Thread: Absolute Crypter - FUD - C - No dependencies - 6KB stub - direct link

ptwist - January 22, 2013, 11:52 am

Absolute Crypter is a crypter coded in C, currently in beta looking for some feedback.

Features:

Scantime & runtime FUD

Small stub (~6KB)

No dependencies

TLS Support

EOF Support

[img]http://i3.minus.com/jCuNi8w31NnjZ.png[/img]

BETA will only have a crypting option, private version has install/startup, binder, icon changer, file cloner, more anti routines.

Private version will be for sale after this public beta.

I'm mainly looking for feedback -> rats/bots it works on, execution rate, new features (that aren't listed above), etc.

Crypter (builder) is protected with a commercial protector to prevent reverse engineering, run it in a VM/whatever you want, crypted files will also work in VM's.

version: 1.1

What are you crypting? I had one Ikarus detection due to the way TLS is currently handled, this will be fixed though.

Will take a look. Beta doesn't have icon changer/stealer, builder doesn't have an icon either.

I would advise you limited what you are giving out. People will scan this on VT etc. and it will be UD in no time this way.

Part of the plan, will see how much effort I need to put into making it undetected again (shouldn't be much). I will remove download links after some time though.

The builder is not backdoored, feel free to reverse it, whatever is with your computer is not from the builder.

(Jan 23, 2013 09:51 AM)war123 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) i crypt darcomet but why its not working?

Make sure your server works in the first place. DarkComet works fine for me, only thing that broke it for me was when MPRESS was used. Disable any compression in DarkComet server builder, you might want to try disabling other options and going from there if it still doesn't work.

Where would you recommend scanning our files while using your crypter?

ptwist - January 24, 2013, 1:49 am

Keep in mind that this is only beta, the full product will be on sale at some point.

(Jan 23, 2013 06:33 PM)manlystone Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Awesome! Nice work.

I haven't decided yet, a monthly payment seems like a better choice, more incentive to keep going and such.

Any scanner that doesn't distribute, scan4you etc.

You can use install/startup that is in rat/bot, full version will have those as well.

Out of curiosity, what would you consider cheap enough?

your crypter is nice, simple to use and really small...

i was testing it with many servers, it makes them FUD, no doubt on that, but servers stops working after encryption...

What are you crypting? What OS did you test in?

GanDino - January 24, 2013, 3:39 am

Disable compression in DarkComet, make sure your server works without crypting, if it still doesn't work try disabling every option then crypting, if it works then add options and go from there.

I can't edit the main post anymore.

Of what? the builder? chances are it's detected (false positives), since it's protected with a commercial protector. Crypted file? why would you want to scan it on a site where they distribute samples?

I will test DC on XP later, need to "go out and buy it" first.

Crypter doesn't seem to have any incompatibilities with XP SP2, make sure no AV is disturbing the crypting process and such. Only thing I found that doesn't work in DC (note: I didn't check everything) is the MPRESS compression.

I had left some code in there which checked names. Names like "11.exe" should work fine.

I don't know why DC works for some and doesn't for others, are you using the latest version?
Disable compression (in the tab where you build the server)?

.Doesnt work with xtreme rat 3.5 private version.
I would love to buy this amazing crypter after fixing these issue. and one more thing can you add Refud option too?Thanks

There's a good chance the crypted files won't run properly in sandboxie, I've tested it on XP (SP2, SP3), W7 (32bit, ultimate) VM's so far.

well then congratz dude, i already have a paid crypter, but you should know your making a good reputation by doing nice stuff like this but as you see many regular member are noobs and will scan this on vt so just do this to leet and ubers and you can have it longer fud just a tip ;)

sethwilliam - January 26, 2013, 3:29 pm

its detected by AVAST, just tried opening it and it says threat detected windows.32 malware moved to chest.

ptwist - January 27, 2013, 9:07 am

Check page 3 for latest version, might still be FUD.

I'm not updating the public one anymore, if you want the full version you'll have to buy it. Full version is FUD of course.

sethwilliam - January 28, 2013, 5:30 pm

darko46 you need to turn you AV off when using some crypters cuz some are detected as malware.

Firefox217 - January 28, 2013, 5:49 pm

I tried out v1.1 with Pytho, the server connects perfectly and it is still FUD according to novirusthanks. Here's the scan of a crypted Pytho server. (Still 0/14)

Thanks for the AMAZING crypter! I might buy this in the future man.

thnx a lot bro , this is my first crypter , its really easy to use for someone who has no experience like me when i crypted my dark comet and got it scanned by nothanksantivirus.org nothing came up also i remember when i was looking at one of my slaves remote desktop he was running an antivirus and nothing showed up lolz , thnx bro i will consider you when i decide to buy a crypter => i will also rep u when i get leet :D

Depending on how the sandbox is implemented (sandboxie comes to mind) it could be interfering with the protection mechanisms of the protector it has been protected with.

Go run it in a VM, or don't use it at all, I at this point don't really care.

15/34, I wish this was a little better, Since it provides no other tools, i personally think you should have atleast done the best you could have done (ex. 5/34 or better) in the one tool you provided. Get what i mean?

I will test DC on XP later, need to "go out and buy it" first.

Crypter doesn't seem to have any incompatibilities with XP SP2, make sure no AV is disturbing the crypting process and such. Only thing I found that doesn't work in DC (note: I didn't check everything) is the MPRESS compression.

segdeh - May 31, 2014, 3:20 pm

One thing that I would want improved in the future is the remote desktop.

- No way to click and drag

- Aspect ratio often distorted

- Impractical to type into session (have to use on-screen keyboard on host's computer)

- Add all those awesome features you have listed to go into the future versions like keyloggers, etc.

That's about all i could find so far. Good luck with your development! ?
