I was sitting in front of the pc last night have a few drinks and playing that game "Drug Wars", but I couldn't stand the language they were using ("Bro", "Hommie", "Dawg") so I thought that I would just remake the game and just tune it more to my tastes. After about an hour in VS I had came up with a crude version of what you see, then a few more beers and some time later I finally got a decent working game.

if you have played any variation of the game drug wars then you know how this is played also. for those that don't know, I will explain.

the goal is to buy cheap and sell high to make the most amount of money before the time (days) runs out.

yup, that's it.

anyway. the links to everything is in the bottom of the post.

please don't just copy everything over to some shitty theme and repost it.

credits would be nice.

if you see any errors, or typos, forgive them / me, I was drinking while making this game.

It's a very nice game. I enjoyed it but maybe you should let the game warn you when you don't have enough money to buy something because the first time I played it, I had no idea why it didn't let me buy some things.

yeah, I was thinking about that.

I did update the source and app so that when you click an item it automatically inputs how many you can afford in the box so you already know.

I also added more random events and not just sales.

now you can loose 1/2 money, inventory, and even hit the lottery.

Awesome, I'll try it again.
