Thread: This guy screwed me over

racerox105 - December 16, 2012, 3:26 pm

Hello All,

Had a client have me build his ecommerce site. I built it put it on his hosting. He took back the money he paid me through paypal and won the dispute. Now I want to take down his website. Of at least mess it up. I have installed an uploader. But am not a good hacker and the permissions wont let me do anything seeing if anybody can have success. I dont think its fair he made me work for a month and didnt pay me. So its not fair for him to have a website thats not his. Thanks if anyone can help me.

<http://carltonstraining.com/vqmod/test.phtml> Here where I uploaded it.

Thanks

upload shell .jpg and change it using live http header to php then open it hope you got it

Eauwbie - December 16, 2012, 3:35 pm

Working on it for you. Hang on a second.

VoidEx. - December 16, 2012, 3:37 pm

Homepage looks broken anyway. And how did you lose the dispute? Did you actively respond to the user with proof and what not?

Eauwbie - December 16, 2012, 3:39 pm

Whenever I try to upload ANYTHING it says; 'Error while uploading file' so I can not help you unless you specify which files are accepted.

Is there any admin panel or anything? I found some stuff I guess. Can you tell more about the database setup? Are there users specified?

What kind of files are accepted ?

Php is not accepted either is img or jpg

Eauwbie - December 16, 2012, 3:49 pm

Indeed. No files are accepted as I can see.

racerox105 - December 16, 2012, 3:59 pm

Hmm that is weird. Well I also have a flash uploader in there so you can see everything if that helps. I also have access to his admin panel. Was wondering if someone can go in there and delete everything I don't want to use my ip.

Pretty sure you're not allowed to post details of admins and shit on HF so watch out. Also simple edit the templates and bam there is your shell easy as pie

If you go to Catalog / SEO / Customize

You can put a MetaTag Redirect in there.

racerox105 - December 16, 2012, 4:13 pm

OH didn't know that.. I am new here. And just wanted him to get this website taken down. Which by my contract it is still mine. I showed paypal the agreement and they still didn't help me to win. Because he paid with his credit card who took 75 days to dispute then decided in his favor.. Which I am still in shock I have no idea how he won.

use a VPN then if you don't want to get caught !

Eauwbie - December 16, 2012, 4:27 pm

Doing it for ya now. Now thank me :P

racerox105 - December 16, 2012, 4:29 pm

Eauwbie thank you so much. It's nice to know there are nice people to help out. I learned my lesson and will never build a website and put it on the client's server before getting paid. Also never using paypal man. That shit is crazy they just jack 1000 from you and don't help you out.

It's no problem. Love to help. Just want to know, do you want the whole website removed?

racerox105 - December 16, 2012, 4:39 pm

Ya if you can that would be awesome.

Eauwbie - December 16, 2012, 4:40 pm

Got full access now, working on it. Seems quite nice.

I got this far already;

racerox105 - December 16, 2012, 4:53 pm

Haha that is awesome.. You are the man.. I like that and the music... He is going to hate his life tomorrow lol

Eauwbie - December 16, 2012, 5:02 pm

I am currently clearing all his tables. You can not access any product now anymore.

Daddy???????????? - December 16, 2012, 5:03 pm

I just added my Deface to the page Imfao: <http://carltonstraining.com/image/index.html>

racerox105 - December 16, 2012, 5:04 pm

Awesome. Can you put that cool page you made on the homepage?

Eauwbie - December 16, 2012, 5:04 pm

Okay, now look what he's got left: <http://carltonstraining.com/>

Ya I starting deleting lots of stuff lol...

Eauwbie - December 16, 2012, 5:07 pm

So did I, good teamwork, mate. His stuff seems protected though, do you know any shell executions that stop this protection?

Hey Payment, can I use your deface page? Looks nice.

VipVince - December 16, 2012, 5:31 pm

Man this is the most skiddy thread I have ever read.

1. Cannot upload shell with uploader
2. Cannot do shit from admin panel

3. Delete lots of stuff and feel boss
4. Create a deface page from the admin panel with an image ending in a .php extension :/

Damn.

Damn.

1. This uploader was dead as hell.
2. Admin panel is from a shop overview; what the fuck do you expect?
3. There is nothing else to do because of permissions that are not being changed in any way.
4. Where do you see this? I don't.
5. WE FUCKING HELPED THIS GUY AND I AM 14 YEARS OLD, WHAT DO YOU EXPECT? I AM FURTHER THEN YOU WHERE AT 14, AIN'T I?

No. If I did anything illegal when I was 14, I wouldn't have put my age.

That is peculiar. I was always under the illusion with html files like defaces you nest your PHP within your html if needed. If its not a web app and does nothing other than display fonts and images its a html file.

Giving out any personal info in commission of a crime is bad...

So you really think they are going to check EVERY kid in the world on the age of 14 to see if they hacked this guy with no life and a shop which did not have a customer since the beginning? (Overview panel shows this.)

racerox105 - December 16, 2012, 5:52 pm

You guys helped me a bunch. I appreciate it

Eauwbie - December 16, 2012, 5:53 pm

No problem Racer, still working on it though. The other guy did help a little, but most of it was done before he came in. No offense though.

OH! He will notice probably, I deleted his backups. So no website for him :(

I never made any such insinuation.

All I was implying was that you are not ahead in terms of cognition of me when I was 14.

Did you get server access or just admin panel? Or even to the SQL tables? Just curious cause he could have his back ups somewhere else.

Admin panel, server access AND the SQL tables. I am proud of what I have achieved today.

Blue Orange - December 16, 2012, 6:03 pm

Highly doubt this kid knows what he is doing, as stated before you didn't do anything other then log in the administrator control panel and start deleting shit, which wasn't hard as you were feed everything, good job.

VipVince - December 16, 2012, 6:05 pm

This thread is contradicting. You said you deleted his shit from admin panel and then told me you had server access. Why did you not just "rm -rf" it from the shell?

Because the executing of a shell was not allowed with the CHMOD. And I did not try to change this.

Not true. The admin panel had to be hacked, which was not hard because I found all the SQL login stuff in the config files, found with a page?id=.

first if you had FTP access why not delete evrything from there ?

second as you have upload a php file its clear to see that php files can be executed

You said you had full server access which you did not, you didn't have access to the database either, so not sure why you said you did. You were spoon feed everything, as I already stated, you didn't hack anything you just click some shit that was given to you to find the username and password.
