Thread: \(Windows/Visa\) Removing Program from startup \(Make your PC run faster\)

I???I??? - December 28, 2012, 5:35 am

I had a lot of programs that would open on startup and it froze my pc on startup so i fixed it like this.

First type in regedit and something like this will show up. Click it

Then click , once you have expanded that a lot of stuff will pop up. Scroll down till you see , and expand that. Then expand . After that expand , then right under it.

Once you have done all that you will see a bunch of files. I deleted all of mine as u can see here Big Image \(Click to View\) . You can do the same if you want. Also is there is a file you dont know google it and see if its bad or not.

After you have deleted all that close everything so it looks like this

Now open HKEY_LOCAL_MACHINE and do the following steps.

Scroll down till you see , and expand that. Then expand . After that expand , then right under it.

As you probably noticed those are the exact same steps.

For this step don't delete all the programs on startup. Delete one and check each program if you dont know what it is.

I hope my tutorial helped.
