Thread: Official HF Group for Sale - Root

Castle Bravo - January 10, 2013, 10:52 pm

I've decided that after owning my own group here on HF since September of 2011 that it's time to sell it. I just don't do much with my group anymore and figure someone else can do something better with it than I have and ever will.

I'm accepting offers starting at $4000 USD. You can buy it now for $4500. Please understand that you will have to pay Omniscient $250 to get the group details changed to your liking.

It is up to you what you do with it once I have told Omniscient to transfer ownership to you. I don't mind/care what you do with the members who are currently in the group. A few of them have paid to be in but they understand what happens when group ownership is changed.

Note: I will only accept payment via Western Union or money order. Western Union is at most bank branches these days btw. You pay the Western Union payment fee.

EDIT: 1/17/2013 4:10 AM EST. Do not PM me if you're a cheap ass and don't have $4k USD to spend on a group. I won't bargain with you and I don't want your shitty little booter as partial payment. I don't care about your shitty services either. ONLY contact me if you actually already have the funds and are ready to make the purchase. I'll only use an escrow if it's Omniscient, and you'll have to see if he's willing to do that. Oh and you must pay the cost of whatever he'll charge for that if he's willing.

This is good, glad to see you move on. GLWS

Odin the Wanderer - January 10, 2013, 10:54 pm

I was never in your group, but I think that letting go of something as big as that has to be a pretty tough decision, and a mature one. Good luck with everything buddy.

Bugs Bunny - January 10, 2013, 10:55 pm

Wow, A lot of people are getting rid of there groups lately. Good luck OP with selling it.

I hope it isn't much changed, I love root as it is now and Ryan and Starfall do a great job.

SIM-1349466 - January 11, 2013, 12:31 am

I don't see a newer user buying something like this with barely any experience on the site.

In my opinion, BELLAGIO would be a reasonable owner because he already has one group of his own.

Anyways, good luck/congratulations to anyone who gets this. :)

Hahahah. Haven't talked to my old friend in quite a while :P

BTW send me a PM of where you live. I'm flying in a day or two in the faster, bigger helicopter and gonna go on a longer trip. Probably 3 hours of flying total. I can go 140 miles per hour cruise in this helicopter and 160 miles per hour max. So I could probably fly down there pretty quick!

You'll be the only person on HF who can say someone you met on HF flew a helicopter to meet you.

I do hope that someone in Root does purchase it considering this group for sure is unique. The members seem to stick together and get along well, and if that's not a good quality in a group I don't know what is.

If Aeon and Tibit bought it, all of root's current members would leave voluntarily (If not forcefully) and it would be left as an Empire v2.

Let's go around it like this:

This is a hacking forum, no matter what staff say this wont be changed. (Except if they decide to rename the forum or ban all hacking related threads)

All non-related groups should obviously be on their own forums.

Now, lets look at the current groups:

root - an actually hacking related group

the other groups - bullshit groups related to either autismcraft or some other ways of wasting your time (like selling horrible ebooks and booter slots for pocket change)

Now , lets look at these two things. What group doesn't suck?

But hey, lets take a closer look on some of them.

Empire - Owned by an inj3ct0r skid that fakes shitty hacks and makes pathetic threats (and fails to fulfill them).

Logic - Hey! let's have debates between 13 year old skids. (There's good newsgroups for debates among smart people)

Beacon - A group built around autism

You see, when men are on the internet they start will a small e-boner and when their post count and rep goes up it slowly gets bigger and bigger and then when you are the owner of a group your e-boner reaches a massive length (for internet forums) of 2 inches.

Totally agree, if you're spending money on something you like, it's definitely not a waste of money. Well maybe unless you badly need that money to pay rent or bills but you spend it on a group instead. But the person who buys the group most likely has much more money than the average Joe. He did offer me xbox.net. However it's worth about $500.

For one, he stole it. And, Microsoft is very notorious for strong-arming people with domains like that they could use for something - or just to have so no one else can profit from anything they do.

They'd never buy it from him, they could spend $1500 on a UDRP and get it for practically nothing.

Yeah, I read in the Appraisal section about Xbox.net.
It could be taken very easily from home by doing a small court battle with ICANN.

Let me guess, you got an offer from Hawcode?
Also, I might buy it for $2.

That's correct, but a couple problems.

1. The owner is allowed to kick him from leader and never transfer ownership. Omni will listen to the owner no matter what.

2. He has to pay a second $250.00 fee to transfer owner from his friend to him, after the $250.00 from Castle Bravo to his friend.
