Are you looking to make money but can't afford any of the nice ebooks the market place has to offer?

Look no further!

Today I will be hosting a contest to give away two copies of my ebook which is entirely my own content.

In the ebook it will show you a great way to start making money with minimal requirements. It only takes around 1 hour to set up and then you will need to do about 2 minutes work each day after that.

Time is money but the cost of time can vary and with this ebook you will make the most of this time.

If you are looking to win this ebook just post below and change your signature to this:

using Random.org on the post count of the thread.

If you change your signature during the competition you will be disqualified.

-Good luck!

I'd like this ebook. Hopefully it is actually worth it. Thanks.

Does that mean you are actually interested in buying the ebook and not interested in entering the contest?

No one interested in this? That is quite surprising.
