Thread: Craigslist flagging tool?

Would one of you beautiful people just so happen to have a java script that would do something such as; flag an obvious spam post on Craigslist, clear my cookies, then allowing me to flag it again and again automatically until the post is removed? I do this manually to little avail and it is quite annoying when looking to buy a new car or do just about anything else on Craigslist so I really wanna be more efficient in my conquest to clear out the spammers and Somalian scammers! aha. Help is globally appreciated!

you joined in sept 2012 and you think you know what people on hf are busy wasting their time on? speak for yourself....

OP: I'm sure if you post in the coding section (especially vb.net), some users may code something like this for experience; they're always scrounging around for ideas for there!
