I have $1,000+ to spend.

This money wont be spent on Hackforums. I'm wondering what should i purchase?

Probably should add a bit more to your $15 for the API.

Also give your mum her money back.

I would invest in websites, blogging or adsense sites. Go to flippa. You should be able to find some good site's. If you need help ranking them or picking one just tell me and I'll do it for free.

Do you want to invest in something, to make profit back? Or you just want to buy something?

$1000 is a good budget for a PC with some gadgets attached.

If you want to invest, then I'd recommend you stocks. Or flip products on sites like Ebay etc.

I was thinking investing into Bitcoin might be wise? Their price's are constantly growing and the market doesn't look like its going to collapse anytime soon (at least not within the next 24 months)

The stock market is really messy atm. I wouldn't recommend it.

You could get your self something exotic like a Globe Eyed Tree Frog.

I would invest it into something you can make more money from.

If you want to spend $1000 per month and make about $3000-4000 per month contact me and I will set you in contact with that person.

It would be a JointVenture selling a product on HF (unlimited licenses).

Buy wholesale items and then sell them on eBay etc. for more.
