Thread: Hosting multiple domains on 1 hosting site?

Squigga - December 26, 2012, 3:31 pm

Okay so I have $2.00/month shared hosting at <http://www.ixam-hosting.com/> and it has unlimited parked/addon domains. I have 2 domains connected to it, but both my sites use index.html files so when I upload both it deletes the other... how can I go about hosting both on my hosting service without any problems?

Thanks!

In your cPanel there should be something saying "Addon Domains" Click that, enter the URL and create a seperate folder for that website.

So now I just put all my files for my site into the folder it created for me, and it will be up?

^Yes. You'll have your main folder for your first domain and a subfolder for the second.

Upload index.html and your other files to your newly created subfolder and your second domain will show your site fine.
