Synopsis:

Narumi Fujishima isn't your typical high school student. He's never really fit in and has become increasingly more isolated from his fellow classmates. But he's not alone, and when Ayaka, the sole member of the Gardening Club, introduces him to the reclusive girl who lives above the ramen shop, Narumi enters a whole new secret world. Alice is a NEET, someone who is Not Employed, being Educated or in Training, but as Narumi quickly discovers, that doesn't mean that she does nothing all day.

In between tending to her small army of stuffed bears, Alice is an expert hacker and a very exclusive private detective. To his surprise, Narumi finds himself drafted as one of the strange-but-elite team of associates that Alice has assembled from her NEET acquaintances. Together they'll battle gangs, thieves, murderers, and drug lords. And in the middle of it all, Narumi will find his life changing forever!

Review:

Forgive me for not giving a in depth review like most of them in this section, but bare with me. The anime was excellent, actually stumbled upon it on accident. Its about a bunch of kids that are "NEET Detectives" and the basically go around solving odd cases. However it also has a bunch of other themes including: Action and Romance, and usually has a meaning to each case. So if you are interested in psychological/mystery anime I would definitely recommend seeing it.

8/10

This anime is one of the few in dire need of a second season, Like Deadman Wonderland and Akagi.

Watching this series felt very much like watching Gosick, after all it was conceptualized around the time the hype was the highest around it.

To be completely frank, in comparison it wasn't nearly as good. But enjoyable non the less.

Nice review dude.
