Thread: Happy birthday

southpaw - January 9, 2013, 5:05 pm

I gave birth to this idea while I was looking at Judge Dredd's happy birthday card to TheHackersLove. Why don't we add a birthday section to the Hackforums news? Members just post that they had their birthdays during the week and we add a section just like the bans section. I think it would be a nice little addition to the news, what does everyone else think? ?

I say 50/50 for this one. I mean, it's nice to have one, but there would be many birthdays. Although you can message Sir to put your name in the birthday list on the part of news, but ehh.

50/50.

Swirl - January 9, 2013, 5:27 pm

There would be so many birthdays and so many people just making up a birthday to get in the news. You would have to keep track of everyones birthday so no one said they had 2 birthdays in one year or something.

Other than that is it a good idea.

There would be to many birthdays and it would become a cluster#

If there birthday is so great they should post in the lounge and people would gratefully spam "Happy Birthday" all over it! ;)

This would be like the "Introductions" section.

It's unneeded.

I thought he meant a new section as well, but if you read it, he means in the HF news.

You would have to ask the Writers as they choose how it is laid out I believe.

Dan. - January 9, 2013, 8:33 pm

It would be just like the introduction section. Shitty and LQ.

Oh!

Didn't see that!

Thanks for pointing that out Platinum.

Anyways, I just don't think it's needed anyways.

Yes reading it quickly it appears that it is a suggestion for a new section but it is for the news it appears, Dan. made this mistake as well. I'm not very fond of this either though..

I'm glad that Dredd was able to spark your suggestion. It sounds like a good idea to me!

Id support under criteria, that you can no longer change your birthday, and that it's only ub3rs, or noteable members only. I dont care if some random ass skids birthday is today, but if it's Positives BDay, I;d like to know

Cyber Duck - January 9, 2013, 11:29 pm

Seem's like a good idea. I support this :D.

Terry A. Davis - January 9, 2013, 11:45 pm

It could be good but for regular members spamming could be the down side maybe or l33ts or ub3rs only or something

Didn't see this but this is what I meant.

Dan. - January 10, 2013, 3:50 am

Oh, didn't see it was for the news. People will just lie about their birthday.

southpaw - January 10, 2013, 3:53 am

Maybe just have it for upgraded members?

Razmus - January 10, 2013, 4:50 am

I like this idea. OP you got my support !:)

Ask Sir.

Oak - January 10, 2013, 3:06 pm

I like the idea, but there are a few problems with it.

For one, there's no way we could verify the legitimacy of one's birthday without receiving personal information. With the general consensus being that people want to be in the HF News, we would likely have too many members falsely stating that it was their birthday.

Second, there's no real way to keep track of all of the birthdays. We've included a few in the past, but we can't do that anymore. The size the site is now, won't allow us to.

I'm always happy when people give suggestions for the HF News. I've thought of many of them--which is why I tend to turn most of them down--but sometimes there's that diamond in the rough. Such as the recommendation for a HackerCraft section. Please let me know if you have any other ideas. Thanks!
