Why would your crypter be infected unless u did it yourself. thats a pretty shitty thing to do and then sell it while infecting them :-C im sure it would reassure everyone its not infected by havin them scanned to prove its clean.

When all of your last customers got infected you shouldve offered them a full refund.

Just a bit of advise, because I've seen this kind of thing happen over the years of lurking. If you want any legitimacy back to your products your going to need to prove it to the people. When it happened, you should have gone and made a tut showing people how to remove the malware. That alone would have saved your ass, or at the very least offer refunds to anyone who had proof they got infected.

This is the best way you can do, it is your fault because of lack security. Instead of opening sales thread again, I would advice you to spend more time 1 by 1 on helping those clients who paid you their hard earned money to remove the malware, not just open a sales thread and pretend that there is nothing happened. Good luck

Run a flash scan you want to get rid of all infected startup items.You might not of got infected but you never know.If theres still nothing go to start run msconfig and disable any startup items you dont recognize.

I don't like to trash your sales thread, your do it by yourself infecting members. But your autoshit crypter is have 30% of execution rate has luck. Tested by my self trying in about 1k installs + direct installs from BH.

Well, i'm not 100% sure it wasn't backdoored, but I had no problems on my computer since the lastest update, i checked into my msconfig startup items, and nothing weird here, just an item in quarantined into my AV with the name razorcrypt[1].exe

I was very satisfied with this product, and I stopped using it for a while because i didn't have the usage of it anymore, but I don't know why he would ruin his reputation knowing that it would be detected one day or another.

Welcome back old skin!

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

[img]http://speedcap.net/sharing/files/32/eb/32eb58dce1414b69355825c19587e112.png[/img]

A lot of you guys had problems with our skin system (i.e. some GUI Controls disappeared or the SplashImage didn't close etc.)

Also i often heard that the old skin was more "baws" - so here it is again!

*3:

Well crypting took a few seconds in the last updates, well that was too much! I worked hard on a faster progress and well now crypting will take about 1 second.

ScanWatch

Here we go people!

This hopefully the last ScanWatch done by ElementScanner (RazorScanner will be able to do them soon)

[\[img\]http://elementscanner.net//image.php?ID=d03633bdc5db71c4b1b5f0333b60b71a\[/img\]](http://elementscanner.net//image.php?ID=d03633bdc5db71c4b1b5f0333b60b71a)

The BB-Code:
Code

Last but not least here are some News:

I spend a lot of time coding this update, that is why i paused working on the other projects.

Now i have time again and i am so proud to tell you guys, that I will be able to open RazorScanners gates soon!

There are still some things left that need to be done and to be fixed again (the hacker deleted a lot of code with his shit and i don't have a backup of a few files).

Also we decided to let you know that we are working on a huge HTTP-Bot like project, if everything will work like we thing it will be released within the next 3-4 months.

More news!? Oh fuck yes:

I hired a great php coder to code a membership management system for Razor-Products - that means, you will get a razorsoft.biz account and will be able to do HWID changes and manage your bought products there. Also this will integrate an instant activation for bought products. The members of razorsoft.biz will also be able to login to the forums and the scanner with the same login details, so there will be no additional accounts needed.

Also we will open an affiliate-system at the same time.

More information about that will follow soon!

Well, that was everything to say for now!

Warm Regards, Razor!

Oh and BTW if you ever get a Kaspersky detection on ScanTime:
just recrypt. Kasperky acts a bit weird to AutoIT applications atm and will detect AutoIT every 5th scan or something like that,
I'm already working on a fix for that, i will just need to make kaspersky don't recognize that it is autoit.

Ok guys, i found a new method to bypass eset, this one will be more long-lasting.

http://scan4you.net/result.php?id=3001e_3af8m4

It yet triggers two other detections of 2 very small AVs, that are pretty easy to bypass.

I will bypass them now and release the new update afterwards.

XOwnage - February 1, 2013, 5:40 am

Posting to show what razor posted, damn thread glitch :/

Raz?r - February 1, 2013, 6:45 am

[img]http://razorhf.com/ut/head2.png[/img]

Changelog

Code *1 reFUD

*2 new part of stub that will hopefully bypass ESET for a long time

*3 updated the embedded scanner, scan results will now be displayed in your browser.

*1:

I refudded the stub - it was pretty hard this time read more at *2.

*2:

I embedded a complete new part to the stub, that was just made to bypass ESET, eset ever where easy to bypass.

Eset usually detects fast but is also easy to bypass - but really guys, this was annoying.

Eset ever was the only AV that made any problems - i hope with this new code this will come to an end.

So let's wait and see what happens.

*3:

It was pretty annoying that the Scan Result was displayed in the small RazorCrypt windows, now it will be displayed in your Browser, on this way it is way more easy to share your results.

ScanWatch

This is the current ScanWatch:

The BB-Code:

Last but not least here are some News:

I had a lot work to do the last week, so the update took a bit longer as usual, sorry for that.

I updated RazorStresser and fixed it's source a lot, also RazorStresser runs with our own servers now, i still am busy setting up new servers.

I fixed RazorStressers AutoBuy system (the one we got with the source was buggy as fuck).

Well also i made some progress on RazorScanner, i am currently coding the Scan-Monitor System and it is the first time i create Images with PHP, but it seems to get amazing :)

I embedded a CPA system for RazorScanner, you will be able to get credits for RazorScanner by doing Surveys.

I just can say RazoreScanner will be released soon and it will be amazing!

Well and now let's talk about the Crypter again, i have alot to do there too.

The EOF system is nearly done, but it is way more advanced then i ever thought.

Also i promised a surprise, but sadly i wasn't able to release it today, as our new server isn't up yet :(

Well enough said, it's time to work yet!

Enjoy the new update guys and warm regards,

Razor!

I think they require EOF, we are currently embedding support for EOF requiring applications

Raz?r - February 4, 2013, 7:20 am

We are currently updating our database about 70% of the users will be able to login yet again, the others will need to wait a few minutes, the newer your subscription is the later it will be integrated again.

I bought this back when they had the available option for LIFETIME license.... Too bad they removed it after like 3 months. I also paid an additional $20 for the "FREE ADVANCED CRYPTER" which was also a lie.

So any new customers who download Razor make sure you download it to a folder that you want to use it in.

I moved it from my default downloads folder to a separate folder and that's the cause of my issues. I follow the steps he outlined and see if it also fixes my problems which most likely it will.

What are you going to charge for private stubs? Are you going to limit how many private ones you make? Are you planning on charging a different amount for a private AutoIT stub and the VB6 stub? Would the private ones get updates once it goes detected?

Update 10.2.0

Changelog:

§1 - reFUD

§2 - bugfixes

To §1:

Sorry for the long delay guys, but i really work hard on the C++ version and i really had nearly no time left to update the stub.

To §2:

There were some bugs in the last version, the stub was encrypted on shitty way and was not really RAM friendly - i fixed that, the execution is now 100% smooth again.

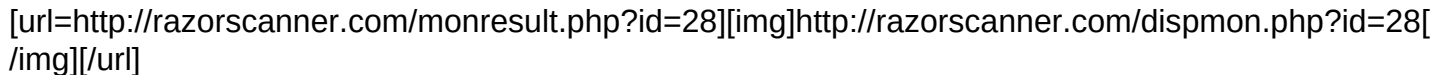

The builder had a little bug at reading the version file and sometimes needed to get started twice - this is fixed now.

I was told to wait for this update and that it would resolve my issue but it didn't. I haven't been able to use this crypter since it was the 9 series release. I've PMed both Razor and Khosti for support who have not been helpful, they simply just kept telling me to wait for the update. Well, the updates released, my crypter updated like its supposed to but it still freezes up when I click the Crypt button. I've got Teamviewer to show you what it does. I've tried multiple settings and different RAT servers to crypt and no matter what I do it still freezes. The scanner works fine and I can switch tabs just fine but it won't bring up the "save to" window where I select my crypted server name and location. I've tried removing it COMPLETELY from my PC and reinstalling it as a fresh download and running it from the original folder (never moving it) and it still does this. I need a crypter ASAP and I've not been able to use this one for months... I know this isn't a support thread but nI'm resorting to posting here because I'm not getting the support I need to fix it. Please help me get this resolved.

Just informing you all, if you still have any doubts about purchasing RazorCrypt at all. I've known Razor for quite a while and there's no reason he'd try to drop infections on your computer, I seem to be getting hate pm's just for telling people to buy the crypter.

Razor had a moment of weakness but now it's back and it's even stronger than ever. Match it with any of the other "top" crypters and RazorCrypt will come out on top every single time because, as we all know RazorCrypt is one of the best, if not THE BEST crypters on the market today. I vouch anything I have on here, I vouch my legitimacy as a person and a member of Hack Forums as a person of trust in the legitimacy of RazorCrypt and Razor Products.

I've been accepted for Ub3r and I hope that will actually mean something because you can't just be accepted, staff has to examine you as a person closely to understand if you're worthy of becoming this tier of a member. Razor IS Ub3r for a reason!

Back to the point. Razor Crypt Should be your next choice in Crypter purchases!

Here are some suggestions you could add to the crypter. It would make it even better.
Extension Changer, Bot Killer, Delayed Execution, Assembly Changer, Usb and winrar spreader

I switched from Visual-C++ to wxDev-C++ that took a bit of time, but now i only need to finish it up and will be able to release the first version very soon.

Why did you switch from VC++ to DevC++?

Try changing the assembly and icon while they work on the update. It may buy you some FUD time (if indeed it is detected).

Raz?r - March 9, 2013, 1:57 pm

Please don't use the embedded icons atm, some of them are detected, use your own HQ icon and you will get a 100% FUD result.

hey razor, not trying to be a dick... but an update you could realease is to stop the error you must have when then chose .net support. inside the crypt button even handler try this

if(.netSuppotButton.Checked == True)
    MesssageBox.Show("Cannot Do This","Please uncheck .net support of Whatever else the error is");
    do whatever();

you could also make it a case on the .netSupportButton.

enjoy and overall nice crypter good luck, just thought you might like some advice. later gwls.

I'm not sure if it's really that much slower. However a skilled Reverse Engineer can in fact reverse everything even ARM so everything is possible. BUT how many are able to do so?

I'd just like to vouch for this crypter. It is almost always FUD, and the fact that it has no dependencies is just remarkable.

If you're looking for a good crypter that has a great history and future, invest in RazorCrypter.

I would recommend this crypter to everyone. I've been a customer ever since the first few weeks of sales and I have NEVER encountered any troubles. He is also super organized. I remember stopping using this crypter for almost half a year and he still had me inside his system :) I don't know if I vouched yet, but big vouch!

Been a member of Razor since the very beginning and I've remained loyal to Razor's products even when I've come across issues.

Not sure what you changed Razor but I've been keeping up with the updates in hopes that one of them will fix my hanging issues during encryption and this last update worked!!! Woohoo!!! You have no idea how excited I am to have this crypter back in operation! Tremendous vouch to Razor and his support group! They weren't able to provide me with the support needed to fix my issue, but it was in fact my fault for it "breaking". I moved the crypter from it's original saved location where it was used for a few months. The crypter needs to stay in it's original saved path so once I moved it, it could no longer function. I uninstalled it COMPLETELY and redownloaded it and the problem remained. Each update I tried was mostly just reFUD's so I wasn't confident any of them would fix my issue. I was told to wait for the newest version (not just a reFUD) and that would most likely fix my issue. Well this last reFUD and potential recoding of the crypter fixed my issue!

Sorry for making this long but I'm just very excited that it's finally working after months of waiting! BIG VOUCH!

GUYS THIS IS NOT THE SUPPORT FORUM.

@ÅÇ€}{ØØ8:

Glad to hear that :) I ever try to make you guys happy.

@Pukkie®:

PM me or Xownage for a new download link, seems like the updater died while updating.

@DELPHICODEZ:

EOF Support is in it's BETA state, can't believe that you start flaming about it ONE day after i released the beta, i'm sure it will be fixed with the next update.

@TheDevilMan:

You where totally right, it would really be enough to PM me with a problem and i would care about it as soon as possible.

@FeiJai:

Thanks for the feedback.

@?c?????:

Andromeda needs EOF support, this feature is in it's BETA atm, it could be that there are issues, but if you report them to me i will fix it with next update. I can guarantee that if it does not work now, it will work within the next 7 days.

@nastytrickshotz:

Your PC / machine seems to have a problem with it's resources, every PC should be able to encrypt a file & compile a script afterwards.

Install option is the most important feature in RAT server and crypter doesn't support it. Servers gone after first computer restart -.-

(Mar 25, 2013 06:16 AM)Marcin Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Install option is the most important feature in RAT server and crypter doesn't support it. Servers gone after first computer restart -.-That is simply not true.

The startup features makes sure that the file gets executed after rebooting the machine. The install features just moves it to an other directory.

You can also make your own dropper (in example in autoit) within a minute.

Code FileInstall("myprogramm.exe",@TempDir&"\smth.exe")

Run(@TempDir&"\smth.exe")

That is all. An install feature simply moves the file to an other dir and executes it there.

In AutoIT an install features (that is directly embedded to the stub and does not drop the file) works like this:

Code If Not @ScriptFullPath = @AppDataDir & "\" & @ScriptName Then
  FileMove (@ScriptFullPath, @AppDataDir & "\" & @ScriptName)
  Run (@AppDataDir & "\" & @ScriptName)
Exit
EndIf

It would be good to add it to the crypter. I'm waiting for it.As i said it will be embedded soon.

I had more important things to do, an install feature isn't as important as things that really increase compatibility (like .NET support & EOF support) or keeping it FUD.

I work a lot on my projects and i need to get the important stuff done first.

When will it be released? Or when will the next update after the current update your working on?
I'm really looking forward for persistence, it would be a great help.

Also, I don't think the fake messages work. I think I tested it out before and it never shows up. Do you think you could fix that?

And for another feature, I say allowing users in having a list of fake messages and it can choose a random message to give to the person who executes it.

Update 11.0.0

Changelog:

- §1 - reFUD
- §2 - replaced calc.exe with explorer.exe for injection
- §3 - added install feature
- §4 - added delay execution
- §5 - fixed anti anubis
- §6 - added hide file

To §1:

I reFUDed the stub, not mutch to say here.

To §2:

I replaced the calc.exe injection with explorer.exe, this looks more legit & will make it more hard to find the process.

To §3:

I added the install feature, AppData&Temp can be used.

To §4:

I added a feature that allows you to add a delay until execution, this will help to bypass some pro-actives.

To §5:

I fixed the anti anubis feature, it was outdated, but now works perfectly again.

To §6:

I added a hide file feature, the file will simply give itself the attribute +h and will not be visible on the most systems because of this.

Just about any server is compatible, there is .net support and .net injection if you need it. However there are no dependencies.

I just got BlackShades today and tried using it with the crypter, it won't upload to ge.tt because it's corrupted apparently. Used recommended options, used injection (explorer.exe) as well (which I'm sure that's not the problem).

Also, I tested this on my friends computer, and it says "This program has not been installed correctly)....

Just can't longer do nothing, while seeing people make money from "miners" that just drop an 3rd party miner & call it with command line params then.

On this way crypting gets useless and the file will get detected in the end.

I will also use a 3rd party miner, but i will not let it drop - on that way it will not get detected.

I'm a client of the crypter and never got a problem with support!

Even, this week I had a problem with an AutoIT software that I coded and Razor helped me and answered all my pm's regarding it and I want to say again: HE HELPED ME WITH MY SOFTWARE THAT DOESN'T HAVE NOTHING TO DO WITH THE CRYPTER!

Fuckin big vouch for Razor!

Bought a private stub of this crypter before you updated it with EOF support and you said I could have the update when you were finished. Could I have my update please? The crypter works great for a lot of things, but the older version doesn't work for andro.

I don't care if you give me a warning or not, but I'm tired of this. I've tried contacting you for a month now, and you haven't answered me on Skype. I understand you have a lot of contacts, but seriously, it's been a MONTH.

I even tried posting on the thread and you give me a warning and tell me to "use the support forums", which I did, and still didn't solve my problem.

Can you tell me why every single person who executes my file gets the message "this program has been installed incorrectly" and doesn't even show up?

I'm using the recommended settings, yet it still won't work. I'd like SOME help at least on here instead of trying to get help on the support forums or chase after you on Skype.

Update 12.3.0

Changelog:

§1 - reFUD
§2 - added persistence / anti botkill
§3 - added skin-changer
§4 - added copy/move file option for the install-feature.
§5 - multi format support for binder

To §1:

I reFUDed the stub, not mutch to say here.

To §2:

I added startup & process persistence, it is not perfect now, but works pretty good yet.

To §3:

I added 2 small buttons to change the skin as some don't like the cosmo skin.

To §4:

You can now choose if the file should be moved or if the file should be copied for the install feature.

To §5:

All file formats are now supported by the binder.

Scan Monitor:

Hello.Can u help me? I bought this to "crypt" a bin for my silentminer and to crypt a ".exe" for my "http athena bot"

When i crypted the .exe athena bot , and scan it appears 4 detections at A-Squared / Esetnode32 / clam antivirus and Ikarus Security.

Same with the bin of my Silent Miner (That doesnt work with net 2.0 and not injection)....
Any help?

Edit. Now shows only 2 Detection Karpesky and ESETNode32.

Now following the setups for ATThena HTTP/IRC bot, works perfect, with 2 detections but works.
Problem is non-persistence.

"When u put" persistence and build bin, appears 2 process at "taskmgr.exe" if u kill them, the bin get disconnected instead of "re-appearing as the persistence should do"

I infected myself but can not remove.

I deleted registry keys but they occurred again. :D

Once I build my server do I have to keep rebuilding every time I want to crypt it again ?

Das Racist - April 30, 2013, 8:25 am

Will you assist us in a tutorial or setup guide on how to get this perfected with DC? I want to get the best features with it so they have it on startup and its undetectable and persistent.

I saw a crypter that was $10.00 lifetime and FUD. What makes RazorCrypt different from that?

(Apr 30, 2013 08:58 AM)N?il Patrick Harris Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I saw a crypter that was $10.00 lifetime and FUD. What makes RazorCrypt different from that?

1. Lifetime crypters die fast -> Razorcrypt already a long time
2. Due to the faster rising customer base they get detected so fast.
3. I can't judge more over anything, which you don't even name me

But the crypter I'm speaking about is vouched by Razor. Does that insure that it's a quality product?

This does not affect any of the points said below.

The Vouch did not say it will keep fud forever neither did it say it will last forever (~98%). I can only talk about the main facts that come up with lifetime crypters. I could exclude chronic crypter it already exists a long time.

However the crypter you talk about,lacks features in comparision to our crypter and to be honest a that experienced coder then Razor is to ensure a that it will still advance

Xcel crypter is vouched because i coded a part of it and the coder got coding lessons by me.

I only can say i'd prefer razorcrypt, because the costumer base is more limited & there are more features.

I earn cash from both crypters so for me it doesn't matter :P

I just released update 12.4.0

it just has one change:

the hwid system is on a NEW protected server infrastructure now.

We got hit by a hard DDoS attack and as i can't change the DNS settings of razorsoft.biz atm i made a new domain for our system.

RazorSoft.biz will be down for about the next 5 hours (it is currently null-routed).

If you want to use the Crypter within that time please PM me OR Xownage for the download link to 12.4.0, or you can just wait until RazorSoft.biz is online again & update it then.

Also the autobuy links changed to:

<http://razorcrypt.com/buyrc/>

<http://razorcrypt.com/buyrcrlr/>

The HWID system will be reachable on BOTH server for the next 7 days after that only 12.4.0+ versions are able to run as the razorsoft.biz HWID server will not longer be reachable from that domain then.
