Why is it that when im being nice and doing gfx for free, people have to be such asshole's about it?

Like this is how it goes'

Me: what would you like.

Client: You know what i mean maannn make it look dope.

Me: wat....

Client: just make it look awesome.

WHAT THE FUCK DO YOU WANT

Like honestly if someone is doing something free for you, dont be a prick about it and just explain what you want.

Why do you continue to do stuff for free then.? The fact of the matter is that Hack Forums is 75% immature kids that are yet to get there first ball hair. This is no way to get away from some of the your describing as they expect everyone to be mind readers. I suggest only doing work for chosen individuals.

I agree with you 100%, if someones doing something for you, something out of their way, for free, be nice.

If they're not nice to me, they won't be getting any graphics. I take the time, to do what they want, and they can't even be nice, or say thanks?

I suggest you do what a lot of people here do, Ploot, don't do anything for them, if they don't respect you. ?

I agree man, they sound like they want whatever, but when you send it to them they get mad because it's not god like. I also hate it when people don't thank you.

aermoid - January 24, 2013, 6:21 am

When they normally do that to me, i get really fucking pissed, because it's like you have their brain and you know everything and exactly what they want.. I just -rep them and block them.

xUKz REVENGE - January 26, 2013, 10:04 am
