Lonephenom™ - January 11, 2013, 12:50 am

It doesn't matter when fiction is involved.

So present.

Black Hole - January 11, 2013, 12:51 am

I personally chose future because pew pew.

Also Cowboy Bebop.

R?born - January 11, 2013, 12:58 am

I would have to say that I like all the times . Mecha anime like Gurren lagann are what make futuristic anime good. Comedy / dramas in present times are always heart touching or a good laugh. Then with anime set in the past I like it when there is another element added into it such as the yoma in Claymore or the demons in Berserk

KinGxKeV - January 11, 2013, 1:58 am

Any time will do for me as long as I can enjoy it :D

Rakshasa - January 11, 2013, 2:34 am

Guess I'd prefer an alternative universe, seeing as most of my favorites are fantasy.

Spoiler (Click to View) I don't want to live in this world ;_;

But seriously I really don't mind any timespace, as long as it's entertaining.

YesJong - January 11, 2013, 4:15 am

I want the past . For the awesome sword fighting . And not for the pew pew because i dont like that in anime xD .

tuonami - January 11, 2013, 10:24 am

I don't really care about the time :P

TheElo124 - January 11, 2013, 11:52 am there is not just one perfect time. it depends on the anime

gurren lagann - future

hellsing - close to present

code geass - parallel universe

oda nobuna - past

Hentai? - January 11, 2013, 1:15 pm

I would say present or future, I like more futuristic ones or ones set in times like elfen lied or mirai nikki.. whatever times those are set in.

Also alternate universe? As in time is irrelevant? Or there time may be different as in 60 mins might not equal 1 hour?

Alternate universe such as the world depicted in Zero no Tsukaima. Different races, different laws of nature, etc. etc.

Fox - January 11, 2013, 5:08 pm

I enjoy seeing a variety of different times shown in anime, so it doesn't really matter to me.

Eminent - January 11, 2013, 5:13 pm

I like the present best, as it seems to just fit better, and it's usually more accurate imo

Yoko_ - January 11, 2013, 5:15 pm

Since all of my favorite anime occur in the present, I'll have to go with present :)

Alexchaos - January 11, 2013, 6:03 pm

I don't have any preferences. As long as the anime is good I'm fine with it. :)

Phaxol - January 11, 2013, 6:05 pm

I like my anime to be in the present really. Only other one that I have watched on there is alternate universe really.

Senior Sherlock - January 11, 2013, 10:45 pm

I want the past, I love the times when samurai were law. A simpler time, one where the world could be anything if you were strong and be taken from you at a whim if your not.

Badside416 - January 11, 2013, 11:01 pm

I prefer an alternate universe, I want to discover another world and live as something new.

Sensetive - January 12, 2013, 1:17 am

Pff ((I need at least 100 post to vote but anyway I choose Present

letsPlayUp - January 12, 2013, 2:02 am

Could you guys determine the setting of Ano Hi Mita Hana no Namae wo Bokutachi wa Mada Shiranai?

That's the setting I love the most.

Well I don't focus on what time setting the anime has but mostly of my watched anime are present ones.

Origami~ - January 12, 2013, 7:18 am

I like the present, but I also like in an alternate universe.

For a present anime I would say Steins;Gate, even if they go in the future or the past :3
And for an alternate universe, hu, so much choice.

Hentai? - January 12, 2013, 11:21 am

Wow im suprised, seems like allot of people are very indecisive.

Toonami - January 12, 2013, 5:08 pm

I want all the times!

I've mainly seen anime that takes place in the present but I like the past for it's simplicity, the future for it's technological advancements, and alternate universes for the creative factor.

If the anime is done properly the time period should be irrelevant in my opinion.

venusuar - January 12, 2013, 5:37 pm

I prefer present since right now I'm getting into the romance, ecchi shows. I'm looking for drama and that tends to occur mostly in the present. In the past its nonsense drama and the future it is something that can be easily avoided but characters tend to be stupid and take two years. Also alternate universes tend to lead to a bad anime out of the ones I've seen.

Black Hole - January 13, 2013, 4:28 pm

Thanks for all the votes so far guys ^^

Few days left, get your votes in if you haven't already!
