Thread: How do i convert ISO file to original data file?

MisCown - December 19, 2012, 6:48 am

Hello,

I need help about file conversion. I have a file that is MOTOGP game and that have to convert to original file. How do i convert that file.

I want to setup from my PC.

Awaiting your response.

You better download magicdisc utility and install it in your pc. after installation, open it and use the mount drive feature to mount any ISO file and It will show in your device area. just like you've inserted an physical disc of MOTOGP in your pc. ;)

Mate download daemon tools lite and once it is installed load it up and click mount image. After that find and click the iso file. The iso will then be mounted and will be treated as a virtual disk and you should be able to install whatever the iso file is.

Get Poweriso and just extract the ISO. PowerIso is free on top of that.
