Good luck with sales.

The reason I have double - quadruple posted was to let customers know what is going on. I have had many people who chose to remain anonymous and don't want to post that they are using my service. I respect that and to let them know when I have become available or that their work is complete I have had to multi-post. I appreciate your input and have already considered it but the confidentiality of my customers, in this case, trumps professionalism.

If you ever need anything done, please do not hesitate to contact me :)!

I don't know what kind of proof you would be looking for, all I can tell you is that I am going to have a degree and a diploma in two engineering fields in the time it takes most people to finish university.

Also I do not release my work, as all my clients orders are kept confidential within my business. It is just a common courtesy.

Cheers - Jsquared

Ps, ty Anxt for the Vouch, I look forward to helping you through this school year.

Open for more requests once again. Although I am going to have to start strictly enforcing the rule that I DO NOT GO FIRST. payment must be sent before I send off essays. I am sorry to my regulars, and everyone else, that one user has ruined this for everyone.

you can see it in the scam report section, but basically ran off with an 85$ set of essays. It may have been stupid on my part, but to a point I have to be able to trust people looking for rush work, as I know its hard to pay in the moment when you need something done very fast.

Cheers - Jsquared

PupaPowlo - October 30, 2013, 8:13 pm

Big vouch for jsquared, I gave him a total of 64 Stair Calculations and Terminology questions and juggling his day to day activities and managing to complete my work by the due date was a great

Best wishes and good luck with everything else that may come your way

All prices are dependent of the difficulty of the assignment, paired with the time that it will take to complete it. Some items do have a set price, such as editing and revisions, or math problems, but essays can be more ambiguous as every single essay I write is unique and different, and therefore requires its own individual quote.

We be doin all the work up in here. I would like to thank all the members of Hf that have made the past years such a success for me.

donyamodz - September 29, 2014, 8:04 am

Just completed ANOTHER paper for me. Probably my 6th-7th purchase from him and his best work yet. I have talked to a few different writers on here and he is by far the cheapest and the best.

DotPSD - September 30, 2014, 8:28 am jsquared is the best known, best at what he does.

Huge fucking vouch.

SocialDomination - September 30, 2014, 1:04 pm

Just hired him to do a chemistry assignment for me! Will update on progress ^_^

SIM-1091100 - September 30, 2014, 7:43 pm

Really easy to work with. Just waiting on my assignment!

SocialDomination - October 4, 2014, 2:01 pm

Just wanted to post an update. So, I had him do 3 assignments (that was refused from other homework services, since apparently they're unable to do college-level Chemistry) and he finished them all extremely quick. The homework generally took other students several several several hours to complete, and he finished them in record time. Although, he does reply fairly slow, he does give updates on progress in less than 24 hours, and finished the assignments extremely quickly. I was actually really impressed at how fast he completed the assignments.

Anyways, I honestly would recommend this service to anyone, since he's reliable, quick, and extremely knowledgeable! Big props to Jsquared, and thanks for completing my extremely long assignment.

SIM-1091100 - October 4, 2014, 6:13 pm

Just pm'd you! Been really good, and definitely vouch for this guy. Just hard to get a hold of him sometimes :3

jsquared - October 5, 2014, 8:32 pm

hey guys, I have seen lots of comments about my slower response times. This is true, I am dealing with a whole host of clients and other persons so naturally I am busy. I do answer all pm's and all skype messages eventually (asap). Sometimes its seconds, other times its hours. Its hard to tell, but

I generally stay available 24.7

xomskah - October 6, 2014, 12:36 am

Hey guys, I added him on Skype, and was treated nicely to my friend request being accepted within 15 minutes. We set up a quote for a online math course that I needed done and it was about 183 questions. We agreed on a price and he got to work immediately after payment and finished it in 3 hours, when it was due in 12! I'm going to definitely keep him added on my contacts list, I don't believe any other person with a homework service would of been able to provide the quality of work and speed, with 100% on all the sections too!

I would HIGHLY recommend this service if you need something done, he gives out quality work at a very fast pace.

Stoned AF - October 6, 2014, 1:35 am

Can you quote me for a 2k word history paper? For WW2.

This is correct, my prices may not be the lowest, but neither is my quality. You have to remember I have established my named over the three years I have been doing this service, and I am known for my high quality of work. Being as such I charge an appropriate rate, as well you must remember I only accept orders when my queue is open, so if a price is too high for a client, the spot simply goes to the next in line.

Regards - Jsquared ;)

P.S. Thank you for the compliment on my work - and if you check my sales thread I no longer have posted that I have the lowest prices, nor is it int he thread title ;).

I highly recommend using Jsquared, i have contacted around 3 people last few days and paid 2 both sent me nonsense and the payment i made to them wasn't cheap as well! I then tried Jake Homework's Service he said he would do the work the deadline was then discussed which was in 24 hours the payment was then made after 24 hours no work was given but only a refund... Luckily i tried Jsquared during the time i hired Jake for his service! Jacob did everything in time and kept to his words! The quality of the work was simply amazing as well.

Pretty much saved me from getting into trouble in college as i was 1 week overdue with the assignment!

Lets have another good year folks. cheers - Jsquared

Is this service still open? Thank you.

jsquared - January 11, 2015, 9:47 am

Hey guys been getting asked whats going on cause I haven't been responding etc. I have been very ill as has my youngest son, so I have been taking the time off to take care of myself and him, as well as the rest of my family. As for the state of this business, I am going to be changing the face of the Homework market very soon, and MY service will be changing drastically.

To those of you who have been loyal over the years you will be rewarded, I can assure you.

regards - Jsquared

jsquared - January 16, 2015, 1:42 pm

Still dealing with illness in the house. I have had to turn down some clients recently and for that I am sorry, and sorry for those that I have not responded to.

As of right now I am running a high priority queue, this means, if you have a very important project (high percentage of your grade) and or you have a short deadline, the prices will be higher, but please contact me. This is not meant to be rude, nor presumptuous, but I know that I have the highest quality work of the services here, so if you do not need that 90%-100% on your paper, or if you dont need some stunning piece of work that is going to blow your professor away, then your best chances are with another service, although I cannot vouch for another at this moment as I have heard rumors and reports of misconduct.

I am not closing this service, I am trying to recover, and the little ones are getting better slowly as well. Please consider this as a short hiatus.

For all returning customers, if you use your original skype (one you used for orders in the past) and you have a clientele number 130xx or 140xx, it is business as usual. Please just use that skype, or if you changed your skype name present your client number for your discount and risen priority in queue.

Again my deepest apologies to those whom I have not been able to help.

Regards - Jsquared

jsquared - January 22, 2015, 4:12 pm

I would like to recognize the stint that there was in my service last night. I was unfortunately part of an act of god plumbing emergency, I had to repair a hot water shut off that was severely leaking. Being as such the queue got f'd and I have already apologized to the one customer that was affected.

Although this might look bad on the service I just want to make it known this happens rarely. Like I said, it was an act of god, no service can account for that, so if they say they can't believe them. Again to that person I am again deeply sorry, but after 20 hours of working topped off with a 7 hour plumbing job, the body simply does not run any longer.

Thank you for your understanding in this matter.

Regards - Jsquared

P.S To those that have contacted me I have a 3 new client numbers left for this month, so do not wait, if they are gone it closes queue until next month at least depending on how those 3 new clients fair into the regular weekly schedule.

To everyone requesting my Skype; if you do not have a HIGH PRIORITY ORDER (due within hours, or with a large % of final grade) you will not receive it. If you have a HP order pm me with details, and name the message HP ORDER. This will speed up the process of getting you into my service. As I have already stated, a client # on record gets you in, or contacting me off your original Skype contact where we first worked together.

regards - Jsquared

jsquared - June 3, 2015, 9:49 am

Orders up, queue is clear.

P.S I dont offer huge discounts like the other services because I am not hiring out my work. I dont believe the quality I produce, nor the grades that I consistantly get are worth a cut rate price.

If you want the top quality, you have to pay top dollar in most cases. Look at any brand of anything. the only reason sales go on is because competition needs to happen between services that produce similar products. My produce is not similar, I will stand without discounting.

If you want a paper done by an actual writer, not a Philippine Professor (Works for about 4-5$ per page), or some outsourced friend (Works for about 10$ per page), then just send me a message. I can take on a few more clients for the summer, as it is a bit of a down time. Come September, I will be expanding, I will be hiring writers. but all of them will be Canadian, and all of them hold 4 year engineering degrees or higher.

Don't buy something if you dont know who is actually writing it. All I really have to say.

Hey, I have personally written over 700 essays that I hold in my personal unreleased library. Every keystroke, of every paper, is MINE! I cannot stress this enough. I know this might have sounded like a mundane question, but it was not. I guarantee that every single paper I produce will pass ever level of authenticity check available.

Thank you for the good question, many people cannot account for this, for although they can vouch for their own work, how can they possibly know if their "writers" are doing the work themselves.

RatchetB?ooty - November 11, 2015, 12:34 pm

Purchased a 1000 word essay from jsquared and let me just tell you... It was the best piece of work I've seen done. The essay was incredibly coherent, great diction, he works really fast and he followed every single little bit of instructions that I asked. It was done on time, amazing support and super high quality. I am almost certain that I will receive at 95% + on it. Will update the post when I do get the mark back.

On a side note. I purchased an essay a month or so ago from a different user on this forum who has a really popular homework service (will not mention name as I do not like to 'flame'), and it was terrible. Received a pretty bad mark, terrible support, user did not follow instructions and it was given to me past my due date.

I really do recommend jsquared's service, even though his thread doesn't have as many responses as the others (he doesn't ask for responses and works with a lot of returning customers), you will be satisfied and content with the outcome. Thank you so much ? Will come back to you for another assignment soon!

The essay was incredibly coherent, great diction, he works really fast and he followed every single little bit of instructions that I asked. It was done on time, amazing support and super high quality. I am almost certain that I will receive at 95% + on it. Will update the post when I do get the mark back.

On a side note. I purchased an essay a month or so ago from a different user on this forum who has a really popular homework service (will not mention name as I do not like to 'flame'), and it was terrible. Received a pretty bad mark, terrible support, user did not follow instructions and it was given to me past my due date.

Thank you both so much for the kind words. I am booked through tonight, and again I apologize to those who I have turned down today. And again, thank you so much SlaYoRz and RatchetB?ooty for the responses, like he said I dont ask for them, and these were very pleasant surprises, it made my day.

Up, open and accepting, Monday queue is open, and I still have a few slots available through the weekend. Regards - Jsquared

Special notice as well, if you have any engineering based, or any higher level papers, please bring them to me, I have been looking for something stimulating, and may discount it for you due to my own personal enjoyment of the topic or paper itself.

Vouch for jSquared and his homework service's. I have been through many homework services and have never experienced the support and reassurance that JSquared provides.

When purchasing a homework service, it is very common to be extremely nervous, whether it be for the grade you will receive, or actually receiving the assignment on time, which is completely understandable. After dealing with JSquared for numerous YEARS, I can whole heartedly say, any doubt I have of him missing a deadline, or receiving a low grade is gone.

Last year I did not know what I wanted to do with my life, so I found myself taking random classes with extensive writing assignments. With JSquared to back me, I have never received less than a 90 on any assignment. I will upload pictures soon.

Whether it be for high school, college, or even graduate school, JSquared can complete it. JSquared literally earns people there degrees in school.

JSquared can meet the most unreasonable deadlines. Just the other day, I was taking an ethics midterm, (3 page long essay), and sent it to him. This guy got the midterm to me in 30 minutes, and I received a 97% sent on it. I will upload pictures as soon as my professor gives me the paper.

From dealing with other homework services in the past, finding a reliable, serious homework service is extremely difficult. Even if you aren't worried about him completing your assignment on time, and have full faith in him, he will not take that for granted. He sends you updates on your assignment every 30 minutes until it is completed.

Whether is be something as small as a blog post, or something as big as a term paper, if you give JSquared a deadline, he will meet it. He knows how important deadlines are, so when he says he will get it done, he means he will get it done. I gave him an 11 page essay to do at 9PM, that was due the next day at 12PM (I know I am the worst, totally forgot about the paper lol). When I checked my inbox the next morning, I saw an email from him with my assignment at 6AM. Keep in mind, this is a TERM PAPER ,that covered everything learned in the whole semester. The following week I received my paper back, and received a 100%.

JSquared is the only person I trust when it comes to homework service's. User has my 10000% vouch. Pictures will be coming soon. Thanks JSquared :), as always looking forward to doing business again in the near future.

(Nov 18, 2015 01:27 PM)Annoited Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I'm just wondering if you do French work?

Unfortunately I do not, the reason being its time consuming to the cost for a service like mine that does not specialize in french. Perhaps looking for a french homework service, I know there exist a few. One major issue with cross language writing, is through translation a lot of ideas and concepts can become convoluted, as being not a primary user of the language, the writer will not understand certain interactions between translated words.

If anyone else needs help let me know asap, the short term queue has been filling up fast, I have a decent amount of space in the long term queue through, so secure your spots now if you want to make sure your assignments get the time and attention they deserve.

I know its almost ironic for my service to say this, but dont leave things to the last minute! It does not benefit either side ;) (I don't like charging rush, and you dont like paying it)

He does not spend time BSing around.

He's a straight up nerd that sits on his computer and reads articles/books all day.

Vouch for my man JSQUARED.

Been using him for more than 4 years already. In the beginning, I thought his prices were a bit steep, but let me tell you: it is WORTH it. In my experiences with other homework or essay writing services, they hire other writers to do the work so you don't know if the quality of your essay will be the same every single time. Let me tell you the story of how I got an F on a paper because I didn't use JSQUARED. Since I thought JSQUARED essays were a bit expensive, I thought why not go with a cheaper solution and hire another person on HF to do my work. Days later, the essay comes in and I submit it to professor. Lo and behold I get an F because of the paper being blatantly plagiarized.

Again, JSQUARED is my to-go guy for any kind of homework.

He's even gotten me 131% in my philosophy course.
