Thread: Please stop it. Freezing my msn. Stop.

Incomplete - March 9, 2010, 3:00 pm

I need to be on msn as much as i can to give support to a friend in need. He is going through a really rough time and im afraid if im not there for him he might do something dumb. I really need to talk to him as much as i can, so if msn bot owners can check their freezing slots for my email (Talish@live.com) and if im there. Please, really stop it.

I said it before, and im saying it again. If it carries on, you will be dealt with. Yes, harshly and im not trying to act e-thug. I will do all i can to mess your life up, becuae i really really cant be arsed for this immature shit when i have to be there for a friend in need.

CeilingCat - March 9, 2010, 3:02 pm

What makes you think it's someone on HF? It might be someone else who got mad at you.

But I hope your MSN gets unfrozen, I wouldn't want your friend to off himself.

I have a good idea who it is. If it carries on, i will be dealing with them. Harshly.

Hman - March 9, 2010, 3:06 pm

Sorry to hear about this man. Can't you make a new MSN and add your friend there?

Gosu - March 9, 2010, 3:07 pm

Well i get frozen like every second i live with that:0

That was stupid posting your email. Instead just say " just look if you have something in your slots with Talish in it."

Not to troll but couldn't you just pm him if you have a good idea on who it is? Instead of making a whole thread. Good luck anyway.

It has actually, i am on msn at the moment.

Also to "The Forgotten One" it's not stupid. If anyone is dumb enough to do it, and dumb enough to get caught. They will get fucked up.

If it has some hackforums members on, meh why not. I'll have it as a backup instead of having to make a new one and export my msn list and tell everyone my new msn... Thanks a lot, pm me.

MagicSpeed - March 9, 2010, 4:04 pm
Talish I'd recommend having a second MSN that kept from the public for when things like this happen.

In the Summer someone just wouldn't stop freezing my MSN account. The only way to unfreeze it is by changing your password, and eventually the freezing would continue. I eventually had to make a new MSN account. ?

Riverthief - March 9, 2010, 4:16 pm
It was ME.

Scouthout - March 9, 2010, 4:21 pm

Ok, i lied. I have been having to change my password a lot recently but it has never EVER stopped me from logging in anywhere, and it wont. So please, if you wish keep it up i am really not bothered as it takes me about 2 seconds to reset the password.

Why not just make yourself a new email account and msn and don't give it to anyone but the person you need to contact? Seems like the simplest solution to me.
