Thread: [\[TOOL\] Project Management \[Easily manage your project work items!\] Lots of pics!](#)

Cody8295 - December 29, 2012, 4:44 pm

I made this neat little tool because it's useful and I was really bored.

It's got a ton of useful features as well.

FeaturesExport work items as TXT or HTML

Ability to save/load your items to a file

Ability to password protect your information

Tag your items (Acknowledged, Resolved, Completed, Urgent)

Different types of work items (Bug, Issue, Task, Risk, Requirement, Release)

Find, Replace, Select All, Copy, Invert Selection

Aliases, so more than one person can work on the same project file.

Tons of shortcut keys

Main Window:

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Easy Access Controls with right click menu:

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Group items by category:

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Find/Replace tools (With Opacity)

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Item Highlighted when found:

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Password Protect your work items:

Spoiler (Click to View)

Spoiler (Click to View)

Easily View/Edit/ and cycle through your work items in one compact form:

Spoiler (Click to View)

Spoiler (Click to View)

Exporting:

As TXT:

As HTML:

Download: If you want the Bin just message me and I'll send you a direct link.

Blink - December 29, 2012, 4:52 pm

That looks pretty damn sexy. Looks like you've put a lot of work in it.

I could really see this being used in professional project development.

Prospect - December 29, 2012, 4:54 pm

Nice work OP. looks really nice. I bet it took some time to code that.

Wow thank you for the compliments, I appreciate it!

TrackPro+ - December 29, 2012, 5:53 pm

This is very useful, especially for me. I forget alot and I stop working on projects in-which I need to continue. Will be PMing you. ;]

xSilent - December 29, 2012, 6:01 pm

Looks good.

I suggest adding some networking so others can report bugs remotely. ?

Occulta - December 29, 2012, 6:07 pm

With the project I'm working on (massive) this would be insanely helpful. Please release soon.

fjallis - December 29, 2012, 6:15 pm

looks pretty good actually!

Will probably be used in the future.

Cody8295 - December 29, 2012, 6:42 pm

Thanks for all the compliments guys. And I PM'd the guy who wanted it.

Coleak - December 29, 2012, 6:53 pm

Wow this looks awesome! It was kind of hard to tell, but can this be used by a team, in other words, does it have networking functionality?

Cody8295 - December 29, 2012, 7:02 pm

It doesn't have networking built in, but if you put the project file on a network it would basically serve as a team project file that anybody could edit.

TakTik~ - December 29, 2012, 7:16 pm

Very nice tool i like it so far.

Thanks for the link!

SIM-888979 - December 29, 2012, 7:19 pm

Nice tool mate. I made something similar but was mainly for transaction keeping not too long ago c:

Yea I've seen a few of those posted in the forum.

Coleak - December 29, 2012, 7:29 pm

If you're open to it, I would like to add networking functionality via php, if you don't mind sending me the source. :)

Yea sure, I just hit you up on skype about it.

Jeff. - December 29, 2012, 11:04 pm

I like the project allot and it's very refreshing to see such a useful tool instead of most malware tools on here so good job :) !

I might have a suggestion but I don't know if this is in yet but my suggestion is Time. Because projects are really based on time and the bugs inside said project need to be fixed within a time / date limit. It's just a suggestion xD.

Not2EXceL - December 30, 2012, 12:09 am

Hey man, could I get the source code please? It'd help with me managing my projects without having to use git all the time baxterbigboy - December 30, 2012, 2:26 am

It looks awesome, and i was wondering the same thing, can it connect to a database so the user can access it from different locations? or it just down locally ?

Ignore my networking comment, i seen your reply to coleak!

?Mephobia - December 30, 2012, 3:01 pm

Nice work. Adding the exporting option is great! Also makes it so you do not have to save in project settings or a static location. Nice work!

I was going to make my own but I don't have time with University and stuff so I am going to send you a PM!

tweety - December 31, 2012, 6:47 am

Can you make it so it saves on a server/MySQL instead? If you have a team of developers it would be easier to access.

I explained earlier that a team could easily work on it if it was just hosted like on a FTP.

However, I gave the source to Coleak and he said he might add networking.

Meh, anything can be converted to an app. I like my app because I can save/load my work items to a file. Not to mention since I'm the only developer of the app, I'm more likely to adapt new ideas from the community, unlike a professional site which has other things to worry about.

It is different, professional means professional use and i think you do not see apps like yours in professional market.

That is my point
