to everything.In the past i had experience in the website hacking sector ,i used the sql method and also into stealing others accounts using a RAT but soon after i quit doing these as they made me feel bad at the end of the day knowing that I had myself experienced what it is to have your account stolen

[img]<http://s13.postimage.org/km9de7e6f/image.png>[/img]

If i get chosen i will do my best to fit in group and i can guarantee you that at the moment i become low quality i will dismiss myself from the group. Also, i have already made myself a The Empire sig that will assort with the userbar :D

I have looked a little at other applications and i know that mine is not the greatest but all i need is a chance and you will see i wont dissapoint you.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I have a good business mind. I am good at the art of persuasion. Not only a good web developer, but a good marketer as well. I have worked in few feature films as marketing manager as well. I am also good with web designing and programming such as PHP, HTML, Javascript, CSS etc.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: As I was away for quiet sometime, I would like to get back to getting known around here. I would like to meet new people and have great discussions as well.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I am an open-minded person. I like to meet new people and love to debate on interesting topics which I feel strongly about. I would also like to share my knowledge with other members as well as gaining more knowledge from other members as well.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: My name is Nimit. I am basically from India. When I was about 2 years, my mom left me with my grandparents and came to United States of America to make sure she and I both have a good future. I was then called to the states. Since I did not have good communication skills back in the day, I use to spend most of my time online. However, once I became confident to as who I was and what I could do, I left HackForums for quiet sometime. But now I have decided to not give all my time to one thing. But maintain the balance between real world and virtual world.

One of the important thing that happened in my life was my High School Graduation. My teacher had called home informing my parents that I would have to give senior year finals as I failed the quarter. But somehow they misunderstood it for "He failed the quarter, and if he fails the final as well, he will be held back.". That wasn't the case, but I didn't know that. On my graduation day as well, my teacher declined to talk to me. Then came the day of the finals. I asked her about failing the finals. She said it wouldn't matter. I would still graduate High School as I only failed the quarter and not the semester. That was one hell of a moment for me. All the pressure on my brain was released and I didn't care about the finals as well.

Something that makes me is my personality. I am straight forward. Whether it is to friends, families, or anyone. I am straight to the point and I don't take shit from anyone. Not even my parents. If I am wrong, I do apologize. But if I am not, I do not take it. I can stand up for myself when I am right, but also bend down if I am wrong.

Anything else you want to say: Just hope I get selected :D

Hello, my name is Philipp. My skills are coding in Java, C and other languages. I am also skilled in bruteforcing. I am also known in PPD Marketing, cause i made already over 50.000$ on various networks! I am a white-hat.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I really think, The Empire is one of the most famous groups here on the Forum. All most reputable members wich i know are member of The Empire.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I really can help every member, from Hacking to Coding languages, from bruteforcing to lucid dreaming. I am really expiriened in those themes, and i dont want to keep my knowledge, i want to share it with others! If you start giveaways, i can provide you for sure with many things, as example Premium Accounts, Steam Accounts...

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

There is much to say, but i want to stay on a really tragic expirience. My parents split up 7 years ago, when i was a little kid. It was a really hard time for me, my bro and also my mother. My mother did everything for us, she worked day and night at a hospital. When i were older, about 2 years ago, i came into internet marketing. I earned my first bucks, and bought my mom some really expensive things. She was really happy. After my earnings increased, and i made about 10k a month, me my mom and my brother made a journey to watch the polar lights...

Gaming: I have been gaming since I know for myself. I played a lot of games and owned a lot of consoles. It started when I was 4 years old and I started playing Nintendo 64, great times. Later then I got myself a PS1 and brother and I played it all the time. Later then we bought a PC, that was epic for me. I've had internet which was like 64kb/s :D

Social Engineering: I have been learning about SE when it was allowed on HF. I've SE'd Microsoft and EA Games, so I am not bad when it comes to SE. Still have a lot to learn.

White Hat: I've recently started to learn more about white hat.

R.A.T.'s: I've used many RATS in the past and I've also been in RATS Crew when it was on HF so I know how to handle these bad boys.

Programming: I am going to school that is about programming. Still learning basics. I am also learning C#, Visual Basic and other programming languages.

GFX: Recently I've started watching some tutorials for Photoshop and Corel DRAW, but I will learn more about this when I have some free time.

Helping: I am really good at helping people with any subject. I do my best to help people around HF.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

First of all, hello. There is many reasons for me to join Empire. I want to meet new people and also make new friendships on this forum. There is much to learn from this group as I've heard that people in it are really helpfull and friendly. I am also like that and I think that it would be a perfect match. I also want to learn other people stuff that I know and share my knowledge.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Because I am a friendly member. I like to talk a lot about various subjects. I like to help and learn new things. I have been HQ past these years and I have done really much for this community.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I want to talk about my experience on HackForums. I came to hackforums in early 2008. I was a noob which was looking for RuneScape cheats and tutorials on how to hack forums. So I joined and got a lot of information back in those days. I learned how to deface and many other things like RuneScape phishing, ratting and other useful stuff. So, I've decided to stay on HF because it had a lot of potential. Then I got active in the other sections of the forum which is the Gaming section. I really love that section since I came here. So, I continued to be active and in early 2009 I had some account issues. I couldn't log in and I pm'ed omni about this problems and asked him if I could make a new account. So this is that account. I've made a little break and started posting again. I've also tried to stay HQ to this date. I think I have accomplished that. I also want to thank to many members that I met here. Special ones are Skill, Mendacious, Aiir. Thats it for this :D

Anything else you want to say:

I would really like if you guys gave me shot to proove myself to the group. Trust me, if I get accepted, you won't get dissapointed.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

I have quite a lot of skills, first i will speak about programming:

When I joined HF I saw that many of the members who were respectable figures could program in one way or another, so,

I decided that I would learn, I started off with java because I was very interested in making minecraft clients, I found java a very good language and still practice it today. So I guess you could say Java is on skill. The next in VB.NET, I found that with java I was a bit limited so decided to start learning some .NET languages, I got quite far and to this day remember how to program in VB.NET.

The final language that I learned and am still learning today is C++

(I am learning this through Computer Science at school)

This brings me onto my next subject that I am good at which is computer science, I am studying this at school for GCSE and will be taking it to A-Level. Included in this course is, hardware, binary and many other computer aspects. These could again all be considered skills.

The final skill that I would like to talk about is my personality, I am a kinda person who respects everyone.

This is a skill because it allows me to be a good marketer, developer and thinker. It allows me to connect with other people and I guess you could say that is what the skill is, a people person, that's what I am.

*Also one last thing, I am okay at GFX, if you want some examples of work look here:

<http://flubbyhf.minus.com/>

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would like to join the empire because it is a HQ group that I have missed since I was kicked.

I feel that the group allowed me to become a more HQ HF member and I had great fun talking to other members within the group, thus, would love to be re considered. I also would like to join the group because it will allow me to learn some new skills and become an overall more HQ member. The empire will give me more opportunities around the forum because it will allow me to be recognized as a more HQ member who is a respected and respectable figure. It will also allow me to help other people more.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel that I should be given a chance in the empire because I am helpful, respectful and dedicated.

I will never let the group down and will always do my best to make sure that I am giving of a positive reflection on the group no matter where I am posting. I will also host giveaways and competitions when I can.

In short I will be extremely dedicated, not let you down and will give an amazing aspect to and from the group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Okay, first of please respect that what I am about to say is very personal.

About a year ago my grandfather has a stroke and died, when this happened I went into a complete and utter meltdown. At school I started acting as the 'badman', my grades went down and I was almost kicked out of school. I do not know why but my grandfathers death just had a massive effect on me and caused me to make decisions that I now regret.

However, there was some light at the end of the tunnel. About 6 months after this happened I was getting some counselling from my school and they were helping me to get back on track. But one thought was always there in the back of my mind: 'Life is not fair.'

This one thought makes me angry whenever I think of it.

Life is not fair. Life is not fair. We live, we die. The rich stay rich, the poor stay poor.

People help each other a bit but not enough. I want to change all this. That thought has made me thing to myself that no matter what happens you can always be kind and help each other and you can always do your best to do well, and that is what I do. Because of my grandfather dying I am now trying my best to make my little part of the world a better place, and, overall I am. I am kind and helpful and respectful. I allow people to be who and what they are and do my best to help people when I can.

This short story is who, why and what I am today. Nothing can change that.

Anything else you want to say:

I would like to thank you for giving me this great opportunity to be re added to this great group that I have missed so much.

- ~ Photoshop designer (Level: Semi-Advanced)
- ~ Steam / Origin bruteforcer
- ~ Marketing and monetizing methods.
- ~ Gaming knowledge (Xbox 360, PS3, Wii, NDS, PC)

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I know there are many High Quality members, and that is the main reason that I would like to join.

Also, to share knowledge of different areas of interest.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I think deserve to join an Official HF Group, and The Empire is one of the best and more respected groups on HackForums.

Aswell, I do many GiveAways, mainly Steams/Origins. And would be an honor to make GiveAways with The Empire userbar.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I am a spanish Economics student. Something that will remain in my memory, is my first online job. I had got accepted a month ago to work for an online company, earing more than $1000 a month.

Also, I have to thank my English, Spanish and French native language levels.

My brain keeps me alive. I ruined some parts of my life, but day after day, with effort, I got better.

I am going to say this right away...

The Empire seems and i hope is an great group on HF. This group will give give me more inspiration, than i have from before.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?

I have worked alot lately, trying to satisfy alot of members. I buy alot from my own pocket and giving it away, even though i am short on cash at the moment. I have contributed alot to this community, and i have put alot of my heart into this forum, more than i never dared to dream of.
It will be an great experience to be accepted into The Empire.

Creativity - At the moment I'm a first year Game Designer at an Art School in the Netherlands. I was one out of 8 that got accepted.

I am glad I got into this school because it really suits me.

Classes we get teach us a different way of thinking and expanding our creativity.

F/e we get an assignment to come up with a story board of a gameplay idea in 10 minutes without any restrictions.

I can give you my portfolio website through PM because it contains private information.

Programming Languages - HTML, CSS, PHP, Java, Javascript, Actionscript, VBA

Basics in a lot of things - There are a lot of things I know some basic things about.

I can name a few I'm quite common with: RATting, Spreading, VPN, Video Editing, Photoshop, WebDesign, Flash videos/games and much more Music - I have a wide taste of music and I enjoy listening to almost everything. I can give feedback on peoples work.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I have never been into any group on HackForums before because I never felt like applying to anything.

I think The Empire is a group with a great community and a collection of HQ users because of it's fine selection.

I like sharing my knowledge with other people and in return for that I'd like to learn from other people. I think The Empire is the right place for this.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I think I should be accepted into The Empire because I can say for myself that I am not a LQ user.

My posts on HF are rarely LQ and contain proper grammar.

I have never gotten a negative rep so I guess none of the UB3Rs dislike me :p.

I have a wide variety of skills and I am open to learn.

Next to that I am a social person, you can have fun with me, and I love meeting new people.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

My name is Tim, I'm 19 years old and I'm from The Netherlands. I grew up on a farm because my dad took over for my grandpa. I have an older brother and a younger sister.

At the age of 7 my mom got in a car accident and was taken to intensive care because she had a chance of dying by brain injury. She was in a coma for 3 weeks.

Because my dad was a busy man (he worked on the farm, worked for an "irrigation installation"-company and did welding jobs) my brother, sister and I lived at my moms best friends place for a couple of months.

She took care of us and 4 of her own children so we had a chaotic way of living. When my mom got home after like a year she still had to go to a psychiatrist weekly because of brain damage.

She got better over the past 12 years but she is still not the same as before her accident. For the next 11 years this was a big change of me growing up, being at home, dealing with shit etc.

At the age of 4 I skipped a class because I was too smart and I could read simple sentences. They told me I was gifted. At the age of 17 I got told I have ADD which stands for Attention Deficit Disorder.

These two things come together quite commonly. My problem is that I am a quick learner and have a good memory but can't pay attention to one thing for a longer period of time.

When I like something I can pay my full attention to it and I excel in it but when I don't quite like something I will quickly resign and do something else. That's why I failed two years in high school because I chose science/physics and I am more of an Art/Music type.

I live on my own for about 2 months now and I'm a first year Game Designer so I'm kinda doing my own things and have my own rhytm in everything. I like it this way, less problems and an own responsibility.

Yes, that's my story kind of.

Name: My name is Joaquin.

Age: I am officially 14 years old.

Gender: Male.

Religion: I am a Christian.

State/Country: Minnesota, United States Of America.

Time Zone: My timezone is Central, GMT -6.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

- GFX Skills - Me and my friend are good at making certain kinds of graphic Artwork, This includes: Signatures, Wallpapers, Thread layouts, Avatars, Banners, Logo's & Others. If you ever need GFX just tell me. Look at my threads so you can see our GFX shop!!
- Web monitoring - I was admin on a website, That I had to monitor 24/7 I know how to handle the community if it's on rage or calm. If needed a website, I also can provide hosting. I have four different hosts.
- Happiness - I consider this a skill. I'm happy at almost all times. I'm never raging, mad, angry or any of those emotions. I will always be online with a smile on my face.
- Gaming - I consider myself a gamer. I have skills in all games I play. No matter what age level, I can always do something for fun. I can play games on all the consoles I listed under. Feel free if you want to play with me.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join "The Empire" Because it's a close group of people. Helping others, lots of skill & HQness. I think I qualify to join Empire because I have lots of skills in which the group may need.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted because a group like this could need experience with other stuff, members in the group haven't achieved.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Hello, I'm Joaquin. I live in the United States, I go to high school, I'm in 9th grade.

I have very good grades, almost a straight A student. I spend most of my time here, on HackForums. I'm fairly new to HF, I joined this year and bought L33T. I play a lot of video games including, COD, BF3, Minecraft, TF2, Skyrim, Mario, Zelda and tons more. I go to my friends house a lot, we always have fun with each other. I was born in Minnesota and have been living here ever since. I had three cats, one died, due to scared to death, I had two hamsters, one died. My other one is still living, They were both named Hammy! I focus on school mostly, In my life. I have a Xbox, PS3, PC, N64, DSI, PS2 & a DS.

I was first born in Minnesota, I have a ton of friends, I love to play online Games. I always have something to do. I have a ton of friends inside - outside of School. I met a lot of fun people online. Me and my friend own a GFX shop here at HackForums. I try to help people everywhere - anytime. So I hope this thread can be read or supported. Thanks for reading my stories of my life.

Anything else you want to say: I just want to say I'm very close friends with SkyGuy, We have knew eachother for a long time!

I hope I can get accepted/considered to join, The Empire. Thank you for reading my application.

Name: Logan a.k.a Skype

Age: 15

Gender: Male

Religion: Christian

State/Country: Iowa/United States

Time Zone: Central Standard Time

What are some skills that you have?:

Friendly: Being friendly is a very important skill to have whether it's online or in reality. I think it is safe to say that I'm the type of person that is always willing to help that certain someone who has lost their way or just simply has no clue on what they're doing. For example, a HF member had got their Headphone Jack Plug stuck in their computer's Headphone Jack, his exact question, "Is there anyway to disable the headphones so i can hear stuff through my speakers?" I later assisted this member to help resolve his issue through PM and Skype. The thread can be found Here. Another friendly trait of mine is that I can get along very well with whomever I meet. Being able to get along with others is a very good thing to have if given the chance to be in a great group such as The Empire.

Gaming: I enjoy gaming very much, I've been gaming ever since I was 6, I've played pretty much on all of the consoles you can think of going back as far as the Sega Genesis all the way up to the Xbox 360. When it comes down to what games I enjoy playing the most on the Xbox 360 I would have to say GTA IV, Call of Duty Black Ops 2, Minecraft, Gears of War 3, Halo Wars, and The Walking Dead. Do I game alone? Of course I don't, what is the fun in gaming if you don't play with people you know to make it fun and exciting! I play with a good group of friends that I've known for a couple years now via Xbox Live. I would really enjoy getting the chance to play with some HF members or even some members of The Empire sometime.

Video Editing: For the past 6 months I have been big into being a YouTube commentator, I have pretty much everything to be a successful YouTube commentator, HD PVR, Blue Snowball Mic, YouTube channel with a partnership, basically anything a novice commentator would dream of having. Recently I have given up the passion for commentating it was just too much of a strain on my personal life. Although I quit I can still take away a few things that I have learned from my commentating experience, for starters I learned to edit in Sony Vegas 12 and 9 and also being very friendly with others in the online community. I never really thought that I would be any good at video editing until I took the time to learn, today I continue to grow with my video editing knowledge, and someday hope I can use that knowledge to create something that is outstanding.

YouTube: I have a good substantial amount of YouTube experience, as of right now I am running my own semi successful community channel, it has a partnership, a good amount of subs, pretty much the works, you can find the channel Here. As for my old commentating channel I deleted that when I quit. Why does YouTube count as a skill? Believe it or not some people have great difficulty with getting a YouTube partnership, trust me a partnership isn't what it's all cracked up to be but it is a nice incentive for whatever content you are choosing to upload to your channel. The difficult side to getting a partnership is you have to find the right network that suits you for who you are, you have to meet their view requirements if you do not meet their required amount of views you will simply just get rejected, and finally make sure the network is reliable, make sure they have a good amount of subs, their support staff is outstanding, pretty much all the things you expect from a well rounded company/network.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: From what I've seen around HF The Empire (to me) looks like a fantastic group of people, very HQ posts, respectful members, and always willing to help out the people who are lost on HF, and I believe I can fit in really well with all of The Empire members. Overall I want to join The Empire the most because I'm very interested in learning new things like coding, GFX, monetizing methods or even just to expand my knowledge of the things I have already learned.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I should be accepted into The Empire because I'm a very helpful member, I believe that I'm a HQ poster even though I'm a newer member to HF, I get along well with others, I could bring my YouTube knowledge to assist The Empire in anyway needed, as well as my willfulness to learn new things, and that I'm open to constructive criticism and I can take it very well without going into an argument.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Who am I? Outside of HF I am just pretty much your average teenage male trying to survive High school. I'm 15, 6'4, an only child, I go to one of the best High schools in my state, I enjoy Bowling competitively as I am on my High school's JV Bowling Team, I have two cats along with three dogs, I enjoy hanging out with my friends at Youth group, and just hanging out with friends in general.

What I believe that makes me who I am today is when my parents got divorced, I was only eight years old when they decided to separate. Divorce as some of you may know can be a hard thing at such a young age for some people but for me it wasn't so bad, today I just look back at the divorce from a more positive angle, my family has grown tremendously since both of my parents got remarried, I now have (step) brothers and sisters that I can argue and laugh with. I guess it's safe to say that my life has indeed benefited from the divorce.

Anything else you want to say: No matter if I get in or not I will take this opportunity as a learning experience and make any of my future applications for anything even better. Also I'd like to thank you for reading my application and the great opportunity to join this very HQ group. ?

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Successfully SE'd 2kUSD off of one person. SQLi injections, exploiting a vulnerability to the max. Social Networking (I run a few Facebook pages, the largest is 130k+ likes.) So I can keep up with most trends/start them which is helpful when monetizing

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I have a good amount of original ideas that could help the community, and I've met a few people that are apart of The Empire that share the same ideas basically as me.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I can be a help, and I know a good bit about Facebook/Social networks. Which is a large part of most peoples Internet life.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Something memorable was when I discovered that if I fucked with certain system files on my schools network I could find the teachers files. They keep most everything in their files, (Test answers, quiz's, upcoming assignments, and everyone's grades) Used that to propel my way at an A in most classes. Even helped out a few of my friends, still haven't been caught to this day. Been doin this since 8th grade. This has furthered my curiosity into the world of exploits/hacking, and I thought, "If I can get private info from the teachers files for school, what could I get from other people's private files." and I haven't stopped since.

Anything else you want to say: Even if I don't get accepted, still glad to have a chance to be apart of this group. Good luck to all, and have a nice day.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Computer Technical Support - I've taken A+ Certification, which involves the building, basic knowledge, and in-depth knowledge on and about computers. I took this class in the 10th grade, (last year) and I passed with a 92. I was top of the class. If you're looking for me, I'm usually in the Computer Overclocking & Customization section in the Computing section of HF. I've built numerous computers and I am able to help others with almost anything they need, and I have reliable resources for backup information.

A+ Certification Support - This goes with what I stated above.

Virus Removal and Virus Detection - Through the years I've been a ratter, phisher, and mass spreader, I've learned a few things on where your infection goes, multiplies and stays. Polymorphic Trojans are one of the most commonly used virus's on this site and I'm able to help anyone who needs one removed, or look for one if they believe they are infected. I'm on almost 10+ hours a day and I'll gladly help, I love it:).

Infection or Hacking - Infection is my specialty and hacking is my degree;). I am the owner of the YouTube Channel: UnderGroundPhishers , I had over 50 videos of hacking accounts on games and making tremendous profit. Ever since the Xvisceral tragedy, I've removed the videos and only have a select few left. I will be able to help anyone and everyone with infection by sharing my E-Books and spreading ways that I've used over the years:).

Life Style Choices + Mature Helping of Others - I currently have depression issues and they have impacted my life greatly. I know how people will react to some things and how to calm people down from personal experience. I've attempted many things that aren't exactly.. "healthy" and I'd love to prevent people from doing these things to themselves. I'd always be here for the group and I'd stay loyal. I have not back stabbed a friend before and I don't plan on it.

I LOVE The HF Community! - The HF community is what makes this forum what it is. You will find me usually in the Lounge or the Computer section, and almost always doing Give-Aways:). I like to give back to the community for being so helpful to me in the past, and It's Christmas, who doesn't deserve a present on Christmas. NO ONE!

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I would like to join the Empire because I believe I would be a great addition to the group for many reasons. Some including technical support, Life issues, I am mature and I don't troll like a lot of people on here, and I believe I have some skills many others don't. If I were chosen to be in the Empire, I'd stay loyal to the group and I'd treat everyone with respect like everyone should be treated. I'm very smart with what I do and I'd never give false information.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel like I should be accepted because I love to be on this forum almost all day long, I'd always be there for the group when needed, I'll almost never leave a question unanswered, and I'll do my best to help the group with as much knowledge and precise information as possible.

Just to get started here, I'm 17 years old and I'm an American. I currently go to high school and I'm in 11th grade. My hobbies include, computer building, skateboarding, building cars, supercharging cars, and talking on HF:), and the best for last, talking to my amazing girlfriend Amanda. I have black hair, I go to the gym every day and I'm hoping to become a computer store owner. :).

When I was 15 years old, I was put through a lot. I was always treated less than others, I was always the last choice for everything, If someone was paired with me in school, I wasn't talking to them because of the way they would react. I honestly think I'm a pretty cool person, not to brag or anything. But, eventually all of this led me to a great depression and it's never been the same since.

Well, when I was in 10th grade, which was about the beginning of last year of school, I was extremely depressed and it's effected me so much that I'm easily depressed now. I would try to talk to people about my problems but I was always turned down and never accepted seriously. I then found myself eventually hurting myself by cutting, burning, all that good stuff. But once, I found out that I had really never been able to make my parents proud and I've felt so disappointed ever since, and I still do. I tried to take about 9 of some pill, I didn't even know what it was called.

I took them and about 5 minutes later my body was reaction harshly and I've been changed ever since then. I was eventually passed out in my room, where my mom found me and called the ambulance and I was rushed to the ER. I had my stomach pumped and I was put on medication to flush my system. I've never felt so down in my life at this point and all I wanted was for my mom to tell me she cared and didn't want me to do it anymore. Eventually, after a long talk, she said she doesn't want to lose me and all that and I was sent home.

I was never the same since then and I've kind of felt that what if I treated someone like this?

What if they felt the same way I feel, you don't know anything about someone until you really get to know them. This is why I treat everyone with respect and don't start fights. I try my hardest to stay strong and keep my composure. My girlfriend has helped me with so much and I've been almost calmed down ever since. I'd love to get into more detail with this if I'm accepted and maybe we can talk about this sometime, it's whatever:). Now you know a little about me and why I find that no one should be treated harshly and I'll always treat people with respect.

Anything else you want to say: I hope to be as helpful to this group as humanly possible, and I'll be in the sub-forum daily:). I'm on about 10+ hours a day and I'd love to be an extra helping hand:). Even if I'm not accepted I'll always be here for anyone that needs it. (sorry if that story sounded like a sob story lol, it's just how I have been changed).

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Gaming - I have been gaming ever since I was about 7. My very first game experience I can remember was probably Pokémon or Mario. I then got a Gamecube and spent a couple of years on that. My favorite games for that were probably Super Smash Bros and True Crime: New York City. I remember playing Super Mario Party with my cousins all of the time also. I now have a Xbox 360 and a computer, which is what I mostly play on. My all time favorite game is probably Fallout: New Vegas. You can add me on Steam if you want to by private messaging me. I currently have Garry's Mod, Dota 2(not installed), Team Fortress 2, and Day of Defeat: Source.

Website & Forum Hacking - I used to be a pretty active in the act of website penetration testing. I am experienced in the fields of SQLi, XSS, LFI, and RFI. I mostly picked up this as a hobby, and it would look good on a résumé(or a group application ?). It has been a while since I actively did this, since I have changed to be mostly white hat. I will also admit that I am pretty ashamed that I defaced a random site that did nothing to me. That was a pretty skiddy thing to do.

Ratting - I would say I am a above average experienced ratter. I have stopped doing the activity myself as I am white hat now, but I used to be on the scene. I started to become pretty active after I got a good crypter and joined a Skype RAT group here on Hackforums. My success in ratting most likely sprouted from my experience and knowledge in human manipulation. I remember when I was short on cash and really wanted Blackshades so I had to work in graphics and save up my money to get it. I was pretty excited when I finally saved up the money, but after I bought it that was when my career in ratting had become more and more dead.

Graphics - I used to make a LOT of graphics and had a lot of experience with them. I have a 4.56 Gigabyte folder dedicated to them alone. This is how I got about %50 of my rep. I used to make TONS of graphics for everyone, free. I also used to do payed jobs, but not as much. I made about $40 from this as I do them mostly for free. You can look through my threads in the Rate My Graphic section and see some of the stuff I have made. I mostly made signatures for people. I recently had to reinstall windows so I cannot be active in making graphics anymore because I do not have Photoshop installed and I am pretty lazy.

Coding - I love to code. What more can I say? It was the main reason I joined Hackforums in the first place, so I could code a super 1337 v1rus. The languages I know are: Batch(if it counts), Delphi, C, (some)C++, Visual Basic, and C#. I don't really release things that I code(except for when I joined, I released some pretty stupid stuff ?). I code either for learning and experience or things for personal use. My favorite language right now has to be C. I will be honest though, I go on and off with coding. Sometimes it just bores me and other times it is the funnest thing in the world to do.

Helping - I think this is the most important thing I am talented in, so I saved it for last. I don't know what it is, but I love to help people. Every time I help someone, I always feel good inside(even though I almost never get something back and what I do get back is something biting me in the ass). If anyone was to need help, then I would surely help them, assuming I know what I am talking about. I won't just shoot random crap out of my mouth in hopes of being acknowledged about people. Here are all the giveaways I have done(I know it's not a lot compared to other members, but I do not have that much stuff to give away):Mountain Dew Double XP giveaway -

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join The Empire because I want to be apart of something. I like to have friends and people to help me and be helped by me. I do not want to join just to wear a userbar like some other people, but rather to gain and spread my knowledge. I have respect for The Empire and all of the members. I see giveaways with the [Empire] tag very often, which make me think that they are very generous and caring members in that group. There are times when I get lonely, but I fell that if I joined The Empire that would no longer happen. I hope to gain many friends if I am accepted and accumulate more social bonds. I also wish that I can provide a helping hand to other people who are lonely and reach out and talk to them. I know my reasons sound very cheesy and generic, but it is all very true. If I am accepted into The Empire, I will finally have something to do rather than just play games on my computer and be a no life.

[img]http://i1353.photobucket.com/albums/q679/WriteHF/Brake1.png[/img]

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be accepted into The Empire because.. well I really don't know. I know I sound like I am boasting with what I have said so far, but I don't like to do it. If I had to pick something, I would pick that I feel I should be accepted because I am helpful around the forums and know I could be of use in The Empire's sub-forum. Every giveaway I would host would be under the [Empire] tag and every tutorial I make likewise. I think bringing me into The Empire and me doing generous things around the forums would make peoples views about the group more positive than ever before. If I was accepted, I would definitely be more high quality around the forums as I would be representing The Empire, and I know I wouldn't want someone going around tarnishing the name of a group I owned. The things I could offer to The Empire are coding, website hacking, giveaways, contests, graphics, and more. I feel that if you accept me into the group, you would not be disappointed in me and would not regret the decision.

[img]http://i1353.photobucket.com/albums/q679/WriteHF/Brake1.png[/img]

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Hmm lets see where I should start off with this. I never knew my real dad because he was a bum who never supported me and later died of cancer(karma's a bitch) and I grew up with a stepfather. He later left my mom after a couple of years of marriage and that really hit me hard as I was only about six or seven at the time. After that we lived with my aunt for a while and my mom was struggling to keep jobs and support us. My aunt was very helpful and took us in, until one night her and my mom got into a fight and my mom got a restraining order against her. After that we moved into an abuse shelter. I lived there for maybe a year and continued schooling. Then my step-grandpa got us a house to live in that he owned (he was nice until my grandma died, then he became a total dickhead. We eventually moved out of there and into a nicer house. I had to move schools and lost friends and a girlfriend in the process. And, here I am now, living a pretty normal life.

My career on Hackforums started, as I said before, when I wanted to become a 1337 hax0r and pwn computers. As I spent a lot of time on Hackforums, my knowledge in pretty much everything increased. I used to be pretty low quality but eventually I learned the best way to gain respect around here is to be high quality and help people out at the same time. There were bad times though. I remember when I had trouble setting up a RAT for the first time, I asked on here for help. It still didn't work, but I added the guy on Xbox. Worst mistake ever. After a couple of weeks, I stopped talking to him. Apparently that gave him the right to jack my account, open a new profile, close my old one, buy gold for a year and 1 year of Call of Duty Elite under my moms credit card. We got the money back, but it was a dick move. I will not say who because I have insufficient proof, but I know it was him. Then came the time I was scammed. I was interested in steam accounts and tried to purchase one off a member, but was never sent the account or money. You can see the report here: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2702757>

Now onto what I want to do in the future.

In my future, I picture myself graduating highschool, going to college, and getting a masters in computer science. I would also really enjoy if I got a job at the NSA with my knowledge. I would join the military, but that seems out of the question as I have broken my leg very badly and probably could not pass boot camp without hurting it again. I also see myself on Hackforums skill, maybe as a mentor(probably unlikely). I can see myself without a girlfriend as I am pretty socially awkward and living in a apartment complex somewhere with a pretty crappy car. To tell you the truth, living alone doesn't sound like too bad of an idea to me.

[img]<http://i1353.photobucket.com/albums/q679/WriteHF/Brake1.png>[/img]

Anything else you want to say:

Nothing much. I thank you for taking the time for reading my application and enjoyed reading it as much as I enjoyed writing it. I hope that I came off as high quality. I spent about an hour and a half on this and hope it was worth it ?.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Musicianship: The skills that I own and prosper are ones that are very unique across this site as well as across some parts of the world, although many people partake in this activity, I do it to a maximum. I play the trumpet, I have been 8 years, on top of that I am the lead player in my school in Jazz Band, Marching Band, Concert Band, and Wind Ensemble. I participate in 4 band classes throughout the day, the normal amount of classes any given student has is usually 5-6, I take 9, 0-8, although Wind Ensemble and Jazz Band happen after school, it is still considered a class.

Drum Corps:Expanding from various school related activities I am also auditioning for Drum Corps. Drum Corps is basically professional Marching Band except no wood winds, only brass and drums. The Drum Corp I am auditioning for is called Pacific Crest: <http://www.pacific-crest.org/> More info can be found on their site.

eWhoring:Moving forward, I am also a creative eWhore, I don't do standard methods, I have my own very unique and very unsaturated method I use to generate profits. Recently I have been reluctant to continue Ewhoring, but in the times I really need money I happen to partake in it, let this be known that my method gets me money, but also stops pedophiles from continuing, therefore saving the world.

Social Engineering: One of my other strengths is SEing, I am very good at making up straight forward stories that always stick to the same topic at hand. I have SE'ed TV's, PC's, Mouses, Grills, Printers, ect, and still no bill at my doorstep.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I'll be honest, I have never really attempted to maximum to join a group around here before, I really felt I didn't have what it took to live up to expectations and make the groups reputation not lower, but heighten. I have thought about attempting to join Rhythm and I still might, but I really feel I have a connection to some of the members here in empire. The satisfaction, kindness and high quality of all the members posts just inspires me to soar beyond and get just help out members in need. Back when I first started I never really was a high quality member, just someone who scrolled around here looking for something fun to do, but after a while I just kept seeing empire members posts and it made me want to become one of them, it made me want to inspire others to do the same I had moved up to be. It's a great feeling and I want to be apart of it.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be accepted into Empire because I can provide a lot of quality posts and sales to the groups reputation. I am a sincere member and i think before I do. I am always on the computer wether doing school work or just posting around here, my activity will be a great contribution to the group in my opinion. I am an AP English student and I rarely have grammatical errors in my posts. On top of this, I am also a very loyal member and will not abuse the groups reputation and power in any way, I respect this group to much to ever do something such as this. I just wanted to say thank you for reading through my application, I hope one day I eventually make it into Empire.

For those of you actually hoping to get in, check out my posts in this thread. I link you all to the applications I accept. There is a huge difference from those and the rest. If you want in, put effort into your application, if you don't then you're just wasting your time. This isn't directed at anyone specifically, but I've seen a lot of short applications that tell nothing about who the applicant is, it just says they want in.

If you want in the group, you have to put in effort, we don't review members who don't put effort into their applications. That is what gets you noticed. Then we review your profile, application, posts, threads, rep, warnings, etc.

I have heard that Empire changes people and I would love to soak up all this knowledge which the group is rumored to have. But not only soak up all this knowledge, I wish to squeeze out my knowledge as well, in the fields of cracking, graphic designing and general advice regarding counseling and relationships. I want to experience this change and also represent this group for what it is. I wish to join a group as I have never joined one officially before besides eminence. This group looked the most suitable to me and attracted the most attention.

[img]http://i1.minus.com/ibbCaCIBeoXJ8c.PNG[/img]

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Because I wish to learn and teach to the best of my abilities. I have a lot of times on my hands, almost 16hrs per day for the next 2 months as I am on summer holidays. I can be representing the group during this time. Providing nothing but HQ tutorials and posts. I know what hard work and dedication is and I always stand by what I say I am going to do.

[img]http://i1.minus.com/ibbCaCIBeoXJ8c.PNG[/img]

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Okay so as you may know I am Tony Stark. My story starts back in October 2010, when I joined HF I thought I was a elite hAX3oR L33t and I remember getting flamed so bad! . I use to be this idiotic troll that thought he owned the joint. Obviously not. Then this thing called puberty kicked in. LOL or some shit and I realized I am a total douche . I gave up on hf and use to just log in to view the tutorials section for about a year, not comment because I use to get hated on a lot (at least I thought I did). But than at the start of this year it all changed. I decided to make a difference, something brought me back to HF! I decided to clean up my act and get back to the GREEN. I even worked hard and earned my first cash online and paid for l33t. I started to bond and make relationships with everyone and now look at me... I haply ponder around HF chatting up female dogs and logging in almost everyday, some would call it a OCD :S Oh my.

I live in Australia, Vic. I am 17 and love my Tech and Audio and Visual production. I am a DJ, Producer, Voice Over Artist, Internet Radio Host and Audio Engineer. I love to socialize and chill with friends! But online I can be a funny character but I know where the line is. Favorite food is FISH and CHUPS. In 2011 I received the community spirit award in my area and it is something I am very proud off. On my end of year exam (2 weeks ago) I scored 100% in my English exam. I am very friendly unless you piss me off, but I don't take my anger out. I contain and hide my hatred for people. I love to party and go out and kick a ball! I help out sandwich making for the poor every fortnight and I find that is a really calming and makes me feel really good at this time. Later on today me and my Dad will go out and buy toy's for the fire department to give to kids in need. My mum passed away 3 years ago to cancer, it was hard at the time especially as it was early in my life. Now its easier to cope with knowing she is watching over me. I follow my life with many motto's and one of the main ones is the one (dayum need to stop saying one) in my sing. "Never see a need without doing something about it." -Mary Mackillop. Anyway that is a treatise about me! I would have loved to done this in a video but I need a new bloody mic, I am not that great at writing introductions.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Marketing: I have been doing online marketing since I joined HF, since I'm only 16, I work at a grocery store and go to school, the online marketing makes more money than what I make at the grocery store.

Gaming: I have been gaming for years and I consider my self a Semi-pro gamer, I was a member of FOE of Runescape and I attended more than 25 clan tournaments.

Psychology: I am decent at psychology and sociology, I take AP Psych, and last year I took Sociology. I am good with personality things.

Malware Removal: I try to do my best with removing malware and I actually have an HDD filled with malware that I usually practice with.

Example:

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

I went to Geek squad to get my "PC fixed, I had virus'." Geek squad said it would cost $150 for a new hard-drive because a virus accessed it. I asked him how does he know, he pointed out something that popped up in Kaspersky, I did the following: I said "ohhh, I see, let me see it for a second, he hands it to me, I brought him through the process of what was wrong, and he said, that I should let them double check for safety, he felt like an idiot.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would like to join for numerous reasons, one being, Empire is one of the largest, most high quality groups on Hackforums, if not one of them, and then it's the most high quality. Empire is very appealing to me. The group is very well organized and I see you guys only let in very few members and those few members are very high quality. The output of this group is amazing, I see such good quality posts and contributions coming from the group, I have seen discussions around the forum from Empire members and it's mostly meaningful, high quality, or serious posts, none of the garbage that other users post.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Why I feel as though I should be accepted into The Empire, is because I have a lot to offer to you guys. I can offer a variety of things, varying to giveaways, contests, all the way to research, real life issues, such as, Relationship, school, work, etc. As a 16 year old, I have had a decent amount of experience in life, I have dealt with many things that someone of my age normally wouldn't have to deal with, which puts me in situations to try to surpass issues.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: My name is Devin, i'm a 16 year old farm boy from Idaho. I was raised all of my life in Idaho and my family owned a small farm and that was the family business, and our source of income, we weren't a wealthy family, we grew up, waking up 4:30 in the morning, do some yard work, and get ready for school. My sister and I went to a small private school a few blocks away. Nearly everyone had a farm over there. My families farm was mainly a producer of soybean. When I was 9 years old we moved to Massachusetts because my uncle (farm owner) went in debt and there was a lot of family issues.

In Massachusetts, I grew up in a small town, a very diverse, melting pot town, where you don't see any farms what so ever. Very different from Idaho. My father left my mother when I was 10 years old, and abandoned us(will get back to this later). We had a lot of family down here in Massachusetts and we love it here. When I was 12, my father started talking to us again. I never really understood the issues, so I forgave him automatically. He is now a very big part of my life, I hangout with him every week. Every time we hangout, he always tells me, "I love you Devin, I'm sorry, I'm always here now." Or something along those lines.

My step dad came into my life when I was 11 and he has been in my life since then, until about two weeks ago. He cheated on my mother. I considered him more than a "step-father." It was more of a, best friend, or brother. We told each other everything, I told him the day I lost my virginity(to my current girlfriend who I have been with since I was 14.) He has always been there for me, and he could always pick my mood up when it was down, but people change. My mother and him had a son, which is my brother, Jordan. I love this kid to death. He is currently 4 and he means the world to me. I would die for him. Every day he sees me, he gives me a hug, and he always knows how to make me laugh. He never has failed to brighten my days. My girlfriend, Briana, I met her when I was 13 and I know that "I'm to young to be in love," but I don't care, I feel it. I'm in love with her, and I feel as though shes right for me. She has been there for me through it all. She keeps me smiling, she helps me keep my grades high and my family loves her. Now what makes me who I am? Is my family. its a blessing to have such a perfect Mother, Brother, Sister, and girlfriend. I love you all, if you see this.

Anything else you want to say:

Thanks for recruiting members into the group, its a great opportunity, and thank-gosh I didn't miss it.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Spoiler (Click to View)

Social Engineering: I have a nice amount of social engineering since I've joined HF, and i'd like to think i'd have many more.

Graphic Design: I have recently started to do GFX and I'm picking it up pretty fast, so far I've made a few logos and a youtube background and now I'm going to start making thread layouts, signatures, avatar's and hopefully many more things to come.

Gaming: I love to game, and i game pretty much everyday, i play xbox and i mostly palyed COD or Fifa. I sometimes pc game, though i don't have the best specs and i hack and most likely get banned. But mainly i stick to xbox as i think its by far better.

Social: I love to talk, I'm a peoples person, I love meeting people and getting to know them for who they are, not what they look like. I love making jokes, its pretty much a habit. Some people say I talk to much some people tell me not enough. I'm incredibly easy to get one with, i don't take things to heart so you can always have a mess around with me, but i can be very serious when someones in need of cheering up!

E-Whoring: So i decided to start E-Whoring last week due to my friend creating a insane e-book. At first i didn't make a single dime, now I'm up $60! Just lastnight i made $35 and this guy said he was gonna give me '300' to pay 'bills'. And this guy gave me 3 of his CC details, epic win? Also i'd like to thank the pedophiles who helped buy me l33t!

Reliability&Trustworthy: I am a very very reliable person, and I'm incredibly trustworthy too, I always finish task in time if they have a time to be completed, i always set my mind to the task so I can finish it more easy, I always try my best and nothing less. As for the trustworthiness i like to have deep conversation's with people and try to help them out, and i always keep that stuff to myself as that is seriously confidential, i never release anything that shouldn't be and i don't let anyone see something they shouldn't be seeing.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Spoiler (Click to View) I would like to join The Empire because they are an insanely HQ group, and they look like they would help out the community and help out when needed. I love to meet new people and get to know others and I'd feel privileged to do so whilst being in The Empire. I would like to find out and learn more about things, and I think being in The Empire could benefit me greatly. I also want to join The Empire because they are a mature bunch of people who like to hang out have fun as well as helping others out at the same time. I believe everyone has the chance to join The Empire so I want to prove myself to you that I can be a loyal member of the group and help out as much as I can. Finally I'd like to join because I don't have many 'Friends' so to speak on HF so meeting new people and making 'Friends' would be a bonus.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Spoiler (Click to View) I feel as if I should be accepted into The Empire because my application is coming straight from the heart and not many people know how to do this, I've put in an incredible amount of effort to prove how much I would love to be part of this amazing group and I would love for someone to realize that I'm not just doing this for me because I want to help out others and have fun. I also feel I should be accepted into The Empire because it's one of the newer groups on HF and I think that I could be a great asset to the group with the qualities I could bring, which I've stated above.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Spoiler (Click to View) My name is Craig, I'm a 16 year old male who has not had the best of childhoods, at the age of 3 my mother and father split-up, I haven't seen my real father since. At the age of 4 my mother found a new partner who I now refer to as my father, sadly they split up when I was 15 and I blamed myself for this, I wasn't the best son I could have been I was always wanting to do something I shouldn't have, now I regret it. When my mother and father split-up I was heartbroken, I saw my father cry for the very first time in my life, and it's something I would never like to see. They got on so well until they took a funny spell and it ended up that they had broke up after a 12 year relationship. Sadly my father had a worse effect than my mother. He then had depression and just couldn't cope with it, so he thought that taking his own life was the best idea, some people could also argue it was selfish of him, however I love him nonetheless. So now, I only have my mother and my 9 year old Autistic brother, and that all I need.

Now I've currently graduated highschool, and I have a sports leadership course level 2 in January, I love sports and I think if none of the stuff my father did for me when I was younger I wouldn't have the opportunity to be in the sport's coaching course I start. Something memorable that has happened in my life was when I was 13 years old. I was playing football or, soccer for you Americans, and we got to a final, we managed to win the Polar Foods Cup Trophy and become champions. I had great pleasure in taking that trophy back to our clubhouse and bragging on and on. That's only one of the memorable things that I can remember.

Spoiler (Click to View) *Sorry these two paragraphs are not that big, didn't know much else to say at this moment in time, I may edit this though.

Anything else you want to say:

Spoiler (Click to View) Please don't judge me by looking at my low thread count, now that i got L33T I'm going to be far more HQ and active thread-wise.

Thanks for taking the time to read this.

You're the only people to know about this story on HF, gratz.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I'm more into being webmaster than anything else.

I'm into forum developing, I exploit and explore all discussion boards. SMF, vBulletin, phpBB, MyBB, XenForo, anything of the sort.

I know a bit of Java, as I'm currently building a RSPS for Nexus Network.

I'm a producer, I make instrumentals/music in FL Studio 10, I've been doing this for about two years, it's a pretty fun thing to do, and an easy money maker.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Seems like it would be a fun experience to help out other members, accomplish goals while also helping others overachieve.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I'm an energetic, friendly, and high quality member of HackForums, I'm active. I joined yesterday and already purchased an upgrade and read through the whole Help Documents.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well, I'm all about my music. It's everything to me, I got my start from my uncle and my cousin who used the same program to make music. I plan to become semi-famous in making trap/rap beats and soon to make other genres of music. I'm a person who comes from pretty much nothing, and everything I have (computer, clothes, etc) comes from me making money online. I don't have much to say on this subject because I'm not the type to write out my life story online.

Anything else you want to say: Good luck to all other applicants!

Dolan.'s Application:

Name: Dolan.

Gender: Male

Religion: I'm an Atheist

State/Country: Victoria, Australia

Time Zone: GMT+10

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I'm very good at English and math, receiving extra grades in both subjects. I've got a good/strong understanding of HTML, I could create a page just without the CSS, and I've got a basic knowledge with C++, I can make a bunch of different kinds of console programs.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join The Empire because it seems to be a very HQ group full of a variety of people skilled in all kinds of areas. I feel that joining The Empire would not only provide me with some of the knowledge of current members, but allow me to represent The Empire whilst helping out others.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted because I feel that I'm a very helpful person. If somebody needs help, I'll help them out provided that I know what I'm talking about. I feel as if I'm the Dolan. The Empire needs.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

My name is Leigh and I'm 16 years old and I live with my father and step-mother in Victoria, Australia. When I was 8, my parents filed for divorce. My sister, two brothers, and I were all very confused and didn't know what to do. My mother kept custody of us and put a bad image of my father into our minds. When I was old enough to see past the blatant lies, I told her I was moving away. I didn't learn all to many life skills in that place, but the one thing I did take away was don't be a dick if you don't have to be a dick. And you never have to be a dick.

When I moved to my dad's house I found myself in a brand new school with all kinds of new people. I found it hard to fit in, there aren't that many people who know how to do anymore than open internet explorer around here, but eventually I found a couple of people who then began to tell me about RATs. These people weren't too bright looking back at the situation now, I learned more here in my first week than I think they'll ever really know. And well, that's how my HF adventures begin, but I'll keep that for another day.

I'm an Atheist, but I don't believe in trying to shut out other people's beliefs. Do to others as you would have them do to you. I believe that homosexual couples should have the right to wed, I see no logical reasons as to why not. I'm against the death penalty, abortion should be the choice of the couple and not just the woman, and euthanasia should be allowed when a patient is suffering excruciating pain and will continue to live like that.

Anything else you want to say: This will be all, thank you.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:I feel like this is the group for me, not built upon on anything specific and everyone can help each other out.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:Because I'm a hard working, committed member that would love to be part of a community here on Hack Forums to hone my skills and teach others.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:Well, I'm Cameron. I was born in 1995 in Scotland and I've always been a mischievous little beggar. From when I was 5 or so years old, I developed a condition known as Alopecia Areata and was mocked for it. I was told that I wouldn't get anywhere in life and I guess that's what has motivated me to try and accomplish something.

I want to develop video games and I love to mess around with computers as I was brought up with them. I've always been one who gets a thrill from breaking something, or using it to my advantage. I'm still young, but I think I know more about how a computer system works better than the average technician or engineer.

Right now I'm just sitting my exams in school, hoping to get shipped off to a decent university where I can continue my path to greatness but for now I'm here on Hack Forums.

Anything else you want to say:Would you like some haggis?

(I realize my post count is rather low, but that's because I took a huge break. I've only just returned in the last few days and my post count has gone up quite a bit.)

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): All i do is buy and sell. I am a good salesman.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Looks like one of the best groups on hackforums.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I may look new but i can be very HQ especially wearing such a HQ title, i cant be anything but HQ.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Ok well i started to join forums about a year ago and i am addicted to it. I love meeting new people and getting very HQ on most forums i join. I mainly come for the market and mostly for Xbox accounts but if i can get money from selling other stuff i will.

Anything else you want to say: I know you may not accept me by the look of my profile but i can show you if you add m to the group that i can be very HQ.

Name: CRYPT3D (Chris)

Age: 15

Gender: Male

Religion: Atheist

State/Country: Spain,from england though.

Time Zone: GMT +1 (I stay up all different times during summer/weekends)

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Well I'm learning C++ still,I have also been looking into SQLI and I am coming along nicely with both of them,simply reading guides etc.Hopefully I will have a good amount of knowledge on both of them soon :).

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Well for many reasons,one of them is being a part of something in the community and being able to help others put in the name of the empire.I believe that the empire is one of the most HQ groups in Hack Forums at the moment.Unlike many I am not seeking to join a group to simply gain a nice user bar or anything of the sort.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Because I always try my best to impress,and help others.I do not believe I am a LQ person, and I am always trying to expand my skill set and my knowledge,and I believe I could be of use to the empire.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you how you are and who are you:

I am generally a quite person who keeps my self to my self.I seem to be more open on the internet than in real life for some reason,I am nearly always ready to help others and I enjoy knowing I have helped someone else.

For the memorable thing in my life,there isn't much I can tell,but here is a mad story.

So, me and my family went to Spain for a holiday (before we moved) I was about 8 I think, and my granddad had got us booked into a hotel, we had a 2 hour journey from the airport, we turned up it looked nice, big pool and even an in-door one, naturally I was excited. Then we got upstairs, room wasn't in great shape, but we coped. Then we all went to bed, day over. Then we got up and decided to go have a coffee and some break fast, well we waited for an hour for the bar man, then we found out that you must go aaaall the way to reception to get a drink at the bar. Yeah my father wasn't to happy, but there ya go. Then, we went to go to the indoor pool, turns out no one was there either, and you have to wear a hat to go in (my dad hates swimming hats :p), we left not to happy. Back to the reception to find buckets all over the lobby because it was raining, that was the last straw, we left and got an apartment near the town. It was damp and HORRIBLE, again we coped. Then me and my mother woke up, about 8 in the morning to hear a national guard helicopter outside our window, going around the urbanization. Turns out a girl was raped and killed or something right outside our urbanization, so we had police helicopters going around with national guard searching everywhere, what a GREAT holiday that was!

Anything else you want to say: Yes, actually. I am currently moving and am getting my net back in the next few days, so I may be a little in active for the next 3 days or so, but I assure you when I get my net back I will be very active :)

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

My primary skill is Graphic designing; I'm talented in several areas of the field such as corporate design, publications design, website design, information design, typography, and advertising.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I've been around since the group had launched--I've met some of the group leaders and they seem extremely dedicated whilst the group members can be described by one simple word and that's "unity", I'm amazed at how well the members get along thus making this group something I definitely want to be a part of. It's not only the unity itself that amazes me but I'm also amazed by how much this group gives back to the community without a greedy incentive which can clearly be seen in the constant giveaways and for that I'd have to give the entire group a big pat on the back.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Reflecting to the group's expectations I can assure you that I'm mature, respectable, and acceptant towards other views and ideas. Looking at the basic requirements I can tell you that I possess all of them making me your typical applicant but if you analyze my profile you'll realize I'm more than your average-joe; compare me to any other candidate and you'll know why I'm just who you're looking for. Upon being accepted I will represent the group in every aspect, I will show you my loyalty, and prove my commitment--that's why I should be accepted into The Empire.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

My name's Waleed, I'm 18, and I'm currently living in Canada. I was born in Kuwait during the aftermath of the Gulf War. My family and I fled to Canada a year later but headed back in 2001. Suffering from a rare wry neck problem in 2003, knowing Canada for its great medical proficiency we were persuaded to come back. To make a long story short, I'm perfectly healthy and I'm presently studying Graphic Design at York University.

Anything else you want to say:

I'd just like to thank you for opening the recruitment thread once more and for giving me as well as the other applicants this opportunity.

Webmaster skills

Monetizing sites, I have made some fairly successful monetizing websites in my spare time and I'm continuing to do so right now.

Managing sites, I have managed a fair few sites in my time and know the tricks of the trade, how to manage a website efficiently and effectively and use the website to the best of its capabilities.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I deserve to be in The Empire, because I'm a high quality member.

I would participate in numerous ways.

Personally, I was thinking of doing various giveaways and contests in the name of The Empire thus giving the group an enhanced reputation.

I would share my knowledge and opinions aiming to give something back to the community, I will also gain knowledge and use this to my advantage when participating in The Empire.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I deserve to be a member of The Empire, I am a high quality member of the forum and I aim to progress further, sharing my knowledge and experience with others, The Empire can aid me in doing so.

I progress exceptionally in communication, web development and coding. And I am willing to share my knowledge with the rest of the members as well as gaining knowledge for myself.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

-Ewhoring skills [Can help others ewhore like a pro, give unsaturated sites and packs/videos.

-RS services; Ways to make money, etc.

-Trying to get good in graphics. Following tutorials, slowly working my way up.

-People skills: I'm good at making friends, communicating with other people, just being there for others in general.

-Gaming skills: Just an all around gamer. The second I play a game its just golden for me.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Empire is an amazing group and I wish to be apart of it. It is not only filled with HQ members, but members who devote their time to HF. I would also like to meet new people, make more friends. I spend a fair amount of hours a day on the computer so "activity" will not be a problem for me (Unless I go to the hospital for my stomach disease, but people will be notified)

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel like I've devoted enough time to HF to finally get acknowledged. I spend anywhere from 5-9 hours a day (Pathetic, I know) but it's what I do. I try to help members whenever possible, do giveaways whenever possible (Although I have been suffering/going through a lot lately). I try to be as HQ and active as I can.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Something memorable?:

In 2010, I was diagnosed with a stomach disease called "Ulcerative colitis". I was in and out of the hospital for all of November of this year, and the doctors told me I have Severe Ulcerative colitis. This is why I always give out a helping hand. Because I know what its like to feel alone in this world and even though its "the internet", no one deserves to go through it. Everyone, no matter how bad you are deserves to have someone by their side. Which is why I try to offer a helping hand to anyone; Even my worst enemies.

Anything else you want to say:

Thank you for reading my application. Good luck everyone.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Graphics Design - I like making graphics for people, even if I'm not the best at it.

Running Servers - I've ran plenty of Minecraft servers in my lifetime, knowing what leadership feels like.

Some Coding - I love learning new things, definitely HTML and Java. I may not be the best at either, but I still like to learn and still in the process of learning both.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join The Empire because I feel it is necessary to be in a group. Ever since I joined Hack Forums I've wanted to be in a group, I guess it made me feel apart of something for once. :D I don't really have the money to buy my own group. I don't come from a rich background, nor do I like to get into black hat activities to get my money.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I'm not the kind of guy to think I am all that or be apart of everything. But I feel like I should be apart of The Empire because I read the text below the group and it says "The Empire is a group of dedicated individuals that will share knowledge within our private sub-forum on a variety of subjects.". I'm the kind of guy to share knowledge with other members and just keep everyone interested and make sure they are having fun!

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I don't really have anything interesting to say about my life, I've never really done anything that memorable besides giving to the community or playing games. I remember one time I was playing San Andreas Multiplayer and on a server I won the lottery worth 54 million dollars. I've also joined a really cool griefing team for Minecraft, but the people have been really awesome and it's more of a friend group and we just fool around on Minecraft.

Anything else you want to say: I really have nothing else to say besides goodluck to everyone else!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I do a lot with servers. I currently have a Minecraft server that has been up for a year. I have hosted moperscape servers and have a Gary's Mod server.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I have been interested in the empire for some time now. Sounds like a all round awesome group

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Because I want to expand my knowledge with everybody and learn from others. I also do what I am told.(You know what I mean ;))

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Well it all started out when my mommy had some great sex with my dad, M'kay then 9 months later I broke the fuck out. I was a cute kid and all but then I found a playstation 1. one thing led to another I had playstation 2 with a game called "Roadkill" this game was basically grand theft auto mixed with twisted metal. I would spend countless months in my bedroom playing this game. Then I got the ps3 with MW2. This game was so fun I would fill my friends list up. But then I turned into a little l33t hacker.. I started hacking tenth prestige for myself and my friends. We always used to host speed lobbies and infected.

Then I found about the computer. I felt that this was 10x times better than this shitty ps3 (No offence to ps3) One thing led to another started servers and gained friends and went to battle with different communities within the games. People all the time threatened to hack me and that they were from HF, so I did some research about what the hell "HF" was. And from there here I am.

Anything else you want to say: Sorry about mistakes and grammar.

Yuno.

I am 16 years old.

Male.

I was raised a Catholic, but I never took any real interest in my religion.

Florida/United States.

Eastern Time Zone.

Graphic Design - I am no pro, but my skills are higher than those of an average person.

Programing - I am currently studying java.

Gaming - I used to be a competitive gamer.

I would like to join The Empire because it is an extremely high quality group, that I have always dreamed of joining. The members that I know in this group are very nice. Looking at this group it is like you all come together as a family, I would love to be apart of that.

I feel I should be accepted because I am an outgoing guy that is easy to get to know. I am a dedicated user, Once I start something I can not drop it until it gets finished. I am always looking to help others. I am virtually all day everyday, during that time I would be representing The Empire in a positive manor. I am always open to meeting new people and making new friends.

I am currently a Junior in high school. I have recently taken a liking to a game called "Minecraft". Most of my free time is spent on this game, and running my server. I can describe myself as a self starter, I don't like to be handed things, I like them to be earned, I have been like this as long as I can remember. If I am confronted with a challenge I will do my best to complete the task at the best of my ability.

Thank you for reading my application, and I am grateful for this opportunity.

1. I am a very good graphic designer- or so ive been told, most of my work is on youtube in Speedarts - <http://www.youtube.com/MommyHD>
2. I spread the "Family Effect". - I go through PMs daily asking for help and i help to the best of my ability.
3. I promote peace. - If i see hate through the forum, i don't let it go unnoticed, I call people out on it.
4. I am very open about everything. - I tell people about my life, if it will help them in the future. (especially in the innuendo forum like if someone has a sex question, I help from my experiences.)
5. I share my knowledge. - I let everyone know what i know. I share what i have to offer. This also goes along with being open about myself.
6. I'm very funny. - I'm that guy that everyone likes to come to for a smile. :)
7. I am exemplary in Language Arts skills. - I am not a grammar nazi, but I really do show great grammar skills and sentence structure.
8. I help EVERYONE. - Check my signature, my rep also shows it.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I am looking for people like myself, and show the same interests that i do. I also have wanted to join an elite group like yours ever since i like joined HF as a novice and developed some skills.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I am one of a kind and always ready to help. I also try my best at everything i do and i am really hoping to find a group to help in and grow with.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well, I really do appreciate you asking me this :), no one has really asked me before. I am a simple guy, i get along with everyone. I rap in my spare time and I hang out with my friends/girlfriend after school for around an hour. I went to a private school from Kindergarten until 8th grade. I was sort of a rebellious child, i didnt believe in what they tried to teach me and they just keep trying to rail it into the brains of the children. to be honest with you, i believe in God, but i dont really believe in religion, I feel like its just brainwashing kids. People should be allowed to have their own opinion and control their own fates.

I believe I am the man i am today because of my parents and grandparents and the way i was raised. I was raised to always show appreciation for the little things. Always say "Please" and "Thank you". Also, i was I rap to express myself, but some say im pretty good at it. (if you want to check me out - <http://www.youtube.com/OfficialSwaggie>). Now i rap to change the world, slowly, one step at a time.

I used to play football until i got injured and had to undergo surgery on my right knee. I went back to football too soon because thats what my coach said good players did. I tried to impress him, came back too soon and re-tore my meniscus. Leading to my second surgery. I just said fuck it to all of it and left football because of my pure hatred for my coach and now i just lift all the time. I'm very deep into weight lifting and i do it daily.

Anything else you want to say: Thank you for looking over my application :) I really do hope to hear from you soon.

GFX

I'm a graphics designer and have been offering graphic services on the forums for awhile now. I used to do free services, and I am still doing so in order to give back to the community. I'll place my port folio below later, but most of the work there are designed for users on Hack Forums. Other than just simple Photoshop work, I also have experience in Adobe Illustrator, Adobe Flash and Adobe After Effects. I'm also currently learning Cinema 4D but it's really hard for me as my PC takes ages to render.

I've done many thread designs for products such as RazorCrypt, Data Protector, Extortion Stresser, Facebook Account Checker (Hawkode), Impact API and many more others.

PORTFOLIO: <http://aurorahf.minus.com>

MalwareRemote Administration Tools

I'm a very experienced user of Remote Administration Tools. I was once apart of The RAT's Crew, a group on Hack Forums dedicated to RATs, and also used to be apart of Blackshades RAT Support Team. I've created many tutorials regarding RATs too:

HTTP Loaders

I've ran several botnets with a friend called Ariana Grande, a fellow member of The Empire. We mainly used Andromeda as our loader.

BTC Miners

When operating botnets & RATs, BTC Miners was my main form of income, hence I have alot of knowledge regarding BTC miners.

Crypters

As crypters are essential to malware, I've used a large number of crypters in my days, such as Chronic, Data Protector, ExeCrypt (Online Russian Crypter, $15/crypt) and several others.

Gaming I'm a Xbox 360 gamer. I play games such as Call of Duty and Halo. I played Halo 4 competitively, and one of the competitions I was in was the Halo 4 Launch Event in Singapore. Even though I did not win, I felt that I put up a good fight. I'm a knife-only player on Call of Duty, and get positive KD from time to time (as it's pretty difficult to just run around with a knife and get top of the list).

Monetizing I'm fairly experienced in Internet Monetization as I've earn quite a bit so far. The methods I use range from Pay Per Download Networks to Google AdSense to Clickbank Affiliates Program. I'm also running a forum based on internet marketing which can be found here:

<http://monetizingheaven.com>. I've made about $4k to $5k so far online. (According to my PayPal statements.)

As a knowledgeable member, I've also written several tutorials to help share my knowledge and assist other users:

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I wish to join The Empire as I feel that I'm capable of holding up the reputation it has. It's one of the most prestigious group on Hack Forums, hence I would like to be apart of it. I would also like to share all my knowledge with fellow The Empire members.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

To start off, I feel that I'm one of the best choices you have. I'm a high quality member and very active so you'll have no issues regarding inactivity with me. Furthermore, I'm a very helpful member of the community as you can see from my reputation logs. I've provided free services, tools, e-books and much more.

Not only am I giving back to the community, I'm also very supportive and also very blunt at times. As for products with no quality or what-so-ever on the market, I will not hesitate to sugar-coat my criticism, it needs to be blunt and sharp or they won't take it seriously. I also provide emotional support from time to time.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm Justin and I'm from Singapore. I'm experienced with computer-related things ranging from hardware to malware. I've been using computers since I was 5 when I first started playing Neopets and then moved onto games such as Runescape. At the age of 14, I started playing " Habbo " and was hacked by a Hack Forums member called i3urn.

He then referred me to Hack Forums and it was the best thing anyone has done for me so far. If it wasn't for him, I wouldn't be here applying for the Empire. I would most likely still be playing Habbo. (No offense to all players, but I've outgrown it.)

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): My skills are finding hidden viruses, and helping other people with programs. I find hidden viruses, and I will remove them as fast as possible, and then I will report back to the uploader, that it is backdoored. And my other skill, as I said... I can help people with programs, such as rats/keyloggers etc... So for example, if you need help with a RAT, I will find you a quick solution on how to fix that problem, or I will do it myself. For the removing viruses thing, I am going through your files, and I will see if there is something scetchy. If I find a connection through a server and an client, I will remove the virus, and will report back.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: The group seems to be fitting me. And I feel like the group is awesome.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I want to help other people with remove threats, and help them with other things. So I really want to be a "helpfull" member.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Well, I am a greyhat, and it all started with getting hacked. As I was getting Ratted, I was in panic, and I formated my whole pc. The days after, I gave it some re-search. Then I was angry, and i wanted to have the power to control other computers, and do bad things... And then I felt like it was not right, then I started looking at my files, and I saw stuff that wasnt meant to be there. Then I was scared. I downloaded a program called "Process hacker". And then I was looking at a process with the same name. Then I realized it was my friend trying to get my passwords.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I have three years of experience in Visual Basic.NET, I'm more on the web side of it though, like automating, I've coded various YouTube bots, Facebook bots etc.

I am currently learning about building computers, and I'm good at social engineering, I've Social Engineered Amazon for $260 when I was in the need of some money, I taught myself.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Because I think joining The Empire will help me learn and become smarter in certain areas that I'm weak in.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Anything else you want to say: No thank you.

The Dictator's Application

Name: Alex

Gender: Male

Religion: I was raised catholic, but I often find myself questioning the teachings i was forced to learn. If I had to choose anything I would say agnostic. I often find myself stalking the Science, Religion, Philosophy, and Politics section(s).

State/Country: Pennsylvania/USA

Time Zone: Eastern Standard

Skills that I have:

Anything Android. Rooting, un-bricking, and creating small applications.

I am very skilled with anything minecraft. Such as creating servers, managing, and creating scripts to use on them. Soon i hope to write my own plugin(s)

Website creation / Web-Design. I also am starting a smal venture with a friend hosting minecraft servers and web-servers for our clients.

Not sure if it matters on HF, but I LOVE working on my car ?

Starting to get into object-based coding, not very good at all, but can edit existing code to an okay degree.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:I have found that The Empire is very High Quality. I missed the last recruitment <\3, but I am happy to be entering this one. I hope I could contribute much to the group, like GFX and HQ threads :) There is not much else to say. I look up to HQ groups like The Empire and have always wanted to be included in one.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:I am a very HQ member, and i strive to stay on the good side of all members. I do many give-aways. I just recently changed my signature, but I listed all the members I upgraded there. I have done 3 so far. I'm a pretty tolerable guy so I could get along with fellow group members pretty well ^_^. I can also share my knowledge of Android-related things, such as rooting and creating applications. The unlimited oil-wealth of Wadiya could come in handy too..haha ?

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Note: I was never one to write..so go light on my literary prowess ? I'm not always one to share so I guess I can describe myself. I'm (currently) a junior in Highschool. I love playing and creating things in games. Avid Minecraft and Team Fortress 2 player. Taking a college level course to immerse myself in Java programming so that I can learn on my own after / if I pass the class. What makes me who I am is probably what I want to aim for with this attempt at a paragraph. When I was 6 or 7 my cousin who was just 26 went to Afghanistan. He taught me a lot. My father was never around and my mom was just an alcoholic that was either passed out or with other men. So my family wasn't the greatest place to raise a child. I looked up to my cousin and when he left I eagerly awaited his return, but sadly he died in combat. He was strong, and I hope that one day I am as strong as him. He was a true role-model. That has made me who I am and made me do the things I do because he was honestly the picture-perfect son. He got straight A's, so I try to maintain that. He was very athletic, I try but sadly not the athletic type. And lastly he was a fucking great person, so I strive to do that too.

So yeah ?

Anything else you want to say: Not much..All I know is that this group is madly HQ, The owner Tibit is a sexy guy, and I hope I get accepted ?

For your consideration..

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Web Development - I believe i'm skillful in web development, as I have been using it and developing for people for a couple years now. I just recently got a job with a city in the state I live in. (Tell me what other 17 year old kids work for a city). I am also very experience with forum boards. (MyBB, IP.B, etc..)

Networking - I am experienced in Networking. As I stated above, I work for a city in the state I live in, and I do quite a bit of network help there.

I also help out my school with some of their networking issues. I recently found 4 super simple bypasses in their network that could have ruined a ton of stuff if someone found out.

Graphics - I find myself always working with Photoshop (CS6 Extended), and doing some sort of graphics design. I may not be the best with it yet, but I am experienced with it. (I'd say more than most people).

I have actually made Outros for a couple YouTuber's. One you may have heard of, MrTechnicalDifficult.

Innuendo - I think i'm experienced with most innuendo related topics. Of course I still ask for some help, but I believe I am very experienced in it.

Gaming - I love gaming, I have been gaming since I was a little kid. I have kind of converted to PC gaming as Xbox gaming is getting a little boring for me. I started out playing the N64 when I was little. about 6 months later my grandma, being the nice person she is, bought me the first Playstation. (about a month after it came out.) I was hooked on that platform. My favorite game was Spongebob.

Game Development/Animation - I have SOME experience in Game development and flash animation. I used to use Macromedia Flash Professional 8 all the time to learn, and now I use Adobe Flash Professional CS6.

Video Production/Editing - I am very experienced in video production and video editing. I learned a couple years ago with a class, and have been improving my knowledge since. I can make very high quality videos with some snazzy editing to make it look like it was paid editing. I use Sony Vegas for my editing.

Android Modding/Flashing - I am very experienced in Android modding and ROM flashing. I can work with mostly any phone, locked bootloader or not. I have done some development, but Java isn't my specialty, so I don't work with it too often.

iPhone Modding/Jailbreaking - Although this is much easier than the Android stuff, I still enjoy modding and jailbreaking iPhones. I do some development, and used to own my own repo. I don't use Apple products anymore.

[img]<http://i1.minus.com/ibbCaCIBeoXJ8c.PNG>[/img]

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I think The Empire would be an advantage to be because I could improve my knowledge from other members, and also share my knowledge for people who are willing to learn, and dedicated. The Empire seems like a group I would want to join because I haven't heard negative things about it, unlike some other groups.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I think I should be accepted into The Empire because Of my knowledge. I have quite a few areas of knowledge, and I would post tutorials, videos, etc.. into the subforum teaching the members of The Empire. I think I would be a major help in your group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I started getting into the more advanced computer stuff when I was about 9. I really wanted to make a game, so I loaded up YouTube and looked up what I needed. I downloaded Macromedia Flash Professional 8 (Yes, go ahead and laugh...) and started watching some tutorials on how to make games. By these couple tutorials I got a feeling for the hotkeys, what tools do what, and a little on how ActionScript worked. Eventually I upgraded to a newer version of Flash, and built my own simple games.

After I got out of the game development stage, I started getting into YouTube. I learned how to make videos, and upload them. I make some very cheap runescape videos, and eventually made some "IRL" videos. One of them was a tutorial that got over a half million views, and got me partnership. I sold that channel in exchange for L33t on Hack Forums.

After YouTube, I got into website development, where it eventually led to a career. I now work for a city in the state I live in as a website developer, and work with network security as well. In my free time I mess around with Android modding and development.

[img]http://i1.minus.com/ibbCaCIBeoXJ8c.PNG[/img]

Anything else you want to say: Thanks for looking over my application, and I hope you consider me to be an advantage to your group. It seems like this group as a whole has put in a large amount of effort to create The Empire what it is today.

Thanks.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

- Web Developement : I created some websites over the past few years, nothing really serious, but my knowledge did that : Low - Medium - Correct, i'm able to create websites with some time :)
- Servers Managing : I'm managing servers since i've 10 years. I'm always trying to explore different ways to do a single task. My favourite OS is CentOS 6. It's really the BEST OS i've ever seen in my life. It's so fluent & fast :)
- Coding : I'm skilled in VB.Net and C#. I've a middle level in PHP (Hopefully, there is always someone with a carrot to help me on the dedicated subforum). I'm mainly using C# for my own use (repetitive tasks, random (but long) tasks). I use it to make my life easier :)
- Pentesting : I always liked to pentest websites (not ever mine). It's something i do with pleasure. Finding the way to the exploit is exciting, and when you're successful, it's autocongratulant.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Empire seems to be a really friendly community. I've always seen HQ members in The Empire. Some of them helped me in some hard times. Also, when i see on HackForums the cohesion between every members, it's making me feeling sad, because i'm not apart of this friendly & helpful community. You're giving such to the community : Giveaways, contests, gifts. This is really amazing to see a so strong & beautiful group on HF. A group of this quality is created like ... every 10 years, maybe more :P I really want to share what i have to the group and to HF. I want to give my help to everybody that need it. I want to be a friendly guy and to make this group even more friendly. I WANT to join Empire.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I've so many things to share with the Empire. I want to create so many things for the Empire. I want to help the Empire so badly. I want to help every member of the empire that are in troubles. I want to be a proud member of Empire. I want to make Empire even more HQ by my own participation. Also, i owe a lot of things to the member of Empire. For me, it's the time to give everything back to the group by my active participation. My knowledge isn't crazy, but i've a strong willpower.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Hehe. My name is Thomas, i'm 17 and i'm in College (the French High School, if you prefer). I'm actually studying in the Scientific stream. I expect to have my Baccalauréat this year, then i'll go in software developement school to be a dev. I love to reach my goals, and i'm persistent in my tasks : if i fail, i'll try again, and again, and again ... until i finished my task. I'm loving the chocolate and Playboy magazine (should i hide this ?).

For the story, i'm a Type 1 Diabetic. The discovery of this wasn't fun at all : i wasn't able to move correctly, to eat/drink anything. Hopefully, my doctor came at home fast and diagnostised a Type1 Diabete. I've been transfered to Hospital, where i've been cared. It took me 2 days to starting move, and 2 weeks to be totally OK. When i was back at home, i started to cry, and cry, and cry : why me ? But then, someone in my family died of a cancer, and i realised that i'm lucky to have nothing worser than Diabete. Diabete is not a big problem when you're not moving, because you've everything under your hand (or somewhere in your house) to care you incase of problem. The problem is when you're going outside. You need to take all your stuff because everything can happen. I always have a little bag with me when i go outside with everything to stay conscient :P

Anything else you want to say:

I did my best in this presentation : i used all my knowledge in English to write this. It took me like 45 minutes to write it, and it's not HQ as i would have done. English is not my main language, but i'm trying to improve it everyday, trust me :)

Gaming - I'm a pretty good leader, tactics creator and strategies. I also have teamwork and communication skills. I was a leader of a very successful Counter-Strike team. I also good more than a average person in the game Generals(strategy game).

Video Production/Editing - I'm an advanced counter strike video maker, I do it when I have some free time.

Here's my channel: <https://www.youtube.com/acid1478/>

(My other nickname is Acid, if you need some proofs, PMe)

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I wanna join to Empire in order to share my knowledge with other members in that group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?

I don't want to showoff, but I think that if I'll be in Empire, I can increase other member's knowledge by sharing my.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you.

I'm 15 years old, male, my alias is Zixem.

I have been through alot in my life, it all started when my mother start fighting with my dad almost every day...I was very dissappointed and scared, it was big fights. The only places I could be in quite and peace is my room(with computer) or outside the house.

All these fights made me be without any self confidence...even not a bit, don't ask me how.

Then, my parents decided that they needed to divorce, I was 13.

Then, I was very depressed and almost got suicide.

Until I took myself and said "I won't keep crying about myself". I've started to learn tennis, and that sport made me feel better.

It increased my self confidence and make me happy. I play tennis about 1.5 years and the tennis took a big part in my life.

Anything else you want to say: I own a booter, maybe it can help if I'll give to Empire free account in a contest thread.

Thank you for the opportunity.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

-Website Constructing

Well I have been constructing website since I was like 14/15 then got accepted into weekend website construction school since I was 14 and I still attend it to know and I have gathered a lot from that school, All my past work has closed down due to exams and work.

-Music

I have a special talent and that is music, Teachers say I have a great voice for choir/Pop singing, I took it for my GCSE and succeeded in it and I may do weekly live singing shows for the empire, I can develop beats but I am quite rusty around the edges but I know my way through garage band and other programs.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Why would I want to join the empire? Good question. I want to join the empire due to the amount of high quality posts and threads you post, I saw groups post and analyzed your posts and they impressed me. I saw some mistakes and the user who posted and corrected. I feel I'd be a great edition to the usergroup.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted due to the amount of high quality I post around the forums, I've been helping since the day I joined hackforums and I've benefited it to an amount that is exceeding and shared my information around the forum.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I'm a 17 year old lad from London, United Kingdom. Who is driven to be successful in life and a very creative teenager as my head of year says. My most memorable moment in my life? When I came out with great GCSE'S

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Well since I was 14 years old I have been talking to colleges about baseball scholarships and I'm going D-1 for baseball. I was in the state championship last year and was pitching, not even knowing there were some recruiters there I threw a 2 hitter with 0 walks. As well I am a football player but I'm not as good as I am in baseball all though I set my school record with 13 interceptions this past season. I can run a mile in 5minutes and 32seconds which is fairly good.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I have always wanted to join a group and never really applied until this recruitment for The Empire. I want to be in a group that has some really cool members and are able to talk to without any arguing. I have watched posts over the forums and think The Empire is one of the most respected and do awesome giveaways. I want to be known in a group and think that The Empire would be great to try and get into for my very first group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I contribute to the forums daily whether it is helping people in the Beginner Hacking Help Desk I am part of all the way to doing exchanges and running booters or giveaways. I have done over $5000 in exchanges and have never had a legit scam report opened on my. I can help out anyone in many situations whether it is spotting a few bucks all the way to helping someone get setup or sales. I think I would really be a great addition to The Empire and hope I get in.

Anything else you want to say: I hope I get in as well would like to say good luck to all other members applying.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I have a few skills, but the one i pride myself on the most is writing. I'm not the greatest in school i'm one of those kids that find it hard to pay attention and do the work because it bores me. When i'm on the computer i'm always focused on what i have to do and i never get lazy. But anyway back to skills, now out of all the things in school when it comes to writing an essay i ace it. No matter what everything just flows perfectly and i can just put it all down on paper very well, and informative. The most unique skill i have is with paintball, i play on a team in my area we are going to be getting sponsored by Empire (It's a paintball company :P) Our sponsors right now are some local fields and paintball shops. We all work very hard to work in paintball with school and other things it can be very demanding. Another skill of mine is i find myself to be a people person. I have done support for many products like Paradox when Tibit owned it. Lost touch with him but i'm hoping to talk with him soon. There's one last skill i find to be helpful and that's cooking. I can make a great tasting meal easy and it's actually really fun. I don't do cooking classes i just cook at home when i'm hungry or bored. I have many other small skills but those are some that i'm glad i have.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Honestly, there is no other group that interests me like Empire all of the members are so friendly and helpful, and it feels like a group i should be in. I have wanted to be in empire since my first week on HF. It's a great group and i it's almost like a calling in a way. And to be a part of empire would give me a great sense of pride like no other.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: In my opinion i could bring alot to Empire. Help out with anything a member needs help with, Teach and be a leader for other members. It would also be a great place for me to learn and develop old and new skills. I'm always going to be an active HQ member, I have many great ideas i can bring to the table to open new doors for any member on HF and in Empire. The Empire is just where i belong.... <3

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: In my life i have had some memorable moments that have impacted my life for good and only one major one that truly changed me. My parents divorcing that definitely played a huge part in who i am today. When my parents got divorced i became more.. Open to conversations and meeting new people. Which has helped me out alot on HF, i don't have many many events that have changed me like my parents divorcing. Some other's have just helped along the way such as my first time playing baseball, my first time playing paintball, and the day i broke my arm. Now that made me 10x more careful about what i do.. Shit hurt.

Anything else you want to say:Nothing else i can really say. All i have to do now is wait and hope for the best. Thank you for taking the the time to read my app.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Web Design - I have a very large background with web design from multiple games to forums, to just personal business promotion. I started to learn web design in the 8th grade when I took the "Web Mastering" class, during that class I learned the basics of programming as well as simplistic HTML. Following that year I started to become more and more into the computer and internet environment. Over the past 4 years on the internet I have learned a very large quantity of information regarding web design and how it all works together rather than just the formal programming basics. At this moment I officially know HTML 5 formally, but over the years I have acquired the skills for Css, Php, and JavaScript but I couldn't say I'm technically a master considering I haven't taken a formal class for it... I do have a lot of experience in CMS and such.

Forums, Communities, and Social Interactions online - Over the past 4 years that I have really been intensely online gaming and such I have built a vast amount of Forums dedicated to Runescape private servers. I have used that server Obvcourse for basic monetizing in the past. I have created a few Forums for others to advertise their website on, which in the end was not very successful because of the limit on how far I could monetize it with the amount of users I had for advertising and such.. In the end it just didn't work out as well as I would of liked it to, but I was also a lot younger, so that may of been a factor as well... Moving on, I have been on Hackforums for the past 2 years or so and that social interaction with typing, criticism, chatbox's on various websites and such, and overall typing have increased my typing speed to what is averaged at around 95 WPM with what I would understand to be decent grammar.

Overall friendliness and curiosity - What I seem to see a lot of members lack, is curiosity and overall friendliness online. Over time I have noticed members on the internet have started becoming more and more rude to other members. The reason I am just starting to see this more may because of my maturity and ability to see these things a lot more than I used to when I was very young and naive. I have however attempted greatly to keep myself very generous and not so selfish when it comes to other people. Myself as well as other members may notice that I am never really mean, if you disagree with something I will not go off on you about how I am right and you are wrong. If there is a valid point to be made, you can explain yourself and possibly change my mind. A lot of people tend to say that being that timid is a bad thing, but in the end my curiosity increases the amount of friends that you make in the long run and I think that it is an important attribute to have in the world today. This may not be a skill but it is an important characteristic that I find is very necessary to put in this application. ?

Body Building - Over the past 2 years or so I have noticed that I had a very small boned, scrawny look to my figure. So once my Mom got her personal trainer degree, she got a job at the local 24 Hour Fitness and I got free membership. Over the past years I have become extremely interested in the building of my muscles and how they work together in unison. I may not be the biggest kid on the block, but it is still considered body building with the activities and technical sport I perform at.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would like to join the Empire because of the overall feeling that you get when you an Empire posts on your thread or you are reading a thread made by the Empire. This group is highly respected and a very High Quality group. It would be an honor to participate in this group and represent its high standards through my activity online and from person to person. I honestly do not have a lot of money value to contribute such as contests and such, but over the years I believe the knowledge I have acquired online and the wisdom that comes with experience is worth more than money in contributing knowledge to young minds on this forum. I would like to join this group in order to expand my overall knowledge as well as share my own with other members of the group as a benefit to all of us.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

In my own opinion I try to keep my standards as high as possible, and I would personally love to join this group of such high standards to get in and maintain status as a higher member of this forum. Being in Empire is a true honor only a certain amount of members can have, and I believe that I have earned that position through hard work as a Hackforums member. I have a lot to offer on the knowledge perspective as well as lessons that can be learned in integrity and curiosity from being around me. I would be a great edition to the group because of the general charisma I impose. I would also like to expand my knowledge as a Win-win situation while representing the groups high quality stance and view to the other members of the forum. Although the not very high amount of posts on this forum, I find it not necessary to spam every thread with useless information that would not help anybody in any way. I like to post if there is going to be some growing of some sort in my post. I try to keep on the positive side of things and look at the bright side as much as possible. In the end I may not be a person that finds the need to be involved in everything, but I still find myself to be very active on this forum. I am online browsing Hackforums for sometimes as much as 7 hours a day on the weekdays. It is very relaxing just moving your fingers and hand browsing how other peoples days have been going, expanding my knowledge and seeing different aspects of different peoples life. I would truly love to be a part of this group because of the high standards it imposes and the way that every group member holds him/herself in this community.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

There isn't much about my life that differs greatly from anyone else's. I grew up in the same house over the past 13 or 14 years, and i've been in the same school district up until now that i'm a Junior in High School. Although around my 2nd grade year we moved to a house on the other side of town with my dad, which eventually cheated on my mother and they got a divorce towards my 3rd grade year. After that we moved back to the same house with my grandma to where I am today. From my middle school career I wanted to be some type of engineer however I wasn't sure on what path I would take in that direction. During my 7th and 8th grade years I had a phase of thought that I would be some kind of sports star, obvcourse those are the two years that I was in all school sports that I could possibly be in. After I entered High school I decided to put off sports and get more into my grades which has went very well up until now that i'm taking all possible computer classes, programming, engineering, drafting, and anything else that could possibly help me in the future out of High school.

Anything else you want to say:

There isn't much else to say about myself that hasn't been said above in the about me, what I know or where I came from. I would just really love to be a part of this group and show others who I really am and that my personality does shine around individuals who have the same general interest that I do. It would be amazing to join and I would like to thank you for reading my lengthy application! Have a wonderful day, happy holidays and a great new years to come.

Edit: I accidently had to edit my post to add in the last two sections.. Originally I didn't notice the last two questions because you had to scroll down on the format. Thanks!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

-Graphics: I have been using Cinema 4D R12 for about one year now and have really got to know that program, and have made graphics for many users.

-Social Engineering: I have been through allot in my 15 years of living and has seen allot, and learned allot from it, I can help people out with allot of problems in there life.

-Curiosity: I am very curious when it comes to new things in life, I like to learn and increase my knowledge in any way possible.

-Computer Skills: I know more than the average person when it comes to computers, like helping people with issues, like system errors and such things.

-Coding: I have some time learning Java, Html, and C++ I do not know a great deal about C++, or Html I know some about Java, If I saw some code that has pulled an error I would probably be able to fix it.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join The Empire because I feel like I need to give back to the community some how, and I think this is a good way to. I like helping others with multiple things, and would like to help more people.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be accepted into The Empire because, I will do my best to satisfy members of this group, and the Administration of this group. I will not let you guys down, and now give up on a given task.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I am different from every one else because, I like to debate issues with people, If they have learned from someone and I know in my mind that is not the answer I will debate against them and give them proof that its not correct, People might call me "Hard headed." I am different than most people also, because I have training in tae kwon do(Martial arts) I was in it for around 4 and a half years, and I have about one year training in Brazilian Jujitsu.

Anything else you want to say:

Hope I get into The Empire, and good luck to all of you that put time into this.

-Website Constructing

Well I have been constructing website since I was like 14/15 then got accepted into weekend website construction school since I was 14 and I still attend it to know and I have gathered a lot from that school, All my past work has closed down due to exams and work.

-Music

I have a special talent and that is music, Teachers say I have a great voice for choir/Pop singing, I took it for my GCSE and succeeded in it and I may do weekly live singing shows for the empire, I can develop beats but I am quite rusty around the edges but I know my way through garage band and other programs.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Why would I want to join the empire? Good question. I want to join the empire due to the amount of high quality posts and threads you post, I saw groups post and analyzed your posts and they impressed me. I saw some mistakes and the user who posted and corrected. I feel I'd be a great edition to the usergroup.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted due to the amount of high quality I post around the forums, I've been helping since the day I joined hackforums and I've benefited it to an amount that is exceeding and shared my information around the forum.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I'm a 17 year old lad from London, United Kingdom. What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Extensive and varying online monetizing experience. (Worked with ebay, craigslist, fiverr, adfly/adfocus, etc.)

Extensive knowledge of computer hardware/software (Am running on my custom rig, that I change parts of on occasion)

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I've come to find that the people in The Empire are of a rather high standard; one that I find I'd fit into very comfortably. Much like the Red Lions, but with a more outreaching purpose.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I've shown a great deal of quality and helpful activity as of late among the forums.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:I'm not sure as to what I could say about my life that would be relevant, but I'll tell a bit about myself.

I'm an 18 year old college student. I'm tall, fit and have a relatively large group of friends, but associate with a few more than most. I don't often involve friends with my online endeavors excluding gaming. Most of my time away from HF is spent studying, gaming or out with friends at some party or another. I'm a typical Student with a typical agenda.

Anything else you want to say: Happy Holidays

Spr™ - December 23, 2012, 2:42 am

Name: Shane, Copulate

Age: 18

Gender: Male

Religion: Agnostic

State/Country: Ohio, USA

Time Zone: EST

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Very skilled with PPD earnings, monetizing, I know a LOT of the ins and outs of typical and sometimes lesser-known techniques on the internet for money-making. I've been around computers since I was a little kid and I've been tinkering with them ever since. I have a strong passion for computer hardware and software and I am currently even majoring in Computer Science and Engineering at The Ohio State University. I've also been a competitive gamer (not aspiring, a sponsored one) since I was 13 for games ranging from CS:S, to WoW, to COD, to Halo 2/3. I played for Blight Gaming during their "reign" in the CS scene, was a back-up for Netcode Illuminati's COD team, and placed 32nd at MLG Columbus 09'. I feel as though I can contribute a positive reflection of this group with my help in the monetizing section, gaming section, VIP section, and hopefully graphics section once I reach into that area of expertise.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I'd like to join The Empire because I feel as though they are one of the most respectable groups on this forum. There are a few groups that have overly-strict requirements and expect nothing but the best businessmen and users for their group, which I found outrageous. I know a few members in the group and have seen a lot posting around the forum and they've been an overall positive influence on the community. I'd like to contribute to the forum under The Empire to provide for even more of a positive light on the forum.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be accepted because I've been around since late 2010. I have nearly 2.5k posts and I'm known to be of a very high quality poster (expect for one or two occasions with one specific user who pretty much everyone has a problem with). Outside of those incidents which I will fully admit to, I've been trying to be as high quality as possible and trying to contribute what I can to this forum. I recently won a L33t VIP Upgrade for my activity on the forum this past month or two and was hoping that may add to my application in anyway. I also avidly search for obvious and sometimes less-obvious scams and try to stop them in anyway. About a year back I stopped a $300 scam from -moon. and his cohort, they were trying to sell a guy $300 FAKE ESEA hacks and I stopped them so they revenge repped me.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'll skip the telling you about myself and tell you the moment in my life that really changed my perspective on life. When I was younger, I was a Grade A asshole to my parents and I'll admit it, I'm ashamed of it. I wouldn't listen, wouldn't help around the house, just ate their food and played the video games they would keep buying me for my birthday(s). I hadn't hit my growth spurt yet and with all the food consumption I was very short and very fat.

Fast forwarded to .. around 2007 or 2008. My father is a truck driver so he has a very rough and tedious occupation. I never really fully acknowledged that until this happened. His old trucking company he worked for made him use ILLEGAL straps to hold down the load he was hauling on his truck. These straps were illegal for a reason, and one of them snapped back and smashed my Dad's eye. He laid in a pool of blood for 10 minutes until the first responders came. The doctors said that if he was hit a centimeter to the left he would have been killed instantly.

From that point on, even though it wasn't a brush with death experience for myself, I have completely changed how I am. I help my parents with EVERYTHING. I may have an attitude at times but I apologize afterwards. I try to laugh and joke with my Dad as much as I can because I just .. I can't get that experience out of my head. I love my parents to the fullest and after that experience I have changed for the better. If you don't believe the story I'll get you an image of my Dad's face after his surgery (I tried to but I'm locked out of his Yahoo for 12hrs).

Anything else you want to say:

- Thank you very much for reading my application, and sorry if it's a bit long. ?

???- ?Z -??? - December 23, 2012, 5:38 am

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

As from what I have seen the group and the members are always HQ, and you never really see anything bad with them.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Because I will do my best to do whatever is asked of me, and I will contribute very often.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I am Zach Grew up in Dallas texas, dad made up to $3000 a week managing an A/C company. Long story short he got drunk over, and over, and over again, beat the shit out my mom, and now we had to move it with my aunt up to Oklahoma. When we got their first thing I noticed was the diet of my aunt, all she would it is deer, and mashed potatoes. Since then My dad has gone in rehab twice, lived under a bridge three years. Then we had to bring him back up our house in Oklahoma, because he jumped off a bridge into a river for fun because all the younger people were doing it, and he broke half his rib cage. He started drinking again but he never gets shitfaced because Oklahoma has low point beer. 5th grade school here in Oklahoma was pretty cool, we never had fieldtrips instead we did picked up trash on the side of the street which was actually pretty fun. The school was actually pretty small. There was only 5 other kids in my grade. 6th-8th grade I had a friend named deven he never had a mom, so he looked up to my mom as his mom, he is the most respectful peice of shit you have ever seen. but during the summer break right before freshman highscool was going to end he came over to my house, and said "I don't have time to explain, but I have to leave to missouri, my grandmother is doing meth, and I can't handle it anymore". Well Highschool aint as fun without him anymore, but now I am a freshman, doing okay. As far as my reputation goes in school, I am "The quiet dude you don't want to fuck with". I loved that title.

Anything else you want to say:I Hope you can look past my %50 Warning. I strive to keep being HQ, but I always seem to fuck up one way or the other.

Right now i am doing commentary's and selling steams.

I also like to do video editing, photo-shop, and of course helping people out.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

My main reason is that i like the members who are a part of the group, i know few of them and had a great conversation.

I also want to expand my knowledge and help the people in the group and improve my English.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

My name is Danny, i am 16 years old.

My life isn't perfect, i need to work hard.

Right now my dad has several things that makes his live hard, pain in his head, pain in his arms etc. The doctors don't help him because they don't seem to care.

Now i am trying to help him as much as i can.

Money is also a problem, my family is not wealthy.

But i am trying to stay positive, and think different.

Anything else you want to say:

I want to thank you for giving us a chance to be part of the Empire, i want to wish you a happy new year and a good Christmas.

Programming: I'm a current computer science major and have been taught C++, Java and VB.net in a school environment. I have written my own malware in C and have current employment in the IT industry. I have also studied Strudtured programming methodology, object oriented methodology and the SDLC. I started writing websites at the age of 8 when my father taught me.

SQL Injection: I have knowledge of attacking websites through SQL injection with both manual and automatic techniques. I can provide proof if needed.

Writing: I currently attend college with a 3.7 GPA and have completed the College Composition course at my school. I will be attending Advanced College Composition next semester. I enjoy writing short stories and about politics and current events.

Music: I am musically trained in reading and writing music. I currently play the electric bass and have played the cello, electric guitar, acoustic guitar and trumpet. I also enjoy djing in my free time.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would like to join The Empire because I very much enjoy socializing and meeting new people. I also enjoy learning and teaching from and to others. I know being in a group of select users will be enjoyable and fruitful.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be accepted into The Empire because I am willing to work hard to keep the group going and am willing to help other users in The Empire. I also feel that I have a lot to offer The Empire.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Hi my name is Alec, I grew up in a small town with a population of only 40 thousand people. When I was young my parents got divorced and that molded me into the person I am today. It made me be self sufficient and forced me to be independent. Since their divorce I have pushed myself to excel. I started taking college courses at 14 and took the California High School Proficiency Exam and graduated High School at 15. I currently attend College at the ripe young age of 16. I am very humble about this and try as hard as I can to stay humble and do not disclose this information to my peers. I can be very shy in person but am very friendly and a good team leader and work well with groups. I am currently dating my High School crush that I fell in love with at 15. I see a very bright future for the two of us.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I feel I have many skills in many different areas. Since this is mainly a computer forum, I will start with my computer skills: Ratting: This was one of my first types of computer experiences. I have had some good and bad experiences with ratting and keylogging programs. I am currently trying to code my own rat for sale on HF. I specialize in spreading, and how you can make an income from ratting and viruses.

Monetizing: My main goal anywhere on the internet is to make a source of money. Where ever I can, I try to learn and teach as much as I can when it comes to this subject. Whether it be PPD, CPA, or PTC, I have tried it all and I know what works. I would be glad to share what I know as well as to learn what more knowledgeable members know.

Virus Removal and Whitehat Activities: Because of my more blackhat history, I have quite a bit of knowledge when it comes to virus removal and security protection. I am always trying to learn more about this subject, because I think it is one of the most important computer subjects out there. The best offense, is a good defense. I am a firm believer in this, and I think that it crosses into the computer world also.

Kindness and Respect: I feel this is the most important quality and skill I have. I feel as though everyone should be treated fairly, anywhere. Whether it be on an online hacking forum website, or at school. I feel the world can accomplish more if we all dropped the anger and just worked together. I work well with a group, and I always like to help new and less experienced members.

Leadership: Many people may laugh, but I am on my way to becoming an Eagle Scout. If you don't know what this is, it is a rank in Boy Scouts that shows my dedication to a program that I have start. It also shows that I am respectful to all, and that I can lead a group of people. By becoming a leader, my goal is for people to look up to me, and make the right decisions.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join The Empire for many reasons. Every since I began my journey on HF, I always looked up to Empire members for help or assistance with anything. They were always nice and happy to help. This group alone sets a HQ standard for all of HF. I think that deserves the respect of everyone, and I would love to be a part of it.

There are many groups out there but very few match the quality of The Empire. Overall, I want to actually accomplish something on HF. I think joining a group is the perfect way to do so. I am very eager to learn, and happy to teach all I know.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I can share my knowledge, and learn in a HQ environment like The Empire. I strive when I work in a group. I am constantly giving my services and help away for free. I always encourage new users to talk to me if they have any questions. I feel I can bring that into The Empire. I have a certain level of HQ that I sustain everywhere I am. Some may call me a perfectionist, but that is just how I like to do things. I would love to join the Empire and share what I know and learn in a friendly community.

I feel it would be beneficial for me to come and learn as much as I can from other, more experienced members. Since I have first joined HF, I have had many helpful threads in hoping that I may help people. Here are a couple of those threads:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3009327> (Free crypting service)

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2947856> (Free bitcoin miners)

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3039475> (Cheap hostgator hosting)

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2955701> (Tutorial on bitcoins)

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I feel that I am different from many people applying to this group. As I might have stated before, I am becoming an Eagle Scout. I feel this is a pretty big part of me and who I am. I think this makes me who I am, and makes me make the right decisions. I take pride in what I do, and I feel everyone should. I think that all the lessons I learn in becoming an Eagle Scout helps me with everything I do. Whether it be in school, or HackForums.

I also think my academic life is important. I always try to challenge myself anywhere, and school is a perfect example of this. I am currently taking all honors classes in High School, and I plan on taking AP classes throughout the rest of High School. I am always thinking ahead, and that makes me prepared for many things. I also play football for my highschool. I think this helps me work with a group, and accomplish a common goal. Football helps me get exercise, and it keeps me out of the house. I think it is important to be well rounded, because if not, you are not living as much as you could be.

During my time here on HF, I have been all over. The first official group I was in was the group Logic. I enjoyed my time there, but unfortunately everyone was kicked due to reforming the group. I then didn't have the post requirements to re-apply. I recently became Uber, and I am very happy with that position. I consider myself to be more of a businessman, so with some of the money I get from my monetizing, I put and donate to HF. I plan on donating more money to HF in the next month.

Anything else you want to say: Good luck to all that are applying, and thanks for the opportunity to apply for this great group! Happy Holidays guys.?

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I'm a talented Graphic Designer that has been doing work for all sorts of forums and clients for around 2 years now. Here's a link to my thread. Not only am I an accomplished artist, but I have a good way with words as far as conveying what's streaming in my mind, to a piece of paper. I'm also a social networking guru. I've been building a bank of 10 Twitter accounts for the past 6 months and have an outreach of around 60,000 followers. I make a good amount of money per week by selling personal shout outs on those accounts, and by building new twitter accounts for major companies. Besides the materialistic things that I have just talked about, I'm a nice guy who would go out of my way for just about anyone. I like to think that people like me, and enjoy my company. I'm dedicated and hardworking in every meaning of those words, and strive to be the best at what I do.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I've never been in a user group before, and truly believe that it's time for me to try to join one. My account may seem weak and worthless, but I can assure you that all my posts have a purpose. I try my best to always be HQ with everything I say and do on Hackfourms. Having a group to support and help me learn, could easily be the one thing that allows me as a person, marketer, and HF member, to become a valued part of this site.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I don't join groups in any part of my life unless I'm going to devote 100% of my time and effort to that group. Our minds and abilities are only as strong as the person who taught us all we know. I think to grow we need to work with others to see new perspectives and angles of the world.

I GaL3y pledge, if accepted to Empire, to always do what is best for the group, and give all I can offer to Empire's message, reputation, and popularity.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted because I love helping the community and giving things away. I notice a lot of giveaways being held on behalf of the empire and I feel I could do even more. I could share my knowledge on Monetizing, Coding, web development and even some of my private methods. I can bring a lot of new knowledge and activity to the sub forum.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Well hello there, I'm 16 years old and live in the United States. I love gaming, monetizing and coding. I wish to develop full platform games at some point in my life as an adult. I have been to the states Florida, Arkansas, Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan, Tennessee and New York. I spend much of my time practicing skills to make money and code things. I like doing giveaways most of the time too.

On to the next story, One time I was with my cousins and they are pretty (bad). I had to follow them (walk) with them to my other cousins house. Well on the way there they decide to throw some rocks at an old school building AND police station near by. And I don't really like trouble one bit. Then this middle-aged women comes riding on her bicycle and said "I'm calling the police." I was so scared I said please don't call the police. We ran and none of our parents ever found out about it. That was when I was 14 years old. I'm 16 now, so that was just a little theme about me that I don't like trouble at all.

Anything else you want to say: I am honored to be writing an hour long application for a cool, sexy group like "The Empire". I'm completely honored! Thank you for this great opportunity for me to explain to you more about myself. Yours truly, Dr.Money!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

? Remote Administration tools - I have about two years of experience with RAT's(Remote Administration Tools. I've also spreaded alot in the past.

? E-Whoring - I've had experience with this for the past 3 years, I basically know all the methods, make about 200+ a day on good days. Usually do it for 3hours a day or so, not so much lately because I'm trying to learn SQLi Injections.

? Graphics- Over a year now doing this, I know a medium level, I can make things clean but yeah, not as experienced in this as my other skills.

? Gaming - 3 Years gaming, have all the CoD Franchise and GTA4, usually play games for about 2hours a day or so, I use to be heavily into Trickshotting and so.

? Bruteforcing / Cracking - 6months learning this, already have cracked around 2k accounts, creating a wordlist generator atm.

? Social - Not much of a skill but yeah, I can cheer up people and I don't drop a conversation like its nothing, I like to hear and contribute to what you have to say, I like talking to people :)

? Marketing - I'm experienced in Marketing from other forums in selling e-books, Crypters etc, as I love talking to people and writing.

Typing - 105 WPM - from 10 fast fingers. I have proof aswell :P

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join Empire because it looks like a group of close individuals as Wigan said, and You contribute to all parts of the forum. You contribute to the forums and give alot of giveaways in which I'm capable to contributing aswell, you're members are very friendly.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel as I have quite numerous knowledge on lots of subjects, You're very organised group, and that is great. You produce HQ content bringing name to "The Empire" and I believe I could contribute more. You treat everyone with respect and as if they we're your friends and thats something that I truly vary, and How I am, you all seem like a great family.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm a 16 year old average, well you could say that guy that has been much from the beginning. My brother use to be a hacker knowing in literally all subjects of hacking, over his past years, I wanted to begin when I was 10 but I couldn't be stuffed reading back then, then I gave it a shot when i was 12 and got into areas of ratting, e-whoring and such.

My mum turning into a drug addict when I was born really reflected on my life and how people treated me, because I was "different" you may say. And then again..my Dad leaving me about 6 months because my Mum didn't want to marry him for several reasons because he was already married etc and I guess they we're just drunks/drug addicts that night and didn't really think about it.

I started playing Soccer when I was 6, and moved onto the leagues when I was 14 I think. Started playing Rugby, well Football in America I think for about 2 years now and have really enjoyed all my time at the club. Studying IT in Highschool and thats why I'm basically completing year 11 and 12, to get a good education in the future or something, and hopefully go visit my dad which I haven't spoken to all my life in England, and my Grandparents who have moved from England to Spain.

My amazing life ofcourse >.< ?

Anything else you want to say:

Thankyou for reading my application and I hope I get accepted into The Empire! :)

Goodluck to the other people who applied aswell.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

? RAT - I know how to crypt a server and spread.

? eWhoring - First 3 day's i made around $500 E-whoring, spent my money on programs that i needed then never did it again.

? Buisness - I would usually use vps's, then bot game account's and sell the game accounts & in-game money for real money on gaming websites.

? Merch - I've gotten rich when i would game by, buying something and selling for more.

? Web Development - I've been paid to develope websites around RSPS communitys for their servers, i usually just use joomla. It's not really hard that way.

? A bit of Java - I was learning how to program Java while i was developing a Runesvape Private Server, but wasn't my thing so stopped.

? Gaming Skills - I've been gaming since i was around 6 till i was 14-15, now i'm not really a gammer anymore. But i know i still have them skills.

? Staying up late - Takes some skills to stay up 48 hours straight. :)

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

? First off, i've been here at the hack forums for quiet a while, not so long. But i've reviewed other threads before about groups & never had interest in them, but i've always liked the thread about this group. I just thing i would love to be part of this team and make some new friends. I would use this user-bar with honor.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

? I've never scammed anyone, i'm completely a nice and fair human.

? I've done alot of giveaways, but i would like the rest of my giveaways to be given with your user-bar in honor.

? I help members every once in a while when i am asked to in a Pm.

? I never disrespect any member on the Hackforums, no matter how LQ they are.

? I would show other members who have no knowledge about this group, who you really are.

Anything else you want to say:

:) Thank you for taking your time reading this, i honestly hope i get accepted to this group as this is my first time applying for any group.

I am using blogger and tumblr, Both are awesome and earning like a boss.

2. Since I've been in monetizing, It was obvious to use PPD as well, I'm quite good in PPD and Having innovative ideas to promote my links and finding new ways of earning.

3. Hacking was part of my life, I've been doing this for hack to learn, Keyloggers,SQLI, Rats, Website hacking and Message spoofing are my favorite areas.

4. Am also pretty good at Social networking, I have lot's of Fan pages, which are required for spreading and making money out of them.

5. Web developing is also my passion and doing it since 4 years, I've been working on a private website for freelancing and I've got great reviews for web developing.

6. I've been legit currency exchanger for almost a year. You guys can check my stats for confirmation.

7. I am good at how to deal with people and giving them emotional support.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to become part of The Empire to share my knowledge and Helping out community members on be half of The Empire, To be honest am greatly inspired by the Empire group, They have set an example for whole forum. I will share my knowledge to Empire family and giving the innovative ideas to make HF a better place. I've thirst for knowledge and am always looking to learn some thing new, Being in Family of HQ members of Empires gives me an opportunity to learn everyday.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I Feel I should be accepted because am contributing the forum since I joined the hf, I always look to help hf members either in form of money or finding out something for them. I will contribute to Empires family by making HQ posts, Giving them knowledge about skills I've learnt and giving away free money to help out the community on the banner of The Empire.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm an Engineering student, My hobbies are hacking, Monetizing and Computing, What makes me stand out is passion to learn and earn with honesty.

Once a day me and my cousin were watching a move named " Pursuit Of Happiness " It's an inspirational movie based on true story. Chirs Gardner was the man who suffered from the taste of poverty and his struggle for happiness was written in the destiny. The lesson I've learnt form this movie is;

No matter what atmosphere you have for study, If you are committed to your work then no body can stop you, If you are rich, You are G0d gifted, Always keep your moral high, Ups and downs are the part of life.

Anything else you want to say:

Thanks for reading my application. Good luck to all.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): My skills involve school acitivities, mostly. I'm in all honors classes and maintained a 100 average in my math classes for 3 years now. I'm very open to helping people with homework, and help a lot of people in my classes (esepecially with Algebra and sciences). I'm also a very social person. I'm a very good debater; I can debate on a neutral side, meaning I can just state my opinion and back it up with reasons. I never try to persuade the other debater into joining my side, rather I want them to realize they are wrong (unless I'm wrong, which can happen). I've been playing the violin for about a year, and I'm pretty good at reading music. I guess that could be a skill I have. Another skill that I possess is a decent writing ability. This Christmas I wrote my best friend a book "How To NOT Be Socially Awkward, From the POV of a Socially Awkward Kid" and got it published. Everyone loved it and was surprised at my writing. My school's library even wants a copy to put in.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I've been part of Hack Forums for a pretty long time, and I thought it was time to join a group. I saw this group and liked it for several reasons. I like the idea of helping out around the community, and also I like how the group socializes within the group frequently. In general, I wanted to join a group and this one caught my eye as something I'd be interested in.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel that I'd add to the group as being a social person and a great friend. I'm a lesser known HF user, but I think that people will like me as a person, and we can quickly get acquainted and known.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I'm going to make this short. Last year in 8th grade my father passed away from cancer, on a Sunday. The next day I went to school, regardless, and plowed through the day (and week). My reasoning was that I didn't want to fall behind in school. I think that alone should sum up my personality. I'm a very dedicated and hardworking person. In school, I graduated 18th last year (middle school) and now in high school I'm ranked at number 2 after the first quarter. My average is currently a 98, which I'm proud. Every day I get home at around 6-8pm because of all the extra things I do after school. I'm on my school's bowling team, and later on tennis team. I also am in Key Club, Ecology Club (where I manage the Facebook page) and Strategy and Tactics club (a fun club to meet on Fridays and play games). Overall, I'm a well-rounded person.

Anything else you want to say: Nope, I don't really have anything else to add besides I hope to be accepted.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

-I'm currently learning Graphic Designing to do free services to help/better the HackForums community.

-I'm about to pay for Rosetta Stone to better my education in another language.

-I type really fast(My Friends Say.)

-I'm extremely friendly to all members, if they disrespect me then I simply say please leave me alone.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

-Personally, I think I would be a great asset to 'The Empire' I work hard to help with the forum and to better my knowledge for the rules.

-I would love for this to be more of a learning experience.

-I've never scammed anyone in my life, I've worked with people who scammed but I did not know at the time, I was young and naive.

-I'm a stable and active member to this Community.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

-I've been with HackForums for a long time and I hope that since I have a good grasp of the rules I can help as much as I can. (Other account was Compromised and had to re-make.)

-As I started above I would make a great asset to 'The Empire' just by helping the members and getting 'The Empires' name shine.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Hello, my name is Daniel but most people call me Danny or Swoko. I work hard everyday in school to better my self in my studies, I'm only in High School but that is the make-it or break-it time. I'm currently about to enhance my studies on a online course called 'Rosetta Stone.' I want to learn a lot more then I know, I always wanna learn just to know more then my friends and teach them things. I've always been the smartest computer kid in my class, but not in my studies that's why I haft to work harder then most people to better my self.

I love Football it's my passion to play in the NFL but it's hard when you have so much work. Something I did in my life that made me who I am is playing Little League Football, without Football I had nothing els to do at that age, it was more of a Get-a-way drug. I felt so alive when I played and it shaped me and made me in the strong person I am today. Going through a lot in the past years some of my family have died that were extremely close to me. I learned you just haft to move on and keep going, they wouldn't wanna let you stay sad at all.

This is some of my story, but not all of it. I have a lot of memorable moments in my life that I would share but I can't. But, I can share that when I got my first computer, Oh' lord I was happy. When I infected my first person, Oh' lord I was happy. When I got SWAT'd I was not happy. But what I learned from being SWAT'd is that you can't trust no one, people SWAT over the stupidest things, I got SWAT'd for not making someone a signature in Adobe Photoshop? Like, what makes you so childish that you need to SWAT someone that wont do what you ask. But that is my story, thank you for reading.

Anything else you want to say:

-I think I said it all above, but thank you for this opportunity to apply for a group membership with 'The Empire.'

Thanks,
~Swoko

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

I have incredible experience in social marketing, that's what I "work" in my day today, but then again "work and work", I'm only 14 years, but I have a nice monthly salary of around $ 1000, on social marketing . It ofcause vary from month to month, when you work in a business like this.

I have less experience in hacking, it is not something I do on a daily basis today, but to put a RAT or Keylogger up, and crypt it, is as foolproof;)

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would like to join The Empire because I feel that I will be able to join a fraternity where you look at each other, as with the people and not look at each other as "Normally, L33T, UB3R, Staff, and Admin". I also hope that we can share a part with each other, maybe even some of my "techniques";)?

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Why do I feel that I should be accepted? I do not really have the feeling as I do not quite follow me worthy. I'm still new to the forum, and I still have MUCH to learn, but who knows? Maybe this would be the start of something new for me? I would really just like new acquaintances with people who have movement, like me, and have the same interests as me. For me it's not really a question whether I am worthy to join, but more a question if you will have me. I can fire the worst crap, but you get far with the truth, and I visions I have to tell.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I've always been a loner, a type who likes to be alone with his computer, where you can shut down, if you have set limits that should not be violated.

I've always been afraid of the real world, but so anyway, I've never been afraid to close a site down, I've never been afraid of the police, but the outside world and what they think about me, that's what matters for me. I thrive alone, without anyone around me to bother me when I program, make videos, or whatever I do. I remember clearly the first time, the first time the police came, I was afraid, and alone, it was probably the only time I actually wished there were some I knew, and not just strangers who put me in handcuffs, but when that said, it was also liberating to know that there actually were some in the community who noticed me, and what I was doing. It gave me a taste, a taste of the outside world might not SO bad. The reason I am who I am, I can thank the Internet, both for the good and bad things. First and foremost, then by all who have been on the internet that after a short time, misunderstand can all.

Anything else you want to say:

I do not accept me because I have written much, you have to accept me because I have written out of the heart, I have written what I believe, and not what a computer or other means.

I have limited coding skills in Perl and Python.

I am an experienced gamer, I've been in 1 small tournament for halo 2, and GB for Halo 3. Also, had a clan in Call of Duty 4 that was huge.

I can socialize with pretty much anyone, and i love to make people smile and laugh so I'm easy to get along with.

I have experience in SQL injection and website hacking.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

To be apart of something bigger on Hack Forums

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Because I will do my best to achieve what ever is asked of me, and when i set my mind on something i will do my absolute best to get it done.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I was born on September 20, 1994. 2 hours after i was born the doctors discovered that there was something wrong with my heart due to the fact that i had a heart murmur. I suffer from a condition called aortic stenosis (when the aortic valve becomes more narrow. Blood pressure rises and the heart works harder to get the blood through that valve.) My very first surgery was when i was 6 weeks old, i had a Ballooning procedure where they cut into the groin and through the major artery stick a small tube that inflates which opens the valve more.

When I was 6, I was living in an apartment complex with my family. It was summer, and 96 degrees outside, my mother told my dad that i couldn't go to the park because the humidity would make my heart beat rise and could make me pass out eventually. The park that was right behind the apartment complex could be seen from our family room window, and my siblings wouldn't leave my father alone. He didnt want to leave me out of the fun so he thought he would let us play outside for just a little bit. While outside I passed out, and went into cardiac arrest for the first time, i was rushed to the hospital where I was put immediately into my first open heart surgery. The surgeons performed the replacement of my aortic valve.

At 8 years old, i was at my Aunts birthday party when I collapsed on the floor and my heart had completely stopped pumping blood to the rest of my body. To this day, I don't know how I lived. My mom gave me CPR. My mother used to tell me that I first turned pale white, then Blue then purple due to not breathing. I had what I believe is an out of body experience, I remember being in a room that was bright, and there was a huge dark figure standing in front of me. The only things said by him where " Your mom and dad love you too much, Its not your time." But that's not what made this so real, he wasn't speaking in any form of language I had heard before, he was speaking in the form of some tongue. most people say this is unbelievable but oh well i know what I saw and experienced ; Shortly after, I woke up in the hospital.

I've lived so close to death all of my life, every surgery the worry that i wouldn't wake up, after 18 years of dealing with this all; I've learned to cherish life, I put 100% into everything I do. I put forth my all into what I do. This has shaped me into who I am.

Anything else you want to say:

I hope you enjoy my application and see what I am all about!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Programming, I've knowledge in both System and Web programming languages such as C++,Python,PHP,VB and Java Whitehat skills, I've helped many HF members by removing malware infections. I did wrote an Tutorial.

Basic Hacking Skills, such as SQLi, XSS and Metasploit.

I'm very Helpful and open to other members.

Knowledge in overall Computer/Internet related fields.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I wanted to join The Empire because I need to explore and like to be in a brotherhood where The Empire seems perfect. The Empire group meets all my requirements and I feel I belong to this group. I've seen many high quality members wearing Empire userbar so I think The Empire is filled with HQ members. I want to make new friends, learn from others as well as share my knowledge. I'm really interested to be a part of a group on HackForums because of their members, quality, and contributions. I could to contribute as well in the name of The Empire.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I have so much to share with The Empire, I feel I should be accepted because I do meet all requirements of The Empire and I do have certain skills and qualities that others don't have. I'm an High quality and Active user as well as knowledgeable member. I do posts more than 6-10 posts per day and will be online for 4-5 hours per day. I'm always open to learning and adapting new environments. I'll make my group proud by helping and sharing knowledge across Hackforums.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Little about my self , I'm Albert, I joined HF 5 months back and I do felt this forum very helpful and supportive. I'm an Engineering student in Computer Science, I'll finish my degree within 1 year. I'm planning to get a job in Ethical hacking field like a Pen tester. I do have certifications in Ethical Hacking. My activities on HF are most I'll be helping Beginner in Beginner Hacking section or helping infected members in White hat section. I've been looking to join The Empire since the day I got here, but I waited 5 months to become little trusted and good. I never been got in to a group and I hope The Empire will be my first and best one. I'm planning to write ebook about basic hacking stuffs and ethics, I'll share it after finishing it.

I'm very friendly and a helpful person, I do like to make new friends explore things, and stuff. I do like to hangout with friends and party. My hobbies are Traveling, Blogging, etc. As a professional I'm responsible and good at what I'm doing. I always like to work as a team.

What are some skills that you have:

I can short mention, Grammar

I try my best to keep my grammar on the very best level, all the time.

Our Native language is Norwegian and i have the highest grade in Norwegian and English grammar, from tests. My teacher asked me once if i wanted to help an student to write an essay and i helped him and at the results he almost had the highest grade possible to get.

Hacking

I am alot into hacking, but not as much as i used to before.

I usually like to SQLi and forum hacking, cracking etc. I was about 13 when i got my first site, (educational purposes) when i saw the Databases and all the passwords flowing in there it really motivated me to do more. Since i am not into this anymore i love to help out in the Beginner Hacking section and help out with advices or techniques.

Virus Removal

There is no better satisfaction then to clean out your computer from Malicious files and such. I usually help out peoples on Skype or on any Desktop sharing programs. I have got infected alot of times before downloading " RS booters " back in 2009. I was really an noob and then i got hacked over and over and i started to look into how i could keep my computer clean of these things so i would not get hacked anymore. And since 2010 i have not been hacked once because i learned the art of the removal. And i can check if the files are infected and don't run it before i know it's safe and in general much more knowledge about Malware.

General

I am an really extroverted person which gets along with almost anyone. I think and hope that i am an nice person to talk to and have conversations with. I have never scammed anyone and will never imply to do so either thats because i believe in Karma.

Why do you want to join The Empire?

There are numerous reasons of why i would like to join The Empire usergroup but i can mention that some of the many main reasons is because i am an honest person, and i could bring alot of good materials to the usergroup. Such as for example, great mood, quality posts and overall just be another great person in the group.

I like the reasons of why The Empire was made and it has awesome group leaders which takes care of their users.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?

I work everyday to make sure all the persons around me are fine and i try my best to satisfy their needs, everyday. I have done alot of contributions to Hackforums and i would like to keep it that way, providing highquality material to the users.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I am from Norway, 14 years old. I live in an family of four, happy family life. I have alot of good grades aswell, but now i want to tell you about something that helped me to be the person who i am today.

It all started back in 2008 when my uncle was going to the sea for 3 weeks, he is an captain on an offshore boat. They met an great storm in the Norwegian Ocean and waves bursting 20 metres, can't remember exactly but he told me that they all felt like they were going to die and the boat would flip over because of the high waves, it did not look pretty. Then he sat down for 30 seconds praying to God, and the pray was about how the storm could stop. It sounds strange but it stopped really soon after the pray and everything was back to Normal.

Another thing could be that when my dad was 9 years, it was Christmas times and my grandfather had my dad staying with on the little Christmas. My dad's parents were separated and he was going back to his home town. He had bought an ticket to an flight in the afternoon on little Christmas. But then all of the sudden my grandfather told him that it would be really nice if my dad could stay with him for the rest of the night. So dad cancelled the ticket. Next day on the news, the news anchor said that " unknown amount of peoples lost their lifes in plane crash (to my city, dads cancelled flight) " 213 peoples lost their lifes and 5 survived. So my dad always sits in the front of the plane and the plance crashed in the woods and the tree impaled the 7 first seat-rows of the plane. So if my dad would be on that plane he would not been here living with us and i would not have exsisted

My dad said that it was God's will and my dads destiny was not going dying in an plane in an crash. It really makes us think, and it sounds crazy i know, but it's true. Nothing is coincidence.

Anything else you want to say:

For this, i just want to say that i really hope that everyone had a Happy Holiday and i would like to wish everyone and Happy New Year.

Thanks for reading this.

I am sorry if it came alot on the "one or three paragraphs about yourself" question, but i wrote from my heart.

[img]http://i.minus.com/iKlvUSDNy8xCy.gif[/img]Graphic Design

Been playing with Photoshop well it's been some years as far back as i remember i was already playing around with it when Photoshop CS2 came out in 2005. So been doing it for quite sometime.

My Website.

www.Jakudesign.com

[img]http://i.minus.com/iKlvUSDNy8xCy.gif[/img]Web Development

I've been coding Websites for 2 years or so after School and self taught. HTML5, CSS, PHP, ASP I also code PAWN, and currently learning Squirrel for some Game mod servers.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Since i joined the Community I've always looked at Empire as a High quality group only the finest joined it's actually so HQ that i wouldn't even make an application until i knew i would be qualified for it, which i feel like i am now.

My main aim on the forum has definitely been to make GFX for the people of the forum, and meet new friends.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Well i see myself as qualified, i'm a friendly and a very helpful guy.

I stay my ground, follow the rules and have never got into any arguments Only showed a lot of love to everyone, and been as helpful as i could.

Never received any Negative rep which i'm very proud of, and have never had any Warning Level.

So from that i consider myself pretty high quality and would fit well into the Empire Family.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Been through alot of stuff i'll spare you for that and make it short.

I was born in Bosnia in 91, and moved to Denmark due to War with my Mother.

Grew up a quite kid, i kept my school straight but got into some trouble later on in life. Which i have learned alot from.

For me Computer has always been a kind of escape way, always enjoyed sitting in my own little world just doing the things i do.

I enjoy watching alot of Movies and shows which you can see i'm a pretty huge Dexter fan i also love listening to lots of Music

And have actually been making it myself.

I'm an active member on the forums, spend my time here a lot since i currently do not have a job. That's a little about me, looking forward to the future in the group if accepted.

Anything else you want to say:

Not much other then thank you for giving me the opportunity.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

*Reviewer - I'm a Reviewer on some forums

*Book writer - I wrote many books before and might write some eBooks

*Music Producing (Rap) - I've been raping ever since I was 9 & Song writer

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I feel as of I can fit right in to this wonderful group

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I'm a great and HQ member and i'm very trustworthy and dedicated to join.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: originally grew up in PHI, PA and moved to NJ at the age of 9. As a boy I was curious I always wanted to try something new but as days went on around 10 I was addicted to gaming which I didn't notice at a time until one day I noticed I haven't spent time with family. After sometime around 11 I became more responsible with my time and gaming limit. With my life 12-15 I stuck with the computer and xbox and at 1 point 12/26/2012 I saw I would really fit into the group Empire <3

Anything else you want to say: I understand fully if I don't get accepted in Empire.

Video Making - Been doing this for two years, currently using Sony Vegas.

Streaming - Still need to finish my computer build so it's better quality.

Gamer - I currently am trying to go pro in League of Legends, and I also play WoW and Diablo 3.

Certified in Microsoft Office - Passed the test in school.

Advanced Programmer - Current class in school, taking APCS (AP Computer Science) next year.

PLTW (Project Lead The Way) - Currently a member of STAT (Stafford Academy for Technology) which is a part of this project.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I may be a new member, recently joined (1 month ago) but I feel like this is something I can be a part of. I'm active, and I feel like joining this private community and sharing what I know and learning what knowledge everyone there has will be a good experience for me at Hackforums. I will also try to contribute in any way I can whether it would be helping members with homework (if I can), programming, gaming, etc. I've also contributed a little to Hackforums from what I can so far which can be seen below. <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3008863>

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I'm trying to make a difference here on Hackforums and I feel with The Empire I can achieve this.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I have gone through a lot in my 16 years, sounds silly makes me sound like an adult. Anyway though, whether I've thought about suicide etc, I've prevailed. I guess in my early life I can talk I have 'caught' a guy stealing money from a ice cream truck and got him arrested. I am currently in a program called STAT, which is a engineer/computer field which I receive college credits I also am taking AP classes. I plan to also major Computer Science next year, and I'm currently in Advance Programming as well with my classes. As I've said before, I'm also a big gamer.

Anything else you want to say:

Thank you for your time, and I know you said mostly upgraded members or a really committed non member. I'm currently waiting for my paycheck to get L33t, and I'm really committed. ?

Edit: Just purchased L33t to help out Hackforums and to be upgraded, 24-48 hours and I should have it.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

I've been doing computer security for around 8-9 years.

I tend to work on my GNU/Linux system 15 hours a day, I'm very good with the command line, which helps me offer advise and help to people who are new to Linux in General.

I've been doing WiFi security for around 3 years now, so I'm quite familiar with WEP/WPA & WPS and the many Ciphers/Algos.

I know a few web language: [X]HTML, CSS, JS. & some programming languages: Python, Perl, Basic, MATLAB, Bash, and I'm also learning Fortran, Java, Assembly & C.

I know basic Networking, Web Application Security, Cryptography & Steganography.

I would love to learn more about Buffer Overflows and the different types of Web Security.

I also have some basic knowledge in processor architectures, general hardware, & HDD/SSD Partition types.

My dream job is to work with GNU/Linux systems, or any NiX variant.

I seek knowledge wherever & whenever possible. I don't just study computing, I like to study, physics, astronomy, politics, chemistry, religion, etc.

My dream hobby is to one day build a CMS on a domain and write tutorials per month to help people learn about the vast cyberspace.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I love to join new groups, socialise in new areas, and generally meet new people, people like myself :)

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I would like to expand my knowledge and also give my knowledge to other members, my passion for learning is high, I want to be knowledgeable.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I have nothing memorable, I started using a computer when I was 15, me and my brother were on AOL, the dial up sound was the most memorable thing to me :) and I wanted to venture into the internet more, I found a website called AOHell. It had Visual basic programmed "Scripts" & "HackTools" they were nothing fantastic, mostly mass ASCII spams of strange figures. I then found another tool which was capable of recursively changing the background colour of every chat window open. However in the end, both me and my brother got banned from AOL for my silly antics, banished forever, but this was the start of my computer security journey.

Anything else you want to say: I'm a nice guy, always like to chat (I don't have any friends in real life, I don't socialise out of the house) so if you'd like to talk that's awesome.

I hope this application is okay.

It's my first time joining a group, and I'm a little lost on what to do, once accepted.

A little guidance is much appreciated.

Thank you :)

Warm Regards, ~Conch.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Basic Coding. [Not going to lie, my knowledge is ONLY basic.]

Huge Gamer[That's pretty much all I do, that's why I don't have that many other skills]

Typing, I guess. I like to run my mouth on the net. [About 75+ WPM]

Grammar/Spelling [I like to think I know the grammar rules of my native language very well. Plus, you know, having Chrome certainly helps]

Math. [I'm pretty fucking kick-ass at math, and any school subject in general.]

Marketplace dealings. [I'd like to say I got pretty advanced of this. Got scammed once joining this site, after this I've ran into pretty much no problems. Now, I can spot a scammer from a mile away.]

RAT'ing. [I know how to set-up a rat, and spread it. I've done it on my own before, before my no-ip ran out and I was too lazy to renew it, otherwise I'd still be doing it.]

Other than that I'm always open to learning new skills. Once I get a "capture card" I'm going to need to learn how to video edit. So, I'm sure if I get accepted I will learn new skills while in the group ;D

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Because I want to be a part of this site again. I was in like 9 groups, and then I just stopped caring. This seems like a great group from what I've seen. No one I particularly hate is in the group. I just want to be a memorable part of this site again, and this seems like it could help a lot with my goal. Plus, as far as I know, this isn't a group with a bunch of bullshit. I really don't like all of that "Pay to enter" crap and such.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Because I'm a very active and productive member. I've never really been kicked out of a group for inactivity, it's always because I wanted to leave or the group ended. I feel that I'm a pretty good member to have in a group in general. I have knowledge on a variety of topics, even if most of my knowledge is basic. I've been around a fairly long time. I try to make ALL of my posts at least a little bit HQ. I hate spammy shit that contributes nothing to the topic.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well, I'll tell you a bunch about myself since nothing in my life to this point really helped make me into who I am today. Just a bunch of little events and experiences that did that, and to explain my life-story would probably be overkill. Okay, so, my name is Joseph Frazier, I'm a 16 year old kid from a small town in Maryland. I'm usually very lazy, but when I'm on the computer I'm actually fairly detail oriented. That's just because I don't have to move anywhere. Depending on the situation I'm either very serious, or extremely lax and troll-y. I don't have too much of a social life onside of online, even the real friends I have, I usually talk to online.

Anything else you want to say:

No, not particularly. I've done my best on this application, tried my best to make every part of it truthful, and if anything looks stupid, please forgive me. I'm writing this application at 2:30 in the morning.

Good with coding game related things.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would like to join the empire because it looks like it is a well respected group and I would have a lot of fun and be a really ative member (:

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:Because of the services I can provide for the members Lobbies in all cods mods in a lot of games, coding if needed.

At the age of 10 I got a phone call that my father was in the hospital so my mother and I drove down there. I had to identify my fathers body, I didn't know he was dead until the doctor came in 2 hours later to tell us that he had passed away of an overdose. It was the hardest thing I have ever had to do in my life. Sometimes when I go to sleep at night I can still see the tube that was sticking out of his throat where they tried to pump his stomach.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):Graphic Design - Well over five years of experience in various graphic design fields, with the highest skill levels in 2D Artwork, Concept Design and Logo Creation. Throughout the years I have taken the time to dabble in every aspect of the graphic design field so I can have a more diverse and wide range of skills to assist me with my work.

Social Skills - I'm extremely upbeat and always looking to keep everyone's spirits high! I enjoy communicating and speaking with everyone. I do not descriminate or deny my friendship, as I consider everyone as a friend until proven otherwise.

Attentive - Pays extreme attention to detail and will follow instructions word for word. When asked of something it will be done, on time, and with a leading notice.

Helpful - I highly enjoy completing tasks and assist others, as assisting others is something that truly does make me smile and allows me to feel good about myself knowing I am a kind and helpful user / person.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:I personally wish to join The Empire because of the overall community view and status of the group. Seeing as it is quite praised for having extremely helpful and kind members, naturally I would be drawn to it, and I am. I myself am a very helpful, caring, and kind person looking to take part in a group which in turn would treat me the same as I wish to treat them. The Empire is a group in which I view highly, being a part of it would be quite the joy, and I must say, I am quite the fan of the userbar and logo so that is also an aspect I enjoy highly.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:I feel I should be accepted into The Empire due to my time here on the community and my contributions. I've written multiple Ebooks and have had multiple Graphic threads treating members to both FREE and PAID work. I contribute to HackForums because I want to be a true part of it, I do not just sit around, mooch from the community and beg for me. No, I work for it, I create Ebooks, I spend hours and days creating works of art and pieces that others may use free of charge or with a kind payment. I wish to become a praised member of the community and I feel that with the help of The Empire that can be possible.

The following links are some of my contributions to the community: [\[HERE.1\]](#), [\[HERE.2\]](#), [\[HERE.3\]](#), [\[HERE.4\]](#), [\[HERE.5\]](#), [\[HERE.6\]](#), and [\[HERE.7\]](#).

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:Well I was born and raised in Long Beach, California up until I relocated to Las Vegas, Nevada where my father was working for an extremely wealthy art contractor. Bringing in around $4000 USD a week I had quite the childhood filled with joy, and money. Of course none of the truly mattered to me as years after the enjoyment of all that money I found myself and my family sitting standard with the middle class, due to economic change and world happenings the art scene died along with general and overall job health. Through multiple years of almost not being able to pay the rent and competing with land lords for the last word just to keep our homes I am proud to say that is over. Today I sit here happy, with an amazing life, still middle class but nothing to cry over as it is nothing to complain about, I have my dream girl, an amazing family, money to spend, a full time job and much more.

Now I know that the story above may seem short or cut to the chase but I can assure you there is too much to write in only one to three paragraphs. My name is Jay, I will choose to keep my full name private for safety and security reasons, I'm 17, I'm just another human organism on the planet we call Earth and I want to make become a part of The Empire, as a small stepping stone to greatness here on HackForums as well as in the world of internet business and communication I feel that with the help of The Empire, once again, it will be possible.

Anything else you want to say:To be quite honest, I don't know if I have much else to say, unless you all are up for a full twenty page life essay. But aside from that...nothing else, thank you for viewing my application.

Kind regards. - Jay

Why do you want to join The Empire?:I thought this group will give me a great opportunitie to help the HF community.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:Cause im great at everything you need. I am also funny but serious when needed. You also are able to trust me without keeping an eye on me.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:I am a funny guy who is easy to get along with. I understand when I got to be serious. I am always looking to meet new people and even meet new friends with common interests. I am a helpful person who NEVER questions people above me. I want to be able to help the world in any way I can and even just help people on HF. I have had friends who were very upset that I can make happy in no time. I even got alot of "Online" friends who I can get a good relationship with. One of my online friends commited suicide my friends were devastated but I cheered them up and we moved on. We never forgot him though. I feel I can realy contribute to this group and that I would be one of your BEST choices.

What are some skills that you have (Explain): I have been working with computers for years and I am currently enrolled in college for the upcoming semester in the Spring. I am going for a bachelors degree in computer science, and I am currently learning c++ in some local college classes until I actually leave home in a few weeks. I released my first program, an ASCII to binary converter about one week ago in the c++/coding forums. I love doing binary math, and learning about the history of computers. I am experienced in using rats (currently learning to make them using winsock2), keyloggers, and any other general purpose hacking tools you can think of. I have worked at my high school for the past 4 years in the IT department building computers/recommending parts. I also did a lot of networking for multiple high schools/middle schools in my area, and I worked with a local police department this summer when they needed to build a new server to hold camera footage. I have basic knowledge of java, but c++ is going to be my main language eventually and I plan to pursue it further in college this upcoming semester. I have lots of experience in different distros of Linux from working at the schools and managing servers.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join the empire because I feel this is the only group that fits me. I did not find a single other group that even remotely relates to coding save for root, which I have no desire to join at the moment. (and it is invite only) I want to learn more c++ (I read books for probably 6 hours a day or more on this topic), and I want to belong to a group that I can eventually contribute to.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel that I should be accepted, because I have experience in a broad category of computer fields. I have experience working in multiple jobs that involve running servers/helping people with problems. I am patient as a result of this, and I tend to get along with most people fairly easily. I would consider myself intelligent, and I want to be around other people who share my passion for learning more about my field of coding. I feel that in the future when I am in college (17th of January), I will be able to contribute to the group and share my source codes. I would much rather contribute my sources to a group rather than the general forum, because it feels like you are achieving something in the process.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life: My name is Alex (as you already know), and I live in Northern Wisconsin. I grew up in Appleton Wisconsin, in a wealthy part of the city. I went to Grade school, and also Middle school in that area. My freshman year of high school, I moved to the northern part of the state and attended high school in a small town. I had started becoming heavily obsessed with computers the year before (due to my Aspergers syndrome - if you don't know what it is look it up), and was noticed by my high schools IT team who put me into an apprenticeship with local businesses. I began learning as much as I could, and I spent hours reading books after school and on the weekends. (I still do) I eventually was noticed this summer by a few local police forces in my area who asked me to build a new server for them and make them a program to automatically copy incoming data from the cameras in the court room onto multiple hot-swappable hard drives which would be put into a back up room.

I am now going to be attending college in a few weeks at the University of Wisconsin Madison. The first year or so will be general classes that everyone is required to take, but after that I will be pursuing a degree in computer science and programing. If all goes well, I plan to transfer out of Madison after possibly 3 years and finish out my degree at Macalester University.

Anything else you want to say: I hope that I can make it into this group, and I hope to be able to contribute what I learn at college to the group in the future. I hope that people in this group will share my interest in c++ and programing in general.

I also made my signature and avatar :)

Link to my ASCII to binary converter in c++: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3111863>

Compiled (executable) version so you can test it out if you want:

<http://www.2shared.com/file/name3gxT/BinaryCalculator.html>

I also recently created an ASCII to hex converter based upon the same principle, as a sort of challenge to not use the `_hex` function already included in the standard library. Kind of like writing my own function to do it.

As of right now, my current project is a simple encrypted chat application that will use the command prompt (iostream) and winsock2. I will eventually try to hook it in with keyscrambler to create a "secure chat" application so you cannot be key logged while using it. As of now it will have no gui because it is meant only as a "safe chat" and I do not know any of the gui libraries as of right now. It will also use encryption once I figure out how to implement it. It will most likely use AES or Serpent.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I am good at doing graphics, Some php and .net coding. Currently working on my own booter from scratch.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join this group because I believe that the skills I have in GFX and coding can be of help to some of the members currently in the group. You guys are known to be very HQ members and I think that I am eligible to be a part of this family.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Oh man, Were to start... Well OK. One thing that is memorable to me is when I started coding and graphics at age 15. When I first started graphics and coding minor things I felt like I would never be good at this and that it was too hard... Now I look back at what I thought was hard and I am like "Wow, I thought doing this was difficult?" I have improved myself a lot from just following what I wanted to do and have fun with that I am doing. I have a very strange personality; I start things, Hate it; and then a few hours later love it and become quite good at it (Just like GFX), For example when I started graphics and learning website hacking SQL injections I thought this was impossible and that it could never be done, So I gave it up... A few hours later I was reading some tuts and threads about how to do them.. I followed them and started messing with little websites and having some fun (Never really doing much damage).. Any back OT... Like I said about my personality, I would be a great addition to the group because I have a very determined and distinct personality. I love it when people say that you can't or it's impossible, "Impossible only means that it has not been done" That's the quote that I live by and think of when people say that something is impossible.

Anything else you want to say: I want to join this group because you guys are the best of the best on Hackforums, Like I said above... I would be honored to join this group because I have no problem following rules, Being a very HQ member, having fun with the other people in the group, and teaching/learning from you guys.

Please consider me to be a part of the team...

Thanks,
Mike

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Gaming

I am a gamer in the most parts, shooters are where I really advance. Whether it's on Xbox or PC, though I much prefer PC gaming. PC gaming is where I excel as I have a moderately good reflex, and I have the time to practice a lot.

Support

I'm always open to help out with people's emotional side of things, even physical. I've worked many people through their life problems, and actually stopped a total of 2 people from committing suicide. I'm easy to talk to and I understand what a lot of people have been through, mostly because I've been through a lot, too.

Learning

I love to try learn new things, and I learn a lot more efficiently if I'm reading instructions instead of being told. This is because I have a photographic memory and can more easily recall something I read than heard. This is very efficient for a computer gamer such as myself.

Graphics

I love computer graphics, though a lot of my work doesn't get published because I get afraid of criticism. A down side is that I am on a new computer now and have nothing to show for my 'hidden' talent.

They were just some of my skills and talents, I'm quite tight for time, hopefully I may be able to update this post once I have enough time.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I think that The Empire would be a great new group for me to meet some great members and learn new skills. I've already seen some members going around the forum and helping me out, which I greatly appreciate. The group seems like a very skilled bunch and I'd hope to learn more from them. Not to forget teach most of what I know.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

That's for you to decide and for me to find out.

Thank you for reading, I hope that I have made a somewhat good impression.

Visual Basic .NET Coding: I have coded my own shell booter, virtual operating system and much more.

Web Design I create private wordpress themes

Gaming I know alot about game hacking, boosting, everything you would like to know about games, From whats good, popular, fun, cheap etc.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would like to be in a official group and allow myself to contribute to a group of members that would do the same for me in return.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I am still a normal member (have purchased L33T, waiting for transaction) but i am quiet HQ. I do free giveaways to donate to the community, Help others by providing experience and freebies.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I code a lot of languages such as C++, a little bit of C, some Python, LUA, Batch, VBScript, and the basics Java. I write stories (which takes up quite a bit of my time when I do). I also am good in the subject of math.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: Well, I've never REALLY been accepted into a usergroup before, and I have a strong confidence this is the right one for me.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I honestly think I fit into the Empire the most more than any other usergroup. Logic is kind of weird for me as it is based on religious and physiological stuff, and I'm not "well oiled" in that field.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I came to HackForums as some skid who wanted to learn how to program better batch/VBScript. Now I'm a greyhat and try to help where I can here. Juicy Booty bought me 1337 one day a few months back, and I became more confident in myself as a l33t member. As I progressed, many things happened in life: I went on to High School and turned 15 for example. Now, just yesterday, PoisonKnife upgraded me to Ub3r, and I'm trying very hard to help out even more where I can.

Anything else you want to say: Thanks for allowing recruitment. I haven't seen many open recruitment threads around, and this is one of the few open ones. Thanks.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

I'm what you would call an expert in SEO, I have the best equipment to SEO YouTube. Where I will guard and say that I can get any video (with a minimum +1,000 views) in the top 5, with any word.

I have SEO'ed for over 2 years, I started to read a short eBook I got from a friend of 20 pages, and I thought that I would develop my own methods, and eBooks, from what I have learned both by me itself, and various other eBooks.

I have also developed / found a method in which it is possible to make money on YouTube without even having a channel. I use it myself, but I serve also about $ 200 each month on those videos I'm doing (I ? Ads).

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would personally like to join The Empire, as I think it looks like a HQ group that I would love to be a part of.

I would love to learn what people have to teach me. And then I would also like to be part of a social community where there is room for everyone HQ, and would like to work together.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I do not really feel that I deserve to be in the group, but who knows? It's your decision in the end. But the main reason for the need to accept me is that I am very HQ, most of my posts.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I have had a very hard life where I have had social problems, I have not been good to be with other people in public, but the computer has always been a haven for me where I could "run away" from all the problems, and just be myself with other people, there was movement, like me.

I suffer from ADHD and Asperger's, which is also the reason I have it hard, for you / I is not know what it is, here you have a small description, written by myself.

ADHD: I can not sit still, without having received my medication, and I get only worse if I drink something with sugar, or eat something with sugar, so it is also difficult for me because I love to sit at the computer, where you sit still.

Asperger's: It's a disease that means that you have it hard when you're socially with others, for example, I can not bear to sleep and be with my friends more than 1-2 days, otherwise I mentally down.

I'm not a sore loser or winner. I can handle defeat, and it is very special for someone who suffers from ADHD, since they are very hyper, and just can not handle defeat.

So in every way, I am very special, and I remember EVERY day when I can not control myself. I have control over my illness, and the rule is not my life in so great a degree as it has done.

Anything else you want to say:

I know that I did not meet the requirement of 60 posts per month, but I hope I will still consider my application.

What are some skills that you have: One I have outside of the Internet world include working with others who need English tutoring, which I've also done on the Internet.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: The Empire has proven itself to be a very reputable group. One of the few that hasn't accepted buy-ins, which in my opinion is one of the major signs of a group that is here to stay.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I would be very ecstatic. Over the past couple months I've seen The Empire be an amazing group, which is why I am writing this.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I've gone by many names, the current being Lo?e obviously. Some of my past "personas" include Sinister, Injected, and Pitbull. Past all the personas though, I'm Tj. I would like to say some things based on the experiences I've had on the Internet. My first time ever being online was when I was just 12 years old on the video game midnight club. The experience was a fairly decent one apart from all the vulgar/violent people. After about a year my family bought our first computer. This was a whole new experience for me, it opened me up to a whole new world of websites, forums, and of course, Porn.

I remember spending hours upon hours browsing any website I could find ranging from video game forums, social sites such as Myspace, just about everything. Soon though the computer broke which now I'd be able to fix but at the time I wasn't. My family didn't have too much money so we didn't get another computer until I was around the age of 14 and this one was my own. We had it custom built to play games and there was one that I literally fell in Love with, which was Fallout 3. At this time, even though I don't really play it anymore, I have 1500+ hours into it. I joined a website that also took up a lot of my time which at the time was cool, TheTechGame.

Though that website I found the single greatest website I've ever been on, Hackforums. I joined Hackforums when I was 17 years old and it has literally changed my life. Oddly enough HF has made me get away from the computer a bit and do other things. I wasn't going to school and now because of HF I am in college going for my Bachelors Degree in Network Security. I've learned many things on this website and I hope to be on here for many years to come.

Anything else you want to say: I hope you consider my request to join The Empire, I am certain I would be able to benefit the group, and I would try to do so to the best of my abilities.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Web development

Writing

Programming

Gaming

Malware

Business

I'll quickly run over each of the above to give you a better indication.

I've been recently looking a lot into web development and have been learning several aspects for example, CSS, HTML, JavaScript and many more. I'm also greatly interested in networking I'm currently looking into that.

Writing has always been something I take pride in and I always write to the best of my ability. Be it in, reviews, tutorials or simply as I'm doing now. Many wouldn't class this as a skill but when I take it to something such a guide thread or review it can really make or break the thread on being successful.

Programming is something I encourage almost everyone I know to take a look into. Even if it's with a simple language such as VB. I've been trying my hand at Python at home as I was given a Raspberry Pi as a gift and I really do enjoy it. When in my spare time I can simply go and create something useful.

Gaming is a large part of my life as I don't really have a lot to do.

I play on both the PC and Xbox 360. On the PC it's mainly games such as Battlefield 3 and the Counter Strike Series where as on the Xbox 360, I play a whole array of different games from CoD and Halo to Far Cry and Borderlands. I have played competitively and play well in a team.

Malware as you can guess is something I've learnt a lot about on this site. I've got a avid fascination in R.A.T's and Keyloggers as that's what I know the most about but other areas do take my fancy too.

Now when I say business, I don't mean on HF. I mean actual business. It's a subject I've chosen to study at school and also a sector that really grabs my attention as I've always seen myself as a bit of an entrepreneur.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join The Empire as I hope to learn a lot from it and great enhance my experience on HF. I can already tell just from what I've seen and heard from members of the group that it has a lot to offer me and I do to in return. I also hope to join to meet new people. If there is one thing I like to be is around people who have a similar mind set to me. People who want to strive for the best and users who want to gather as much knowledge as possible in said fields.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be accepted as I meet all of the requirements needed and also would consider myself to be a high quality member of HF. I help others out as much as possible and will regularly give away different things as well as host contests. I also do a lot for the community as a whole, such as in my tutorials or reviews.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well my real name is Michael.

When I was young my father passed away so for the first four years of my childhood I had no father figure. At this age, it didn't really bother me as I wasn't old enough to grasp the concept of needing one. Then, when I was four and a bit my mother remarried and I gained the amazing father I have today. He's works in IT the same as my mother so as you can guess from a young age computers were kind of forced upon me. By age six I was already into gaming on the PC. I remember my dad showing me Unreal Tournament 2004 and since then, I've always been into PC gaming. Anyway, I'm getting off topic. At age four my mother remarried and I got the father figure and boy would want.

My father is the kind of guy to stick by his morals. He also really helps me out with pretty much everything. When he was at school, he used to bunk off class a lot and failed most of his exams, because of this it was hard for him to get to where he is now so he's always on to me about needing to get what I need to achieve further in life as he doesn't want the same for me.

I know it's pretty hard to understand and poorly written but I guess it kind of sums up why I am how I am and why I always strive to do the best. I'd go into more detail but some stuff is a bit too private.

Anything else you want to say:
Nothing other than thank you.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

I am a budding programmer. What I mean by that is that I have just recently started, but am learning and growing better everyday. The reason I got into coding was because of minecraft, a 3D Sandbox game which is coded in java. I was very interested in running a server, so I started off doing that. However, this wasn't satisfying enough. I wanted something else that would keep me busy. So I started programming plugins for Hey0, one of the first server management systems. However, as my life progressed, I quite minecraft, did some other stuff, and when I came back, I have the urge to program again. However, this time, I decided I wanted to be the other aspect of minecraft; Griefing. So I started writing griefing clients just to find out that I didn't actually want to grief, so much as write the clients. Eventually though, I gave this up to start gaming again, and I have been playing Call of Duty: Modern Warfare 3 ever since then. Programming is a huge part of my life though, and will continue to be. I am learning more and more languages as the time passes, and I eventually want to get a job as a software engineer.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would like to join The Empire because of the compassion for Hack Forums that this group has. Every day, I see members of other groups. Root, Respawn, Terror, but they never do anything for Hack Forums, or are generally High Quality. With The Empire, the story is completely different. While I don't see too many members of The Empire, the ones I do see are always incredibly High Quality, nice, and, well, compassionate! This is something that most other groups do not have. Out of any group on Hack Forums, I would want to be in the one that is kind and sharing and likes to help members. Not the one that just exists for the sake of existing. That doesn't seem like any fun to me at all.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel that I should be accepted into The Empire because I share that same compassion that you do. I go out of my way to help members when I can, and am really nice even if I can't help. If someone is being a jerk to someone else unnecessarily, I step in. If someone is being screwed over, I warn them. In general, I just try to help out the community. That is why I think I should be accepted into The Empire.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well, my name is Howard, and I am 16. One of the major things that makes me who I am is my girlfriend. We have been going out since 6th grade, and we plan on getting engaged when we both turn 18. Without her, I wouldn't have the courage to do half the things I have done. It is because of her that I go outside pretty much. I am a pretty anti-social person. I would never go to parties, even if I was invited, and most of my friends I have never met in real life. But my girlfriend gets me to get outside.

Now, because of her, we go Rock Climbing, camping, and things like that. She is pretty much the reason for most of the stuff I do. However, I am a huge gamer. This started when I was 3 years old. My dad had a old game console, I don't even remember what it was, and he let me play it. Now, this isn't a story where I was a magical natural. No, not at all. I sucked like most other 3 year olds would. The difference? I loved it. I kept playing for hours at a time. I just wouldn't stop. Finally, when I was 6, I got my Game Boy. I loved that thing so much, that finally, my parents started getting complaints because I wouldn't let go of it. It was becoming a problem. My parents finally stepped in and took it away from me. I was cut off from gaming and I stopped for 1 year and a half. Then I made a new friend named 'Henry'. This kid Henry was the most spoiled child in the world. He had every console that was around. So I went over to his house and got back into gaming. This was a very magical thing for me, and I loved it so much that I begged my parents on my hands and knees to get me a console. So they did. I played for hours and hours and hours. I think that had something crazy like 4 or 5 months of accumulated time on my first X-Box. It was nuts. My dad decided that it was time for me to not be a consumer, but a developer. So one weekend, while I was up in Portland, Oregon, my dad taught me HTML and CSS. Yes, not a programming language, just web design, but it was a start. His goal in this was to get me thinking about programming. I had so much fun with this that I never wanted to stop! Eventually, I did though, and I started becoming a consumer again.

Eventually, after quite a few more years of being a consumer, I found a hidded gem on the internet: Minecraft. I played the hell out of that game. I have logged over 4 months on Minecraft. I started getting bored playing after 1 year or so, and started writing plugins for my minecraft server. This was interesting enough, but eventually got boring. So I stopped coding and playing minecraft, and went on to do other things with my life. Me and my girlfriend started practicing for our drivers tests. Things like that. Then, my best friend said that he had gotten into this thing called 'Griefing' in minecraft. So I started griefing, and thats how I got to Hack Forums. My friend had started going on about these 'Hacked Clients' so I searched for them and watched videos on youtube. Eventually, I found HackForums. That is how I got started here. So I lurked a bit, and saw some tutorials for how to start coding for minecraft, and so I set up everything and got cooking. I am embarrassed to say that it was thrilling. I had never stepped out of line at all in my life really. I had always been a good boy, and the thought of 'hacking' was exhilerating. So I did this for a while, and started posting tutorials. People sortof appreciated it. Some members disliked me for whatever reasons, but most said I was doing a good job! It felt great to be appreciated, so for a while, the only thing I did was post tutorials. Eventually, a kind user saw that I was trying my hardest to do stuff for the community, and bought me l337. This was a major turning point in my life on Hack Forums. I was respected by almost everyone. It was a weird feeling. Slowly, I came out of the griefing section. I started posting in the Innuendo section and the Lounge. That was about it. I started posting a lot in the lounge but went back to the griefing section. The problem was, after being in other places that were very High Quality, I was slightly changed. I saw that everyone in the griefing section were rude, uncaring, and really didn't care all to much for HackForums. So I sortof moved. It wasn't all too succesful. I moved from the griefing section, to the HackerCraft section. And that is where I am today.

Anything else you want to say: Thank you for hosting this amazing group, and taking the time to read all this. I really hope I am accepted, and look forward to being with some nice people.

Knowledge + Skill in; Remote Administrative Tools - I've spread numerous RATs via multiple methods, techniques and fake programs.

Gaming - I participate in a wide variety of games (BF3, CoD series, Garry's Mod, Counter Strike series, Assassin's Creed series, Half-Life 2 + more)

Minor coding - I've attempted to code basic program (basic calculators, simple interaction features, etc) but my most knowledge is in HTML where I've managed to design a few in-depth + detailed webpages.

Basic graphic skills (beginner entry avatars, signatures, designs, etc) - I've designed/edited a few signatures, I create basic avatars and enjoy video editing + designing.

Management - I've moderated/administrated multiple gaming servers. [RiotServers + MindBlast + Predator Gaming]

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I've witnessed multiple members that are apart of "The Empire" and they're all consisting of; high quality, helpfulness, friendliness, intelligence and even more qualities that make each member apart of this group unique. This had made me curious to believe if I could also too be apart of this group due to I feel I believe I'm a HQ member of this forum and this would greatly benefit my journey. The opportunity to socialize, participate and experience being apart of The Empire would be an amazing opportunity. This group definitely has the potential to offer a lot to myself and I intend to return the favor if I am accepted.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I believe I deserve the opportunity to experience being within this community due to I believe I could benefit this group with providing knowledge on certain criteria, extremely dedicated to a cause once involved and have the ability to offer much in return. In attempts to make a difference in Hack Forums, I truly believe that with the help of The Empire, I can achieve this. I intend to to expand my knowledge whilst in this group and also give what I already know due to a passion for learning. This would be a memorable opportunity.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well, to begin, I was born in New Zealand and shortly after my birth we had moved to Australia, we'd lived on a farm for quite awhile until my parents decided to yet again move into the city of Melbourne. Melbourne definitely changed my life for the most part. Extremely different people of which it took awhile to adjust and be able to fit in. I had grown up in Melbourne for 5-6 years until I had turned 7 and we finally agreed on moving to the country side. Education/schooling was incredibly different.

A turning point in my life was when I noticed at the age of 11 or 12 that I had been overeating and began to gain weight. I felt horrified of myself and decided to make a change (Football definitely had an impact on this due to I trained at high intensities with the intention of bettering myself at the sport) Eventually, I had become relatively fit and was enjoying life.

2 dogs of mine had passed away within 2 years of each and I was feeling somewhat depressed, although I thought positively and got my life back on track. Football was taking a turn to which I was actually advancing and the training had finally paid off. I managed to make an inter-league team and I am to this point currently attempting to try-out for a regional team. This is a small summary of a few major/minor events in my life described within 3 brief paragraphs.

Anything else you want to say:

I'd just like to mention, thank-you for giving me the opportunity of trying out for this group, it's greatly appreciated! Thank-you.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):
Graphic Design: I have been doing graphics for almost 4 years now, I have a great passion for design since I was a little kid I used to love to draw things. I have a lot of creativity and enthusiasm when it comes to creating graphics and I consider my self very good at it. Over the past 2 years I focused a lot on this skill and have improved very much.

Gaming: While I'm not very active in the gaming section of the forum, I am an avid gamer. I currently game on my PC and PS3, and I am pretty good at it. I started taking gaming seriously around 3 or 4 years ago the time I got my PS3, that is when I discovered online play and internet improved in my country so I was able to go online and compete against other people. I mostly play FPS and TPS games such as Call of Duty and Max Payne 3 as this type of games is what I find interesting, but I do not play MMORPGs and don't intend to.

Web Development: I starting doing web design 2 years ago when I decided to make my portfolio site, after a lot of reading and research I managed to pull of a pretty decent design. That is when I got into the idea of creating websites and using scripts, my second website was a forum to discuss graphics which I ran for around a month or two then shut down due to inactivity. After that I continued on my journey to creating better web designs by watching and following tutorials, looking for inspiration, and taking advice from mentors. Then I made my first mybb forum theme which I never completed and continued on to create multiple custom themes until one day I received an invite to a team called weboutfit with whom I did and helped in coding a couple of designs. I am pretty experienced with working with Css/Html Php not so much, and aside from Php I'm also working on bettering myself at javascript.

Coding: I'm not much of a coder although I'm gonna start learning serious coding soon as my major is Computer Science, I know basic java and a bit of C++ but I'm very good at creating algorithms and code design which is the most important thing when coding.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join The Empire because I believe I can represent the group's good image around the forum, and I want to gain the respect that users get when joining such a prestigious group. I also want to share my knowledge with the members of this group as well as learning from them. This is one of my favorite groups here on HackForums and I have always wanted to join it and now I feel like I have a real chance of getting in.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be accepted because I'm a high quality member in terms of respecting others, being friendly, and contributing to the forum. I have contributed a lot to the forums from free graphics to giveaways, and I would love to be able to do giveaways in the name of "The Empire".

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm an 18 year old university student currently majoring in computer science, I love working around computers and exploring the web. The first time I had internet access was like finding a missing piece of me, having the freedom to learn and view anything you want was amazing. Then for the years following I started spending more and more time exploring the powers of the cyber world where I felt I belong. I have gone through a lot of experiences throughout my life, I used to be the shy guy that seems not to fit in a crowd, but then I realized I don't have to live like this all my life and decided to change. And now I am one of the most socially active people in my school and area. The most drastic thing that changed my life is perhaps my parents' divorce; living with my dad is tough having to do everything by myself and from that I learned self dependence. I'm not going to talk more about myself because my personal life isn't that interesting and I already wrote a lot :)

Anything else you want to say:

I am very sorry for this very lengthy application, but I just want to show you how dedicated I am to what I do and how much I would like to join this amazing group. Also I would like to thank you guys for giving me the opportunity to join.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

- RATs/Keylogging: I have been an active user of RATs and Crypters in the past. You can check my threads for installs and other giveaways.
- Money Making: I have tried various methods including E-whoring (Proof in my threads) as well as others like adsense, etc.
- Gaming: An active, everyday gamer on all consoles. (Ps3, X360, PC)

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I think that this group has a lot to give to the HF community. Its aim of offering the highest quality information to our community in order to increase the overall quality of HF is a big plus point. I have been apart of HF for more than two years now and I find this group really enthusiastic, motivating and successful in the future.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel that I can contribute alot to this group's progress in the coming months with the amount and variety of skills I possess. I have been apart of previous well known groups as well for example Reviewers, BlackKnights, The Alliance and I have never dissapointed any one of them. Keeping this as a basis for my reason, I can strongly say I should be accepted into The Empire.

Thankyou for your time.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I am a 19 year old, going to a university, playing football, learning new things everyday that help me gain experience of how practical life really is. Quite some time ago, around 4 years back I experienced a devastating and terrifying event. Due to my usual football playing hobby with my friends, I used to play at my friend's house. While playing, I didn't notice I went too far out and by mistake I stepped on a water tank top that broke off, thus taking me into the long water well type thing. As I was going down, I got an instant flashback of all my life including all the happy and sad moments. The next thing I came up and I grabbed on to the sides of the well. My friends couldn't reach down to me as it was really deep and I couldn't hold on any further. (P.s I can't swim! lol). Anyways, they ran inside to get my friend's brother whose quite tall and he was able to bring me up.

From all this, I realised what a blessing it was for me to survive. Considering, I can't swim and if his brother wasn't there I could really have died. Therefore, now I am even more careful with my favorite sport and in life as well. Its time we really cherish the moments we live since we could die anywhere, anytime.

What are some skills that you have (Explain):

Web Development - I know PHP, HTML, and CSS. I am currently working on a large image sharing site

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I feel like The Empire is a group of members that contribute to all sections of the forum. I want to help contribute to this forum, and I feel like I can do that in a group like The Empire.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I believe I am a smart member, that has lots to offer. I usually post high quality content, and I am almost always on HF. I love to debate too, which is something I am proud of.

When I was about 5 years old, my mother died. She never told anyone who my father was, and she had told my grandparents he was dead, so I never met him. So, I am raised by my grandparents.

When I was young, we had plenty of money, always getting what I wanted. When I turned about 12, things changed. The economy was bad, we were in debt, things were going down hill. I tried my best to help earn money, but we are still in debt. I feel like both of these things have made me mature and strong for my age.

Anything else you want to say:

Thanks for the opportunity to join a great group.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): My skills are not much but I know well what I am doing.

Monetizing and Webdesign I've started with those because I know very much about them.

My earnings aren't so high but I'm part of various PPD/PPC/PPI and much more.

I know to code a niche related website from simple games giveaways to iPhone 5 ones.

SE and Human Manipulation- I can SE various products but I don't do such things. I mostly use this skill to manipulate small companies and people to run my RAT's, etc.

Social Life- This isn't a "skill" but I know about real life and how the things go in a society.

If your girlfriend left you or you just want somebody to talk with, I'm the right guy.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: The main reason because I want to join Empire is the knowledge I may gain and the goals I may achieve with new things that I could learn joining this group. But I want to teach others too. Another reason that nobody specified it but it is there is the userbar and the subforum that I've heard it has HQ threads and tutorials.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I don't feel I should be accepted in the group but I want that so much so I can prove that Romanians aren't so stupid, lazy or any other tags received from other countries.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: My life was very boring until I felt the taste of www.The friends and the knowledge achieved online helped me and I made several changes in my life.

Anything else you want to say: I just want to say Hello to all Empire members and I hope to meet you guys soon in this amazing group.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Very skilled with PPD earnings, monetizing, I know a LOT of the ins and outs of typical and sometimes lesser-known techniques on the internet for money-making. I've been around computers since I was a little kid and I've been tinkering with them ever since. I have a strong passion for computer hardware and software and I am currently even majoring in Computer Science and Engineering at The Ohio State University. I've also been a competitive gamer (not aspiring, a sponsored one) since I was 13 for games ranging from CS:S, to WoW, to COD, to Halo 2/3. I played for Blight Gaming during their "reign" in the CS scene, was a back-up for Netcode Illuminati's COD team, and placed 32nd at MLG Columbus 09'. I feel as though I can contribute a positive reflection of this group with my help in the monetizing section, gaming section, VIP section, and hopefully graphics section once I reach into that area of expertise.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I'd like to join The Empire because I feel as though they are one of the most respectable groups on this forum. There are a few groups that have overly-strict requirements and expect nothing but the best businessmen and users for their group, which I found outrageous. I know a few members in the group and have seen a lot posting around the forum and they've been an overall positive influence on the community. I'd like to contribute to the forum under The Empire to provide for even more of a positive light on the forum.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be accepted because I've been around since late 2010. I have nearly 2.5k posts and I'm known to be of a very high quality poster (expect for one or two occasions with one specific user who pretty much everyone has a problem with). Outside of those incidents which I will fully admit to, I've been trying to be as high quality as possible and trying to contribute what I can to this forum. I recently won a L33t VIP Upgrade for my activity on the forum this past month or two and was hoping that may add to my application in anyway. I also avidly search for obvious and sometimes less-obvious scams and try to stop them in anyway. About a year back I stopped a $300 scam from -moon. and his cohort, they were trying to sell a guy $300 FAKE ESEA hacks and I stopped them so they revenge repped me.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'll skip the telling you about myself and tell you the moment in my life that really changed my perspective on life. When I was younger, I was a Grade A asshole to my parents and I'll admit it, I'm ashamed of it. I wouldn't listen, wouldn't help around the house, just ate their food and played the video games they would keep buying me for my birthday(s). I hadn't hit my growth spurt yet and with all the food consumption I was very short and very fat.

Fast forwarded to .. around 2007 or 2008. My father is a truck driver so he has a very rough and tedious occupation. I never really fully acknowledged that until this happened. His old trucking company he worked for made him use ILLEGAL straps to hold down the load he was hauling on his truck. These straps were illegal for a reason, and one of them snapped back and smashed my Dad's eye. He laid in a pool of blood for 10 minutes until the first responders came. The doctors said that if he was hit a centimeter to the left he would have been killed instantly.

From that point on, even though it wasn't a brush with death experience for myself, I have completely changed how I am. I help my parents with EVERYTHING. I may have an attitude at times but I apologize afterwards. I try to laugh and joke with my Dad as much as I can because I just .. I can't get that experience out of my head. I love my parents to the fullest and after that experience I have changed for the better. If you don't believe the story I'll get you an image of my Dad's face after his surgery (I tried to but I'm locked out of his Yahoo for 12hrs).

Anything else you want to say:

- Thank you very much for reading my application, and sorry if it's a bit long. ?Just ing this for the future, I know you probably look down upon ing an application, but I was banned for a week due to accidentally posting in the wrong section (was on my phone, 1 week automatic ban system). Sorry!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Some of my skills would have to be a deep knowledge of SQLi, and other semi-blackhat materials. But, I am slowly fading away from that. I am trying to get into coding and other stuff of that sort. I am also going to at the start of next year try to actually earn some money online instead of wasting meaningless hours on the computer making no progress.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join The Empire because it seems as it is a high quality group of well-knowledged individuals. It may even help me learn a thing or two. I look at your group and I can tell you have good leadership because your group appears to be very high quality.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted into The Empire because I would love to start contributing more to the community instead of just buying stuff off people. I also would love to start making money instead of losing it. Oh and don't forget the new people that I would get to meet. I always love meeting new people.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I am Joey Spivey born 12-15-94. I am a only child. My Dad cheated on my mother when I was 4 years old and not to long after that he got arrested for Distribution of Marijuana and Money Laundering. He got caught with over 20 lbs of Marijuana and had a fake identity. He was making it look as it was coming from a legitimate job. He was sentenced 4 years in State Prison. I have had my fair share of run-in's with the law also. Last year on dec 1st I was charged with Burglary and Criminal Damages to property along with a $6,000 dollar fine. Since I was juvenile at the time all I had to do was spend 30 days in a Youth Detention Center. But, all that is for another day. But, all in all I am a pretty chill person and I love meeting new people!

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I was a member of The Empire before, I really enjoyed me stay and made some good friends! I had a disagreement with a member which resulted in me being removed, although I think it was unfair, it was a long time ago now and I for one have moved on, whether or not he has decided to forgive me or move on I'm not entirely sure, although I hope so.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I think I've proved in the past what a dedicated member I can be. I was one of the top posters for a long time but after my mother became ill I found it hard to get online and my activity certainly dwindled. My mother is all clear now and I'm back and this time I'm here properly. I think I can be as active and HQ as I was when I first joined, qualities that must have gone noticed as at one stage I was Tibit's right hand man!

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well, my name is Sam and I'm from the UK! I feel I'm a pretty outgoing, friendly and approachable guy. I like sports, gaming and music. My favourite genre of music is indie rock at the moment! I'm 16 and I am currently in Sixth Form (It's sort of like college for people outside of the UK) and I am studying Religious Studies, English Language, Law and Computing. I am quite enjoying it although it's pretty tough.

I like to think, I try my best in everything I do, I'm easy to get on with and I am always fair. I have made mistakes in my life, certainly, but I like to think that I've learned from them and I do more good than I do bad! My one true passion is football, or soccer to you Americans, I support Liverpool FC and I have done all my life. I go to as many games as my finances allow me to but I always ensure I watch it on the TV if I cannot get to the ground!

I have been around and about HF for 20 months now and believe I have been as active as my personal life has allowed me to. I am not the kind of guy that comes on HF 24/7 as I have other commitments in my life, but I come on as much as possible and enjoy every minute of it. I have been in 2 groups in my time here, Rhythm and The Empire, I enjoyed both of them very much as I really love getting to know people and making friends.

Anything else you want to say:

I hope mistakes in the past that I have made won't prevent me from being accepted in. I have apologised profusely for what I did and I just hope the other parties involved can move on and perhaps forgive me.

Sharp Minded.

Some Graphics Skills

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

There's a different variety of people that have many different talents that they behold. I'd love to participate and learn such things from others. I also want to join the group because the members are well respected and get along well. I'm sure if I was added I would be welcomed by everyone and become friends with a lot of the members like I am now. I just can't add any words here...

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

In my opinion I'm honest, love working with team as I marked it in my skills and I will be extremely active. I will make tutorials , giveaways, revealing new softwares, and many other things to my teammates currently I am upgrading my skills and learning CISCO more detailed for networks. I'm spending with computer 8-9 hours a day. And revealing newer and newer things.

Anything else you want to say:

Please do not discuss my knowledge and skill level with my HackForums rank. I have good rank but I'm meaning that if I'm not l33t or ub3r it doesn't means that I don't know more than some of them

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I have been interested in The Empire since it has opened up. You only seem to recruit HQ members, and The Empire is seen helping people around HF and doing giveaways, and I want to be associated with that. If I was associated with The Empire, because it is a highly respected group, I would also gain respect. And I know that the leaders of The Empire will maintain balance in the group and won't let the group start to fall down the wrong path. Also, I have been in The Empire TeamSpeak for about 5 hours, and every one in here is hilarious and very easy to talk to. I have got to know a little about some of the main people in the group, and unlike most leaders of other groups, they were not self centered, or thought they were better than everyone else. Also the giveaways are on multiple different subjects within HF, so I know that by joining The Empire, I will be able to learn alot. Everyone is respectful and is also knowledgeable within The Empire. All-in-all, the group is perfect, and I would love to be a part of it.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted into The Empire because I have many things that I can bring to The Empire. I can do many giveaways in many different sections of HF in the name of The Empire. I feel like I can also add the the HQness of The Empire because almost all of my posts are HQ, unless I am joking around. I also feel like I could bring a good atmosphere to the Sub-Forum because of my nice personality, I can get along with anyone, and I can start a conversation with anyone. I will be very active, and I always have input for anything. I feel like I meet the qualifications to become a Empire member. And it would be my absolute honor to become a part of The Empire.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well, my name is Dylan a.k.a Fact or Scott Mescudi. I am 17 years old, I have 1 brother and 1 dog. I love to spend my times outdoors and indoors. I spend around 3 hours a day on my computer, the rest of the time, I am out with my friends doing something around my town. I make all A's in my school classes. I am on the highest possible track for math and for science. My family life is very good. My parents are still together, me and my brother hardly ever fight with each other as well. I do have a girlfriend, we have been dating for a year. Her name is Ali <3 and she is the love of my life. I know it may sound corney that two seniors in high school could be in love, but I feel that when I am around her, nothing else really matters. And I just think to myself that this is perfect. That has to be what love is, right?

I have two health problems, one, I have asthma. Also, I have what is called 'athletes heart', this is where my heart is 1.5x the size of a normal heart. It seems like I am always sick tho, lol. I literally just got over the flu a couple of days ago.

I am who I am because I define myself. I dont let the world define who I am. I am not really influenced by what other people are doing, I just do me. I always try to do what is right for the majority of people, while also trying to please myself. I love my life, and I always try to keep a positive outlook on things. Because you have to make the best out of everything because you arent going to be able to live it twice. i always think to myself, I'm only young once, so lets go have fun. This is why I am so adventurous and active in everything. I love trying new things. This is what defines me.

I hope you enjoyed my life in a netshell and what defines me <3 thank you for looking at it!

Anything else you want to say: I would like to take this time to thank you for giving me the honor to put my application in. I would also like to thank you for taking the time to read through my application. I really hope I am able to get in! Thank you so much.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I'm quite good with computers in general, but who isn't here. Anyway I'm quite good at Batch, if that's what you want to call it. I'm trying to learn Java aswell as C++. To me atleast I believe I'm very good a social engineering.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join Empire to feel as if I'm part of a family, well a close nit group of friends I should say, but none the less. I want to thrive and learn within a group of trusted people, and I think The Empire is a great place to further my knowledge.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I can contribute to the groups overall awesomeness. I can bring some youth into the group, which I'm not sure how many young people you have, but I think not that many. I can teach group members and other HF users what I know.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

This is a hard one, it's hard to think of a real memorable moment in my life that changed me for who I am. But however I can tell you about my self.

My name is Chris, I was born in the US and still live here today. I am 14 years of age. Ever since I was young my mom has had many chronic diseases of of which I share with her, diabetes. Having diabetes barely affects me now, hell sometimes I don't even know it's there. One thing that I've always been told is 'It gets better' I use those 3 simple words to live my life. Back in the summer of '10 I was seriously ill with an unknown stomach issue. When I was emitted into the hospital all the doctors were in hazmat suits (no lie), I thought I was dying. While there I heard someone say 'It gets better.' and it did! In just one week I was out. So basically those words, make me who I am.

Anything else you want to say:

Thanks for reading my application. I appreciate it!

Some skills that i currently have is working with Stressers. I am currently creating my own stresser. Another skill, i have is Spreading. I dont have an examples or threads of me Spreading but i have tons of installs on DarkComet from Going to random chatrooms and Convince people to download like an Ewhore pack but i would never do that on HackForums ;)

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would like to join the empire because I love the teamspeak server and think all the members are pretty chill and cool especially Kyle & Froggy. I can find do something at night and talk with the members.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel i should be accepted because it would be great to actually become closer with the members and connecting with. I also feel that Empire is a Friendly and Chill Group.

I will be honest here I started getting into graphics but it just didn't work out after I tried many other things. The thing I'm good at is gaming and social engineering but mostly gaming most of the things that are asked about in gaming section I try to answer them and sometimes not a lot I try and see what people say and learn from them I'm a fast learner. Gaming and convincing people but I lead people to good way and not scam nor lie to but this is just what I do. I honestly just try my hardest to accomplish things in life not just finish them. If something is finished wrong it won't matter because it doesn't do what it does correctly. Say if you purchase something you'll wait and get what you paid for right? Right you are, because that means you finished it and if it didn't finish it means someone made you go thru trouble. There was a in the road, I'll finish even the hardest task started out with $0 cash and earned a few to give not for my self. I'm a gamer that just haves fun wile playing and wants to help others just like in this thread.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join the empire since I have seen all the giveaways and other things done by the empire and I can contribute some things as well. I think the group is really organized and like I have seen all your threads are HQ but there still other reasons I'd like to join for example I could join the empire and in the gaming section do some tournament and and giveaway some stuff and will contribute to the group in ways. Tibit and all the other leaders are just most helpful and know what others deal with and take questions that other times I couldn't do. Group leaders do take questions but Empire does its best to keep there group the best and in my opinion it has been achieved. This major reason has made me want to be in one of the greatest group and I'm loyal to the Empire.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I May look new or just that I have not been here longer than others but I know I can show more than others. For example some people might know as much as I do in either gaming or something else I always try my best I never take 10 or 40 minutes to do something. I take as much time as I need to succeed in what I need to accomplish. Later on when more things come out on halo or black ops or any game I'll start doing either tutorials,giveaways, and or something that could be helpful for it. One thing that I didn't mention was I might not be worthy I might have just joined but I can give more effort than others and follow what must be if its the right choice.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm just someone who wants to enjoy life to the fullest and do what I think is right if its not I'll learn.

Well I first want to say when I started school people thought I was weird. Eventually I got one friend only after 3 years he stayed with me and was my friend. Then he had his party I was invited like all of his friends. Before any of this I didn't even know what gaming was since I never had friends. In his party there was games and other things and food I hadn't seen. I was so amazed and then people where playing his console can't remember which one but they didn't invite me I just watched them play. Few months later it was my birthday and he was the only one there sadly I was lonely as a kid who didn't know English since it wasn't my first language. Well I was happy but the thing that got me excited was my first console my friend gave to me it was a Nintendo 64 and after this I started getting into gaming. When I began gaming I all ways thought I would only play with people I met in real life. But I ended up having 94 friends on xbox anyone can have that. But the thing I didn't like is every 3 months I got a new best friend online. I hated that I did that the reason that happen to me was because my first friend on xbox live. He ran out of live and never got on so it when on. I agreed to myself to play with friends always and no matter what happens in a game its all just fun and war to me.

In 6th grade I started getting more friends and joined a soccer team and football both my teams went undefeated and they nicknamed me Curada(Cool)

In Spanish. I stayed at the school and just kept joining spot teams. When I joined others did to since they had fun and we won a lot. How did we win and go undefeated you ask? Well every time we have practice we go to the fullest but have fun along the way. I always knew what to do when I went to play another team. When I was little I lost every soccer team but had fun. My friends didn't although. I heard practice makes perfect so I invited friends to my house to keep playing a sport and stay active. During this break I've gone to at least my friends house 7 times and 5 other friends to. I started out clue less but now a winner and a person that falls but gets back up.

When I first became a PC gamer I started playing minecraft. I was staff on a server and a normal day the next there's a new moderator. His name was Felix I had skype calls and other things without him I would've never found out about HF. When I first joined I saw the forum as members that look out for each other after a little I did notice about rep and a lot of negatives and saw people getting banned that look Innocent. I just figured out no one is trusted. I started to think for myself and just went the way I pick and learned from my mistakes. You either make friends or enemies and I've maid friend in HF as of today and hope to make more soon.

Anything else you want to say: The Empire is an amazing group and would be a privilege to join thanks for giving me the opportunity. Thanks for reading hope to have a chance in the empire.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

There are a lot of things I am good at, not particularly one I would say. Some of the things I am really talented and good at are, Graphics, Essays, Administration Work and Computers. I am really skilled Graphics as I have about 6 years of experience on Photoshop. As for computers I know about anything on them such as Administration, Virus Removal, C++ (Beginner).

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

The reason I want to join The Empire is because I want to feel apart of a bigger group, be something as a team, and work to help each other out. I love the way the group is set up and organized and how all the members in The Empire treat others, it makes me feel really honored that I am applying to join a nice as a group as this.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

The reason I feel I should be accepted in to The Empire is because of all the things I can contribute. I feel like I can really help out the members and share some of my own things. I know I may not look like it just on the surface, but once you get to know me I am a nice person, I am willing to help out.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Back when I was just 6 years old, it was a very difficult time for my family. My family is Asian and my mother is a hard working nurse, she had to take several exams and work really hard to get to America, it's because of her that me and my family are here and doing this well,

I keep my mother happy by getting good grades as I am in college right now and I try to not get into too much trouble. My mom is my hero and she means a lot to me and I would do anything for her. Going through all these hard times it though me that I can take nothing for granted,

I need to work hard for myself, I have my goals set on what I need to do and what I am aiming for.

Anything else you want to say: I would be honored to join The Empire and be a part of something bigger, something that changes people, something that helps people out. You can heck out my recent thread here: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3128988>

Social Engineering:

I'm just a bit perfect in social engineering.I have done alot of social engineering,In CEH some ppl thoughts doing phising is a social engineering,So I had done alot of phising pages.So I guess this I'm an social engineer.

Programming:

My teacher said,"I have a good programming sense!!"

Well I am doing engineering in E.C.E(Electronics and communication engineering).

Thats why I had read programming C there & got E(above 90 %) in the programming.

After that I have got an interest on Coding & learning new languages.I have done

C,Python,PhP,(Currently C++).

Though I am on E.C.E but I wanna build my career on IT sector.

Now me and my friend writting a new ebook on C in bengali (First time India).

Friendly :

I believe that being a friendly and helpful member is a key attribute to a good member of any group. Friendly members are definitely needed in such an HQ group like The Empire. I mainly enjoy helping new members out with anything that they may need.

Thats why I have uploaded many ebooks on hacking and programming on mediafire (I dont like to earn money from adf.ly :D)

I have those could be very helpful for newbie members :)

Gaming :

Well I feel good whenever I logon to my own laptop.I had played Fifa'07 when I was on 9th.from then I have an interest on Game and I love to play against good gamers.I also participated many gaming contests,organised by our club,school & my college.

I am a diehard lover of Fifa(07,08,10,11)

Though I found much difficulties on Fifa 08 than other fifa series.

Computer Lover :

I use my computer almost every day. Most of the time I am on Hackforums, but I also spend a lot of time doing other things too.

I put many times/effort on coding,reading ebooks.With my knowledge of computers, I could contribute to The Empire in a variety of ways.

Hacking :

Who are hackers ?? Am I able to be an elite hacker??I often ask this question to me.

Though I have some knowledge on XSS,Sql injection,Rat etc. But I know this is not hacking.I consider myself as a skid because I still use others code and methods for hacking.

Thats why I wanna more about coding and networking.Well,I wanna maximize my knowledge doing networking and CCNA this JAN-FEB.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

The Empire is High quality, trustworthy, giving, devoted to HF, and much much more....

I also want to join The Empire so I can bring my knowledge to the community so that I can try to help out the members as best as I can...

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I have every quality that is needed to join this group. I have many skills which I mentioned a few above..

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I have had a pretty easy life..

I do what others do. I play video games, i go out with friends, i party at times, and i love to learn.thats all ?

Anything else you want to say:

First of all Thank you for the opportunity to join The Empire and reading my post.

well As I said before,The Empire is the best group i've seen.There are high quality threads,members.Nothing can beat that, you guys are committed to this group. I would even proud to have Empire has my user bar. ?

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Well, by profession, I'm a freelance web developer. So all skills that are encompassed within that; Web Design, XHTML, CSS, jQuery and, of course PHP. I'm also very interested in psychology and social engineering (THE REAL MEANING =-- not scamming some company for free shit. Human manipulation.)

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

Personally, I think that it's one of the few remaining groups that actually have good members- not just focussing on superficial shit like popularity, postcount and the infamous "pay to join".

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel as if I'd be a great fit in the group. Knowing a couple of members already in the group, I'm the right sort of guy for the group. I also have a lot to contribute. Not just with the aforementioned skills, but also with regards to content and discussions within the group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well, hey! My name's Prash. As I've said before, I'm a freelance web developer. 17, currently in the UK at college, doing my A-Levels.

Not a clue what I'm going to do after college. I like to keep an open mind and not narrow down the possibilities that my future could hold; trying to avoid the 'regular' life people seem to crave, these days ^_^. I love travelling! Meeting new people; exploring different places; experiencing a variety of different cultures, it's incredible how much of an impact it can have on your life. One of the most memorable experiences in my life so far was back-packing Europe in summer 2012. Definitely has inspired me to continue travelling and see the world through my own eyes!

I've got a pretty diverse background, actually. My parents are Indian, but my Dad was born in Africa. I, myself, was born in England, but moved to India shortly afterwards for a couple of years, where I picked up the language. But I've lived in England ever since I can remember. I still try to stand by my cultural roots, visiting India whenever I get the chance to. It's an amazing place full of wonderful people, but as with anything, definitely has its flaws.

Feel free to read more at my blog: <http://prash.me>

Name: I go by the name of C4Vendetta.

Age: I am seventeen years old.

Gender: Male.

Religion: No religion as of now. Atheism or Agnostic Atheism would describe my (non-existing) religious beliefs fairly well.

State/Country: The Netherlands.

Time Zone: GMT +1

What are some skills that you have:

Personally I like to see myself as someone who knows a little bit of many fields. A bit of coding, hacking and IT knowledge is a given, but do not expect anything extensive from me within those fields. The one skill that most people on this forum will know me for is likely Graphical Design I like to believe that over the years I've made quite a name for myself as a designer and I've even managed to acquire the GFX Guru award. To me it's a token of my accomplishments and I'm very proud to wear it. Other skills of mine would be: Debating: with close to a thousand posts in the SRPP forum, extensive real life experience as captain of my school's debating team and as participator in (inter)national events I've done and experienced a lot within the topic of debating. It still continuous to interest me greatly.

Social Engineering: indeed, I enjoy to play games with other's as well as my own mind. Social Engineering and manipulation of others for material gain doesn't interest me that much, I'm in it for the knowledge and payoff in the long run.

Self-Enlightenment: do not be confused, this is nothing magical or abstract. It's merely the art of using your own body's resources to the fullest. As I explain in this thread there is much people do not know about themselves, hence much of the power of one's body and mind has been forgotten throughout history.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

The search for active, intelligent and interesting groups is a continuous one. Very few groups manage to stay alive for very long so it is inevitable that one must keep up with the change. The Empire seems like an interesting group, from what I've been told it is active and the members tend to strike me as intelligent. Thus, I would like to find out for myself. It is curiosity and blind desire that lead me to The Empire, hopefully you'll be curious enough about me to grant me entrance.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

To not bore you with links to tutorials you have no interest in and vouches you do not care for, I shall get to the point briefly. It is my intelligence, dedication and creativity that sets me above other members and should hopefully be reason enough for my acceptance into The Empire. For three years I've been a member of HackForums, and needless to say I've seen the forum grow and change, I've educated myself and I've proven myself to be more than the average, easily overlooked, member.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

These days what I like to talk about is my experience within the field of politics and debating. As I mentioned beforehand, I am the captain of my high school's debating team. Further more, I am a member of the youth council of my city and I've participated in international events revolving around politics and debating (Model European Parliament). These experiences are of terrible value to me, in one week of MEP I've learned more about politics and debating than in an entire year of school education. I'm incredibly grateful for these experiences and I'd encourage anyone to participate themselves if given the opportunity.

Who I actually am is probably too long of a story for this kind of application, however, I'll try to summarize myself. I am theatrical, eccentric and excited. Serious and professional when appropriate and appropriate when expected. Soon I'll be going to University and begin the journey towards my professional career. Right now I'm keeping myself busy with school (but a lot more with after school projects), sports (that would be Judo and MMA) and self-education within various fields (Graphical Design, Science, The SRPP Sub-Forum and so forth).

Anything else you want to say:

I'd like to thank whoever is reading this for making it this far. Once a leader myself (The Graphic Masters), I know how hard it can be to go through hundreds of applications trying to find the few that are worthy of acceptance. Hopefully I will not have wasted your time.

Regards,

C4Vendetta.

It's recommended that you put more than a one line per question, as the longer and better formatted your application the greater chance we'll read it.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Well I have been into graphic designing and using image-manipulation software for roughly around three years. Throughout my time of using image-manipulation software, I've been getting to grips with..Adobe Photoshop CS4, CS5 and CS6

Cinema 4D

GIMP

Adobe Fireworks

Those are some of the types of image-manipulation software/programs I have been using throughout my time as a graphic designer. As for other sets of skills - I have been into web-mastery for around a year or two. I have ran a forum with many members, and I have extensive knowledge when it comes to the MyBB forum software. I would also consider myself a fairly skilful gamer, and a website reviewer. A couple of my strong points when it comes to website reviewing are the fact that I have advanced spelling, grammar and punctuation.

Not only do I graphic design for my own personal pleasure, but I also have taken on 1,500+ free graphic requests during my time on the Internet. This experience has allowed me to give members constructive criticism within the 'Rate My Graphic' section, and share my knowledge when it comes to designing on Adobe Photoshop CS6. Many members within the 'Rate My Graphic' section reply with responses such as, "Nice job with the GFX 8/10" (..no offence), but I attempt to respond with links to different resources (if necessary).

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

If I were to obtain a position within the official Empire usergroup, I would prefer to remain active within the sub-forum, and engage in the group's discussions. One of my main reasons for wanting to acquire a position within the usergroup is because it seems as if the group are dedicated to remaining high-quality, and I believe I can rate/contribute to that. I would like to meet some of the current Empire members, and receive more knowledge from being a member within the group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I have ways of contributing to the usergroup. I don't have a lot of things to give away, although I can share my knowledge when it comes to certain subjects and fields - such as assisting other users with their questions; creating tutorials; engaging in intuitive group discussions; and more. I also do a fair amount of reporting on the forum, which proves that I care about the quality of HackForums. Aside from quality-wise factors, I'm a friendly and easy-to-talk-to kind of guy. I never harass or threaten users on HackForums, and I do my best to assist members when they're in need of someone's help. I believe I can wear the Empire userbar with pride and represent the usergroup in a positive way.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm sixteen years of age, and I'm from the United Kingdom. I'll give you an in depth bit of information regarding who I am, and what I do/about me.

As I said above - I'm 16-years-old, I'm currently from the United Kingdom, and I've been living here since I was born. I'm a college student, and I'm on a two-year training course to become a motor vehicle mechanic. At the moment, I have a fair amount of knowledge when it comes to repairing, disassembling, and reassembling vehicle components, but I'm not fully qualified to become a mechanic. In my future, I hope to run a successful vehicle repair business and work from my own home.

I began graphic designing from the age of twelve (...I believe), and since then, I've been creating signatures; logos; banners; avatars; and other sorts of designs. On top of that, I had no clue when it came to thread designing, until I visited HackForums. My first ever thread design was a failure, but I managed to somehow create the Respawn Stresser design for their sales thread, which can be located HERE. Unfortunately they have recently decided to switch their official thread design to something else, but I'm not too bothered.

Web-mastery was another subject which had an impact on my online skills. A couple of years ago, I was creating free forums (e.g. "mechanic.freeforums.org", or something) - I had been running a free forum was around three months or so before we finally decided to switch to a more advanced forum software, and that software was MyBB. At the beginning, I was unable to create the forum myself, so I had to receive a hand from one of my buddies. Around two months later, I had knowledge when it came to the cPanel, FTP and the complete MyBB software. I'm still getting to grips with HTML and CSS, for template edits, though.

My forum exceeded activity beyond what I had firstly imagined. I originally planned on creating a small forum in which could be used by my buddies to discuss general subjects, but eventually, after half a year, my forum was buzzing with activity. In total, we managed to receive 35,000+ posts; 3,000+ registrations; a custom theme; 6,000+ threads; and more statistics. The community finally came to a closure, mainly because I didn't have enough time to run the forum, considering I am now in college and have to learn from 9:00AM-5:30PM.

(Apologies for the fourth paragraph)

Anything else you want to say:

I would just like to take a moment to thank you for considering my application, and best of luck to all other applicants. Apologies in advance for any typos.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Gaming: I have allot of knowledge in gaming and have been playing them since I was 7 years old.

Team Speak Setting up: I have been setting up TS3 server for about 2+ years now.

Making Money: I have made a total of 1.7k from being on HF and made some different ways myself to make cash.

YouTube Views / YouTube Money: I can make anywhere from 1k-10k views over night from my method that will be releasing soon. For YouTube money its simple method that I will be releasing in the future.

DDoSSing: I have made my own DDoS tool and soon I will be hosting a DDoS service.

Key logging: I have just recently started key logging and have some experience with it and willing to help people that are new to it (I don't have a R.A.T because I can't port forward)

Java Coding: I just started java coding (not the best :/)

Friendly: Sometimes I think being the best member is being a friendly member.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

The reason I want to join the empire is because you guys are a funny and friendly group to be around, and it's really fun to hang out in the TS with you guys.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be accepted into the empire because I feel that I can bring alot to the group and have some lols

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well, I was born in Canada (EH?) and I have been into computers and video gaming for a while now. Just a few years ago (About 4-5) I started to learn some coding so that I can make a game, after I developed a game I was really happy but wanted to code more. So after some more searching I found HF. When I started to look around I found that HF has a big section on coding. After some more searching me successfully made an Adf.ly bot (which only worked for about 1-2 days). Then 1 day I saw "Marketplace/Money" I was like "OMGOMGOMGOMGOMG" after an HR of looking I made 2 cent. Then after looking some more I made more and more money.

Anything else you want to say:

I hope I can join the empire group and help some people out!

There is a lot more that I have done, but they are on my old accounts which I lost the login for when I got ratted a few months ago.

I first started to get into graphic design when I was an active member on se7ensins a few years ago.

I would always enter the signature of the month competitions, make signatures for people and eventually I started getting into the YouTube GFX business & began to charge people for backgrounds & logos, etc.

I ended up stopping that though, as I got into the exam season I didn't have enough time to do GFX which meant I had to find something else to do which was enjoyable, but not as time consuming.

Which is where I began the first thoughts on my next topic.

[img]<http://i1353.photobucket.com/albums/q679/WriteHF/Brake1.png>[/img]

I am a huge fan of rap, poetry and music all around.

I am mostly active within the Rap Battles and Hip Hop section of Hackforums and I like to practice writing rap lyrics by competing with other members on the forum.

A couple of my lyrics threads can be found here - \(Click to View\)-
<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2960993>

- <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2960798>

The inspiration of writing lyrics came from my "idol" Eminem, as I grew up listening to him literally everyday. I couldn't get out of the "zone" and I always had to have one of his tracks playing, even in school.

My parents didn't really mind me listening to it either as it didn't develop swearing into my vocabulary for a long time. I first swore when I was 8 after watching 8 Mile; a film which Eminem plays the main character Jimmy who shares an extremely similar lifestyle to Eminem when he was growing up, which is why Eminem thought that it was a perfect role for him to play, which definitely worked, as it is still my favorite film today.

[img]<http://i1353.photobucket.com/albums/q679/WriteHF/Brake1.png>[/img]

As I'm a big fan of music I also like to produce/compose, I was so happy when I got into Rhythm, but sadly it's changing now, but it will surely be yet another great group.

Ok, back on point; I like to make beats, etc... Most of my projects can be found here:
<http://www.soundcloud.com/spz>

I first started producing music when I first learned about FL Studio, a.k.a Fruity Loops Studio; when I was in school. I was always practicing in my spare time during school & eventually I purchased the software on my own computer just before I left school.

I was really happy, I made music for while, then my computer broke due to getting infected with some sort of virus. I couldn't get it repaired for a while as my family aren't very wealthy and it wasn't a priority on the list of things that needed to be paid for, like bills and groceries, etc.

After a while, I ended up getting a job so I could get my computer fixed and after a couple of months of a minimum wage job, I was able to get it fixed and I started to produce again.

From then til now, that has been one of my main hobbies as I find it really fun. I may not be the best, but I like to do what I enjoy, whether I'm good at it or not is not one of my first thoughts when doing it.

[img]<http://i1353.photobucket.com/albums/q679/WriteHF/Brake1.png>[/img]

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

The main reason I would like to join The Empire is because of the outstanding quality of the group which I would love to be a part of.

I've seen many members around the forum, showing their immensely high quality, and what do you know? they're in The Empire.

I have wanted to be a part of The Empire for a few months now, but being fairly new, I was afraid to apply as I knew that I had such low credibility that I myself thought that I'd need to work a lot harder before even thinking of joining the group.

Now it's been a few more months and I have increased my personal view of quality, I think that it is about time that I applied to join one of the best groups, rather than paying my way into a low quality group that anyone with $10 could easily get access to.

I strongly agree with the invite only 'rule' as it shows that not just any random squabbler can get into the group and it shows that you actually have to put hard work & effort into getting into such a group.

Valor is the main example of a group that will literally allow anyone into the group. The standards are so low. I've seen many members around Hackforums being some of the lowest quality members I've seen & also seeing the Valor userbar under their name.

It's just not right. All groups should try and be the highest quality that they could possibly be, rather than a quick cash machine. I understand that some people would like to make the money back that they paid for the group, but Valor went a little too far.

I think that once the person has made the money back, the group should become invite only and try and be as high quality as possible, but obviously for Valor, it's a tad late to do that.

[img]<http://i1353.photobucket.com/albums/q679/WriteHF/Brake1.png>[img]

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I am one of the members who really do try their hardest to be of the highest quality possible. Although I'm not very active all over the forum, I do try my best to be as active & as high quality as possible where I do spend most of my time.

I like to do giveaways, host contests & I love getting involved with the community.

I was a part of Rhythm, which is now also owned by you & it is now changing from the Rhythm we all knew, but it should be a great group nonetheless.

I was sad to see it go though, as you may now know, I'm a big lover of all things musical, which is what Rhythm was set for.

I just think that I am the sort of quality that The Empire are looking for as I may not be perfect right now, but I have the potential to get even more high quality.

I'm also very friendly and I can be a fun guy to talk to most of the time.

[img]<http://i1353.photobucket.com/albums/q679/WriteHF/Brake1.png>[img]

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

Well, I'm white, 16, average weight/height. I have blonde hair, blue eyes and I'm from London in the United Kingdom.

I used to be a part of a parkour group (free-running) and we always used to just go around the city looking for big, cool stunts to do. One day we were just walking through central London and we saw the perfect location to make a video.

So we just memorized where it was & then carried on with looking for more places to make videos. We found another perfect place, but this time it was on a roof.

We thought it was such a good place that we would start right there & then, so we set up the cameras and worked out our jumping orders and everything. Then we started and went round at least 7 times.

On the eighth or ninth time of going round the 'circuit' it started to rain, but we thought that we would continue, considering we've done this sort of stuff in the rain before.

So we continued and when I got round to the 2nd to last stunt it was really slippery and my hand slipped on one of the slates & I hit the side of my head on the roof & it knocked me unconscious and I fell off the roof and landed awkwardly on my right arm and leg & they ended up broken.

My friends didn't notice that I fell at first and they continued, but then my friend also slipped in the same place but he didn't fall off the roof, he managed to grip on.

That was when they realized I wasn't with them & my friend couldn't climb back up so he jumped down & then he found me on the floor of the garden of the house we were on top of.

The rest of the group jumped down too to make sure I was ok & they noticed my arm & leg was mangled under me & called an ambulance straight away.

When it came I woke up, and I was put on a slider thing, and was taken through the house that we were on & I got quite a while off of college.

It was a great story to tell friends, but even though I was injured & could have died, my mother was pissed off & I got in deep trouble with her & I got grounded for two months.

Which is when I first joined Hackforums. So the reason I joined Hackforums is because of my broken arm & leg & the fact that I'm going to be grounded once these bones have healed.

Why do you want to join The Empire? I would love to have the pride and honor of being in a group of such. I've seen many members part of the Empire that are very HQ and I think I would fit in fine. This will be the first group I ever apply to.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Although I am new to HackForums I have a vast range of capabilities and I think I could be useful in creating guides, tutorials, even video commentaries in the name of The Empire.

I don't really have any entertaining stories to tell and I don't look to make up a fake one. I'm your typical high school nerd who fulfills whats needed and goes home to computing.

After graduating I plan on pursuing my dream of being a soccer player or perhaps a petroleum engineer. If not I always have a computer to rely on for making money.

Anything else you want to say: Chances of my acceptance to this dream group is slim however I still believe my prayers have been heard.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Graphics: I've always had an affinity for digital creativity, whether it be video editing, animation, music production, or digital art/graphics. I'm proficient in all stated however at the moment I'm focused on practicing my graphic work. I've been doing graphics on and off for around a couple years now, and I've taken a personal liking to vectoring/vexeling. I could ramble on, but a picture's worth a thousand words, amirite?. Examples of what I've done below.

Spoiler (Click to View)

Spoiler (Click to View)

Spoiler (Click to View)

Music: I've been playing the drums for over three years now as well as experimented with digital music production (Sony Acid, FL Studio). I jam on the drums daily, either playing along to songs or practicing my rudiments. Among my favorite bands are Relient K, The Beatles, The All American Rejects, and The Gorillaz.

Gaming: I wouldn't consider playing games a skill, but video games are a pretty big part of my life. I grew up playing video games and they're one of my favorite pasttimes. I play Xbox and PC games and I plug in my old Nintendo consoles from time to time to beat a pokemon game or challenge my friends to a game of MarioKart. I play for fun and am not very competitive. Whether the game be Minecraft, Halo or League of Legends, I'm always up to play a round or two.

Grammar: Call me a grammar Nazi but I pay attention to my own grammar. I'm not perfect, but it's fun to use big words:D

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I've heard from some of your members that the Empire is a fun group to be in with a chill and high quality memberbase. I'd like to be a part of that and gain the opportunity to talk to new people and make some new friends on this forum as well as experience a new and active group. I've seen some great threads in the name of The Empire and I feel as if members of the group generally show a good example.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I view myself as a friendly and helpful member as well as a high quality poster, evident in my post/thread history. I've written a fair share of tutorials as well as hosted a number of giveaways, which I'll include links to. I think I'd fit into the group as I'm a fairly social person, easy and fun to talk to and, in general, a likeable member. I'm active with an average of 7.5 posts per day and I'd bring that same level of activity to the subforum. I could share my knowledge of video editing/graphic design with other members with tutorials and run a free graphics service for the members of the group.

A few of my best contributing threads:

Font guide, written in the name of Infamous: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2893598>

Giveaway, my own personal method: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3123485>

League of Legends guide:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2960614&pid=27456592#pid27456592>

Free graphics service I ran a long time ago: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2313089>

I have a few other tutorials and giveaways which I won't post. Other tutorials I've written are in other group subforums and aren't viewable.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm a teenage boy from California who enjoys soccer, lacrosse, skateboarding, drums, video games, computer animation and graphics. I'm on good terms with most people I know and am considered a friendly person by acquaintances in real life as well as online. I do fairly well in school, maintaining my A/B average and keeping a good reputation with my friends and teachers. I've got a creative, imaginative mind with a passion for digital art and playing the drums. To my friends I'm a funny, clever and friendly guy who's chill to hang out with or talk to. It's hard to judge a person through an application, so I'll just leave you with this: You won't get to really know me until you talk to me.

Anything else you want to say: This isn't a long application because I believe in quality over quantity. Oh, and I like cheese.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I haven't joined any user groups here on HF before. I'd really like to join because the Empire looks like a very high quality user group to join, and I would like to contribute more to the community, having a user group like this would be a huge moral and ego boost.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I don't feel I should be accepted...I do, however, feel that it would be a huge thing if I was accepted.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I've been learning programming since I was 11. I started out with some C++, and eventually found Visual Basic. I continued developing in Visual Basic until I reached C#. C# was more of an advantage for me to use because I was wanting to finish learning C++, which meant I needed to learn the general syntax of it.

As soon as I made a few things in C#, I decided to move on to C++ and eventually Objective C (for iPhone/iPod Touch/iPad apps, etc). My preferred language is C#, but I can work with pretty much any of the C based languages.

Anything else you want to say:

I'd like to thank Tibit for keeping the Empire going, and I'd like to thank the rest of the Empire staff for being great users.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

I am advanced in graphics, specifically vector, manipulation and editing, and things like backgrounds and banners for the most part. You can look at my threads and you will see most are Graphics. I have been outside of HF for a while since my computer broke, but I have a brand new one (custom built) and I have been studying so much politics, government, history, and any sciences like biology and chemistry.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I procure and am deft into consorting consummate knowledge in a capacious approach. A few of my foremost proficiency is in political debating and scientific researching. I accustom to the fact that the world will not just teach you shit, and that you need to compass yourself on its groove. If this group is about knowledge in any viewing, than it is the group that fits me, because I am factious in a group that is open to more knowledge than what "Logic" offers. Although that group offers knowledge in something I am already good at, the point I elected this group to sign up for is the reason that it's open knowledge, and with more knowledge you are apart of, then you may learn more from the sub-forum which is what I am very interested in. It's not about joining a group you think you have skill in, It's more about joining a group that has meaning, and with this groups essence, it may teach me more than I originally plan out for my future.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I love education, and if your group offers that and I have the dire to learn more in this world, then so be it.

Anything missed out, PM me :)

What are some skills that you have (Explain): some of my skills are Website / forum hacking!
Making tools!

This is probably my 3rd best skill I would say.

Helping people!

Is DEFINITLY my best skill. I work very hard to make sure people get what the want. Usually I'm browsing in the hacking section or marketing sections and looking to see if anyone needs help. I'm always someone to come to if you need help with ANYTHING!

Making ebooks!

Is something I love to do to! Sometimes I write a new niche and sell it , but most the time you will see me give away free ebooks in the free ebook section.

Doing amazing contest!

Yes that's right amazing contest, I usually do very simple contest and the contestants pick a number. Some of the contest I do are

- GT giveaways
- Ebook giveaways
- LR OR PP $ giveaways
- Netflix giveaways
- Hacking tool giveaways.

And those are just some examples I do PLENTY more :-)

GAMING!

Is AMAZING! I think I spend a lot of time gaming and I think I'm pretty good to. Most the time I like to chill talk to my friends other times I go try-hard trying to get some kills :p. Gaming is one of my favorites tho. I have been gaming for at least 4-5 years now, I'm hoping to raise that number soon.

Marketing!

This is always fun. Making money on my free time is always great :). I also love to sell stuff such as GTs, aims, Skypes ect, but you got to admit, everyone loves earning money ;).

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I have always wanted to join, it's always been my favorite group as well. I think I will make a great addition to the group. This would also be my first group I have ever joined before on HF! I see a lot of HQ members that are apart of this amazing group and I would love to be apart of it!

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel that I will be able to give to the community a little bit more! I also feel I will be able to help more people and do more things for other people! I also think I would get to know more people and be friends with more people so I would be able to help more people. I also think I'm a HQ member on this site, I have done many great things for people and with people to make me HQ.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life:

(MY HF LIFE)

Hello, and I'm just an ordinary guy! :p

Well at first I had no idea what anything meant when I joined this site last year, monetizing and black hats everything I had no idea what any of this meant! Well about after a month I became inactive still not understanding, but I had some of it down!

Well about 1-2 month after I thought I was finished, I wasn't. This time I was hoping I would be able to help give the community something because I wasn't able to do so before! After many long days of reading and writing ebooks setting up bots learning about VPNs as well as learning about website hacking I had finally got a lot of it down! And now I thought I could finally give to the community.

After I had kept learning about this stuff I decided to start writing ebooks of my own! As well as find niches to spread stuff across the Internet for like PPD or such. I started coming up with ways to get easy YouTube views as I used to have a shop, I could give likes comments etc... Now a days I just love giving to the community and helping its really the best thing I have ever felt! It feels amazing! I hope I get to help more and more member as time goes on.

(MY REAL LIFE STORY)

Well I'm going to start with when I was young. I was born in a hospital in Louisville, Kentucky. I lived there for 6 months , then I moved to Georgia. I literally have lived in like 9 different states haha. After that I moved to South Carolina, on a military base (my dad is in the military) we lived there for 2 years. Eventually I moved to Hawaii, I lived there for 5 years and my sister was born there. Then my dad for some weird reason got stationed in Japan lol. This was a big change for me especially when I was about 9 years old. We lived on a military base that was only about 5 miles long, that was it. We could leave the base, but we barely left. It felt like I lived on a little field for 2 years haha. Then my mom and dad got divorced while we were there... I wasn't very happy about this either, but eventually I moved on. I later moved to New Mexico and lived with my mom and her new BF and my dad visited, at least 1-2 times a year :-/. He wasn't aloud to visit half the time because he was in Iran. Finally I moved back to Louisville in the end and have been living here for a couple years now. I live with my mom and my dad lives on Ohio so fairly close.

Now I'm going to talk about my academics. Well I didn't always get good grades I used to never do my HW but luckily I was good at taking test :). I did this up into 8th grade, then I realized I couldn't do this for the rest of my life. I had to take a test to get to the high school I go now, Luckily I did well and got to go to the school. It's a private high school and cost money to go to, unless you get a academic scholarship to the school. You would have had to score in the top 5% to go there on a scholarship! I was very fortunate I scored WELL and got in for free :). Now I'm not like I used to be I do my HW, study for exams, and respect others(I always did that tho).

Now on to my sports life. I always have loved sports and it's probably one of my favorite things to do. When I was young, my dad made me play soccer, baseball, football, basketball, and swimming. I had no choice in the matter, but now I see why he made me do it. When I lived in Japan I got offered to go to the junior Olympics in Hawaii one year. To bad my dad let me quit swimming... I should have taken realized what a chance I had:-/. Well I moved on and realized that wasn't the sport for me. I played soccer since I was 2 then I quit when I was 12 because I didn't like it that much. I started loving football and basketball when I was 9, and to this day those are my favorite sports.

Anything else you want to say:

Sorry for writing a long application, but I like to take my time on things and make them as best as I can.

The empire is a group that everyone should look up to, there are SO many HQ members and thats a very good thing. This is definitely my most favorite group.

You guys also do amazing HQ contest!

I also love the empire! <3

Good luck to everyone applying for the empire!

And thanks for reading my application <3

Tibit and KhaZix said I can post again since I did a bunch of editing.

NOTE: edited it again D:

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I am good at marketing and know how to setup cPanel/WHM and manage it. Also I feel I am a good communicator; able to express my opinions clearly. My business skills are good as I have suggested before in the way I can explore and develop ideas.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I would like to join the Empire because the group has a lot of HQ members and I want to be part of it and help with what I know. Furthermore I will give 100% into this group and help as much as people I can in the group. Overall I want to join The Empire as it seems like the best and the perfect group for me

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I think I should be accepted because I will help people out with their problems, I am also a happy person and get along with everyone. I will also do giveaways now and then in the name of The Empire.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I am a good and enjoyable person to talk to also I am one of those people that like to help someone to learn something new. I also don't give up on things and try my best to make people happy.

Anything else you want to say: I really hope you do let me in :P.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

I have experience in several coding languages such as HTML, CSS, PHP, Python and more. I have over 5 years experience running, maintaining and owning popular domains that landed me in the news twice for websites I started and designed from scratch. (I will not post proof for advertisement reasons but ask and you shall receive.) I also have some experience using Photoshop to make basic graphics, logos and edits.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I spend allot of time online due to the fact I work from home and make my own hours. I enjoy spending time on HF and helping people as much as I can well getting a chance to meet new people at the same time. I would love the chance to join a group of all HQ members and get to know everyone and share experiences and talents.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be accepted as I would be willing to put time and effort in to help the group in any way possible.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well I am 26 years old and have my own place I was able to get from working online. I started about 10 years ago working online at the age of 16. I was arrested for have a few pounds of dope and a few thousand dollars in cash and was put on house arrest. Well on house arrest I got into the online world and met a guy and I worked for his hosting company, tons of forums and several networks. About 5 years ago I started buying my own domains and went in business for my self. It has not always been easy sometimes I do not always make enough to pay the rent some times I do. I can say it is been a y road but the online world has been treating me good and it did get me off the streets.

Anything else you want to say:

Rather you accept me or not everyone have a good New Year!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Graphics - I have basic graphics skills and I can successfully execute some simple requests.

Coding (Java, Python, AppleScripts) - I know the basics and some advanced techniques and features of the three previously stated languages. I've made multiple programs, scripts, applications with these languages; some of which have been released on HackForums.

Some Released Programs

LoginDectector (Bukkit Plugin) - <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3094528>

Talky, The Talker (Mac Application) - <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3017209> iOS & Android - I consider myself a sort of pro involving iOS and Android. I've experimented with coding applications for both OS's (though not enough to call myself an expert). I'm familiar with the basics of both as well as most of the advanced stuff.

Gaming - Not to brag, but I'm an excellent gamer. Why am I not in Respawn, you may ask? Well, I've just applied. Nonetheless, I often top the leaderboards of most, really all, of the games I play.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: (Nov 29, 2012 12:31 PM)Tibit Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) The Empire is a group of high quality members who will share knowledge throughout our sub-forum and with the rest of Hack Forums. We will mainly work within our sub-forum, however from time to time we will operate publicly to help enhance the site as best we can. All members are to be helpful, kind, and share knowledge with those that need it where they see fit. Members are expected to conduct themselves maturely across the forum, with no exceptions. We do not endorse or condone trolling or members who flame consistently. As a group we want to make a strong impact throughout the site, so if you can please wear the userbar or any group related images when you can. Members who are unable to preserve a positive image and reputation for our group will be kicked immediately without warning.

Why wouldn't I? I feel like I'm already part of the Empire! The current members of Empire do exactly what I strive to do every time I post. If I were to describe myself with two words, I would be a teacher and a learner. I love learning some new; no matter the topic and reteaching it the best I can. Knowledge makes the world go round and I love circulating it.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: As stated above, I do exactly what current members do. I try to be the best member I can. I've done exactly 32 giveaways and plenty of releases, tutorials, and just creating general hope for all members. I feel I should be accepted for who am I and how I conduct myself on the forums.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: When I entered first grade, I was diagnosed with ADHD. Doesn't sound bad, right? Well, it was terrible. "One of the worst cases" my doctor had every seen.

At the time, I don't recall remembering feeling different or weird but I sure was. I did the stupidest things you could imagine and that led to me being isolated and having barely any friends in later years of school. My disorder led to bad grades and eventually it led to my father leaving just my mother and me. My mother worked her ass off to help me and teach me and make me a better student and person. At one point, she had to quit her job to spend time with me. Sadly, this didn't really have an effect and I got suspended multiple times and in trouble a lot. Once, the police had to get involved. At that point, I learned that I couldn't do the shit I was doing. I fought to combat my ADHD and often had to stay up to 2 AM doing homework and studying. Soon, my ADHD became less of a factor. I believe this is why I am such an avid learner now.

I could continue this story but I'm sure it would bore you. If anyone would like to hear the rest of this story and how I turned out, feel free to PM me. I'd gladly tell you as it's shaped who I was.

Anything else you want to say: Thank you for reading my application and my long ass story ?! Hopefully, you enjoy my application and I could move onto the next step. Happy holidays to all.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Advise- Due to my life experiences i am able to give solid and mature advise to anyone who needs them. Such as suicide advise, self doubt, relationships, long distance relationships.

Helpful member- I try and help anybody who needs help. If i can't help you i will try to find somebody who can.

Doxing- Even though i am learning i am a very quick learner.

Committed- I am very committed to any responsibilities. Therefore being active all day.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I was in The Empire before and loved every single moment of it. Yes i was removed for a debate that turned into an argument but i feel like this experience helped me mature and respect others.

I want a second chance. I know i won't disappoint anybody. I took time to swallow my pride and say sorry and realize my mistakes. I learned to be careful with my words. Words are just words but can also be the most lethal weapon there is.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Like i said before i was very HQ and dedicated to the group. I can bring that back but better. Only improvement you will see from me. Thats a promise.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

My Favorite Piece of Lyric.

"This world alone is pulling me under, this genocide has forgotten me. I can't live without the ones that left me, i regret the times i couldn't see.."

Why?: We can be so blind sometimes and we can't realize it until it's too late, We have all lost somebody that shed light upon our path to maturity. What would it take for us to put petty pride aside and realize we all need somebody? Cherish every moment with the ones you love. Tomorrow they might not be there.

I'm that guy that nobody notices, that random guy. A guy that won't talk to much. A quiet guy that people never got or cared to know.

Behind my smile lies a past so dark that will make satan jump out of his seat. Yes i'm that guy. I never set out or try to stand out. I don't talk to Impress or to get pity. Honestly i truly don't care what people think or say. I am me. You will learn about me of course but you will learn the superficial me.

After you read this you will wonder what do i have left to say, trust me there is too much that i can't explain for lack of words. We all have a lot more to us that nobody will know.

I love music. Music is my life, i learned that it doesn't matter what you are going through you will always find a perfect song that will inspire you in any situation. Quoting a famous saying "When Words Fail Music Speaks" I also love helping other people why?

I never had anybody to help me in anything in my life, my mom was always working and my dad didn't live with us. I matured and basically raised myself, of course i made a million mistakes but i never had any guidance. A few of those mistakes have marked me for life Which i will explain late on this thread.

Best moment of my life:

The best moment in my life was meeting my awesome fiancée, she is the only positive thing in my life she makes me happy. I decided to ask her if she wanted to marry me after she waited for me when i went to United States to study, She was with me through bad and worse. She is the only person that showed me support and loyalty in my life so why not marry her? I have gone through hell i think i can handle marriage.

Friend and Family loss:

I was in the dark world of drug addiction but i had a friend that i met on that world, we went through it all we were inseparable. One day we were both on the corner buying drugs (for me he did not use) He was giving me advice to stop and have a regular life, i was rebellious and i believed i was invincible. At the corner buying some drugs when a rival gang member from the sellers started a drive by shooting at everybody and nearly killing us all, they shot at me but my friend got in the way and saved my life receiving all the shots fired at me. I hugged him crying begging God to save my best friend his last words were "Promise me if i don't make it that you will go to rehab and live life" then dying. Yes i saw my best and only friend die in my arms because of my drug addiction. 2 weeks later my grandfather died of a heart attack leaving me destroyed inside, i wasn't over my friend's death now my grandpa died. Destroyed completely inside i decided to look for help but the help in Puerto Rico only made me feel worse so i decided to start fighting (as i previously stated on the More About me section of the thread)
I got over my drug addiction with the discipline i learned. Now i have a normal life and got engaged now my life is looking up WRONG! A few days ago my grandmother passed away destroying my family completely. I really don't want to talk about it because i still haven't gotten over it.

Anything else you want to say:

It is your choice if to let me back in or not so i hope you at least consider me :)

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I am good at setting up booters, I have done it quite a few times now. I'm also good at eWhoring. My best knowledge is YouTube though, I can do just about anything from getting mass amount of subs/views to making Networks and partnering other channels.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I want to join the Empire because i've heard it's a good group and by looking at some of the members I can tell it's HQ. Also, I've always wanted to be in an HF group.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted because i'm great with other people and I feel I can help some members out with thing's revolving around YT. I can give great tips and advice and be a huge help. I'll also be making tons of special giveaways within the group(as you can see i do plenty in the public section).

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: Well I can't really think of anything on the top of my head, but I guess something memorable I've done is given out all the money I had in my pocket to a homeless person. I remember I was shopping with the family and I had around $30 for a Fatal shirt I was going to buy. As I was entering the store I see a man holding a sign saying he hasn't ate in a few days and need's money to survive a little bit longer. After seeing that I gave him every bit of money I had on me, and left home with nothing. But at the end of the day, I saved a life. That's better than any shirt.

Anything else you want to say: Nothing really, i'd love to be in this group, and I hope I can get accepted!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Java: I have been coding Java for somewhere around a year now, I have made both Minecraft mods and Clients and I have gone to ID tech at Bentley University for Java, and this summer I will be returning to ID tech in Princeton for Java.

Python: I have a very basic understanding and basic skills in Python, most of my experience is with Myro and a robot known as the "Scribbler Bot" for which I made a program that has it autonomously go around the room and record and once it is done, loads all the recorded data into a gif image.

HTML/HTML5: I have been coding HTML for over a year now and have gotten very good at it. I'm currently reading a HTML5 book so I can make my websites a bit more HTML5 valid, mainly for looking professional.

CSS/CSS3: I have been coding CSS for as long as I have been coding HTML and I am intermediate - advanced in it. I can make professional looking website layouts in less than an hour with the concentration.

JavaScript: I have been getting into more JavaScript recently but due to my background in other programming languages I have managed to learn and improvise with it faster than I thought I would, I can also use some of the JQuery JavaScript Library for web animation purposes.

PHP: I am still at a very basic level with PHP but I have been reading book given to me by my friend, and like JavaScript, I'm starting to learn faster than I thought I would be able to.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:I want to join The Empire because I believe your values of all the groups pertain the most to my ideas about HackForums

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:I believe I should be accepted because I believe that The Empire could help me excel as a programmer and a member of HackForums, I hope you'll acknowledge my Application and please seriously consider me as a member

Happy Coding
-SuperBored

I've also started to get more in depth with Photoshop and have started using small amounts of cinema 4D

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):I'm skilled at social engineering and quite the gamer. I pick up on things fast but have yet to pick a path as my passions drive me everywhere. I'd have to say I'm pretty funny as well.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:Every member I've seen in the Empire was very HQ and a respectable member. I'd like to become a part of the group of such great members.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:I feel like I have a lot to offer to Hack Forums and to the group. From advice to money making techniques. I was recently accepted into the ub3r group and I will be active on the forum almost every single day. I believe I'm a quality, legit member.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you: I've always been the type of person to not be fearful of everything. Everything I've ever introduced to I've tried, because of this I have lots of special experiences that have left me able to give advice to people who are going through the same things that I once did. I've grown up with parents that were never really together. They just pretended to be for me. My mother is a lesbian that tries way to hard to be the best person she can. My father was a drunk that made it lucky in this world. He managed to get a 195K/Year job without any years of college. Kind of an odd background but not really a terrible one. I've grown up in a small suburb. Not too many people but lots of different types of people. I've been in many "groups" of people. The "emos", the "druggies", The "Jocks", the "nerds", the "rebels". I don't really have a social classification anymore. I'm kinda just chris. Well that's me.

Anything else you want to say: I love interaction from other members. Pm me for the hell of it sometime.

Socco - January 2, 2013, 10:57 pm

Name: Scott or Socco. Don't mind either.

Age: 18.

Gender: Male

Religion: N/A

State/Country: N/A as I'm from the UK.

Time Zone: GMT

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

I have knowledge in quite a few different things but I know a lot about gaming, whether it be competitively or just casual. I'm a Call of Duty player and I am looking to attend a LAN event. I also take pride in what I just started studying in college; "Sound Engineering & Production" is the title of the course. I am learning all sorts of stuff about remixing, setting up for gigs and I would like to offer my knowledge, where possible, to fellow members of the group.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join The Empire because I find it could benefit me with knowledge from other users and I also wish to help others with the knowledge I have, whenever it is needed. I think I could have a lot of fun and learn a lot of new things and also help others learn new things as well.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Although most of my posts are for free stuff(who doesn't love it) I try to help out whenever I can. I am honest and tend to only give out advice/opinion if it is 100% correct. I am not going to lie to you and say that I expect to be able to join because some of the applications are phenomenal but you have to try to be accepted.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

I am quite an outgoing, friendly sort of guy. What makes me today is my past experiences, some bad, some good, like my parents splitting up. I had to keep myself from breaking down into tears and help my mother through it when I was 9. I bottled up all the emotions and one day just had to let go when I was around 17.

I love music. Music is what helps me get through the day sometimes. Just listening to a song brightens up my day and can genuinely change my mood. I used to play for professional football(soccer) clubs youth systems and had many offers that I turned down which I highly regret. But you can't live in the past, let it define you and learn from it.

That is basically what has made me who I am today. Learning from mistakes and carrying out appropriate actions to suit the situation I find myself in.

Anything else you want to say:

Just to reiterate what I said in the "Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?" part: I know most of my posts are for free stuff but I do help out whenever and wherever I can and it would be a pleasure to join such a group.

I am great with GFX, penetration testing such as but not limited to vulnerably testing, reverse engineering of Windows, not meaning I got the source, meaning I found 2 Admin Vulns. That allowed you access to Admin account from a Guest account. I do a lot of coding, such as PHP, C/C#/C++, and a lot more! I am a great hardware guy, I built a couple of computers included some for friends and others! Managing a network, I managed the network of 450+ Students. I manage networks and set up servers for fun!

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to be part of a family.

Instead of joining a gang I turned to this group, I have seen the loyalty and love that goes into it along with all the love from each of you're members and it is just amazing.

I am looking to further my education, and become a more known member around the block.

I have not had much of a family, so I really need a outlet. I would love to help other Empire members with problems.

I'm a friendly guy, and would love to have some new friends!

Also the Empire is a awesome group, I have seen the members and they're all HQ members.

I am very active, with more then 8+ Hours a day online.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I'm a kind, and caring member that will help anyone and everyone with any problems.

I'm able to help with a wide variety of things, it may be Family, Coding, Social, or anything similar.

I'm here to help ! Great member, looking to meet members alike.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

What makes me who I am? Well, this is a little personal but I went through a rough life, I was mentally and physically abused at a very young age.

It causes me to have a lot of depression and anger towards my Father.

I've always refused to forgive him for it, never had a normal childhood, I never had a childhood.

The way my family is it pushed me to be taking care of my Brother at a very young age so I am very responsible.

This is the reason I am looking forward to entering the Military. That is my outlet.

When I was younger I saw my Mother being hit, and beaten by my Father, I remember it all. I hid my Brother from it, to save him from the pain.

These are the things that pushed me towards computers and all the things I know now. It is a great story.

I have Depression, ADHD, OCD, ADD, and Bipolar. I can handle everything except my Depression sometimes,

I've have gotten to the point of Suicide. It is very sad, people have told me I should do it -.-

All I remember really from my Dad is seeing him in jail and beating my Mother and me.

Basically, I had a fucked up life but I refuse to let it drag me down forever.

Anything else you want to say:

I would like to be accepted but I am not going to beg, I just want a family I can count on for the honest truth.

Thank you for reading, I would love to be accepted.

Sorry, that this application is very last second.

Best of luck to everyone entering! Hope to speak with you all soon!

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): I'm well known to some programs but just learning the base stuff first. What I do know a lot is Photoshop. I enjoy editing pictures.

Why do you want to join The Empire?: I've not seen or known about a group that used Teamspeak.

It will be more enjoyable talking to people in voice.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?: Just the quality of the group I join. The Teamspeak and yeah, I feel like I fit right in to it.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who you are: My name is Germain. I enjoy photography. I just enjoy taking pictures of people and the areas I visit. I'm going to school for Network System Admin. I'm learning a lot since I don't know much about computers but I enjoy how one small thing from a program can go bad. I like challenge so why I think going into the field with a computer is good because it's always changing every moment you start up your computer. I really don't have much to say in this app but I enjoy talking to people or anyone I want to know in voice so. That I could hear what they would think.

Anything else you want to say: I could really make a conversation really good and keep going mainly about it no more no less. I think if I'm in this group it will be never be boring.

know almost all the basics. My current HTML project is working for VoidStresser.

- VB.Net - I've been using VB.net for a while now. I first started learning VB.net around august last year, and i know a far bit. I'm still currently using VB.net, and hope to keep learning this skill.
- DDosing - I know a far amount about DDosing. I know what DDos method does what, and i know how to each and every single attack works. I'm currently learn more as i type
- Computer Hardware - I know how to build a computer, i know the install process of windows and macs. And know most of the basics with windows application tools

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join The Empire because, i'm currently looking for a active group to join, who i can contribute a lot, from coming out of The Empire. I would do my best in the group to make other members happy and feel comfortable. Also, i've seen a lot coming out of The Empire, and i would feel i can contribute a lot with The Empire name. I've got a lot of friends as well in this group, and hopefully i can see my self in it.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel i should be accepted into The Empire for a number of reasons. First off i'm currently in Eminence, and nothing ever happens in that group. And i feel like i'm not apart of any thing. I also like to join this group because i know a few members in there who i get a long with really well, and i feel as if i would really like to belong there. I'm also currently looking to join a active group with well known members who have tribute a great amount to this forum, and i feel like i would fit in easily with The Empire

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

So Basically when I was about 12 My mom bought me a xbox360 I valued that Xbox so much, Eventually I got bored of it and wanted Xbox live, so once I got this Xbox live I started playing a game called, Grand Theft Auto, People on the game can do 'Mods' Its when you edit files of the game on your computer to do what you can within the limits, So I seen people flying about in cars going super speed shooting rockets from guns.

And though HEY I want to do that so I looked into it, After about a year of making all these mods I was one of the most known GTA modders around, Its also were I got the name "Sultan" from {based from the car Sultan RS} After a while people started making there own Modding sites, I got in with a guy called Deadly fishes.

He is one of the most known sellers around at the time, {forgot to explain the GTA mods were done through a modded disc that you put in your console} so he sold these mods to everywhere in the US he herd of me and ask me to sell for him in the UK, So I did I was making 2K a month at the age of 13-14 but after about 2 months a got fed up of sending discs and put my mom in about £200 debt {were also not the most well of family} this meant a lot to here so I looked into some quick money making things, I could not find any but at the time there was these things called "booters" So I looked into them got to know them taught myself how to use and integrate, Social Engineer all that. So i made one and Are currently making 3-5k Monthly.

Anything else you want to say:

I'd like to say, even if i don't make it into The Empire, just keep doing what you guys are doing, this is like a one time offer for me, and i'm going to take it. And hope for this best.

Also, shout out to #Skyline he is a really good friend, and even if i don't make it in, we're still going to be partners bro :)

I have a decent gerneral knowledge on computers,and general tips and tricks in things like windows and Ubuntu.

Hacking

I know a bit on SQLI,and I have read a bit about RATing,even though I do not class rating as hacking.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to be able to help other members of the forum,but at the same time make friends and learn myself.I believe the empire to be one of the few HQ groups on the forum and I would love to be a part of you.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I am active,always ready to help and am a chill guy.I get on with practically everyone and can be a fun guy to talk to.I don't troll,I will not refelect badly on the empire.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well,I am from the UK,and I live in Spain now,even though I don't want to live here,because it sucks :P.

The thing I enjoy doing most is computers,anything on computers.I got started on computers when I was 3,my dad got me on games like Age of Empires etc,even though my family was saying that I shouldn't be on at that age,he ignored and got me on. By the age of 6 I was using Windows properly,well to an extent obviously. When I was 10 my parents got a manager job at an internet cafe,from there I learnt the basics with CMD etc etc. Then I started looking into hardware,I got some old pieces from the cafe,made sure they were compatible and by the age of 10(or 11) I had built my first computer.

In the past 8 months-ish I have been getting very involved with computers,learning a bit of Python,then C++.HackForums has played a big part of this,and has been the ground from where I learnt most of what I know now. In the past week I posted in the hardware section,asking for help on my new rig that I am building. Since then I have gained a great interest in hardware,and I think this will be my new "home".

I am not too good with making IRL friends,so I spend most of my time on the PC. So activity won't be an issue,and I am always ready to help.

Anything else you want to say:

Not really,just hope I get the chance to get in,and see you in the voice chat either way ;)
