Trade: $205 PayPal for $165 LR

My Payments:

His Payments:

A couple PMs:

I exported my Pms right before the 2nd trade, so I can't make a picture of them, but this PM shows him replying to our 1st exchange saying "good exchange"

His rep on me:

My PMs after reversal:

He decided not to reply to them.

Not sure what else I need to post, that's about it.

PayPal reversed the $136 payment and held the $65 payment.

Legit scam report. No way to get your money back, unless the user has Morales, which I doubt if he scammed you in the first place.

Karma always falls into place.

Zanelot - January 19, 2013, 9:49 pm

Legitimate report, pretty fucking pathetic.

Hopefully, hopefully you get your money back.

We can only hope.

Good luck winning the $65 payment.

You are right, but the first exchange of $65 was a few hours earlier and went fine. Oh well.

Just saying one thing, sometimes PP holds funds personally, it might not have been him.
I have over 18 disputes for my eBook, and most of them are by PayPal themselves.

V For Vendetta. - January 20, 2013, 4:57 pm

Damn! Try getting the money one piece at a time.

(If you know what I mean :3)

Paypal did hold it, but it's most likely because he used a stolen account. He would of responded to my PMs or posted in this report by now if he didn't mean to scam.
