Floyd's Ultimate Server Guide: Learn how I flooded my Paypal with cash playing Minecraft!

[Video: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=6_dR6BnbVQg]

Ever wanted to start your own Minecraft server but don't know where to start? I spent a year creating my own Minecraft server from scratch with no help or assistance. However, in the end, I was earning hundreds of dollars every week! And the best part was that it all came from playing the game we all know and love, Minecraft. And now I want to share what I learned in a year with you in this eBook. This is a 39 page eBook packed with information, pictures, tips, and tutorials to help YOU get loads of cash in your Paypal by creating a thriving and profitable Minecraft server. I can guarantee that if you follow my tips in this guide correctly, you WILL MAKE MONEY. And lots of it!

Through this guide, you will realize that there is more to owning a Minecraft server than building a spawn and adding plugins. I literally explain EVERYTHING to you in an easy to understand step by step manner on how to create and manage your server. After reading this book, you will know everything that you could possibly need to create your server and possibly earn $100's, or even $1000's of dollars per week.

"Hey everyone! treestompz here, owner of StompzCraft.com! Floyd made me blush by featuring my server in his eBook! Around HackForums, one might quickly realized that all these "get-rich-quick, 100% guaranteed" guides aren't making anyone rich except for the scumbag selling it! Floyd's Ultimate Server Guide is a different story. Floyd allowed me to read through his Ultimate Server Guide and damn was I impressed! This is the first eBook I have ever read that actually had extremely useful information. If you are serious about starting a Minecraft server, whether to make profit or not, this is the guide you want to read. With two and a half years of experience under my belt, I can fully vouch for this eBook and recommend that anyone that is serious about making a Minecraft server should consider it a must-read."

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q: Will I need any money to start my server?

A: Nope! No initial investment is required. I teach you how to get your server started without paying a dime. This will require a slightly decent computer if you wish to spend no investment.

Q: How much money will I be making?

A: If you apply my tips and techniques properly, you can make THOUSANDS EVERY WEEK! But please, keep one very important thing in mind. This guide is not a "get rich quick" book like you commonly see in the Marketplace. This guide aims to teach you how to make a successful Minecraft server, along with make money through it. By making a successful server, you will receive profit, and sometimes a lot of it. Owning a server is a fantastically fun experience, and the guide is aimed to help you get started on that.

Q: How much time will this take?

A: Creating a server is not a quick process, it can take anywhere from a few days to a few weeks. But the resulting profit is completely worth it. And on top of that, it is an extremely fun experience.

What qualifications do you have to validate this information, what evidence do you have of those qualifications? Is there a money back guarantee? I'm tired of paying for eBooks that result in 0 profit and being out $5-25. Is getting the eBook then paying after I profit a possibility?

Qualifications: I have owned 3 servers over the course of a year. I made hundreds per week off of my second one.

Evidence: I unfortunately have no evidence, as I have closed down my server and never had any reason to take screenshots of my earnings. However, here are screenshots of somebody's earnings in 1 week who I helped out a while back (before I wrote the eBook):

<http://i.minus.com/j88L101IQBSWG.png>

You can also note the satisfied customers in my vouch section on the OP. I am yet to have a customer that wasn't happy with their purchase.

Money back?: I unfortunately offer no refunds, as it is almost impossible to determine whether the customer actually put their full effort into earning money or not. But I can guarantee you that you WILL make your $10 back + loads more if you have maturity, dedication, and are willing to follow the tips in the book. This is a 34 page eBook with 9,300 words, so I promise you will learn some things out of it.

Paying later: I think it is obvious why I can't do this. People scam, and that is just the way it is.

If you have any more questions or want some details, just PM me or add me on Skype, I'll be glad to answer.

No initial investment is required (aside from the book of course). Any money you will ever need to spend on the server will come from your income.

It is suggested that you initially have around $20, to make things easier. But I tell you how to start up for free if absolutely necessary.

I would like to point out that only the most successful servers makes $1,000s a week, the average guy will only be making $50-100 month, if he's lucky, and he sticks with it.

That $50-100 pays the for the server bills and then some depending on the size, which is good imo. Maybe it's just me, but I'm not in the server business to make it my job, but more so to enjoy it and have fun while making an extra buck on the side.

You are right about the $1000 part. It is difficult to get to that point, but my guide gives you the baseline to get there. However, that is not completely true about the $50-$100 part. The "average guy" will be making that in a week, easy. As long as this guy is mature and has a certain drive to make the best server, he can easily make that every week. The people who make $100 per month are the younger kids who aren't given a proper baseline, which is what this guide provides.

Keep in mind, I am telling you this from as unbiased of a perspective as I can. I can tell you from experience, that it is extremely easy to make $50-$100. As for $1000, now that is completely possible, but difficult. It will not be a quick journey to get there, but it is completely possible. However I think the actual experience and fun of owning a server is more worth it than the actual profit, in my opinion.

Marcus Aurelius - January 23, 2013, 3:14 pm

Please don't advertise something false.

You won't make $1000+ a week.

To get a big server you need to be highly unique and attractive.

Using the same advertising methods get saturated when it comes to minecraft.

It will take a long time full of effort and dedication to start getting $100 a week.

GG.

GG.

This is not false at all. Of course you need to work hard to get that much money, that is what I said in the OP. As I have said many times, this book provides a baseline for aspiring or unsuccessful owners to get themselves off their feet. It has tons of tips and techniques that TONS of people seem to not get when making their server, which is why they are unsuccessful. After getting this baseline, it is up to you to reach the point where you are making thousands per week. It is definitely possible, and not a false advertisement. That is like saying it is false to advertise the possibility of earning $300 per day with a PPD book, because all those books do is give you a baseline to create your own success and eventually reach the point of $300 daily. This is no different than any other eBook advertisement, I am simply advertising the potential earnings.

No offence, but if you have actually owned a profitable Minecraft server before (not saying you haven't), then you would know that there is a lot of useful information to put into an eBook that could help people reach that kind of profit.

If you aren't interested in the book, no need to sales bash. Although you may not benefit from the book, many others will. I am yet to have an unsatisfied customer.

Thanks
-Floyd

In your case, I would say it depends on 2 things. Your player count and income. If you are lacking in those 2 categories, then this book can for sure help you.

I'm buying the guide now. I will post back here when I take a look :)

I just finished reading this ebook and I must say that it's one of the most in-depth guides that I've ever read.

There were one or two sections that could use a little more explanation but overall it was awesome! I found hardly any grammatical errors and the layout was very organized and clean so it's very easy to read.

The only thing I would warn others about is make sure you are truly dedicated! This will take a good amount of time if you truly want to become successful and as always, the more time you put into it, the more money you're going to make off of it.

Thanks for this awesome guide! I plan on getting started with my server tonight!

Honestly depends how big you want your server to be. Some people can set up their servers in a day, others can take up to a week. It all comes down to how fast you can build/prepare and how large your spawn and setup is. Keep in mind though, you shouldn't consider this a "method" to making money, but rather a "method" to making a Minecraft server. The big income of cash is just a perk that comes with it.

Making money off a minecraft server isn't hard.

It's common sense and good judgement more then anything.

People that say you need a unique idea to make money, have no idea what they are talking about.

Nonetheless, for those of you who have tried to run a server and failed, it seems this ebook may be valuable to you judging from the vouches.

It's not rocket science though. Having connections to people can help in the long run as well.

It can be $0. This involves you running the server for a very short time on your computer until you receive your first few donations to purchase a host. Obviously running a server on your everyday PC is unreliable and unstable, let alone difficult to keep up 24 hours, but for people with no initial investment it works just fine. When I first started a few years ago, I actually ran the server off my computer for a week and was able to promptly purchase my first month of hosting with the few donations I received, then obviously the server continued to pay for itself from that point.

However, to avoid this route, an initial investment of about $20 will suffice.

I guess it would be something for beginners but making around $1,000 a month isn't hard at all. You just need to apply good judgement and have some decent connections.

I have a couple of comments regarding the video and the information you've provided.

1.) The only way to get money now is through visual upgrades such as hats

Q: If you choose to ignore the EULA and sell items and perks, this would be considered 'greyhat'. Does your guide tell new server owners to sell items and perks?

2.) (My own comment) Your testimony looks fake as one guy is reading off his notes.

3) Bringing players in is one of the hardest part of running a server.

Q: Do you offer any methods other than utilizing social media, buying banners on websites, and ing your server on PMC?

4) The tutorials you give such as permissions, plugins, and other sorts are all available on youtube.

Q: Why are your videos 'different' (Don't give me a 'mine is more indepth) kind of answer.

5) Just from the video itself, it just looks like an e-book of publicly available information.

Q: Why should I buy this e-book and what kind of 'different' information do you have.

Going to update my questions because you haven't replied to my old questions from 2 years ago. I have a couple of comments regarding the video and the information you've provided.

1.) Advertising and getting players is the hardest part of running a server.

Q. Do you offer any methods other than utilizing social media, buying banners on websites, and bu.mping your server on server lists?

2.) (My own comment) Your testimony looks fake as one guy is reading off his notes.

3) The tutorials you give such as permissions, plugins, and other sorts are all available on youtube, Spigotmc.org, Bukkit.org

Q: Why are your videos 'different' (Don't give me a 'mine is more indepth) kind of answer.

4) Just from the video itself, it just looks like an e-book of publicly available information.

Q: Why should I buy this e-book and what kind of 'different' information do you have.

Q: Any new vouches?

Is your aim to provide information to NEW server owners? Because ANYONE can get those kinds of free resources from Spigotmc.org, Bukkit.org

Chats with other server owners, MC server management section here, MC-market.org, etc.

What are YOUR credentials as a server owner? What servers do you run? (Past or not. Provide player statistics)

Anyone can just write an e-book about running a minecraft server. Put your money where your mouth is.

You claim that running a server doesn't need any investment... which is true, but good luck trying to run a server off your PC and no custom resources off of spigotmc.org.

I'm not trying to hurt your sales, but I've seen about 10+ "MAKE YOUR SERVER SUCCESSFUL" e-books, and NONE of them are unique. So why is yours any different?
